It cannot for a moment be thought that the representatives of British Columbia would insist on having mining machinery free to the injury of the industries of the older provinces, or even of their own province, and at the same time expect large subventions from the public funds for the opening up of their special resources. No matter how desirable it might be to have more sweeping tariff changes, the present attitude of the United States, more especially since the November elections, makes it unpolitic as well as, perhaps, unpatriotic, to extend so large an olive branch in the way of concessions as the free mining machinery clause in practice provides.

AN OTTAWA LADY

SUBJECT TO VERY SEVERE NERVOUS HEADACHES

Gives an account of her rescue from the constant torture.

Mrs. A. E. Enright, 454 Lisgar street, Ottawa, Ont., spoke as follows to our reporter. "I have for a long time been subject to very severe nervous headaches, and was also affected by general nervous prostration. My rest at night was much broken, and I arose in the morning almost as tired as when I went to bed.

I have taken a number of medicines which did not help me to any great extent. I am thankful to say, however, that I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using them for a few days became very much better.

Now I am free from nervousness; the headaches have disappeared; I sleep well, and arise in the morning refreshed and reinvigorated for the duties of the day. I am better in every way, and think that aside from being the best heart and nerve remedy I ever used, that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as a general systematic tonic excel any other medicine in existence.

A THANK OFFERING BELL.

The Blessing of the Countess of Aberdeen Bell Recently Will be Commemorated in Gatineau Point Church for Ages.

Ottawa, May 9.—(Special.)—On Saturday, April 22, 1893, the Countess of Aberdeen had a most miraculous escape from death by drowning. Accompanied by an aide-de-camp, Her Excellency was driving along the Gatineau River, at that time running high, when in the spring freshets. In many places the swollen waters encroached upon the roadway, and at one of these the horses shied, and threw the occupants of the vice-regal carriage into the river. The horses were drowned. In commemoration of her escape from the peril into which the Countess was thus placed, Their Excellencies presented, as a thank-offering, a fine bell to the Roman Catholic Church at Gatineau Point, near the scene of the casualty. To-day the bell was solemnly blessed by the Archbishop of the diocese. The event was a notable one, there being present, besides Their Excellencies and Premier Laurier, a concourse numbering over 3000, many of them from Ottawa. Then followed sermons in French and English, besides an address of congratulation to Their Excellencies, to which, speaking from the chancel, Earl Aberdeen replied in the English and French languages:

"We thank you warmly for this address, with its kindly and cordial sentiments, so gracefully expressed. It will indeed form a valued souvenir of this occasion. It is an occasion both solemn and glad. Your bell has been blessed and dedicated to its sacred purpose. And it is not only on that account that it has a religious meaning. It is a thank-offering. Those who have gifted it declared their recognition of the good hand of God at a moment of alarm and danger." The bell itself, in letters that cannot be effaced, bears the record that this is its meaning and purpose: "Gratias domino. To the Lord, let thanks be rendered,' and then follow the names of the persons who offer their thanks and present this gift. The names on the bell, it may be said are Aberdeen—(abbe) Aberdeen and John Sinclair. In concluding his remarks, Lord Aberdeen said: "We shall never forget the folk, the church, the cure, the bell of Gatineau Point."

A GREAT BIG SCHEME

To Build an Immense Departmental Living House in Toronto With a Roof Garden.

Toronto, May 10.

A great, big scheme is on foot in Toronto to build an immense departmental living house. The promoters are known as the Toronto Industrial Club (Limited), with a proposed capital stock of $500,000, divided into 50,000 $10 shares. The building is to be a monster one, 200 feet square, and six or eight storeys high. It is proposed to erect it in the central part of the city and to have an immense restaurant in the basement capable of seating 600 people. A big concert hall is also part of the scheme, and on the roof there is to be a magnificent promenade and roof garden. The building is to contain 600 beds, and, as the prospectus says, this will add to much-needed hotel accommodation in Toronto. The promoters expect to fill all these rooms with students, transients and families who are now living in places and houses that do not offer the same attractions. It is expected that this monster establishment will do away with many of the old rookeries in certain parts of the city. The prospectus is now being circulated in the city and bears the name of William Oliver, D. C. L., as chairman of the preliminary meetings, and D. W. Ross, B. A., as secretary.

William Watt, the younger, of Brantford, to be a commissioner per dedimus potestatem in and for the County of Brant.

Charles L. Liddell of Cornwall, to be a bailiff of the Third Division Court of the united Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

A JUMP IN REVENUE

Increase of Two Million Dollars in Ten Months

AND OVER A MILLION LAST MONTH.

Recount of the Ballots in the North Ontario Election—New Regulations Respecting Space for Cattle on Ships—Officers Who Will Go to London—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, May 9.—(Special.)—Two million dollars represents the net increase in revenue for ten months, as compared with last year. Last month contributed largely to this result, the increase in May being $1,243,000. The rush to ex-warehouse tobacco and spirits is shown by the increased excise returns, $1,289,769, as against $640,081. This month, of course, will show a falling off. For the first time in many years the revenue from excise duties exceeded that of customs—the amount being $19,000.

Under an order of the Ontario Court of Appeal an inspection of ballots cast in the North Ontario bye-election took place in the office of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery yesterday. A. B. Aylesworth, Q. C., appeared for the petitioner, the defeated Conservative candidate, Mr. Macleod, while R. A. Grant of Kerr, Macdonald & Co., Toronto, represented the Patron-Liberal member, Mr. Graham. It took over eight hours to examine the 4382 ballots in Major Chapleau's custody, whereas before Judge Dartnell at Whitby only three hours were taken. The result of yesterday's count, according to the figures supplied to your correspondent by Mr. Aylesworth, is as follows: 4811 ballots were found good, 13 rejected and 38 spoiled. Of those considered good, 2414 were marked for Graham and 2397 for Macleod, giving the Liberal-Patron a nominal majority of 17.

Following are the new regulations governing the shipping of live stock to Europe, to which reference was made in Saturday's issue:

Space—No. 2 fat cattle, carried on the upper or spar deck, or any other deck, must be given a space of 2 feet 9 inches clear in width, by 8 feet clear in length each, and not less than 6 feet 3 inches in height (but pens for sheep shall not be less than 7 feet in height, divided into two compartments, 3 feet 6 inches in height each); and in no case shall more than four head of cattle be allowed in each pen, except at the end of a row, where five may be allowed together; provided, however, that five cattle, each 1000 pounds weight or under, commonly known as "stockers," may be carried in a pen instead of four fat cattle.

As regards space for sheep, not more than 8 or 10 sheep will be counted equal to one fat ox, according to the discretion of the inspector. Cows in calf are to be given the same space as fat oxen.

Foreign Cattle—United States cattle, shipped from any port in Canada, carried on the upper or spar deck, must be allowed a space of 2 feet 6 inches in width, by 8 feet in depth per head, but such United States cattle, when so shipped between decks, must be allowed a space of 2 feet 8 inches in width by 8 feet in depth, except in the case of the regular cattle ships, with satisfactory ventilation, which may fit with an allowance of 2 feet 6 inches in width. No more than four (4) head of cattle will be allowed in each pen, except at the end of a row, where five may be allowed together. Provided, however, that cattle under 1000 in weight may be allowed a width of 2 feet 3 inches.

The officers who have so far accepted the invitation to go to England with the Jubilee regiment are as follows: Lieut.-Col. O'Brien, 35th Battalion; Col. Mason, 10th Royal Grenadiers; Col. Munro, 22nd Battalion; Col. Tucker, 62nd Fusiliers; Col. Longworth, 4th Regiment G.A.; Col. Gregory, 5th Regiment G.A.; Col. Burland, 6th Fusiliers; Surgeon-Major Wilson, Montreal Field Battery; Major Herbert, 65th Battalion; Capt. Courtney, 6th Fusiliers; Col. Labelle, 65th Battalion; Col. Hon. Senator Bolton, retired list.

Capt. Bourke, R.N., who was expected to accompany the expedition to Hudson's Bay as representative of the Pacific Railway Company, has declined the invitation.

On the opening of the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Geoffrion, Q.C., suggested to the court the propriety of adjourning the hearing of the list of Quebec cases until after the provincial elections on Tuesday next. The court, however, refused to make a new precedent, and will consequently sit from day to day till the cases are disposed of.

Dr. Rutherford, member-elect for Macdonald, Manitoba, and Mr. "Tignish" Perry, member-elect for West Prince, P.E.I., have arrived and will be introduced in the House to-morrow.

A Solemn Sunday in the Gay Capital—All Nations Represented.

London, May 9.—A requiem mass for the repose of the souls of the victims of the fire at the Charity Bazaar in Paris on Tuesday last was celebrated in the Chapel of the French Embassy to-day. SEALERS UP IN ARMS.

British Columbians Claim That the Regulations Have Hit Them Very Hard and Want Modifications.

Ottawa, May 9.—(Special.)—There will be no notification of Behring Sea sealing regulations looking to further restrictions on sealing if British Columbia can help it. The Government is in receipt of a strong protest from the provincial authorities against any changes in the regulations. The despatch says: "The present regulations have seriously affected the sealing industry, and, in consequence of the restrictions imposed thereunder, the catch of the season of 1896 was 55,677 skins, as compared with 73,614 in 1895 and 97,474 in 1894. This falling off, coupled with the low prices prevailing in the London market, has resulted in great loss to the owners of sealing schooners and all concerned. The two best month to catch the seals on their way north, those of May and June, are closed by the law, and the month of July, which is one of the best in Behring Sea, is also part of the close season. These and other restrictions are ostensibly for the purpose of allowing the seals to breed, precautions, however, which, even if necessary in the interests of seal life, are useless so long as the present destructive methods are permitted at their breeding places on the islands."

The despatch further points out that the present regulations are in many particulars arbitrary and excessively severe, and that, instead of increasing the restrictions, any negotiations on the part of Her Majesty's Government should be, in the opinion of the committee, in the direction of their modification and for provision against the hardship and loss to the fleet arising out of the seizures on merely suspicious circumstances, or for technical violations of the law.

The communication goes on to give the example of the Aurora as a case of hardship, and submits that in cases of such technical violation the officers in charge of the British ship in Alaskan waters should be notified and a preliminary investigation take place, and, instead of ordering the schooner to Victoria, immediately order her to report at a date after the sealing season, thus obviating the serious losses to owners that occur under the present regulations.

In conclusion, the despatch protests against the advisability of further restrictive regulations, and also urges that any further negotiations on behalf of Canada should be in the direction of their material modification, whereby the sealing industry of British Columbia may be placed upon a more secure basis.

BOTH MEN WOUNDED.

A Czech Deputy Resented the Assertion That His Race Was Inferior.

Vienna, May 8.—A duel with sabres was fought to-day between Herr Wolf and M. Horica, a Czech deputy. Herr Wolf is the member of the Lower House of the Reichsrath who introduced the motion submitted by the German Nationalists to impeach Count Badeni, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, and nearly all the other Ministers, for violating their powers in issuing a decree authorising the official use of the Czech language in Bohemia. Both of the combatants were wounded in their hands. The dispute grew out of the debate of Thursday last, when Dr. Wolf described Czechs, Slavonians and others as being "quite inferior races."

Figuring for Another Team in Prison.

Kingston, Ont., May 8.—On Friday an ex-convict went to Wolfe Island, hired himself to William Allen and secured a horse and rig to go to the ferry dock to secure his trunk. He brought the rig to Kingston and started westward. The horse was traded between here and Napanee. The buggy has been located in the Campbell House, Napanee. The police hope to secure the ex-convict before many hours.

A THANK OFFERING BELL.

The Escape of the Countess of Aberdeen From Drowning Will Be Commemorated in Gatineau Point Church for Ages.

Ottawa, May 9.—(Special.)—On Saturday, April 22, 1896, the Countess of Aberdeen had a most miraculous escape from death by drowning. Accompanied by an aide-de-camp, Her Excellency was driving along the Gatineau River, at that time running bank full owing to the spring freshets. In many places the swollen waters encroached upon the roadway ,and at one of these the horses shied, and threw the occupants of the vice-regal carriage into the river. The horses were drowned. In commemoration of her escape from the peril into which the Countess was thus placed, Their Excellencies presented, as a thank-offering, a fine bell to the Roman Catholic Church at Gatineau Point, near the scene of the casualty. To-day the bell was solemnly blessed by the Archbishop of the diocese. The event was a notable one, there being present, besides Their Excellencies and Premier Laurier, a concourse numbering over 2,000, many of them from Ottawa. Then followed sermons in French and English, besides an address of congratulation to Their Excellencies, to which, speaking from the chancel, Earl Aberdeen replied in the English and French languages:

"We thank you warmly for this address, with its kindly and cordial sentiments, so gracefully expressed. It will indeed form a valued souvenir of this occasion. It is an occasion both solemn and glad. Your bell has been blessed and dedicated to its sacred purpose. And it is not only on that account that it has a religious meaning. It is a thank-offering. Those who have gifted it declared their recognition of the good hand of God at a moment of alarm and danger." The bell itself, in letters that cannot be effaced, bears the record that this is its meaning and purpose: "Gratias domino. To the Lord, let thanks be rendered,' and then follow the names of the persons who offer their thanks and present this gift. The names on the bell, it may be said are Aberdeen—Ishbel Aberdeen and John Sinclair. In concluding his remarks, Lord Aberdeen said: "We shall never forget the folk, the church, the cure, the bell of Gatineau Point."

A GREAT BIG SCHEME

To Build an Immense Departmental Living House in Toronto With a Roof Garden.

Toronto, May 10.

A great, big scheme is on foot in Toronto to build an immense departmental living house. The promoters are known as the Toronto Industrial Club (Limited), with a proposed capital stock of $300,000, divided into 30,000 $10 shares. The building is to be a monster one, 200 feet square, and six or eight storeys high. It is proposed to erect it in the central part of the city and to have an immense restaurant in the basement capable of seating 600 people. A big concert hall is also part of the scheme, and on the roof there is to be a magnificent promenade and roof garden. The building is to contain 600 beds, and, as the prospectus says, this will add to much-needed hotel accommodation in Toronto. The promoters expect to fill all these rooms with students, transients and families who are now living in places and houses that do not offer the same attractions. It is expected that this monster establishment will do away with many of the old rookeries in certain parts of the city. The prospectus is now being circulated in the city and bears the name of William Clark, D. C. L., as chairman of the preliminary meetings, and D. W. Ross, B. A., as secretary.

Provincial Appointments.

His Honor the Administrator of the Government has made the following appointments:

Bernard Gervase Connolly of Renfrew, to be an associate coroner for the County of Renfrew, in the stead of Thomas Daniel Galligan, M.D.

His Honor Judge Senkler, Judge of the County Court of Lincoln, and Michael Brennan, County Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace of Lincoln, to be commissioners per dedimus potestatem for the County of Lincoln.

William Watt, the younger, of Brantford, to be a commissioner per dedimus potestatem in and for the County of Brant.

Charles L. Liddell of Cornwall, to be a bailiff of the Third Division Court of the united Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

A JUMP IN REVENUE

Increase of Two Million Dollars in Ten Months

AND OVER A MILLION LAST MONTH.

Account of the Ballots in the North Ontario Election—New Regulations Respecting Space for Cattle on Ships—Officers Who Will Go to London—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, May 9.—(Special.)—Two million dollars represents the net increase in revenue for ten months, as compared with last year. Last month contributed largely to this result, the increase in May being $1,343,000. The rush to ex-warehouse tobacco and spirits is shown by the increased excise returns, $1,886,769, as against $649,081. This month, of course, will show a falling off. For the first time in many years the revenue from excise duties exceeded that of customs—the amount being $19,000.

Under an order of the Ontario Court of Appeal an inspection of ballots cast in the North Ontario bye-election took place in the office of the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery yesterday. A. B. Aylesworth, Q. C., appeared for the petitioner, the defeated Conservative candidate, Mr. Macleod, while R. A. Grant of Kerr, Macdonald & Co., Toronto, represented the Patron-Liberal member, Mr. Graham. It took over eight hours to examine the 4862 ballots in Major Chapleau's custody, whereas before Judge Dartnell at Whitby only three hours were taken. The result of yesterday's count, according to the figures supplied to your correspondent by Mr. Aylesworth, is as follows: 4811 ballots were found good, 13 rejected and 38 spoiled. Of those considered good, 2414 were marked for Graham and 2397 for Macleod, giving the Liberal-Patron a nominal majority of 17.

Following are the new regulations governing the shipping of live stock to Europe, to which reference was made in Saturday's issue:

Space—No. 2 fat cattle, carried on the upper or spar deck, or any other deck, must be given a space of 2 feet 8 inches clear in width, by 8 feet clear in length each, and not less than 6 feet 3 inches in height (but pens for sheep shall not be less than 7 feet in height, divided into two compartments, 3 feet 6 inches in height each); and in no case shall more than four head of cattle be allowed in each pen, except at the end of a row, where five may be allowed together; provided, however, that five cattle, each 1000 pounds weight or under, commonly known as "stockers," may be carried in a pen instead of four fat cattle.

As regards space for sheep, not more than 8 or 10 sheep will be counted equal to one fat ox, according to the discretion of the inspector. Cows in calf are to be given the same space as fat oxen.

Foreign Cattle—United States cattle, shipped from any port in Canada, carried on the upper or spar deck, must be allowed a space of 2 feet 6 inches in width, by 8 feet in depth per head, but such United States cattle, when so shipped between decks, must be allowed a space of 2 feet 8 inches in width by 8 feet in depth, except in the case of the regular cattle ships, with satisfactory ventilation, which may fit with an allowance of 2 feet 6 inches in width. No more than four (4) head of cattle will be allowed in each pen, except at the end of a row, where five may be allowed together. Provided, however, that cattle under 1000 in weight may be allowed a width of 2 feet 3 inches.

The officers who have so far accepted the invitation to go to England with the Jubilee regiment are as follows: Lieut.-Col. O'Brien, 35th Battalion; Col. Mason, 10th Royal Grenadiers; Col. Munro, 22nd Battalion; Col. Tucker, 62nd Fusiliers; Col. Longworth, 4th Regiment G.A.; Col. Gregory, 5th Regiment G.A.; Col. Burland, 6th Fusiliers; Surgeon-Major Wilson, Montreal Field Battery; Major Herbert, 63th Battalion; Capt. Courtney, 6th Fusiliers; Col. Labelle, 65th Battalion; Col. Hon. Senator Bolton, retired list.

Capt. Bourke, R.N., who was expected to accompany the expedition to Hudson's Bay as representative of the Pacific Railway Company, has declined the invitation.

On the opening of the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Geoffrion, Q.C., suggested to the court the propriety of adjourning the hearing of the list of Quebec cases until after the provincial elections on Tuesday next. The court, however, refused to make a new precedent, and will consequently sit from day to day till the cases are disposed of.

Dr. Rutherford, member-elect for Macdonald, Manitoba, and Mr. "Tignish" Perry, member-elect for West Prince, P.E.I., have arrived and will be introduced in the House to-morrow.

SEALERS UP IN ARMS.

British Columbians Claim That the Regulations Have Hit Them Very Hard and Want Modifications.

Ottawa, May 9.—(Special.)—There will be no notification of Behring Sea sealing regulations looking to further restrictions on sealing if British Columbia can help it. The Government is in receipt of a strong protest from the provincial authorities against any changes in the regulations. The despatch says: "The present regulations have seriously affected the sealing industry, and, in consequence of the restrictions imposed thereunder, the catch of the season of 1896 was 55,677 skins, as compared with 73,614 in 1895 and 97,474 in 1894. This falling off, coupled with the low prices prevailing in the London market, has resulted in great loss to the owners of sealing schooners and all concerned. The two best month to catch the seals on their way north, those of May and June, are closed by the law, and the month of July, which is one of the best in Behring Sea, is also part of the close season. These and other restrictions are ostensibly for the purpose of allowing the seals to breed, precautions, however, which, even if necessary in the interests of seal life, are useless so long as the present destructive methods are permitted at their breeding places on the islands."

The despatch further points out that the present regulations are in many particulars arbitrary and excessively severe, and that, instead of increasing the restrictions, any negotiations on the part of Her Majesty's Government should be, in the opinion of the committee, in the direction of their modification and for provision against the hardship and loss to the fleet arising out of the seizures on merely suspicious circumstances, or for technical violations of the law.

The communication goes on to give the example of the Aurora as a case of hardship, and submits that in cases of such technical violation the officers in charge of the British ship in Alaskan waters should be notified and a preliminary investigation take place, and, instead of ordering the schooner to Victoria, immediately order her to report at a date after the sealing season, thus obviating the serious losses to owners that occur under the present regulations.

In conclusion, the despatch protests against the advisability of further restrictive regulations, and also urges that any further negotiations on behalf of Canada should be in the direction of their material modification, whereby the sealing industry of British Columbia may be placed upon a more secure basis.

BOTH MEN WOUNDED.

A Czech Deputy Resented the Assertion That His Race Was Inferior.

Vienna, May 8.—A duel with sabres was fought to-day between Herr Wolff and M. Horica, a Czech deputy. Herr Wolff is the member of the Lower House of the Reichsrath who introduced the motion submitted by the German Nationalists to impeach Count Badeni, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, and nearly all the other Ministers, for violating their powers in issuing a decree authorising the official use of the Czech language in Bohemia. Both of the combatants were wounded in their hands. The dispute grew out of the debate on Thursday last, when Dr. Wolff described Czechs, Slavonians and others as being "quite inferior races."

Figuring for Another Term in Prison.

Kingston, Ont., May 9.—On Friday an ex-convict went to Wolfe Island, hired himself to William Allen and secured a horse and rig to go to the ferry dock to secure his trunk. He brought the rig to Kingston and started westward. The horse was traded between here and Napanee. The buggy has been located in the Campbell House, Napanee. The police hope to secure the ex-convict before many hours.

THE DAM AT HASTINGS.

It is Said it Confines the Water and Floods Lands Along the River.

There was a meeting of some of the property holders of North and South Monaghan and Otonabee this afternoon. The subject under discussion was the sending of a deputation to Ottawa to urge the Government to take action regarding certain damages claimed for land flooded through the erection of the dam at Hastings.

It is contended that the construction of the dam at Hastings has narrowed the outlet to such a degree as not to allow a sufficient space for the escape of the large volume of water.

It was argued by some that the flow is much greater than at the locks in Peterborough, and the space being much more limited the water is backed up and raised to a higher level than it was previous to the erection of the said dam.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Harry Neil is on a business trip north.

Miss Gertie Guy is visiting friends in Cavanville.

Grand Master Unitt, of the A. O. U. W. will officially visit Peterborough to-morrow night. All members of the order are urged to be present at the meeting.

Mr. Jack Edmison, who has been visiting friends in town for the last few weeks, returned to Queen's University on Saturday.

Mr. E. J. Hartley, fish and game warden, spent Sunday seeing those who engaged in snaring fish out of season, down the Otonabee and its inlets.

The Fenelon Falls Gazette says:—Miss Lottie Thomson returned with her father from Peterborough, and will resume her old position as stenographer and typewriter in the mill office.

Mr. Will McDonald, an old Peterborough boy who is now "one of the finest" in Rochester, has been in town visiting friends and returned to the Flower City on Saturday.

Mr. A. E. Edmonds, formerly of Peterborough and son-in-law of Mr. Wm. Cowle, is now in Detroit. He has been promoted to the position of local passenger agent of the C.P.R. in that city. A Detroit paper publishes a portrait of Mr. Edmonds, whose many friends in Peterborough will congratulate him on his well deserved promotion.

The "Parish Choir" of Boston, which is the first publishing house of purely ecclesiastial music on the continent, has purchased from Mr. Alfred Davies, organist of St. Luke's church, his recently composed magnificent and Nimis Dimittis in C. The composition is bold and effective, and especial mention may be made of of the organ accompaniment. It has been sung several times in St. Luke's, and it is hoped that it will have a considerable sale in Ontario. Mr. Davies has also composed a Jubilate, which will probably be sung at St. Luke's Jubilee Services. THE EXAMINER extends to Mr. Davies hearty congratulations upon his success.

LIZZIE MURRAY'S BODY RECOVERED.

It Was Found Saturday Afternoon in Little Lake.

After spending some days on the water looking for the body of his little daughter, who was drowned two weeks ago Thursday, Mr. Michael Murray's own efforts were awarded on Saturday afternoon, when her remains were reclaimed from the waters of Little Lake.

Mr. Murray and his brother had been paddling around grappling until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and had gone to the shore to rest, when Eddie Cassidy, who made such a brave effort to save the little girl when she was drowning, offered to take the canoe and continue the search. He took with him a little lad named Corby, and they had not been out more than half an hour before the body was espied floating among some logs near the cribwork along Crescent street.

The remains were taken into the canoe and conveyed to the spot where Mr. Murray was waiting. As may be supposed his grief was greatly assuaged by the recovery of the body.

There was no disfigurement whatever, and the remains looked as natural as in life. The little dress was torn in the back, arguing that it had probably caught on a root on the bottom of the lake.

It is thought that the body rose on Wednesday night when the last dynamite cartridge was exploded.

The funeral took place on Sunday morning to the Ennismore Cemetery.

THOUGHT HE WAS DROWNED,

But he was only Playing a Joke on his Companions.

Mrs. Thomas Job, Crescent street, received so violent a shock on Saturday afternoon, through a false report of the drowning of her son, that her own life was despaired of for a time. A physician worked with her for four hours before he could leave her with safety.

The little boy, who is fourteen years old, went out in the afternoon on the lake in a punt looking for driftwood. He laid down in the bottom of the boat and when called by his companions from the shore he did not respond, thinking he would play a joke on them. The joke was, however, carried too far, as some of those who were along the shore feeling sure that he had tumbled overboard, carried the news to his mother.

The lad was home five minutes afterwards.

CEMETERY NOTES.

A Few Interesting Items About This Beautiful Spot.

The trees, grass and foliage in general at the cemetery are looking most beautiful at this time of the year, the effect being heightened by the bloom on a number of wild cherry and plum trees.

The roads were never in better shape, being as level as a board and with scarcely a pebble on them.

Mr. Ford and his men are now busy setting out pansies, daisies and other hardy plants. The geraniums will not be put out until about the 24th of May, as there is always danger of frost until then.

The caretaker has on exhibition a freak in the way of a chrysanthemum with a perfect blossom on it, five inches across. It is very rare, indeed, to see a chrysanthemum in bloom as late in the year as the month of May.

The directors will visit the cemetery on Thursday afternoon, at four o'clock, to decide on what work will be undertaken this year.

THE NEW MILL.

To Replace the one Belonging to the Howry's which was Burnt Last Fall.

The work of clearing away the debris of the old mill at Fenelon Falls was not commenced until the 9th of April, and the extraordinary progress has been made, as many of the timbers of the top story are already up, and it is expected that all the framing will be finished within a fortnight from now. The new mill will run east and west, and will consist of a main body 57x110 feet, with two wings, each 33x42 feet, on the south side, all three stories high, and about 35 feet from the ground to the eaves. It will be boarded and battened and painted with the brown mineral paint commonly used for the outsides of nearly all buildings except dwelling houses. Last Friday Mr. Thomson was in Peterborough, where he was joined next day by Mr. Wright, and they left an order with the William Hamilton Manufacturing Co. for all the shafting that will be needed in the new mill. One of the two 'band mills' ordered from the same firm a fortnight ago is nearly finished, both of them will be at the Falls in a couple of weeks, and all the machinery will arrive as fast as as it is wanted. There are about twenty-five men working at the mills and some of them are busy replanking the flumes, in order to let the water in as soon as possible and resume work in the box factory and planing mill, both of which had to be shut down some time ago. There are eight water wheels, all of which are in good order, but the one put in to run the third band saw in the old mill will not be needed. The weather so far has been very favourable, most of the rain that has fallen having come in the night, and if the work can be proceeded with as rapidly as it has been since it was commenced, it is probable that the mill will be entirely finished by the middle of July.

OBITUARY.

The Late John James Welch.

Yesterday an old and respected resident of Otonabee, River Road, Mr. John J. Welch, passed away at the advanced age of 77 years, at the residence of his youngest son, Mr. Edward L. Welch. The cause of death was Bright's disease of the kidneys, from which the deceased has been confined to his bed for the past seven weeks. The late Mr. Welch was born in London, England, where he married. In 1854 he came to Canada, settling down in Toronto, where he resided a year, then removing to Otonabee, where he entered upon the manufacture of brick, which he carried on successfully till ten years ago. There are numerous residences and buildings in Peterborough constructed of the bricks manufactured by Mr. Welch, the best known being perhaps the building now known as the site of the Hazel Brae Branch of Dr. Barnardo's Home. Mr. Welch was, in politics, a Liberal and in religion an Anglican, being a member of the congregation of St. Luke's. He leaves behind him a large list of descendants—sixty-two—consisting of seven children, forty-four grandchildren, and eleven great-grandchildren. The sons and daughters surviving are Mr. Thomas J. Welch, Otonabee; Mrs. Samuel Guthrie, Harvey; Mrs. Henry Voysey, Minden; Mrs. Geo. Frost, Otonabee; Mrs. Wm. Bennett, Peterborough; Mr. Edward L. Welch, Otonabee; and Mrs. Wm. Downer, Otonabee.

The funeral takes place on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

HE WAS BLOWN TWENTY FEET

A Kirkfield Man Injured by a Blast While Grubbing Stumps.

At Kirkfield Friday a man named Alex. Miles was seriously, if not fatally, injured. He was engaged removing stumps in a field owned by Mrs. Wm. McKenzie, using giant powder for blasting. In some way, after a charge had been inserted in a hole under one of the stumps, it exploded while Miles was stooping over the hole, the result being that he was blown nearly twenty feet away. When picked up it was found he had received terrible injuries, large portions of flesh having been torn from his arms, in addition to being pierced by a number of splinters from the stump. Drs. Wood and Ross were at once called in, but the poor fellow's recovery is considered doubtful.

ASHBURNHAM BRIEFS.

Street Inspector Fitzgerald has made a good job of the village streets this spring.

The attention of the village health officer is directed to a pig pen on Elizabeth street.

Painters have been engaged during the past few weeks touching up Col. H. C. Rogers' residence on Lake street. The Colonel intends occupying it during the summer months.

The question of a system of water works for the village is being discussed on all sides by the ratepayers, a great many being in favour of putting in an efficient system.

A village bicyclist ran into a cow on Elizabeth street on Saturday afternoon, and was hurled into the ditch. Moral—When you meet a cow go round it.

An old landmark at the corner of Lake and Elizabeth streets is fast disappearing. It was at one time used as an hotel, and the story goes that in a sideroom many years ago was played a game of poker at which one man dropped a small fortune. One of the participants was Denman Thompson, the comedian, who has won world-wide fame as Joshua Whitcomb in the celebrated drama, "The Old Homestead."

Is it the intention of the village council to co-operate with the Citizens' Committee of the town in celebrating the Diamond Jubilee?

A resident of the village, it is said, will try and grow French tobacco this summer for his private use.

Mrs. Peter Clancy, Elizabeth street, is dangerously ill.

Burnham's Point appears to be the centre for golf players, who gather there for practice each evening.

Mr. Sam. Bickle, proprietor of the cheese box factory, is at present rushed with orders from the different cheese factories throughout the district.

Ashburnham lost three old residents recently whose combined ages totalled 228 years.

St. Joseph's Hospital has at present several diphtheria patients.

The village merchants will welcome the appearance of the street sprinkler. The dust was flying in good shape Saturday.

Here is a tramp that deserves a square meal every day. On Saturday a hungry knight called at a well-known residence for a meal. The lady of the house invited him in and placed a lunch before him, which, it is needless to say, he did ample justice to. On leaving the residence the tramp spied a well filled purse on the front walk, but instead of pocketing it, as many other tramps would have done, he straightway called the charitable landlady and placed the purse in her hand. It seems a daughter of the home, in her hurry for market, had dropped the purse on leaving the house. That rara avis, the honest tramp, was rewarded and an invitation extended to partake of a Sunday meal.

Miss Kate Wand is able to be around again after her severe illness.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH ANNIVERSARY SERVICE.

REV. L. H. JORDAN, B.D. DELIVERS TWO SERMONS.

The Pastor of St. James' Square Presbyterian Church, Toronto, Makes a Distinct Impression in the Course of His Timely Remarks.

St. Paul's church was erected in 1857 at a cost of $20,000. The dimensions then were 50x90 feet. About thirty years later it was remodelled and enlarged at a cost of $25,000. The first pastor was Rev. J. M. Roger, who was the first Presbyterian minister in Peterborough, his ministrations beginning as early as 1833. When the great disruption took place, which divided the Scotch church into two distinct branches for a time, Rev. Mr. Rogers sided with the seceders, and leaving St. Andrew's church, he and a portion of the congregation formed St. Paul's which is now one of the largest and most prosperous churches in Peterborough. Rev. Dr. E. F. Torrance, the present pastor, succeeded to the charge on the death of Rev. Mr. Roger in 1877.

At the anniversary services held in St. Paul's church yesterday, there were large congregations, the pulpit was occupied both morning and evening by Rev. L. H. Jordan, B.D., of St. Jame's Square Presbyterian church, Toronto.

Two most masterly addresses were given. In the morning the speaker based his remarks upon the mention which is made in several portions of the Scriptures of the Almighty appearing from a cloud and from this argued that though oppressed with troubles and care, yet out of the clouds surrounding at any time light might come as in the cases referred to in the Scriptures.

In the evening he took as his text Romans, I chap., 4th verse:

And declared to be the son of God, with power according to the spirit of holiness by the resurrection from the dead.

The resurrection, said he, in opening his remarks is, to everyone who understands it, significant of a pointing out of Christ, that He is the Son of God, and more that He is the son of God with power. He is unmistakably pointed out.

POINTING OUT

There are four resurrection miracles inseparably connected with the name of Jesus. 1st, the raising of the daughter of Jairus; 2nd, the raising of the son of the widow; 3rd, the raising of LAZARUS; 4th, the resurrection by which He Himself was raised.

"The last," said the speaker, "I mention last as it was the greatest, but it stands in a class by itself. It is unparalled, unique. There is nothing like it recorded anywhere. The other resurrections might possibly have been cases of resuscitation or reanimation. In fact they are claimed to be so by many sceptics. They went back to their old homes, but their must have been a difference in their lives. They could not feel as they did before Jesus brought them back, and they eventually sickened and died. But when Jesus passed through the portals He did not come back, but came forth on the other side. He came forth in the garments of immortality. He did not resume His old occupation or labour. It was not a return, but a going forth with new life. When we consider we find Christ taking back the life which He

VOLUNTARILY GAVE UP.

He could resume it, when He deemed fit."

First let us look at the resurrection, continued Mr. Jordan, in the light of its historical value. If I were speaking to a body of unbelievers I would devote all the time at my disposal to the historic credibility of this miracle, but in the present instance I will put the facts of the case as briefly and as concisely as possible."

It is admitted as a fact that Jesus lived. No one wishing to preserve a reputation as an authority on matters of history will undertake to deny this, as the proof of it has been made clear. It is not denied that he died in Jerusalem. It is is also granted that he died between the years 26 and 34. Note this fact particularly. All the writers on the question agree to within eight years of this fact, which is considered an indisputable fact. In the case of the founders of other religions, opinions differ vastly as to when they lived, the authorities often being unable to place them within a period of a thousand years.

It is admitted that our Lord died the death of crucifixion in the place where the malefactors were that He died on the cross between two men of this class. That He certainly expired we know, as the centurion in charge was not permitted to take anyone from the cross until death was quite certain. Assurance is made doubly sure on this this point by the fact of the spear thrust, which let out His heart's blood in a crimson stream. We know, too, he was buried in the city of Jerusalem. His resurrection, however, from the dead is vigourously denied in certain quarters. We have then to take into account such considerations as these: We are told when the death took place. Through the Gospels a great deal of circumstantial facts are connected with it, which would not be the case if the statement was made by impostors. All the little circumstances connected with the death are told. If any of these little details were disproven, it would cast a doubt on the entire statement. An imposter would not relate the minutæ in this manner then, but would be very vague and leave loopholes of escape.

AN HONEST STATEMENT

is one to which there is abundance of testimony. In this case there is no effort made to cover up anything, but there is a fulness of statement and an attention to detail that carries honesty on its face. The burial took place and the vault was closed with a giant stone which could not be displaced from the inside and which required the united effort of several men to roll to its place. Further the official seal is placed on it and a guard is placed on watch and yet on the testimony of those very enemies of Christ we learn that Jesus rose from that grave in which His body had been sealed.

He appeared again and the marks of His cruel death were seen by the eleven. They could not be deceived. Who would be less likely to be deceived than His eleven chosen disciples. They doubted at first, we are told, and it was only after proof that their scepticism was removed, Thomas was doubly assured. He touched the wounds. They were not then convinced by testimony, but by being in His presence. Faith did not create the resurrection, but the resurrection created the faith."

The reverence with which

has always been hallowed is another proof.

Take the observance of the Lord's Supper for another historical event. Where could a better proof be found than a symbolic act such as this? If He had not come out of the grave there would not have been any Lord's Supper.

The church in the world is Christ arisen.

No such proofs as these can be adduced in regard to any other great fact in history and yet credence is implicitly placed in the statements concerning them.

Concerning the evidential value of the resurrection, the speaker placed the matter in this wise. "Suppose then we admit historically, that He did rise from the dead. You remember when he said, 'Peace be unto you,' but instead amazement reigned. Then he said 'Feel Me.' Then he asked for something to eat and partook in the presence of the eleven. This could not be a mere apparition. As regarding Himself it is proof that He was the Son of God, and it was the direct fulfillment of the Scriptures. He prophesied saying "Destroy this temple and after three days I will raise it up." Again when

COMING FROM THE MOUNT

He cautioned those with Him not to tell of what took place until He returned again. At another time He said, "When I am arisen I will go into Galilee." There are only three instances from the Scriptures, wherein He prophesied His return, but there are hundreds more just as clear. The coincidence is much too close to be an accident. We have in the resurrection the fulfilment of prophesies made centuries before.

A Saviour that undertook to save the world and could not save himself would have been at once refuted. If the resurrection had not followed immediately after the crucifixion our hopes would be in the grave.

Regarding the scoff of the Jews that He would not come from the cross and demonstrate that He was indeed the Saviour is easily explained. If He had done so, He would not have fulfilled the Scriptures. Three days was the time requisite before He could again appear."

Rev. Mr. Jordan then concluded his remarkably edifying discourse, and the large congregation was evidently deeply impressed with his systematic and logical reasoning upon the subject which he had in hand.

SICK NURSING.

MRS. W. S. SCOTT

Is open for engagements as Sick Nurse. Terms on application at her residence, No. 71 Westcott Street. 2d35

At first ill-health, creeps up slowly, but at last it comes at a gallop and the rider is death. Of all known forms of ill-health and disease, consumption is the most insidious. Its approach is slow and stealthy. But at the last death comes with a rush. Consumption has been frequently pronounced incurable. It is not. It may be stopped—warded off—at almost any stage. But if the sufferer neglects to take the proper remedy in the proper way, death is swift and certain.

Consumption like almost all manner of disease has its inception in a trio of all-embracing disorders. They are "imperfect digestion," "irregular bowels," an "impure blood." They are triplets. One is dependent for existence upon the other. Cure one, cure all. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all known remedies for this disorder. It corrects disordered digestion, invigorates the liver, regulates the bowels, makes the blood pure, and the nerves strong. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It makes the muscles firm and springy. It soothes and invigorates the nerves. It tones up body and brain. It cures ninety-eight per cent of all cases of consumption.

Mrs. Rebecca F. Gardner, of Grafton, York Co., Va., writes: "When I was married I weighed one hundred and twenty-five pounds. I was taken sick and reduced in health and broke out with a disease which my doctor said was eczema. He treated my disease but failed to do me any good, and I fell away to 90 pounds. I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and thank God and you, I began to improve. When I began taking the 'Discovery' my weight was 90 pounds and now I weigh 140 pounds and have only taken two bottles. I cannot say too much about the medicine. My husband is one of the happiest men in the world. He says I look younger than I did the first time he ever saw me, and that was fifteen years ago. Well, doctor, I am a well woman, and do all of my housework, tend to my fowls and cow and do some work in the garden. It is a miracle that I am cured."

Health and happiness formed a partnership in the garden of Eden. It has never been dissolved. You cannot have one without the other. Constipation is the usual cause of ill-health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They cure constipation. One is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

THE LIST COMPLETE.

Military Officers Invited to Go to London

AS AN ESCORT TO THE PREMIER

All the Provinces are Represented—The New Regulations Regarding the Royal Military College Have Had a Good Effect in Increasing the Applications—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, May 7.—(Special.)—The full list of officers invited to accompany the Premier to London next month is as follows, a few names having been added since yesterday:

Ontario—Lieut.-Col. O'Brien, 35th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. Tisdale, field officer; Lieut.-Col. Tyrwhitt, 30th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. Mason, 10th Grenadiers; Lieut.-Col. Gibson, 13th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. Munro, 22nd Battalion; Captain Bate, the G.G.F.G.; Capt. Thompson, 27th Battalion.

Quebec—Lieut.-Col. Burland, 6th Fusiliers; Lieut.-Col. White, 8th Battalion; Surgeon-Major Wilson, Montreal Field Battery; Major Herbert, 65th Battalion; Captain Courtney, 6th Fusiliers; Lieut.-Col. Labelle, 65th Battalion; Major Pinault, 9th Battalion.

New Brunswick—Lieut.-Col. Domville, 8th Hussars; Lieut.-Col. Tucker, 62nd Battalion.

Nova Scotia—Second Lieutenant Borden, King's Canadian Hussars.

Manitoba—Col. the Hon. Mr. Boulton.

Prince Edward Island—Lieut.-Col. Longworth, 4th Regiment G.A.

British Columbia—Lieut.-Col. Prior, reserve of officers; Lieut.-Col. Gregory, 5th Regiment.

Some of the officers invited to accompany the Premier to London do not like the conditions which are imposed. They think that in honorary appointments of this kind the officers should really be members of the Premier's suite, and should not be shunted off to Aldershott and placed under military discipline. Others again will be precluded from accepting on account of the expense. Many will doubtless have to provide themselves with new uniforms and the pay allowed, $4.75 for a colonel, will certainly not cover the expense which each officer will have to bear.

The reduction of the fee for cadets at the Royal Military College has already had a very marked effect. So much so that it has been decided to change the date of the next entrance examination. To accommodate the numerous applicants the examination will be held on June 15. The time during which application may be made for admission to this examination has been extended from May 15 to June 1. There will be 30 vacancies for the college, and if sufficient candidates do not pass to fill these vacancies a supplementary examination will be held on Aug. 15, 1897.

It is said that the Premier on his visit to England next month will be accompanied by some of his colleagues, the names of Sir Richard Cartwright, Messrs. Fielding and Tarte being mentioned in this connection.

Last Sunday Father Cinq Mars, cure of Portneuf, made two important statements from the pulpit of his parish church. One was that Mgr. Merry Del Val had expressed his approval of Bishop Lafleche's mandement condemning the school settlement; the other that Catholic electors could not vote in the pending provincial elections in favor of a candidate who had aided in electing a supporter of the school settlement in the Federal House.

Sir Henri Joly visited Portneuf the same day and, hearing of Father Cinq Mars' statements, he telegraphed Speaker Pelletier, asking for confirmation or otherwise. The Speaker immediately saw the Papal delegate and then telegraphed Sir Henri Joly as follows: "Apostolic delegate states that he never approved the mandement condemning school settlement." Speaker Pelletier also wired Mr. Tessier, the Liberal candidate: "His Excellency authorizes the statement that he has not sanctioned the forbidding of electors to vote for one candidate or the other."

A deputation of tanners was in town to-day seeing Sir Henri Joly about securing a return to the old method of compulsory inspection of hides, which, it is claimed, is far superior to the present system. The deputation consisted of Messrs. Wickett, Toronto; Lang, Berlin; Gourdeau & Frere, Quebec, and Carrington of Kingston. They were accompanied by Mr. Wills, secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade.

Mr. Cowan presented a petition today from many residents of Leamington and Kingsville, asking Parliament to impose an export duty on natural gas, on the ground that unless this is done the supply required for these two towns will be encroached upon to such an extent that the requirements will not be fully met.

Premier Greenway left for Montreal last evening. He is supporting a scheme for building a railway from Winnipeg to the Lake of the Woods at the international boundary, to connect with a road to Duluth. This would give an additional outlet for the crops of Manitoba and the Northwest.

An agreement has been entered into between the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company and the Canada Atlantic and Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railways, by which the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company will in future handle all business from places not reached by the wires of these two railways. This means a reduction of exactly one-half the rates previously charged the public.

The case of the Queen v. Poupore, Fraser & Co. was continued in the Exchequer Court to-day. It is an action in which the Government seeks to recover the money paid for damages to the steamer Acadia, which was injured by striking on a rock in the Morrisburg Canal. The defendants were the contractors, and the Government asks to have them made responsible for the accident.

Hon. Robert Watson, Commissioner of Public Works for Manitoba, has arrived in the city to confer with the Government on the matter of disputed accounts with the province, and regarding an increase of the subsidy paid to the Local Government. Mr. Ptolemy, chief clerk of the Provincial Treasury Department, Winnipeg, is here also to deal with the provincial claims.

The Licensed Victuallers' Association of Quebec have arranged for a strong deputation to visit Ottawa on May 12 to meet bodies from Ontario, British Columbia and the Northwest Territories, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, to consult over what is to be done in connection with the coming plebiscite, and to arrange what request shall be placed before the Government touching the application of the prohibitory measure, should it become law.

Mr. H. P. Lemieux, of the Montreal Custom House, has been appointed Assistant Inspector of Customs, with jurisdiction from Kingston to Gaspe. He is the father of Rudolph Lemieux, M.P. for Gaspe, and was reduced by the late Government from a collectorship to a subordinate position.

As the strength of a building depends upon the solidity of its foundation, so health depends upon the condition of the blood. To expel impurities and cause the vital fluid to become vigorous and life-giving, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most powerful and effective medicine in use.

DREDGING FOR GOLD.

Senator McDonald is Anxious to Know About the Yukon Charter and Thinks Too Much is Asked.

Ottawa, May 7.—(Special.)—In the Senate to-day, Senator McDonald of British Columbia enquired whether it was the intention of the Government to give a lease of 100 miles of the Stewart River, in the Yukon District, for 20 years, to a certain company, for the purpose of mining or dredging for gold. He understood that the Government had advertised for tenders on the line indicated in his question, and that the conditions specified that the company obtaining the lease was to pay for it 25 cents per ounce on all gold obtained. He did not think any single company should be granted such an extensive leasehold.

Senator Scott said that the Government had asked for tenders, as stated, but, as the tenders had not yet been opened or considered by council, he could not say whether the lease would be granted or not.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell remarked that the asking for tenders was an indication of the policy of the Government. Again had the Government gone back on its oft-expressed policy of not encouraging outrageous monopolies.

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
by the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. Fields, Bloomfield, Ia.

IN SILENTIA.

O'er lintel low gray mosses creep,
They hide the names of those that sleep—
Sweet household names of long ago.
Dim shadows waver to and fro,
And sunbeams flit with noiseless feet
Along the silent, grass-grown street.

Tell us, O sleepers! which is best—
Our troubled waking, or your rest?
Mute sleepers, who can never wake
For sorrow's call, or love's dear sake.

What storms have beat upon their roof,
What trusted friends have stood aloof,
What tempests hurled their shafts of ire,
What hate hath lit the martyr pyre
Whose torturing flames from day to day
Their lives consumed, no tongue can say.

And yet, we know the birds above
To them sometimes have sung of love;
The fair flowers breathing faith and trust
Each spring-time waked from out the dust;
The glad earth smiled with joy so sweet,
Heaven seemed afar, this life complete.

They dreamed the dreams we dream to-day;
They saw their hopes flit swift away,
As ours do now—till lo, at last,
Earth, held so long and held so fast,
Had faded slowly out of sight,
Lost in eternity's clear light.

And still we wonder which is best—
Our troubled waking or their rest.

Canker.

Some time ago I received a letter from Mr. R. H. Essex of Toronto, Ont., the well-known Buff Plymouth Rock breeder stating that since the Ontario Exhibition his first prize hen had unfortunately taken a growth on the side of her mouth which he considered canker, and asking me if I could prescribe a treatment. I wrote Mr. Essex advising him to remove the growth with a small rounded piece of wood, and then paint by means of a feather with the following canker lotion:

Strong solution perchloride of iron..1 part.
Oil of turpentine .....1 part.
Tincture of benzoin .....1 part.
Glycerine .....5 parts.
Shake well when using.

Along with this treatment I advised putting the hen on a mild diet of bread and milk, and giving her some condition pills that I sent to promote her general health. A few days ago I was greatly pleased to receive the following note from Mr. Essex:

"I am glad to be able to say that the hen, which I prized so much, and which, under your instruction, I treated for the growth on the side of her beak, has fully recovered her health. The cockerel which had canker on the throat has not progressed favorably, although I am also treating him. The growth does not enlarge, as I keep it removed, but it forms again and again. With constant care I believe he will get over it, as I always have hope while a bird gets no worse."

In the case of the cockerel that Mr. Essex has referred to as not progressing very favorably, I think that if he were mine, I would try some other treatment for a day or two such as sixty grains nitrate of silver to an ounce of water, or the following: Two tablespoonfuls of good strong vinegar, one teaspoonful pulverized alum and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of sugar of lead. I have heard the following remedy spoken of very highly, but have had no experience in using it, viz: Equal parts of powdered alum, sulphur and magnesia, thoroughly mixed together, and applied directly to the affected parts.

It is of course taken for granted that the growth has been thoroughly and carefully removed before each application of the remedy.—F. H. Hare, in Reliable Poultry Journal.

Humors, pimples, boils, are very annoying. They quickly disappear when the blood is purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Voice from Virden.

Gentlemen,—I have used Hagyard's Yellow Oil for the past ten years, and find it a splendid remedy for colic, neuralgia, bronchitis, croup, pains in the back, ulcerated and sore throat, sprains, chilblains, etc., in fact we use it for almost every pain, and it always relieves quickly. I can safely say I know of no other remedy of the sort that can equal it. We always keep a good stock in the house.

CROP OUTLOOK IN ONTARIO.

The following is taken from the May bulletin, now being issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, on the condition of crops and live stock in the Province on May 1:

The Weather—The past winter was milder than usual. December was the only month below the average, having been 10 degrees colder than the average of the previous 15 years. March was 7 degrees warmer than in the two previous years and April was 4 degrees colder than in 1896.

The rainfall of the six months—November to April—was above the average, and the snowfall below; but both together (the total precipitation) were 15.26 inches, compared with 15.44 in the previous year, and 15.72 inches, the average of the previous 15 years. March and April had an extra amount of rain by over 1.5 inches. The snowfall averages 62 inches, but there was a great variation, from 16 inches at Woodstock to 144 inches at Owen Sound. There were heavy frosts throughout the Province on April 19 and 20.

Vegetation—As May opened it was considered by the majority of correspondents that the season was hardly as advanced as usual, but it was thought that as there had been plenty of rain there would be rapid growth when the warm weather came. In most parts of the Province there was a good bite of grass for sheep and young cattle, but live stock generally had not been turned out to pasture. Fruit buds on trees were ready to burst into bloom, and gooseberries and currants were nicely leafing. Very little sowing of spring crops had occurred, owing to the wet and rather cold weather prevailing.

Live Stock—Taking a general survey of the field, live stock may be said to have come through the winter in good condition. Horses are perhaps a little thin, but apart from odd cases of "distemper," they have been almost completely free from disease. Cattle have also done well, although in the desire to husband fodder, some of the animals were allowed to get too lean. Two or three cases of disease were complained of, but these were evidently due to local conditions. Sheep generally are in excellent condition and lambs are abundant. Some cases of scab, however, were reported from York and Victoria, and elsewhere one or two complaints of a different ailment. Swine have not done as well as usual. Many litters have been lost. In Essex and other Lake Erie counties there was an outbreak of hog cholera, and importations from that district led to other cases appearing in parts of Lambton, Middlesex, Oxford and York. The disease appears to have been promptly stamped out.

Farm Supplies—There was a good supply of hay in the hands of farmers in the fall, but various causes led to large sales to pressers and liberal feeding to live stock, and except in a few sections here and there, there is but little more hay than is necessary for local emergencies. Oats are still plentiful, although, owing to low prices, large quantities of this grain were fed to live stock. Some farmers are still holding on to wheat, but the majority have parted with the bulk of their supply, and in most districts there is little more than is necessary for home needs. There was a lively movement in cattle during the winter and spring, especially in the Western part of the Province, where a large number of beeves were purchased and shipped to Buffalo and other American markets, good prices being given. A considerable number of cattle have also been purchased for the British markets to be finished on grass for May and June delivery. There are less fat and store cattle for sale than usual in the Province, although in some sections there will still be more than are required for local purposes.

Clover—Reports regarding clover are not only varied, but in many instances they are contradictory, although the matter of draining largely explains why men in the same locality sometimes send entirely opposite reports. Clover made a poor catch in 1895, and in the following spring the seeding turned out only a little better, except where sown with barley. Young fields are doing better than old meadows in the Western half of the Province. On low-lying lands a good deal of heaving occurred, although this evil was in some instances largely repaired by a prompt and careful use of the land roller. In the Eastern part of the Province there are more unfavorable reports than otherwise regarding clover. In a number of localities it is "playing out" to a discouraging extent, and spring frosts have done more injury there than in the West. Taking the Province as a whole, it is yet possible for the crop to recover and give a generous yield by mowing time. In both the East and West alike has done much better than red clover.

Fall Wheat—In the Western half of the Province correspondents are practically unanimous in reporting the fall wheat good. Very little injury was done in the winter. On some low-lying fields spring frosts and, later, spring rains did some damage, but the general prospects are above the average. The following are condensed reports of frequent occurrence: "Very good," "Excellent," "Best for years," "Never saw better," "Looks better than for several years." No injury by insects has been reported. Little or none of the crop will be plowed up. When we go to Eastern Ontario, however, the reports are quite the reverse. From all sections come reports of poor condition and the crop being a failure, but as most of the fall wheat of the Province is grown in the Western half we may conclude that the good fall wheat acreage greatly exceeds the poor, and the prospects on the whole are very fine. In November last we concluded that an increased area had been laid down to wheat. The crop of this year at present promises to exceed in total yield the crops of the two preceding years.

Winter Rye—This crop is growing in favor, both for pasturing and soiling, although the area is still comparatively small. It has come through the winter in splendid condition, more especially where sown on light soils.

A Graduate of Toronto University Says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always effects a cure.

Timing Projectiles.

To the layman one of the interesting features in a big-gun test is the method by which the initial velocity of the projectiles is calculated, remarks The New York Sun. When he hears the modern high-power guns often expel a shot at an initial velocity of 2000 feet a second, a rate that if sustained would mean a mile in three seconds, he realizes the difficulty of calculating the speed. An ordnance officer must have accurate knowledge of the velocity of a projectile that he may predict its range and penetration and determine the accuracy of the gun. It is a comparatively easy matter, however, with the new instruments, to calculate accurately the initial velocity of a projectile and any man who is fortunate enough to visit Sandy Hook when big guns are being tested may see how it is done.

Two open frames are set up 150 feet apart in front of the gun. Wires are stretched back and forth across these frames, making a screen through which the shot may pass. The wires in each screen form a complete electric circuit, which induces also an electric battery and an electro-magnet. The projectile, after leaving the gun, flies through the wire in the first screen, interrupting the circuit and releasing the armature of the magnet. In a space of time as to be hardly conceivable the projectile has covered the distance between the two frames, and pierced the wire in the second, interrupting its electrical current and releasing the armature of its magnet as in the first case. The interval between the drop of these two armatures represents the time spent by the projectile in traveling 150 feet. This time is indicated by the chronograph in the laboratory near by. Wires run from each screen to the laboratory, which is fitted up with batteries and switchboards.

Cancer can be Cured.

For six years I suffered from cancer, and got no relief until I used Burdock Blood Bitters. I used seven bottles faithfully, when the cancer gradually dried up and finally disappeared. I am now entirely well and rejoice that by using B.B.B. I have escaped death either from the surgeon's knife or from the cancer itself.

KNEW NOTHING OF THE RAID.

The Duke of Abercorn Examined Before the South African Committee.

London, May 7.—The South African Committee of the House of Commons, which is enquiring into the Transvaal raid, had another session to-day in the committee room of Westminster Hall. The Duke of Abercorn, president of the Chartered Company of British South Africa, was examined. He said the board of directors of the company had no knowledge whatever of the raid before it occurred, nor suspicion of any intention upon the part of anyone to use the Chartered Company's forces against the Transvaal.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS
'Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator, it is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is most profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps, however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is, by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars.—G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

LACROSSE.

The members of the lacrosse team who have not as yet procured tickets are requested to do so at once.

The players who are in shape and have attended practices are those who will appear on the field when a team is selected and each man should make it a point to turn out for three practice nights a week.

The Oddfellows, of Toronto, are running an excursion from Toronto on the 24th and the Rosedale lacrosse club is coming with them to play the local team. A good game can be looked for.

There will be a meeting of the Granite lacrosse club to-morrow evening at the Palace Restaurant parlours. Every member is urgently requested to be present.

CURLIANIA.

Mr. Dickson Davidson, President of the Midland Colts Association, has just received a letter from Mr. W. H. Biggar, of Belleville, thanking him for a photograph of the two local Colts rinks, which have won the trophy for Peterborough. While congratulating the rinks on never having lost a game, Mr. Biggar expresses the hope that they will have to fight harder next year.

THE WHEEL.

Says a veteran rider:—"Endeavour to cultivate the art of riding without curving the back; it is quite possible to lean forward and yet keep the spine straight. Cycling is frequently robbed of its splendid health-giving qualities by contraction of the chest muscles, resulting from a careless and ungraceful position on the saddle, and many are deterred from adopting the pastime lest the 'bicycle back' be acquired.

"Beginners should never attempt to ride long distances. Some preliminary training is necessary ere seventy or eighty miles can be covered without stiffness and exhaustion resulting. The pace should be steady all through, and any inducement to ride fast at certain places should be curtailed so that all superfluous energy may be reserved for the return journey, when it is most required. Also make sure the machine is all right before setting out. These matters must be considered if the ride is to be carried out with comfort and ease."

The Synod of Rupert's Land Votes Down a Motion Favoring It—Seeding Over in Manitoba—Chan Yin Hann Passes Through.

Winnipeg, May 8.—(Special.)—The Synod of the Diocese of Rupert's Land closed a week's session here yesterday. A motion favoring prohibition evoked much discussion, but was lost by a vote of 40 to 10. The discussion was closed by the Archbishop, who said he wished to state distinctly that he would vote against prohibition in the plebiscite.

S. R. Mallatte, a leading Liberal of Portage la Prairie, has been appointed Indian agent at several reservations in the vicinity of that town.

The Northern Pacific Railway crop report shows that wheat seeding in Manitoba is practically finished, and that in some districts the acreage will be increased fully 50 per cent. over last year. Prospects are excellent owing to the favorable condition of the soil.

A RUSH FOR TEA.

Yankee Buyers Have Bought Largely From Montreal Brokers in Anticipation of the Duty.

Montreal, May 9.—There has been quite a stir amongst local brokers, who have experienced a decided increase in the demand from the United States. The duty of 10 cents a pound on tea proposed by the United States is responsible for this. Buyers across the line are anxious to get well loaded up with tea before the duty is imposed, and it is for this reason they are buying so freely in this market. It is estimated that fully 4000 packages of tea were shipped from Montreal last week, and a large quantity this week.

GREECE IS WHIPPED

And Germany is Master of the Situation at Last.

CONDITIONS WILL BE ACCEPTED.

Lord Salisbury Made a Non-Committal Explanation in the British House of Commons—The Main Point is to Stop the Bloodshed—Latest War News.

London, May 10.—The Earl of Kimberley, the Liberal leader in the House of Lords, to-day asked whether Greece had announced her willingness to withdraw her troops from Crete, and whether she had requested the powers to mediate with Turkey.

The Marquis of Salisbury, in reply, said that if he answered in the negative it would be strictly correct, yet such a reply might be misleading. The Greek Government, the Premier explained, had not asked for mediation, but members of that Government express a desire for mediation. The Greek Government as a whole, the Premier added, did not intend, to the best of his belief, to ask for mediation.

Regarding Crete, the Premier said there is some indefiniteness in the present state of things. The Greek Government does not conceive it will be consistent with its position to promise an immediate and definite withdrawal of the Greek troops from Crete; but the Premier understood, though the Government had not any official information on the subject, that the Greek Government is prepared to say it will withdraw the Greek troops from Crete in the not very distant future.

Continuing, the Marquis of Salisbury remarked: "I am sorry to say that, as we stand at present, I do not think this assurance is entirely satisfactory to all the powers. However, I have only to answer for ourselves, and our instructions have been to join in any procedure for the purpose of entering upon mediation which is acceptable to the others. In our view, the main point is to arrest, so far as possible, the effusion of blood, and we are not very particular about the form. I regret exceedingly that the Greek Government is more particular about the forms than the circumstances in the case justify."

GREECE WILL ACCEPT.

The Conditions Insisted On by Germany Will Be Acquiesced In.

Athens, May 10.—The conditions insisted upon by Germany, the chief of which is that Greece shall give her formal consent to the principle of autonomy for Crete, will be accepted by the Greek Government. The note of the powers has not yet been presented, but it has been drawn and is to the following effect:

"Upon a formal declaration by Greece that she will recall her troops and agree to such an autonomous regime for Crete as the powers in their wisdom shall deem best, and accept unreservedly the councils of the powers, they will intervene in the interests of peace."

The note probably will be presented tomorrow, after the German Minister has received final instructions.

It is understood that Greece, in her reply, will assent to all of these conditions. M. Rolli, the Premier, and M. Skouloudis, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, have had a long interview to-day with Mr. Egerton, the British representative, which has caused considerable comment. It is believed to be connected with the expected intervention of the powers.

A despatch from Domokos says that heavy rains there prevent fighting.

Received With Resignation

Athens, May 10.—The recall of the forces from Crete has been received with resignation by the public. The Delyannis organs attack the Government bitterly for appealing to Europe, but most of the papers accept this as inevitable, and violently attack the Ethnike Hetairia, asking it to render an account of its action.

On learning that the Crown Prince had appointed his chief of staff, Col. Sipsomlaki, and his aide-de-camp, Capt. Hadjipetre, to command of an artillery regiment, the Government has recalled both officers to Athens and ordered them to return immediately.

Vassos Stole Away From Crete.

London, May 10.—The Daily Telegraph's Athens correspondent says that Col. Vassos told him he had great difficulty in leaving Crete, as all the foreign warships were on the alert. He departed from the island, he says, on a dark night, after passing the two previous nights in a cavern.

The Athens correspondent of The Standard says: M. Rallli, the Premier, said today, in the course of an interview, that the spontaneous intervention of the powers might be regarded as assured, as it was impossible for the Government to ask intervention while the Greek army remained intact.

Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett had an interview with King George to-day. He was treated with great kindness. This evening he proceeded to Constantinople.

The Foreign Legion fought heroically at Pharsalos, losing about 40 killed and wounded. With 500 Evzones, the Legion resisted 3000 Turks, but was ultimately forced to retreat over the hill. On reaching the valley they found that the main body had abandoned them.

A despatch to The Daily Mail from Volo says that, as the result of the proclamation of Edhem Pasha, promising to protect the inhabitants, and to use only one battalion as the occupying force, on condition that the Greek fleet might be withdrawn, the Greek Admiral has been ordered to leave forthwith. Volo has been occupied by a Turkish force of 6000.

Situation at Domokos Unchanged.

Athens, May 10.—The correspondent of the Associated Press says the position at Domokos is unchanged. Col. Vassos and his party have started for Epirus. Some mystery attaches to the circumstances under which he left Crete. The commander of an Italian torpedo boat reported to Admiral Canevaro that he had seen Col. Vassos and four companions in a boat off the island of Cerigo.

What Turkey Will Demand.

Vienna, May 10.—It is reported here that Turkey's terms of peace with Greece include the payment of an indemnity of £3,000,000, a rearrangement of the Greek frontier, the annulling of the treaties favoring the Greeks, the cession of the Greek fleet to Turkey and the settlement of the Cretan question.

THE "SYMPATHETIC" SULTAN.

Of Course He Wants to Deal Direct with Greece—And He'll Make Greece Sweat.

London, May 10.—The Exchange Telegraph Company announces that it learns that private advices received in London from Constantinople declare the Sultan has expressed deep sympathy for King George, and the Greek Government, whose hands, in his opinion, were forced by revolutionary agents at Athens and Alexandria. The Sultan, according to these advices, declines to claim war indemnity, and proposes a Turko-Greek treaty, based upon a simultaneous evacuation of Thessaly and Crete. Finally, it is said that the Sultan desires to deal direct with Greece, and not through the powers.

Smolenski Awaiting Attack.

Athens, May 10.—The Government has addressed a request to the powers to allow their admirals in Cretan waters to permit the Greek warships to embark the troops that have been recalled.

The Government explains the recall as due to the urgent need of men for the defense of Thessaly.

The latest news from the front is that Gen. Smolenski is now with the Greek forces at Persepla, where he is expecting a fresh attack. M. Skouloudis, the Greek Minister of Foreign Affairs, said, in an interview to-day, that he expects many difficulties will be encountered in the peace negotiations.

The report that the Crown Princess is going to Berlin is not confirmed.

An Early Settlement Expected

Paris, May 10.—A semi-official communique was published this afternoon, saying the impression prevails that the recent negotiations between Greece and Turkey will not be attended by great difficulties and will soon have a satisfactory issue. The powers, it is further stated, had already agreed among themselves upon the conditions of peace. Germany's hesitation was due to the fact that the Greek Government, in a circular to its representatives at the courts of the powers, did not formally adhere to Cretan autonomy as demanded by the powers. Greece, subsequently, gave the necessary assurances in this respect, and the German Minister at Athens has been instructed to support the efforts of the powers to conclude peace.

Greeks Again Routed.

Constantinople, May 10.—The Turkish commander at Janina telegraphs that the Greek forces at Kamarina have been routed by three battalions of Turkish troops, who occupied Kamarina. Later, the despatch adds, the Greeks gathered in a church on the heights above the village, whence they fired upon the Turks, who eventually took the church by assault, killing many of the Greeks and capturing some prisoners. The remainder of the Greeks retired to the bridge of Agrea Georgia, whence they made a determined stand, but were finally routed by the Turks.

The Occupation of Volo.

Constantinople, May 10.—Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in Thessaly, has telegraphed from Velestino to the Ministry of War, giving details of the occupation of Volo by the Turkish troops, the institution of Ottoman administration there, the withdrawal of the Greek fleet from the port, and the seizure of large quantities of munitions of war, and has requested that Turkish customs officers be sent to Volo in order to ensure a continuance of business at that port.

Turks Occupy Volo.

Larissa, May 10.—The Greek fleet has left Volo, but the French, Italian and British guard-ships remain. The town is quiet, and has been occupied by the Turkish troops. A considerable number of the latter have taken up positions on the surrounding heights. The bulk of the Ottoman army has withdrawn, and is marching in another direction. Quantities of arms, ammunition and a number of ambulances were captured by the Turks at Volo. All the heights commanding Pharsalos are now occupied by the Turks.

Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander, with all his generals and a number of officers of lower rank, have been decorated, and many of the Turkish officers have been promoted.

A fresh division of Nizams, armed with Mauser rifles, has arrived here and proceeded to the front.

TWENTY MINERS ENTOMBED.

Explosion at a Lead Mine on the Isle of Man and Fatal Results Feared.

London, May 10.—An explosion has occurred at the Snaefell lead mine on the Isle of Man. Twenty miners were entombed and it is feared that they have been killed.

Killed on the Grand Trunk.

Windsor, May 10.—William Seofeld of Belle River was struck by a Grand Trunk train at the Puce, 13 miles from Windsor, yesterday, and killed. His body was discovered by Conductor Freeman in the ditch near the track, and taken to Belle River. He leaves a widow and five children.

Grain in Store and Afloat.

New York, May 10.—The statement of the visible supply of grain in store and afloat, as compiled by the New York Produce Exchange, is as follows: Wheat 31,962,000 bushels, decrease 2,550,000; corn 15,061,000 bushels, decrease 1,986,000; oats 10,895,000 bushels, decrease 827,000; rye 3,153,000 bushels, decrease 42,000; barley 1,589,000 bushels, decrease 706,000.

HOUSE OF COMMONS

Private Members' Day and Many Vacant Seats.

MANY INQUIRIES HAD TO STAND.

Mr. Fielding Has No Specific Knowledge of the Existence of Combines or Trusts Among Canadian Manufacturers—Mr Charles Tupper Brought Up the Pulp Wood Question.

Ottawa, May 10.—(Special.)—This was private members' day in the House, and the proceedings were very dull. There was quite a string of questions, but many of them stood over, owing to the absence of members.

Mr. Laurier informed Mr. Macdonald (Huron) that the report of the Kingston Penitentiary Commissioners is now engaging the attention of the Minister of Justice.

Mr. Sifton told Mr. Davin that "Dr." Walton Jones had not been appointed Canadian commissioner to the exhibition at Stockholm.

Mr. Davin asked what Mr. Sifton meant when he said that he had received a deluge of letters from people stating they have written letters to his department from one to five years ago and had not received any reply. Mr. Davin wanted to know how many letters the word "deluge" represented.

Mr. Sifton said the word "deluge" was a common English word which a person of ordinary comprehension could readily understand. It did not require any explanation on his part, especially to a gentleman of the high literary attainments of Mr. Davin. [Laughter.]

Some of the other questions which Mr. Davin had put on the order paper were, in his (Mr. Sifton's) opinion, evidently frivolous and did not call for answers.

Mr. Laurier told Mr. McInnes that the Government had notified the Imperial authorities that they did not propose to be bound by the Japanese treaty.

Mr. Laurier informed Mr. Casgrain that it was the intention to appoint a local Judge of Admiralty of the Exchequer Court.

Mr. Henderson asked if the Government was aware that there exists at the present time in Canada any trust, combination, association or agreement of any kind among the manufacturers of any article of commerce, or the dealers therein, or any portion of them, to enhance the price of such article, or in any other way to unduly promote the advantage of such manufacturers, or is facilitated by the customs duty imposed on a like article when imported.

(2) If so, in what manufactures do such trusts or combines exist?

(3) Is it the intention of the Government to reduce the duties at once on any articles affected by any such existing trust or combine?

Mr. Fielding replied, from general information obtained, that the Government believes that there is in Canada some association of the character mentioned in the question, but the information in their possession is not sufficient to call for a reduction in duties at present.

Mr. Davies, answering Mr. Davin, said that the whaler Diana had been chartered for the Hudson's Bay expedition, from May 1 to Dec. 1, for a sum of $9800, or $1400 monthly in advance. She was to be insured for $40,000, and in the event of loss or abandonment the Government should be responsible for the proportionate share of the amount of the charter up to the time she was lost or abandoned. The offer of Messrs. Mildburn & Company of England to send the steamer Port Pirie to Hudson Bay was at the rate of $35,000 per month, the Government paying the extra insurance, which, as near as could be ascertained, would be about £10 10s per £100. The Port Pirie was 3109 tons gross, 1928 tons net, 353 feet, 450 horse power.

Mr. Laurier told Mr. Davin that Mr. Dobell had not become a director of the Quebec Bridge Company.

The Premier informed Mr. Oliver that the present strength of the Northwest Mounted Police was 711, of which 47 were officers and 664 non-commissioned men. A scheme was under consideration for reducing the number of the force without impairing the efficiency of the service.

Mr. Mills (for Mr. Maclean) asked if the attention of the Postmaster-General had been called to a scurrilous attack on Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen in The New York Sun on Tuesday last, and whether it was the intention of the Postmaster-General to allow that journal to circulate through Canadian mails.

Mr. Mulock: The attention of the department has not been called to the article in question, nor have I myself seen it. I have enquired from the secretary of the department, Mr. Lemaire, who informs me that the department has never yet suppressed any foreign newspaper coming to Canada simply because it might contain an attack on any members of the Royal family.

Mr. Mills: I may say that I have read the article and I consider it a most scurrilous one.

The new member for Macdonald, Man., Mr. Rutherford, was introduced between the Premier and Mr. Sifton, and took his seat amid Liberal acclamations.

A few motions for correspondence having passed, unopposed, Mr. Maxwell moved for papers relating to the quality of British Columbia salmon sold in the British market. He read from The London Globe a correspondence, signed by a person named Wood, describing the process of canning in British Columbia as being of the most filthy and unwholesome description. Mr. Maxwell characterized the correspondence as a tissue of lies.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries read the official report of Prof. Prince and others, completely refuting the stories of Mr. Wood, which were also made the subject of representations by the Minister, calculated to remove er-

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our

A QUESTION OF FEEDING.

Indian Corn as a Food for Hogs—Correspondence Between Prof. Robertson and the Wm. Davies Co.—The Feed Condemned by the Professor.

The William Davies Company on May 4 wrote to Prof. Robertson, the Dominion Agriculturaj and Dairy Commissioner, as follows:—"We have learned that some of the feeders of hogs at cheese factories in the western part of this Province are using corn either as an exclusive or as the chief article of grain diet with the whey from the factory. Our impression is that this is a serious mistake, which may in a most important manner affect the quality of the meat. We will be pleased if you will advise us whether your experince has led you to think that corn is a suitable food to use with whey."

Prof. Robertson replied, under date of May 5, as follows:—"I do not consider Indian corn to be a suitable supplementary food to be fed with whey. The chief feeding material in whey is the milk sugar which it contains. Indian corn is an excellent grain to feed with skim milk; but for feeding with whey, better results in the increase of weight and in the quality of the bacon will be obtained by using a mixture of such grains as peas, oats, barley and corn, or by using a mixture of peas, corn or bran, than by using corn alone. I have found the best results to be obtained from using such grains ground fine, and soaked for not less than thirty hours before they are fed. I think hog should be fed so as to permit and even to cause, them to take a good deal of exercise until after they weigh over 100 pounds each. In the growing of young pigs it is important that they should receive a daily allowance of skim milk for six weeks or two months after they are weaned. Skim milk is the great flesh-forming or muscle and bone-forming food; and if the young pigs are stunted in these regards at that time they cannot be developed into the best class of hogs, no matter what breed they may be of. In my judgment, it is highly important that the quality of Canadian hogs, in regard to the proportion of lean flesh and firmness, should be maintained and improved, if the best customers for hog products are to be secured and retained."

JUBILEE BONFIRES.

Sir George Baden-Powell is sending out printed notices all over Europe containing a proposal which he desires to be ventilated through the press. It appears that the Central Jubilee Committee in England is arranging that at 10 p.m. on June 22nd, "beacon fires shall gleam from one end to the other of the Mother Country." Sir George's suggestion is that the idea should be extended to the provinces and colonies over the sea, so that the great signal would blaze "from the thousand historic heights of the Empire," including, among a list of others, "from Mount Royal to Mount Sir Donald." "It will be," he says, "a grand symbol of United Empire to know that on one particular night commemorative bonfires are blazing all around the world—lighting up a fiery cross to signalize peace, prosperity and progress for all who enjoy and profit by the beneficent sway of Victoria the Great." He further expresses the opinion that the matter "can be achieved with ease." Sir George doesn't know what Canadian mountains are. We could do it easily enough on "Mount Royal," says the Montreal Herald, now that the incline railway is running; but it is a heavy strain on our loyalty to ask us to pack faggots up the 10,000 feet or so of cliff and glacier that comprise Mount Donald. However, his idea is in accord with the spirit of the time, and will no doubt arouse some interesting discussion. In Peterborough, Armour's hill would be a grand place for a jubilee bonfire.

A NOBLE WOMAN.

The Baroness Hirsch Donates Nearly a Million Francs in Order That the Paris Bazaar Scheme May Go Through.

Paris, May 10.—It is announced today that the Baroness Hirsch is the anonymous donor of the 987,500 francs received by the committee of the charity bazaar, the scene of the terrible fire on Tuesday last. This sum, together with the proceeds of the first day's sale 45,000 francs, totals up the exact receipts of the bazaar in 1896, thus enabling the committee to distribute its funds to charitable purposes as before.

The Baroness made this gift in order to commemorate the anniversary of the death of her husband, which occurred April 21, 1896.

POOR MRS. OPPENHEIM!

The Wife of a Former Mayor of Vancouver Has to Have Both Legs Amputated Because of an Accident.

Hudson, N. Y., May 10.—Mrs. David Oppenheim, the wife of the ex-Mayor of Vancouver, B. C., is in the hospital here, with both feet cut off. She was en route to Philadelphia to be treated by a specialist for a nervous disease, and was accompanied by her husband and a nurse. They occupied a compartment in a Wagner car on the New York Central Railroad. Early to-day, when the train was a few miles above Hudson, Mrs. Oppenheim flung herself from the car window. The wheels cut off both feet. Amputation of both legs will be necessary.

IT WAS PECULIAR.

Albert Mattarl Died from the Excitement of Seeing a Boy Drowned.

Chicago, May 10.—A peculiar double fatality occurred last evening before hundreds of spectators in Lincoln Park. While boating on Lake Michigan Matthew Roche and his 10-year-old nephew, Harry Flynn, attempted to exchange seats. The boat was overturned and the boy drowned, although Roche twice succeeded in pulling the little fellow on top of the capsized craft. While this was going on, Algert Mattarl, who was in the crowd at the water's edge, suddenly pitched forward on his face dead. His death is ascribed to excitement caused by watching the struggles of the drowning boy.

After Ten Long Years

Of Mental and Physical Sufferings and Failures with Common Medicines

Paine's Celery Compound Completely Cured Mrs. Hopper, of Thornhill, Ont.

What a blessing it would be to humanity if all suffering men and women knew just what Paine's Celery Compound is able to do.

The work that cannot be done for the sick in long years of experimenting with other medicines, is successfully carried to victory by Paine's Celery Compound in a few short weeks.

The cure of Mrs. Hopper fully proves the assertion made above. After years of failures, misery, agony and despondency, Paine's Celery Compound made a "new woman" of one who had become a mere wreck—one who was fast nearing the grave.

Have faith, sufferer! A strong deliverer is ever ready to help you! From today let your hope be centred in Paine's Celery Compound and its power to cure. It has never disappointed any; it cannot fail with you.

Read Mrs. Hopper's wonderful testimony:

"With very great pleasure and satisfaction I wish to add my testimony to what has already been said in favour of Paine's Celery Compound. For a very long time I suffered from general debility and rundown system. Having heard of Paine's Celery Compound I determined to give it a trial and I am happy to say that it has done for me more good than I can express. For ten years I doctored with other medicines without any good results; but after using Paine's Celery Compound I am perfectly restored to health, can eat well, digestion is good, and my sleep is sweet and sound. Altogether, I am a new woman. I always recommend Paine's Celery Compound to my friends."

It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for the old and young to have it in store against the time of need, which so often comes without warning.

TURKHEIM IS A RADICAL.

What In of the Allegations of His Wife Are Correct—Sowed the Wind, Reaping the Whirlwind.

San Francisco, May 10.—Jeannie Young, the "Baroness Von Turkheim," is now reaping the whirlwind. A cablegram from her, received yesterday in this city, states that she has at last awakened to the fact that she is the victim of a conspiracy and that she is anxious to return to this city. She states that she is at the Hotel Cecil in London, and that Von Arnold, alias Turkheim, intends to desert her early this morning. She asks her friends to send her sufficient money to return here, as she is without funds. That she now appreciates fully the duplicity of Turkheim is shown by the suggestion that steps be taken to effect the extradition of her husband and compel his return to this State, where, it is alleged, he committed the crime of bigamy, perjury and conspiracy. The deceived and deserted woman sent three cablegrams to San Francisco, all of which are of the same tenor. One was addressed to the chief of police and reads as follows:

"London, May 9.—Discovered proof of Delmas' villainy at Hotel Cecil, London. Turkheim intends leaving early to-morrow. Tell friends wish for immediate return. No money. Can you have Arnold, alias Von Turkheim, extradited to San Francisco? Has valuable papers of Fair case in his possession. Cable me care American Embassy. (Signed) Jeannie Von Turkheim."

Chief Lees turned the cablegram over to the woman's attorney, who will probably demand Arnold's extradition today.

BELL TELEPHONE CO. WON.

They Now Control the Telephone for 17 Years, Dating from 1891.

Washington, May 10.—The Bell Telephone Company won the case brought against it by the United States to annul the last Berliner patent. This decision has the effect of continuing the control of the telephone by the Bell Company for 17 years from the date of the last patent, which was granted in 1891. The Government asked to have the patent of 1891 set aside, on the ground that the delay of 13 years in the patent office was fraudulent and the fault of the Telephone Company, and that the patent issued in 1880 covered the same ground on which the new patent was applied for in 1891. The court in its opinion, delivered by Justice Brewer, held that there was no evidence of corruption or undue influence exercised over the patent office by the telephone company, and that there was no evidence that the delay in the granting of the patent had been brought about by the company. It held that whatever delay there had been was through the fault of the patent office and by no fault of the company.

This decision by the Supreme Court sustains the lower courts. The case has attracted wide attention because of the interests involved in the settlement, and the opinion of the court has been anxiously awaited.

The suit it was claimed involved the practical control of the art of telephoning. It originated in a charge of collusion in the patent office and was brought to obtain the repeal and cancellation of letters patent in the United States, dated Nov. 17, 1891, granted to the American Bell Telephone Company as assignee of Emile Berliner, the alleged originator. The repeal and cancellation of the patent were sought upon the ground that the application for it, while filed in 1877, was not issued until 1891. This delay was charged to be unnecessary and improper on the part of the patent office, and the Bell Telephone Company, which, as Berliner's assignee, controlled the application. It was asserted that the company had acquiesced in and promoted the delay and for their own interest, thus defrauding the public out of its rights. It was claimed that the Berliner patent practically controls telephony, as it has to do with both the transmission and receipt of sound, and that the delay thus secured in 1891 operated to prolong the control for fifteen years beyond the time of the expiration of the Bell patent.

It was also asserted that the patent was granted by the Commissioner of Patents without authority of law, and that it was for the same invention for which a patent had been granted in 1880, and that the principle was not therefore new.

The suit originated in the United States Circuit Court for the district of Massachusetts, where it was decided in favor of the United States. Upon appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the first circuit this decision was reversed and the contentions of the Berliner claimants upheld. From this opinion the United States appealed to the Supreme Court.

As the strength of a building depends upon the solidity of its foundation, so health depends upon the condition of the blood. To expel impurities and cause the vital fluid to become vigorous and life-giving, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most powerful and effective medicine in use.

A FENIAN'S SUICIDE.

One of the Scoundrels Who Attempted to Invade Canada Takes Himself Off.

Kansas City, Mo., May 8.—Major H. McNamara, a veteran of the Fenian army, which invaded Canada in 1866, and again in 1870, and who was later prominent in the Invincibles, the Clan-na-Gael and kindred Irish societies, killed himself last night rather than suffer the disgrace of being sued for a $20 debt. An acquaintance, who had loaned him money, threatened arrest if it were not paid. McNamara had been unable to secure work, and could not meet the demand. McNamara was 50 years old, and formerly came from Boston.

100 per cent Better.

Milburn's Heart and nerve Pills are curing heart and nerve troubles in every city, town and village in Canada. Mrs. F. Abbey, Toronto, says, "Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured my husband who had for fifteen years suffered with weak nerves caused by heart trouble. He was subject to pains in the head, dizziness, fainting spells, sleeplessness, etc. He is now free from these troubles, and feels 100 per cent better than when he began using the pills."

AS MR. WIMAN SEES IT

Tariff Wall is Like a Barbed Wire Fence.

CANADA DON'T WANT ANNEXATION.

She is More Loyal to Great Britain Than Ever—Some of the Expressions Made by Mr. Wiman at the Chamber of Commerce Dinner in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., May 10.—Erastus Wiman of New York responded to the topic "Better relations with Canada," at the Chamber of Commerce dinner to-night. Among other things, he said:

"In full view of both sides of the border lines, 4000 miles long, a depression unequalled in universality, severity and duration, the Governments on both sides are intently engaged in building higher than ever the tariff wall. They are thus destroying about the only chance there is of revival of commerce, or an outlet for products and manufactures.

"Cutting the continent commercially in two, this tariff is like a barbed wire fence, over which one brother cannot trade with another without paying tribute beyond the cost of production for both. British North America, comprising the greater half of the continent, now alone offers room for expansion. There are no new territories within the Union into which the surplus population can expand. Employment of emigration and the opportunity for development of natural resources to a degree far in excess of that hitherto realized, is now possible only in the northern half of the continent. Because another political system prevails in that region it ought to be no barrier to commercial expansion in that direction. That the people of Canada are favorable to the closest relationship to this country is evinced by the fact that its new Government has already shown itself ready to meet overtures by which the countries can practically be united. Annexation is unnecessary, undesirable and impossible. Canada is to-day more loyal to Great Britain than ever before. That the basis for a commercial bargain with Canada could be easily discovered by a commission of commercial men seems entirely possible, and no feature in the career of either Government would be so popular as that which would create a commission with this object in view."

NINE MILLION PEOPLE

Expected to Jostle Each Other in London Streets During the Jubilee Demonstration Some Fears.

London, May 10.—Lord Methuen and the others responsible for the management of London streets on Jubilee Day have been given a great shock by this Paris terror. They had not before realized quite perfectly what dangers may lurk in such a throng as the metropolis is going to hold on the day and night of the 22nd. Lord Methuen estimates that 9,000,000 people will be here that day, all pushing toward a central point of interest, and these figures are disturbing.

Schemes for an immense auxiliary force of special police are under advisement, and from this time on the peril of a possible crush like that at Moscow will be uppermost in every official mind.

The slump in the prices for seats continues, and dozens of syndicates formed for the purpose of exploiting the supposed idiocy of rich people are already ruined.

One gets his first fair notion of what the prices of sites are estimated at by application to the authorities from St. Martin's Church for legal powers to use money they are going to receive from a big firm of general providers for letting their premises. The church is at the northeast corner of Trafalgar-square. Its steps and grey spire will be well remembered by every tourist. The firm pays $20,000 for the privilege of building stands on its steps. The church yard side is to leave to the public.

DEATH OF MR. BROUGH.

Manager of the Bank of Montreal Did Not Survive the Operation.

Toronto, May 11.

Constantine Brough, manager of the Toronto branch of the Bank of Montreal, died yesterday morning at his residence, 39 Brunswick-avenue.

Mr. Brough was born on Sept. 7, 1836, in the Township of Oro, County of Simcoe, his father being the late Venerable C. C. Brough, M.A., Trinity College, Dublin, and his mother the sister of the late Hon. William Hume Blake, formerly Chancellor of Upper Canada. He received his early education at Caradoc Academy and completed his studies under the tutelage of the late Rev. Benjamin Bayly, T.C.D., principal of the London Collegiate Institute. After receiving his education he visited England with his father. He entered the service of the Bank of Montreal on Nov. 4, 1854, passing through all the stages of the service. He occupied the position of accountant at Hamilton, Toronto and New York and manager at Guelph and Cobourg. In 1880 he was appointed assistant manager at Toronto and on the retirement of Mr. Yarker in 1884 succeeded that gentleman as manager.

While at Hamilton Mr. Brough married the eldest daughter of the late Very Rev. Dean Geddes. He was a member of the Church of England and an Independent in politics. He became a member of the Board of Trade in 1885 and was one of the committee of the bankers' section.

He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters. Mrs. Brough and one of the daughters have been in England for some time.

Cross-Breeding Experience.

Seeing a request for experience in the Jersey-Ayrshire cross, to get dairy cows, the writer would give his experience made fifteen years ago in Saratoga County, N.Y., where a registered Jersey bull was used on full blooded Ayrshire cows. The produce of this cross in nine cases out of ten produced the best possible cows for the dairy, they were nearly of perfect dairy form, and deeply heavy milkers of rich milk. But in another case where an Ayrshire sire was used on Jersey cows no improvement could be seen in the quantity of milk, while the quality was much less; but, strange to say, these cross bred animals, when bred together, produced animals of very little use for anything, either milk or beef, while the cross bred heifers bred to a pure Jersey bull was fully as good as the pure Jerseys for rich milk, with a great improvement in quantity over their grandams. As is well known this is the usual experience of crossing breeds. The first cross is all right, but the second must always be to a pure male of one of the original cross. Do not, if you wish to improve, try one of the cross bred males and never after having used one of the breeds twice go back to the other as you will surely be improving backward. Or to speak more plainly, after having bred the cross-bred Jersey-Ayrshire heifers to a Jersey bull, do not breed the produce of this cross to an Ayrshire bull, but keep on the same line, using only Jersey males. So while in all cases the first cross of the two breeds is generally a good one, it is necessary to keep up the herd, that a herd of pure female of one or the other breed must be kept, or in a few years you have run into all one breed.

The same thing applies to swine, for the best lot of fattening hogs the writer ever bred were a straight cross of Berkshires and Poland Chinas of registered stock, or well known pure stock on both sides, but in order to keep up the stock year after year, it is necessary to have a herd of pure sows of one or the other breed and get a pure male each year.—W. A. Hoyt, in Hoard's Dairyman.

Keep to the Right.

Bicyclists cannot be too careful in observing the rules of the road. This fact was illustrated last evening, when an prominent official of the Victoria's had a "head on" collision with another wheelman, who was riding on the wrong side of the road. By always keeping on the right hand side of the car track trouble can be avoided, but a wheelman who crosses over to the left had side cannot expect a rider who is in the right to take any risk of running into the ditch simply to avoid a collision, as in a suit for damages the man who is on the right hand side comes out right every time.

VICTORIA BICYCLE CLUB.

Arrangements Being Made for a Road Race.

The Victoria Bicycle Club held a meeting last evening in the Oriental Hotel parlour, with a large attendance of members present.

Mr. A. H. Stratton the president, was in the chair.

After the minutes had been read and confirmed the Executive Committee, which has been instructed to report on suitable rooms for the club, to interview those whose names had been proposed as members and draw up a constitution, reported that fifty three of the proposed members has been seen all of which had expressed their willingness with the club. The committee also reported that it had decided to reduce the initiation fee to two dollars. Mr. Montgomery had resigned his position as treasurer and Mr. J. Herbert Hall had been appointed in his place. Mr. Gus Hay had been appointed assistant secretary, Messrs. A. F. Spence, J. H. Hall and A. A. Hollingshead has been requested to report to the committee on suitable rooms.

The various actions of the committee were approved by the meeting, after which the sub-committee on rooms reported that of those seen, the ones which seemed most suitable for the purposes of the club were as follows: Two rooms in opera house block, two rooms in Bank of Commerce building and three rooms over the old post office.

The meeting then empowered the full executive and Messrs. Lount, Rogers and Montgomery, to visit the various apartments recommended and decide upon those which would best answer the purpose, reporting their decision for the consideration of a meeting of the members to be held on WEDNESDAY EVENING NEXT.

The committee appointed to interview the members of the Peterborough Bicycle Club, reported that nearly all the officers had been seen, and without an exception they had expressed their approval of a new club being formed.

The constitution and bylaws were then presented and adopted with a few amendments, proving most satisfactory and comprehensive.

Mr. W. J. Montgomery's resignation as treasurer of the Victorias was accepted with regret and the selection of Mr. J. H. Hall approved.

The matter of the proposed road race in June, as proposed by Mr. A. E. Walton, of the Royal Canadian Bicycle club, of Toronto, was then taken up for discussion. The secretary read a communication from Mr. Walton, stating that the President of the club and himself would in all probability be in Peterborough to talk the matter over and view of the race on Wednesday next, stating also that in all likelihood about 600 excursionists would come down from Toronto to witness the event and 150 Toronto riders would participate.

The Racing Board of the Victorias, composed of Messrs. G. J. Hopkins, Frank D. Matthews, Alex. Gibson, A. H. Stratton and H. R. H. Kenner, together with the Captain of the club, Mr. Dickson Davidson, were invested with the necessary authority to meet the representatives of the Royal Canadians and take them over the Lakefield course.

It was suggested that the race begin and end at the Driving Park in order that some return might be realised by the club from the event, an admission fee to the grounds being charged.

On motion, it was decided that the charter membership be left open until the selection of rooms was made, those admitted to membership being endorsed by the members of the Executive Committee.

The election of a House Committee and Auditors was left over till a future meeting.

A STRANGE SUSPICION.

Thought That a Corpse had Been Stolen From the Coffin.

Superintendent Foord, of the Little Lake Cemetery has some peculiar complaints and suspicions confided to him at times, and one of the oddest of these was received a day or two ago when the relatives of a young man, who was buried a couple of weeks ago, asked that the coffin be disinterred as it was thought the body had in some manner been removed from the coffin subsequent to death and prior to its burial.

The pall-bearers raised the suspicions of the relatives, in the first place, by agreeing that when the coffin was lowered into the grave it was very light—in fact so light as to lead them to believe that there was no body inside.

When the superintendent was communicated with he readily agreed to re-open the grave and the coffin was disinterred last night and the anxiety of the relatives appeased by securing the assurance of Mr. Foord that the remains had never been disturbed.

DIPHTHERIA OUTBREAK.

The Medical Health Officer Interviewed On the Subject

Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer, was interviewed to-day in regard to the report which was sent to the Provincial Board of Health regarding the rapid spread of diphtheria in "North Peterborough." The Dr. explained that "North Peterborough" referred to the northern part of the county. He has received no notice from the Provincial Board that the complaint referred in any way to the town.

It is true that quite a number of cases broke out in town about two weeks ago, but all were looked after at once as soon as reported and were immediately isolated.

Of these cases the following report was furnished by the Medical Health Officer:

Three cases on George street—sent to St. Joseph's Hospital. All recovered.

Three cases on Patterson street—sent to St. Joseph's Hospital. One death, two recovered.

Three cases on King street—sent to St. Joseph's Hospital. All recovered.

One case on Simcoe street, mild, doing well at the Nicholls Hospital.

Dr. Clarke inspected all the houses and premises personally with great care, but could discover nothing particular in local conditions to cause the outbreak. It was supposek by some that as a number of the children infected attended the convent, that the disease might have originated there, but a thorough investigation showed that the report was entirely without foundation, as the convent is, as usual, in perfect sanitary condition.

All the houses in which there was disease have been thoroughly disinfected, some of them, where required, at the expense of the town. No fresh cases are appearing, and by the action of the physicians reporting the cases at once, and the prompt method of isolating them, the disease has been stamped out.

St. Joseph's Hospital has provided for a long-felt want in placing rooms at the disposal of the physicians in which cases can be isolated until it is ascertained whether the patient is suffering from infectious disease or not. All hospitals should be provided with such apartments, as it would not do to put such a patient in the general wards, and yet if placed in the infectious ward a disease might be contracted, of which there was only a suspicion in the first instance.

FINDING OF LIZZIE MURRAY'S BODY.

Francis Corby Claims the Credit of the Discovery.

Mr. Chas. Corby called on the EXAMINER to state that it was his son Francis, aged 11 years, who discovered the body of Lizzie Murray on Saturday. He was alone in a punt looking after driftwood, and inside McDonald's boom discovered the body floating among the chips. He reported the matter to the mother of the little girl, who was, however, too much upset to go with him. Mrs. Odette, a neighbour, went with the little lad Corby, and the latter calling on Cassidy, who was in a punt on the lake, the body was removed and restored to the afflicted parents. Mr. Corby thinks that seeing that his son was only eleven years of age, he should have the credit to be attached to his action as related in connection with the finding of the body of the little girl.

Accept this invitation to visit TURNBULL'S showrooms to-morrow (Wednesday) —their summer millinery opening day.

LACROSSE.

The Cobourg Post says that the lacrosse team of that place will not organize this season or take any part in the C.L.A. district series. Madoc will probably drop out also on account of her best men being enticed away to play up west. This will only leave Port Hope, Campbellford and Peterborough in the district. The desire is generally expressed amongst local lacrossists that the district be enlarged by uniting with one of the others in order that there might be more games played off in the early part of the season instead of waiting until August after the first game or two.

THE WHEEL.

Don't ride a bent crank further than the first repair shop.

Don't jump carbstones because horses race in steeplechases.

Don't fail to clean the bicycle every time you ride any great distance.

Don't ride at full speed over street crossings, ruts and depressions in the road.

Don't let the tires become so deflated that you can feel the jolts as the rim strikes the pavement.

Don't let the chain sag perceptibly either on the top or the bottom. It puts it under a constant strain that soon wears it out.

Don't fail to inspect every bolt and nut at least once during the week. They wear loose and the machine is easily racked and strained if they are not perfectly adjusted.

Don't pour a gill of oil into the bearings as often as you start for a ride of five miles. A little oil once a week is enough for any bicycle, and some need oiling but once a month.

Don't skip the teeth of the sprocket when you clean other parts of the bicycle. The grit that accumulates at those points is enough to wear out the best chain ever made.

Don't take chances on a loose saddle. Riders have been injured for life by trusting that good luck would pull them through with improper saddle fastening. One upset might mean the everlasting smashup of the wheel, even if the owner was not injured.

Death of Mr. W. A. Dixon, Formerly of Town.

The death of Mr. W. A. Dixon, son of the late Principal Dixon, formerly of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, took place in Toronto at nine o'clock this morning.

The deceased had been a sufferer from consumption for many months and his death was not, therefore, unexpected.

The funeral will take place from the C.P.R. station at two o'clock Thursday afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery.

The many friends of Mr. Dixon in Ontario, who have been entertained with his great ventriloquial powers, will greatly regret his demise. Mr. Dixon spent the winter months in the South for the benefit of his health, but the greatest medical skill could not stem the disease. His mother, brother Herb, and aunt will have the warmest sympathy of Peterborough friends.

ACTION APPROVED!

The Charlotte Street Church Board Approved of the Reduction of the Licenses.

The following resolution was unanimously passed by the Charlotte street Quarterly Board at its regular session on Monday evening.

Moved by R. J. Kidd, seconded by H. P. Kennedy:—

"That this Quarterly Board desires to place on record its appreciation of the action of the license commissioners of West Peterborough in reducing by two the number of licenses, in this town in advance of the requirements of the license law, and at the same time to express the hope that next year when the law comes in force for the limitation of the license by two additional that those then cut off, as in this case shall be those that furnish least accommodation for the travelling public."

CONFIRMATION SERVICES AT ST. JOHN'S.

The Lord Bishop Administers the Sacred Rite — Thirty-four Candidates Were Confirmed—Address of the Bishop.

A very large congregation assembled in St. John's church last night to assist in the solemn confirmation ceremony performed by the Lord Bishop of Toronto. The clergy present were Rev. E.V. Stevenson, curate in charge, Rev. W. L. Armitage, St. John's South Ward Mission, and Rev. Mr. Softly.

The full choir was present and the hymns sung were appropriate to the solemn occasion.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

The Bishop, in addressing the candidates for confirmation, began by referring generally to the significance and importance of the ceremony which involved on the part of the candidate, the public confession of Christ, the giving up oneself to God and his service and the receiving of the Holy Spirit. The candidates were exhorted to make the best use of the opportunity presented, the speaker pointing out clearly how easier it was to confess Christ in the circumstances of the present occasion, in the house of God and in the presence of his people than to do it before a cold critical and unsympathising world. But in this service of confirmation, they not only confessed Christ but they give themselves to Christ. Their coming forward on the occasion was an indication that they were willing to give themselves to Christ. This implied something more than the act of mere renouncing with their lips, they must in reality and earnestness renounce the devil and all his works etc., if they wished to partake of the great blessings the service was intended to bestow. It was insisted that the present was the best opportunity to make this renunciation. They might think that some other time would be as well as the present—that this renunciation would be easier some time in the future, but that was one of the lies with which the evil one deluded the credulous. This was the best opportunity. Every month of delay hardened the heart and made it more difficult to give up ourselves wholly to Christ. In this service they not only made a new start in the Christian life, and pledged themselves anew, but they received the great gift of the Holy Spirit.

The Bishop spoke earnestly of the gracious nature of the gift. If the candidates could come to a proper appreciation of the greatness, need and importance of the gift they would be most earnest and importunate in their prayers. They were urged to pray earnestly that God would impart His Holy Spirit afresh, and thus become equipped for the battle of the Christian life. And they were also urged not to omit any opportunity of increasing this grace. They should make use of daily private prayer, and of the study of God's word. They should attend all the means of grace, and especially the means extended in the Holy Communion, to which this service gave them a right.

The confirmation services was then continued and the candidates to be confirmed were presented by Rev. W. L. Armitage, and as a group knelt at the altar rails the Bishop, laying his hands upon the head of each individually, prayed:

"Defend, O Lord, this Thy servant with Thy heavenly grace, that he may continue thine forever; and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more till he come into Thy everlasting kingdom."

The choir intoned the responses and sang as the candidates were advancing and retiring a stanza of the hymn—"Come Holy Ghost, Creator, Blest."

There were confirmed thirty-four persons of whom fourteen were males and twenty females, several being from the mission.

After the benediction, 'was sung the hymn beginning, "Thine forever! God of Love," as a recessional hymn.

This afternoon his Lordship administers confirmation at St. Mark's, Otonabee, and this evening in St. Luke's church, Ashburnham.

A Gamey Place.

Our old northern neighbor, Millbrook, has been noted in times past, for the "gaminess" of some of its inhabitants especially at election times, says the Port Hope Guide, but in later years this characteristic has changed, and it is now a notedly peaceful hamlet. So quiet and friendly has it become that it bids fair to return to its original serenity. At present the affable Municipal Clerk, Mr. J. H. Soothern has a bevy of partridge roosting in his orchard and drumming at intervals near his house. It was only last winter that a large buck was frequently seen within a couple of hundred yards of Mr. Soothern's front door. In fact Mr. Wild Deer spent the winter in the swamps adjacent to the village, apparently quite aware of the protection granted him by the Ontario Game Law, and determined to enjoy a comfortable winter.

CRICKETERS RE-ORGANIZE.

The Local Club will be Stronger than Ever this Year.

One of the largest organization meetings in the history of local cricket was held last evening at the Oriental hotel, and the lovers of the grand old game who were present expressed themselves with so much enthusiasm regarding the outlook this year that doubtless a most prosperous season is ahead of the club.

The President, Dr. Burnham, occupied the chair,

The election of officers was the first business taken up, and the result was as appended.

THE OFFICERS.

Patrons — Rev. V. Clement, Judge Weller, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Dr. Halliday, A. C. Dunlop.

Patronesses—Mrs. H. C. Rogers, Mrs. John Burnham, Mrs. F. J. Rogers, Mrs. Dr. Burnham, Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun.

Hon. President—Dr. Burnham.
President—R. B. Rogers.
1st Vice-President—F. J. Rogers.
2nd " —C. Fessenden.
Secretary—E. M. Poussette.
Treasurer—Walter Stocker.
General Committee—Dr. Young, Rev. E. V. Stevenson and Messrs. Bennett, E. A. Peck and V. C. McGill.

The fee question was settled as follows for the season:—Members 13 years and under, 50c; members from 13 to 17 years, $1; adult members, $2.

It was felt that the somewhat heavy fees of previous years might have debarred many from participating in the game and therefore the graded scale, as above, was thought to offer encouragement to new blood to join the ranks of the supporters of the grand old game.

Communications were received from the clubs at Lindsay, Trinity College School, Port Hope, and Royal Military College, Kingston, asking for games. All were received and laid on the table for a future meeting to deal with.

The secretary was instructed to notify all members to and the first match of the season will be that of the single men against the Benedicts—an annual fixture with all cricket clubs in which great interest is always taken.

The trustees of the Nicholls Park have kindly consented to sod a crease for the club immediately in the beautiful grounds on the hill across the Smith street bridge, and until such time as it is fit for use the club will practice on the old P.A.A.A. grounds in the afternoon.

The club starts out with a membership of thirty, and it is hoped that as many more will signify their intention of joining before the season advances much further.

The game is one which is always associated with clean athletics, and doubtless a great many of the school boys will avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by the small fee and take their place amongst the few local enthusiasts who have for years devoted so much energy towards keeping the national game of old England before the public.

TO THE RESCUE OF SHAKESPERE.

The Immortal Bard of Avon Championed by a Former Peterborough Printer.

Mr. Frank McNaughton a former employee of the EXAMINER office has developed into quite a Shakesperian specialist. His interesting lecture on Shakespere delivered in the Oddfellows Hall last summer will be well remembered. The Cleveland leader contains the following sketch from Frank's pen reputing the absurd theory that Shakspere was not himself at all, but that the plays credited to him were written by Lord Bacon:

Ben Jonson, from the force of his position as the literary amanuensis of Bacon, must have been admitted to a share of his confidence. Had Bacon any literary secrets Ben Jonson would have been admitted to a share in these, under the circumstances of his confidential relation with Bacon.

Literary men of any distinction have necessarily their literary secrets. The friends of Charles Dickens, for instance, could trace the origin of many of his leading characters. Thackeray could have imparted to those whom he knew where he discovered the portraiture of Colonel Newcome, nor have we any reason to suppose an exceptional reticence in this respect on the part of Bacon.

Ben Jonson was the intimate friend and boon companion of Shakespeare. They were "hale fellows well met." We may suppose they often graced the festive board together, and in most unguarded intimacies when wine unlocks the secrets of the breast, that each reserved little from the other.

Apart from good fellowship and friendship that Ben Jonson regarded Shakespeare as the transcendent genius of his age, is more than sufficiently proved in the words of his own eulogy:

"Soul of the age!
The applause! delight! the wonder of our stage!
My Shakespeare, rise! I will not lodge thee by Chaucer, or Spencer, or bid Beaumont lie
A little further, to make thee room,
Thou art a monument, without a tomb,
And art alive still, while thy book doth live,
And we have wits to read and praise to give."

This eulogy was prefixed to the first folio of 1623. Is it possible for us to believe that Mr. Jonson would have paid this tribute to our poet, knowing him to be an impostor and a drunkard? We believe he was in a better position to know the true character of Shakespeare than those who see him only through the mists of three centuries.

Disadvantages of Gold Cure.

Outside of the fault found by physicians, the gold cure has its disadvantages. It necessitates a compulsory retirement into some sanitarium to the inconvenience of the patient and the profit of the specialist in charge. With the ANTI BOOZE treatment no such seclusion is necessary. It can, when necessary, be administered without the patient's knowledge. Victims of the awful habit are cured and credit the change to their own will power and self-control. This very efficient cure is perfectly harmless, in fact, its ingredients not only take away the craving for liquor, but build up the system and restore the shattered nerves. We'll send you the pills, on receipt of price $1.00 a box, in sealed plain wrapper. Oriental Chemical Co., 20 St. Alexis Street, Montreal.

THE JUBILEE BATTALION.

Explanation of the Manner in which the Selection for the Calvary was Made.

Several persons have spoken to the EXAMINER in reference to the selection of Sergt-Major Price at present in Dakota as the representative of C Troop, Prince of Wales Dragoons, in the jubilee contingent of Canadian military forces to take part in the jubilee procession. It came about in this way. Lt.-Col. Rogers sent letters to the captains of the troops comprising the regiments requesting them to select men to comply with the conditions and requirements of the department, Capt. Johnson of Otonabee selected Mr. Price as a person possessing all the qualifications, he having a cavalry school certificate and having had the benefit of regular drill. Some are inclined to find fault with Lt.-Col. Rogers for bringing Mr. Price from Dakota, but his part of the matter was confined to recommending the man selected by the Captains of the troops. Mr. Dinsdale, of Lang, whose name was also mentioned, has also a cavalry school certificate but he has not it appears had the advantages of regular drill. Whatever praise or blame is attached to the selection of Mr. Price must be placed upon the selecting captains.

How many happy marriage ties are daily cut asunder by the grim destroyer, death. How many women go radiantly to the altar, only to pass a few short months of agony and pain, and then go down to early graves. There is one cause of this ever-recurring tragedy. No woman should enter the marriage state without some knowledge of the physiology of the female organs of reproduction, and of the necessity of keeping them always healthy and vigorous. Ignorance on these points digs graves for thousands of happy brides but a few months' journey from the altar. There is a sure and speedy remedy at hand.

The most marvelous medicine ever discovered for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the discovery of a most eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It acts directly on the delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It makes them healthy and strong. It cures all weakness and disease. Taken during the expectant period it insures a healthy baby and makes parturition easy and almost painless. Women who wish to know all about the "Favorite Prescription" should write to Dr. Pierce.

Mrs. W. Robinson, Springhill, Cumberland Co., Nova Scotia, writes: "I feel that I cannot say enough about your 'Favorite Prescription.' I was confined on the 8th of April, and I was only sick about thirty minutes in all. I can truthfully say that your medicine worked wonders in my case. Although the physician was in the house I did not seem to require his aid. I am going around doing my own work and before I had to keep a girl three months till I was able to do my work. I recommended the medicine to a lady friend of mine and she is taking it. She expects to become a mother next month."

Constipation if neglected will lead the most robust to the doctor's office. The blood gets loaded down with impurities which it deposits in every organ and tissue in the body. Serious illness is the inevitable result. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are prompt and pleasant in their action. They never gripe. They cure permanently, and are not mere temporary palliatives. Druggists sell them. If you accept something said to be "just as good," you will regret it.

EATEN BY CANNIBALS.

The Horrible Fate of a Young Englishman Named Lichtenberg Who Went to the South Sea Islands.

Astoria, Oregon, May 8.—According to private advices received here yesterday, F. M. B. Lichtenberg, a young Englishman, who arrived in this city about two years ago, and left a year later, has met a horrible fate at the hands of cannibals in the South Sea Islands. He and another man were captured, killed and eaten by the tribes of the islands. Lichtenberg went directly from Astoria, together with a former missionary, whose name is not known, to trade with the natives of the Santa Cruz Islands, which have a population of about 30,000. The former missionary had traded with them before, and, having been among them in his religious capacity, entertained no fears for the safety of himself and his companion. The men procured traders' outfits, and set sail from Australia for the islands. The natives, who are said to be more ferocious than any of the African tribes, captured and held them for some time. Later they were killed and eaten. The story gained circulation through a half-civilized native, who witnessed the awful feast. Lichtenberg belonged to a prominent London family.

Captured 77 Nets

St. Thomas, May 9.—The Dominion Government steamship Petrel arrived at Port Stanley from Rondeau last night. When about midway and 15 miles from shore, Capt. Dunn noticed three American tugs in Canadian waters. After further investigation he discovered their nets and captured 77, containing about a ton and a half of fish, principally pickerel and herring. The capture is worth about $400, and the fish were disposed of to Brown Bros. of Port Stanley.

Plymouth Coming to the Front

London, May 8.—The Great Western Railway has been so encouraged by the success of the ocean liners in making Plymouth a port of call that it is now engaged upon larger schemes. It is believed to be the intention to induce the Cunard Company to land its mails and passengers at that port. The Cunard people will say nothing, but communications have been passing. It is understood that the question is still open.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

roneous and injurious impressions.

Subsequently criminal proceedings were taken against Wood and he made a retraction of the whole charge. However, Prof. Prince will shortly go to British Columbia and make a thorough investigation and report fully on the subject.

Mr. Mills (Annapolis) brought up several postal matters in his county, among them that of the dismissal of one Henry A. West of Annapolis Royal. Replying to an interpellation upon this subject some time ago, Mr. Mulock said West had been dismissed because he had been appointed after the June election under circumstances that warranted the Postmaster-General in believing his case came under the criminal code. Mr. Mills explained that the resignation of the former postmaster was not induced by a promise that Mr. West should be appointed. That supposition was based on a telegram which Mr. Mills sent to the then Minister at Ottawa, concluding with the words: "The Grits will not disturb him."

Mr. Mills wrote the telegram in a hurry, being then about to start for Ottawa to be married. It meant that Henry A. West was a staunch Liberal and Mr. Mills was determined that if a Liberal was to be appointed it should be a decent Liberal. If the insinuation of collusion had been made outside the House it would be made the subject of a criminal suit. Far more likely was it that the appointment of Frank S. Forbes, ex-M. P. for Queen's, to a judgeship argued collusion and came under the criminal code. For anyone who knew Mr. Forbes would know he would never resign unless he knew that he was booked for a betterment.

Mr. Mulock replied that the Liberal party had not handed over its patronage to Mr. Mills. Moreover, it would appear that both West and Mills were sons-in-law of ex-Postmaster Corbett, so that there was, he contended, a direct bargain.

Sir C. H. Tupper said if there was a sale of office in this particular case, there was a similar sale in the case of Mr. Forbes, who made way for the Finance Minister to run for Queen's-Shelburne. In like manner there was a similar bargain and sale, according to Mr. Mulock's interpretation, between Senator King and Mr. Blair. On the same argument there was a bargain and sale between Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat when the latter agreed to become a member of the Liberal Government.

On the House resuming after recess Sir Charles Tupper said he desired to bring before the Government a matter of considerable urgency. He had received a communication which read as follows:

"The season for peeling the bark from pulp wood has now arrived. It lasts two months. The custom is to peel wood now and ship it next winter. It is very important to know if the Government, in case they impose an export duty on pulp wood, will allow that peeled in the spring to be exported free of duty next winter. Unless the Government will declare that they do not intend to impose an export duty, or that if they do impose one they will allow wood peeled this spring to go out free of duty, no one will dare to contract for peeled wood, and in that case very little will be done."

Sir Charles, continuing, said he did not of course expect a declaration from the Government on this matter, but as it was one of great urgency and it was intimated by the Minister of Finance that the Government would state their policy upon it at a later period, he wished to impress upon the Government the importance of making a declaration as early as possible of what their policy was to be, and if they decided to impose a duty upon pulp wood he hoped they would state that that which is peeled now will be allowed to be shipped next winter free of duty. He would leave this memo. in the hands of the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Sir Richard Cartwright: The matter, I perceive, is one of importance. Of course the hon. gentleman does not expect an answer immediately, but I will take note of the matter and will give an answer at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. McMullen moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Civil Service Act by appointing a board of supervisors whose duty it would be to weed out incompetent officials. He quoted from the report of the Civil Service Commissioners to show there was need for such a board. The civil service today was a breeding ground for incompetents and loafers. There was great room for reductions in the different departments.

Dr. Sproule conceded that some change was necessary, but it was questionable whether this bill would meet the desired object.

Mr. Craig criticized some of the provisions of the bill, believing that it was not calculated to remedy any abuses which might prevail.

Mr. Mulock said there were differences of opinion about the measure. He suggested that it should not be pressed this session, but allowed to stand at its present stage, and considered by the country during recess. He did not acknowledge that all civil servants were incompetent. His own department constituted one-third of the entire service, and many of these officials were as faithful as could be found in any walk in life, but of course there were exceptions.

Mr. McMullen said he would withdraw the bill for this session, but hoped to press it to a division next session.

The bill was then withdrawn.

Mr. Laurier resumed the debate on Mr. Davin's motion affirming that the time had arrived to recognize the service of the Wood Mountain scouts during the rebellion by the issue to them of land scrip. He said there was more than one class of people in the Northwest who were pressing claims of this character, including not only scouts, but others who had claims for services during the rebellion, and half-breeds who desired to secure the extinguishment of the Indian title. A petition for the latter had been received by the Government. It was the intention of the Government during recess to investigate all these claims, and if it were decided to issue scrip, to see if a system could be devised to prevent its being squandered, as had been the case in the past. Under these circumstances he would ask Mr. Davin to withdraw his motion. He recognized the creditable efforts put forth by the hon. gentleman to secure recognition of the services of scouts, and hoped the time was not far distant when his efforts would be crowned with success.

Mr. Davin said in view of the Premier's statement he would withdraw his motion.

Mr. Davis moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Mounted Police Act by reducing the period at which a man would be entitled to a pension to five years, viz., from 25 to 20 years.

Mr. Laurier said he had no objection to the bill, but he would like to get the views of the Northwest members on it. He moved the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. Foster: That is No. 2. [Laughter.]

Sir C. H. Tupper: The shelf is big enough. [Laughter.]

The motion carried.

Mr. Davin's bill to relieve a rancher in the Territories who owned stock from cultivating a portion of his land was read a second time.

Mr. Davin moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Mounted Police Act. He said the object was to prevent men who had not served in the ranks, or were not graduates of the Royal Military College, from being appointed officers in the police.

The Premier said there was possibly some merit in the bill, but there was a question as to how far it was necessary. In his judgment, appointments hitherto made did not warrant so drastic a measure. He read a statement, showing that out of the present staff of 47 officers, 17 had been promoted from the ranks, 6 were Military College men, 13 were from the active militia, and that there was not much abuse.

Major Hughes supported the bill.

The Premier's motion to adjourn the debate carried.

Mr. Douglas' bill to abolish residential requirement in a homesteader was read a second time.

Mr. Martin resumed his argument in favor of the construction of branch railways on Prince Edward Island.

The debate was again adjourned and the House then at 10.30 adjourned.

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. Fields, Bloomfield, Ia.

AN OMELET.

Prof. Hildrup tugged at the bell-rope for the second time and glared more savagely than ever at the beautiful thing in crispy brown and yellow lying between two sprigs of parsley. Such a frown when aimed at such an omelet was unworthy of any fair-minded man. All of Mrs. Hodgson's omelets were wonderful, and this was one of her best. It looked so light as to enjoin haste in eating it lest a draught should take it out of the open window into the garden as easily as though it were a thistle blow; so appetising as to pardon beforehand the breach of good manners in crying aloud for another as soon as one had finished it. But the professor regarded it as an enemy which had treacherously stolen into his presence with murderous intent. Aggravation had followed aggravation ever since he began the day an hour ago with the headache which promised a bilious attack in the near future.

When he had taken Mrs. Hodgson's drawing room floor with a shrinking look looking out on a delightful little garden and the bare walls of the British museum some three months before, just as the winter was breaking, and settled down to work on his "Isaac Newton and His Compeers," such an omelet had come up in the company of a well-loaded fruit-stand for his first breakfast. As he pushed his chair back from the plate with only a faint trace of yellow left on it, he determined to have that omelet's counterpart every morning. He had it and enjoyed it with the leisurely taste that enriches life for a man of 54, until a friend who introduced him to mutton pie luncheons in the British museum restaurant assured him that eggs in any form whatever were the making of biliousness.

In truth, between mutton pies and hard work, the professor's stomach was quite out of order. He imagined it to be worse than it was, thus making it worse than it otherwise would have been, and blamed all to the omelet. To send up an omelet after he had ordered a mutton chop appealed to him on this particular morning as downright mutiny. Mrs. Hodgson was getting him altogether too much in her power, he thought. He tugged at the bell and scowled, and determined to have an "understanding" at once.

"Good morning, professor," said Mrs. Hodgson herself, as she entered.

"Don't you know," growled the professor, "that I'm of a bilious temperament and omelets are not good for me?"

"One of my omelets?" she asked, doubtfully. She had never seen the professor in such a mood before.

"All omelets are alike, madam."

"Mine are no better than anybody's else!" she gasped.

"Madam," continued the professor, in a cold, hard voice, "I told Harriet last night that I most especially wanted a mutton chop for breakfast."

"Then—I ate it!"

"You ate it?"

"Yes—I didn't know. Harriet didn't say anything to me about it. I supposed you would have an omelet as you always have had."

"Always! Always for three months! It's a wonder that I have anything in my body except a liver!" He tried to annihilate the omelet with one glance and Mrs. Hodgson with another.

"When I saw one chop in the larder," said Mrs. Hodgson, her natural snap and dignity returning, "I supposed it was for me, of course, as I usually have a mutton chop for breakfast."

"Ah! You don't eat your own omelets!"

"You don't eat your own manuscripts!" she replied, with asperity. "If you will wait only a few minutes I will send out for a chop," she added, more pleasantly.

"No," said the professor, sitting down at the table with the air of a martyr. "No. I am a busy man, Mrs. Hodgson. I will eat this now that it is here. And, Mrs. Hodgson, I wish you would not interfere with the papers on my desk any more. Don't touch my desk! Arrange nothing! Throw away anything you find on the floor!"

"But, sir, you showed me how to fix them when you first came, and you said I did it so nicely, and saved you a lot of trouble."

That was too much. The professor felt that his dignity was at stake.

"Mrs. Hodgson," he thundered, "I shall leave when my week is up!"

She tossed her head and said: "Very well!" with aggravating sweetness. The professor settled down to his breakfast, muttering something about "impudent women." Once out in the hall, Mrs. Hodgson stamped her foot and exclaimed: "The old fool!"

The omelet tasted uncommonly well, as if to tantalize him. He ate it all, even to the last fragment, which tantalized him still further. Then he went over to his desk to write. His pen, his paper, his notebook were where Mrs. Hodgson had placed them, which was just where they ought to be. This also was more tantalizing. Yet, a few minutes later, he found himself carrying his overcoat downstairs on his arm as usual, and harboring a faint notion that he ought to forgive Mrs. Hodgson. She was pruning the flowers on the stand in the hall, and Harriet was near her receiving some order.

"Mrs. Hodgson, would you—ah"—he asked, politely.

"Harriet," said Mrs. Hodgson, as she continued to snip off dead leaves, "help the gentleman on with his overcoat."

As he went out the professor slammed the door so hard as to fairly make the flower pots tremble, but Mrs. Hodgson only smiled. She had recovered her dignity and her faith in her art despite sour criticism. The professor determined never to forgive her now. To prove it he ate voraciously of the museum mutton pie for luncheon. The result was indigestion, which he attributed to the omelet.

He was rudely awakened next morning by Harriet, who was sweeping and dusting in his sitting room. Heretofore, Mrs. Hodgson had made it a point to attend to this herself, doing it so quietly that the professor was never disturbed. However, he had his chop for breakfast; and everything else, even to the overcoat lying on the chair, where he had thrown it the night before, was as he had requested.

After ransacking the drawers of his desk and pawing over the disordered papers on top of it in a vain search for his notebook, which contained the fruits of three months' researches, he was anything but reassured by a hazy recollection of having nodded over the notebook on the previous evening and having carelessly laid it on the chair at his side. This had happened before, but he had always found the notebook on his desk in the morning.

"Did you see a book on the floor?" he cried to Harriet, when she had answered the fierce ringing of the bell.

"You—you said anything on the floor—"

"Find it! Find it!" he thundered. "Don't dare to come back without it!"

Poor Harriet's face burned as she went downstairs, for she knew, if the professor didn't, that the refuse wagon had called some fifteen minutes ago. The professor paced up and down with anger in his heart against Mrs. Hodgson and her omelets until there was a soft knock at the door, which he recognized as Mrs. Hodgson's. He presumed she had come to apologise for what she would doubtless call "an unfortunate accident." He would let her know in plain terms that hers was the worst conducted house in London.

"Come in!" he roared.

"Your book, professor," she said, holding it out to him. "Though Harriet had found it on the floor, I picked it out of the rubbish, thinking I could do no harm anyway."

"Er—ah! Thank you!"

"And I have let the room for Saturday," she went on in a voice which he thought was assumed to annoy him.

"Er—ah! Very well!"

His friend observed that the museum mutton pie on that day was especially good. The professor ate heartily of it, but was soon feeling so badly that he concluded to devote the remainder of the afternoon to searching for rooms. After climbing the stairs of seven different houses, he began to speculate upon how in the world landladies were able to let such miserable, ill-kept apartments to anybody. At one place, in a moment of absent-mindedness, he actually asked if the cook could make good omelets. When the landlady said "perfectly lovely omelets!" he told her abruptly that he wouldn't think of taking her rooms. It was on his tongue's end to add that the making of omelets was not an art to be spoken of lightly, when he remembered that this was the very expression that Mrs. Hodgson had once used. He determined never to utter the word omelet again. Weary and cross, he returned to his rooms. In the morning, noisy Harriet robbed him of his sleep, and he went into his sitting room to face a chop and a disordered desk again.

"Shall we have our customary mutton pie?" the tempter asked him at one o'clock.

"I—I have an engagement to-day," was the reply.

The engagement turned out to be in a little restaurant on Great Russell street, and before he had realized it the yearning of his stomach had put a request for an omelet into words. A flat creation, without the slightest individuality, overdone on one side and underdone on the other, was placed before him.

"Don't you know," he exclaimed fretfully to the waitress, "that an omelet is a work of art not to be"—here he stopped abruptly. "But I will eat—the thing," he added.

On Saturday morning when he went out to his chop and his disordered desk, two strange trunks in the corner of the sitting room reminded him that he had not yet engaged another lodging. Mrs. Hodgson came in. She hoped that his luggage was packed, as the other gentleman was coming in an hour. The professor did not reply. Twice he lifted up his cup of tea and set it down without drinking.

"Shall I may take it that you are leaving?" she asked.

"Um. As a matter of fact, I've been so busy that I haven't had time to look about much for a place. If you have a small room that I could have only for a week it would"—he spoke with great reserve—"be in the nature—ah—of an accommodation."

It happened by mere chance, as Mrs. Hodgson was careful to explain, that this was possible. Harriet was sent to help him carry up his belongings. When the wreckage left by the wayside had been collected, and everything he possessed was piled helter-skelter in the little room on the third floor, the professor concluded that he would make no attempt to put things to rights for so short a stay. He heard a cab draw up in front of the house. The new lodger must have come. Prompted by a curiosity possibly inconsistent with the dignity of the author of "Isaac Newton and His Compeers," he went to the window. He stepped back in surprise. None other than his mutton pie friend was to be his successor in the drawing room floor. His misery was increased the following morning when he saw Harriet taking one of Mrs. Hodgson's works of art in to the one who had sworn that omelets were the enemies of mankind.

He now fairly hated chops and condescended to ask Harriet for an omelet for to-morrow's breakfast. She brought him one—of her own making. He was on the point of telling her of something that was not to be spoken of lightly. But he sighed instead. A work of art was not to be expected from such as Harriet.

He did not go to the museum and strategically contrived to avoid a meeting with the base interloper all of the week. Once he had to wait at the head of the stairway while he saw Mrs. Hodgson help the interloper on with his overcoat—convincing proof that a man who ate mutton pie would stop at nothing. Though he became the terror of the landladies of Bloomsbury, Saturday found him with strange trunks in his disordered little room and still with no apartment engaged. It also found him meek as well as miserable. He went downstairs and knocked on the ground floor. There was no answer. Harriet came up from the kitchen to say that missus was making the other gentleman's omelet. But she was authorized to open the door and offer him a chair.

He waited in vexation, longing for revenge, longing to show up the mutton pie interloper who secretly adored omelets in the true colors. Finally Mrs. Hodgson entered, flushed with the successful outcome of a work of art.

"Really, Mrs. Hodgson," said the professor, affably, "I have been so busy, and to get a room requires a deal of looking about, doesn't it?" She did not say whether it did or not. "If it would not be too much trouble—would you accommodate me again?"

"I haven't a room left."

"I'm—I'm sorry!"

"There are hotels, professor."

"Mrs. Hodgson—Mrs. Hodgson," he burst out, tragically, "will you not go on making omelets for me forever?"

After a little blushing and parrying she said that she would, and put the seal on her acceptance by immediately giving her base interloper a week's notice.

You may get over that slight cold all right, but it has left its mark on the membranes lining your throat. You are liable to take another cold and the second one will hang on longer than the first. Scott's Emulsion is not an ordinary cough specific, but it is "the ounce of prevention." It builds up the system, checks inflammation and heals inflamed membranes. "Slight" colds never bring serious results when it is promptly taken.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS
Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

TORONTO PETERBOROUGH

A DANGEROUS EXPERIMENT.

A Novel Way of Ridding a Municipality of Undesirable Persons.

On Wednesday evening, says the Havelock Standard, about 9.30 o'clock, a terrible explosion was heard by nearly all the citizens of the village. Upon inquiry being made as to the origin it was found that it was the result of an attempt to blow up the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Keenan, known as the "Swedes," or else a practical joke carried too far. Some person or persons placed a quantity of dynamite about three feet from the north side of the house mentioned and fired it. The result was that every window in the north side of the was broken, dishes inside were smashed, pictures broken and everything generally turned upside down. Mrs. Keenan, hearing a noise outside, saw a man and becoming alarmed, made for the door and had nearly reached it when the explosion occurred. She was facing the window and threw up her arms to save her face and as a result both arms were badly cut with the broken glass. Potatoes that were frying on a stove were thrown upon a wall five feet away. Albert Keenan had gone out to see what had been done and was just around the corner of the house a few feet away when the shock came. Had he gone three feet farther, he would surely have lost his life. As it was both of the inmates of the house were in danger of being killed. Had the dynamite been placed a few feet nearer the house, the building would have been destroyed and results generally disastrous. It is hard to see what was the perpetrator's object in firing the explosive. It looks much like a practical joke, but when it is considered that about Easter time one attempt was made to fire the house, it would appear that it is the perpetrator's object to drive the Swedes out of town. If so, it is wrong to endanger it. The authorities can expel them in a fair way if it is thought necessary, and no one need resort to such means to accomplish the end. We are informed the whole matter will be investigated by Government detectives.

LITHOGRAPHIC STONE.

A Valuable Deposit in Peterborough County—The Results of Exploratory Development—The Quality the Best—The Quantity to be Determined by Further Investigation.

A short time ago a number of Peterborough and Lakefield gentlemen took an option on certain lands in Harvey that promised to contain important deposits of lithographic stone. They subscribed a sufficient amount of money to carry on preliminary development operations. They took out two specimens, which were sent to Armstrong & Co. of New York, and with this stone splendid lithographic work was done, and pretty conclusive evidence presented of its first-rate quality.

About a thousand dollars having been spent in exploration and in opening up the deposit, yesterday a number of gentlemen belonging to the Ontario Lithographic Stone and Mining company, visited the site of the proposed quarry. After a thorough investigation of the work that had been done and the results of that work, these gentlemen were well pleased with the prospects and believe that this deposit of lithographic stone will prove to be very valuable. It was, however, decided to expend an additional sum on further development to discover beyond any question what the mine could be depended upon to furnish stone of quality and size that would meet commercial demands, for while there is every indication at present of the existence of stone in paying quantities, it may turn turn out that the vein is not as wide as anticipated. In this enterprise, private capital is invested, no stock is for sale and nothing will be said of a public character, till undoubted proof is afforded of the existence of a quantity and size that will warrant the active operation of the mine.

STONY LAKE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Prospects are brighter around here this season than for some time, judging by the improvements going on. Mr. John A. Robb is putting up a new verandah on his house, and Jas. Robb intends making some improvements on his residence.

G. N. Ackerman, of Norwood, is building a nice new cottage on his island, and is fencing his grounds on the main shore, which he bought from Christopher Crow.

Seeding is nearly all done, but the recent rains kept it back a good deal.

Jack Frost still bites a little yet.

Napanee, May [illegible]—The first regular meeting of the cheese board was held this afternoon. The following buyers were present: Ballati, Vanluven, Hodgson, Thompson, McCargar and Madden; 85 boxes of white cheese were boarded, which were sold at 9 7-8c to Thompson.

Picton, May 5—The salesmen for the different cheese factories in Prince Edward County organized a cheese board here to-day. L. Dorland, owner of the Cloverdale cheese factory, Hillier, was elected President. There were 156 cheese, all whites, boarded; the best offer was 9 13-16c. No sales.

Stirling, May 5—The Stirling cheese factory met to-day for organization. The following were elected officers: Jas. Belshaw, president; A. Johnstone, 1st vice-president; Jas. McCombe, 2nd vice-president. No cheese was offered, being sold up to May 1. The board meet again on May 19, at 4.30 o'clock.

Iroquois, May 7—At the first meeting of the Iroquois cheese board to-day, 120 white and 53 coloured were offered. Highest bid, 9 15-16c for coloured, and 9 3-4c for white. No sales on board. Factories about here are just beginning to make cheese, and had little to offer to-day that was mentioned, the salesmen stating that cheese on hand was mostly of May make. Mr. Weir, buyer for Mr. Werrington, of Montreal, read a letter from the latter stating that the fodder cheese made in Dundas County this year was the best in the Province.

Perth, May 7—To-day was the first cheese market day of the season, and there were only about fifty boxes of white cheese, which were sold to Howard Harell for 9½c.

LAY ON, MACDUFF!

I have a hen, she hath a name—Macduff!
She's both prolific, musical and tough;
The Yanks had fixed—she heard the neighbours say—
Five cents a dozen duty on her lay.
"I'll lay no more!" she cackled in a huff,
Until the rooster roared, "Lay on Macduff!"

"Robert the Bruce, he knew not where to turn,
His triumph came at bloody Bannockburn,
Eat wheat, old hen, and oyster shells and bone,
An' be a credit to the northern zone,
Be patriotic—show them you're the stuff—
See, yonder is the stack! Lay on Macduff!

"Great Britain big, for all our produce begs,
Perhaps the Queen herself may eat thy eggs,
Stick to your colours like a little hen,
We'll stand the racket if the Yankees ken;
Hence, to the stack!" he cried, "Lay on, Macduff, Woe be to him who first shall cry enuff!"

—The Khan.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Speed the Wide Tire.

A writer in the Indianapolis Journal, in an article on "Broad vs. Narrow Tires," argues strongly for the former, saying, in part:—"Without one single dissenting voice, the students of road economics say that the greatest road destroyer is the narrow tired wagon. It cuts like a knife, and, no matter how carefully the surface is graded and levelled, a rut is bound to follow its use. It finds every soft spot and cuts until a fine reservoir is formed to hold the rains. On the contrary, the wide tire not only keeps gravel but also dirt roads smooth and in good condition. The amount of bearing surface presented to the road prevents any material cutting, but, on the contrary, acts, as a roller, smoothing out rough spots and solidifying the smooth ones. When the frost is coming out of the ground in the spring the narrow tire gets in its work of cutting the surface and forming ruts to start the season with, while the wide tire is in itself a roadmaker, smoothing and packing the upheaved surface. The wide tire is also easier on the team. A much heavier load may be hauled with the same power on wide, than on narrow tires over any road in the state outside the larger cities. The same is true on the farm in the fields."

TROY KILLED M'LEOD

His Confession Results in a Verdict of Guilty.

THE JUDGE DEFERRED SENTENCE

Sensational Case at Napanee Assizes—The Story of the Crime as Told by the Convict to Detective Rogers—The Prisoner Spoke on His Own Behalf.

Napanee, May 11.—(Special.)—The first civil case on the docket, that of McCloskey v. Stewart, for assault, was concluded at yesterday's sitting of the court. Verdict for plaintiff for $275.

At the opening of court to-day Everett Williams of Tamworth was put on trial on a charge of manslaughter. On Dec. 25, 1895, a party was held at the residence of John Tyner of Sheffield. During the evening liquor was given to one Frank Tyner, an orphan in the employ of John Tyner. In this liquor was mixed a drug, either condition powder or jalap, for the purpose of playing a joke on Tyner. The liquor was given by one James Caughlin, who says he was told to do so by Everett Williams, for whom he was working. A few days after the dose was administered the boy Tyner died. A coroner's inquest was held and, as a result, Caughlin was arrested and tried at the last assizes, when Chief Justice Armour discharged the boy, holding him to be merely an agent in the hands of Williams, and ordered that a true bill be brought against Williams, on a charge of manslaughter. The case lasted nearly all day. His Lordship charged rather strongly against the prisoner, and, after about half an hour's deliberation, the jury returned with a verdict of not guilty.

His Lordship, after giving the prisoner a few words of advice, discharged him. W. H. Riddell, Toronto, for the Crown; Frank Carscallen and H. M. Deroche for the prisoner.

The case against John F. Troy, for the murder of Angus McLeod in September, 1893, was taken up.

His Lordship asked the prisoner if he had counsel, and upon his desire for counsel appointed W. H. Perry, of the firm of English & Perry, to conduct the case in the prisoner's behalf.

The following is the jury panel: C. H. Garrison, George Peters, A. H. Shaw, James Wilson, D. Weese, Joseph Youmans, J. Bush, F. Chalmers, Alex. Saysmith, T. M. Trumpour, T. Jones, M. C. Wagar.

The first witness called was Joseph Rogers of the Government Detective Bureau. He told of his connection with the case from the time the murder was committed up to the time the statement of confession was made by Troy in the Kingston Penitentiary on Feb. 3, 1897. On Feb. 11 he visited the Penitentiary, when Troy made a second statement, of which the following is a summary:

Some days previous to the murder of Angus McLeod in the town of Napanee on or about Sept. 13, 1893, I was in Port Hope. There was a party of three of us together, Hughes, Penn and myself. I met the other two in Port Hope. We had been drinking; Hughes gave me $7; I knew Hughes before; I went up town to buy groceries and the other two went to the Grove. When I got back to the Grove we cooked a meal; I had a quarrel with some Port Hope people and fired some shots; we went to Cobourg; there were two revolvers in the party; Hughes and myself had the revolvers; when we got to Cobourg Chief Rankin searched us, but did not find any revolvers, because we had them hid; Hughes and Penn left for Trenton and I stayed to get the revolvers; I met the other two in Trenton; the other two decided to go to Brockville, but I decided to remain, which I did, until the next train; I intended to get off at Belleville but came on to Napanee; when I got here I met Hughes and Penn in a barn; I asked them to come to town to prowl and they decided not to; I came down and went to the McLeod House; after getting in a front window I opened the front door in order to make exit easy; I had some lunch and whisky and then started to pillage and went upstairs, and opening a bureau drawer found some money; I took all the large pieces and left the dimes and nickels; I lifted a box like a cash box and found something in it; I went to get something to pry the lid open, when I heard some persons talking. I said, "Keep back or I'll shoot." I did not see any person; something was thrown at me and I fired a second shot towards the direction from which the sounds came, after which I fled; when I went up through the hall I changed my hat and put on a tam o' shanter as a disguise; I hid the revolver in a culvert near the station; when I got back to the barn where I left Hughes and Penn, I told them I had got into a shooting affair. Penn started out of town afoot and Hughes and I took the passenger train and went to Brockville; at Brockville I bought a paper and in that paper was the news of the death of McLeod. From Brockville we went to Montreal and from there went over to Vermont. The revolver was a drop lever, 38 calibre. I fired the revolver to cover retreat. The statement I made on Feb. 3, implicating Hughes, is not true.

Detective Rogers produced the fedora hat, which Troy said he left in the house, and which he identified at the penitentiary. Witness also stated that prisoner told him he got the revolver in Sarnia. He also said he did not know anything of the cash box matter or what kind of a tam the prisoner had taken until he (prisoner) told him.

Mr. Glynn of Sarnia, from whom prisoner says he purchased the revolver; Mr. Rankin, ex-Chief of Police of Cobourg; W. J. McLeod, secretary to Warden Metcalfe, were called and gave corroborative evidence.

Mrs. McLeod was called and she gave a statement of incidents which happened that night. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, but His Lordship reserved sentence.

The prisoner was placed in the box, when his testimony created a sensation. He said the confession made to Rogers was false in the main. He did not deny his guilt, but said that Hughes and Penn were both with him at McLeod's house; when he entered the house he had no intention of committing murder. In reply to a question by the judge, he said it was the state of his health that induced him to make the confession. He grew quite eloquent in describing the tortures he endured while in solitary confinement in the penitentiary.

Neither counsel for the Crown nor the defence addressed the jury. The learned judge said he would make a special report of the case to the Minister of Justice and the Attorney-General and have them pass upon it.

Mr. A. M. Wilson assisted Mr. Perry in the defence. Mr. W. R. Ridden for the Crown.

The grand jury made their presentment, to which His Lordship replied. He laid particular stress on the question of a poorhouse, stating it was a disgrace that a country like Lennox and Addington should allow their poor to be sent to jail with murderers, thieves and other criminals. He also made reference to the sanitary condition of the jail, and said he would lay this matter before the proper authorities, to see if some steps would not be taken to put the jail in a proper sanitary condition.

When last spoken, six weeks ago, the Ainsworth had 275 skins, the best catch reported for the season at that time. Captain E. E. Crockett of the schooner said he would be home by May 1. Nothing has been heard or seen of the schooner since. She carried six seal hunters, all whites.

Quebec Has No Use for a Conservative Government.

PREMIER FLYNN AMONG THE SLAIN

The Liberals Carried Fifty-Three Seats in the Province and Have a Clear Majority of 33—Mr. Atwater the Only Conservative Elected in Montreal.

Montreal, May 11.—(Special.)—The people of this Province have again spoken, and this time the Flynn Government has been the victim. There was nothing in the air up to the opening of the polls this morning that indicated anything like the disaster that has come to the Quebec administration. The figures are most surprising and stand 53 Liberals to 20 Conservatives, with the election in Magdalen Island yet to be held. The report from Gaspe is to the effect that the Premier has been defeated by Mr. Charles Marcil by the narrow majority of six.

Hon. Louis Beaubien is defeated in Beauharnois by 300, and the figures early in the day gave Terrebonne to Mr. Carrier, defeating Hon. Mr. Nantel, but it is now learned that the Commissioner of Crown Lands has pulled through with about 30 votes to spare. The other Ministers—Hon. Messrs. Hackett, Pelletier and Atwater—are elected, the latter being the only Conservative returned on the Island of Montreal.

The Counties of Montcalm and Compton have gone Liberal for the first time in their history, and Rouville and Moutmagny, Liberal strongholds, have returned supporters of the late regime.

HIS HEAD SAWN OFF.

Robert Brady Met With a Horrible Death in the Huntsville Lumber Company's Mill.

Huntsville, Ont., May 11.—A horrible accident happened about 9 o'clock this evening in the Huntsville Lumber Company's Mill, when Robert Brady of this place met with instant death. He was working on the block saw and had evidently gone from the usual side to the wrong side of the saw, and was engaged in hauling a shingle block to the saw with a hook not generally used now intended for that purpose, when he slipped and fell directly under the saw, which sawed his head from his body and opened both the thorax and abdomen. Dr. Ross of the general hospital was called and pronounced life extinct. The body was allowed to remain in the same position as when found until the coroner, Mr. Beece, arrived, who decided an inquest unnecessary.

Funds Sent From Canada to India Famine Sufferers Have Not Got Past the Government Offices.

Winnipeg, May 11.—(Special.)—M. H. Russell, lately returned from India, says that none of the funds subscribed by Canada had yet reached there, and that distribution through Government officials is not satisfactory. Dr. McKeeler, another returned missionary, says that Government men sent to oversee the relief work care more for lining their pockets than for relieving the destitution.

Mr. K. McKenzie will carry out a protest against the election of Dr. Rutherford in the constituency of Macdonald.

HARVEY

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

McDonald's drive had a quick run here, the men only having stopped one night at the mouth of the creek, fair winds prevailing. They cut the block loose on Friday and by evening were out in the lake without any effort on their part. The cribs were a little delayed in getting some stuff on and had quite a job to catch up to the logs. The drive is in charge of J. Dwyer, Elijah Fredinburg being second in command and Hank Akey cook.

Fish seem to be plentiful this spring but as yet there has been no infraction of the law.

John O'Donnel is farming on a small scale at the old Bigelow Mill. He is going to plant potatoes for use in his camp next winter.

The cottages around the lake are being renovated and fitted up for the camping season, as it is expected that there will be a larger influx of visitors this season. Last year there were scarcely any.

There has been some slight criticism over the new tariff changes but the majority both Conservative and Reform are glad to see the change as most of those are heartly sick of protection which is no protection to the farmer and think it is about time that they were getting a share of it which they will now receive. We hope that they may reduce the tariff still more on necessaries even if tobacco does go up higher.

Mrs. Wm. Crowe, of Lakefield, who was visiting friends here has returned home.

Most of the farmers here have sown spring wheat where the fall wheat got winter killed. Seeding is now well advanced excepting on low lying land but if it keeps for another week farmers will be nearly all through.

There was a government wood ranger up in the southern part of Galway on the Harvey bounnery looking over some land which has been applied for, to see if it was fit for settlement. It was expected that his report will be favourable to the settlers getting the land located. The North Squaw River Road which was opened part way last summer is the outlet to this land.

DID YOU HEAR

About the Conqueror?
What Conqueror?
The Conqueror of Kidney Ills.
What is its Name?
Doan's Kidney Pills.
It has arrived in Peterborough.
And Peterborough People are Talking About It.

Mrs. Stephens, 424½ George Street, Peterborough, Ontario, says: "I have suffered for some years with pains in my back, dizziness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, etc. I used several different medicines, but failed to obtain any benefit, then I thought that I would try Doan's Kidney Pills. From the very first their marvellous curative powers were manifested in a remarkable manner. Relief came as if by magic.

I have used two boxes only, and can say that Doan's Pills do all that they claim to do. I used to think the advertisements must be exaggerated, but now I can easily believe every word that is published concerning the remarkable effects of this little conqueror of kidney troubles."

Sold by all druggists at 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50.

Tambo—Can you tell me, Mr. Speaker, what there is strange about a woman who marries a lord?

Interlocutor—Give it up. Now, Mr. Tambo, will you kindly inform the ladies and gentlemen here what there is strange about a woman who marries a lord?

Tambo—A woman who marries a lord is high on the sea of matrimony, ain't she?

Interlocutor—Undoubtedly. What of it?

Tambo—Well, you see, at the same time that she is high on the seas of matrimony she is tied fast to a peer.

Interlocutor—Very good. The band will now excute that pathetic little ballad, "When Papa Minds the Babies While Mamma Rules the Roost."—New York Journal.

Cancer can be Cured.

MUNYON

TALKS ON

Dyspepsia.

HOW TO CURE YOURSELF

In all forms of stomach trouble Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure will promptly cure where there are such symptoms as pain or soreness in the stomach, indigestion or distress after eating, pressure and fullness in the stomach, shortness of breath, poor appetite, coated tongue, sour or bitter raising from the stomach, heartburn, wind on the stomach, constipation, dizziness, faintness and lost energy.

When these symptoms are associated with biliousness, yellow-coated tongue, nausea, bitter taste in the mouth and sallow skin take Munyon's Liver Cure in alternation with the Dyspepsia Cure, an hour apart. Where there is obstinate constipation keep the bowels open once a day by using Munyon's Constipation Cure until they become regular under the effect of the Dyspepsia Cure. When there are troublesome heart symptoms alternate Munyon's Heart Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If there is great nervousness or inability to sleep, alternate Munyon's Nerve Cure with the Dyspepsia Cure. If the blood is poor in quality alternate Munyon's Blood Cure and Dyspepsia Cure. By this plan of treatment one can eradicate the worst forms of stomach troubles and their complications, and make the cure permanent.

A separate specific for each disease. Sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 11 and 13 Albert street, Toronto, answered with free medical advice for any disease.

ON THE ESTIMATES.

The Bard of Regina Broke Out Into Poetry

IN THE COMMONS YESTERDAY.

A Parody on Kipling's Poem Which Brought Down the House—Opposition Members Got After Deputy Speaker Brodeur, But Made Nothing of It—Good Progress.

Ottawa, May 11.—Most of the time of the House to-day was taken up on the estimates. Mr. Davin claimed that the new tariff was unsatisfactory to the farmers. He said Manitoba and the Northwest had paid the greater portion of the duty on farm implements. In the course of his remarks Mr. Davin read with amusing effect a parody on "Our Lady of the Snows," which the members encored. The last verse of the parody reads.

Said a statesman unto a statesman
In the flush, the morning bright:
"The Gudgeons have taken the tempting bait
That we fixed for them over night.
We have fooled the poet, we have fooled the people,
For how long, God only knows,
And we'll stick to the wreck while there's money to get
From our Lady of the Snows."

He concluded by moving in amendment the following, which he declared he had not intended as a motion of want of confidence:

"That good faith with the Western farmer demands that agricultural implements be placed on the free list."

Before resuming his seat Mr. Davin asked to be allowed to amend his amendment to read that good faith on the part of the Government, etc.

While Mr. Davin was waiting for some member of the Government to make reply the acting Speaker, Mr. Bain, declared the amendment lost. So that it was in vain the hon. mover and a half-dozen of his friends stood to demand a vote. No vote was taken.

Mr. Lister took the chair and the House went ou with the estimates in Committee of Supply. On one of the very first items, that for the Privy Council, Mr. Davin renewed his criticism of the Government's failure to keep its promise of economy.

The item passed, as did those for clerical assistance and sundries for the Militia, State, Printing, Interior and Auditor-General's Departments.

On the latter item Mr. Foster urged a reduction of the bulk of the Auditor-General's Department, which was so great as to destroy its usefulness for purposes of reference.

Sir Richard Cartwright promised to consult Mr. McMullen about it.

Mr. McMullen championed the report as the most valuable of the whole blue book series. After Mr. Foster had been as long in opposition as he himself had been, and had perused the report as closely, he would get a better acquaintance with it and find it quite convenient.

Sir Richard observed to the effect that possibly, in case of a cutting down of the report, it might be charged that the Auditor-General was less anxious to throw light upon the doings of the present Government than on those of their predecessors.

To this Mr. Foster replied that he had no doubt whatever of the Auditor-General's fairness in dealing with the present Government as with the last.

On the suggestion of Mr. Davies it was decided to have the matter brought up in the Public Accounts Committee, when the Auditor-General could be heard on the matter.

Discussion on the Government's principle of denying statutory increases to the civil service was resumed on the item of $170 for customs clerks, the Controller explaining that it was required to give increases to half a dosen extra clerks the maximum of whose salaries was only $600.

Mr. Foster pointed out the inconsistency of applying the statutory increase in the case of one class in a certain department, while withholding it from others.

Mr. Paterson hinted that if the honorable gentleman objected he would strike out the item.

Mr. Foster was not going to be cowed by such threats, he said. He had no fault to find with these increases, but he criticised the Government's want of consistency.

Mr. McNeill renewed his protest against the Government's treatment of the service in this regard, whereupon Mr. McMullen remarked that possibly some of the half dozen McNeills in the service might be relatives of the honorable member. "I have only two relatives in this country," replied Mr. McNeill, "and neither of them is in the service. But if they were I should not be ashamed of them."

"Hear, hear," said Mr. Davies, nodding approval.

The discussion was continued by Sir Charles Tupper, the Prime Minister and others, for and against the principle laid down by the Government.

The House continued in supply after recess.

On the vote for the Senate Major Hughes asked if it was the intention to dispense with the services of Black Rod.

Sir Richard Cartwright said this pillar of the constitution was not to be disturbed at present.

On the salary of the Deputy Speaker of Commons, $2000, Mr. Taylor pointed out that Deputy Speaker Brodeur had been absent from the sittings of the House for several days, taking an active and offensive part in politics. As an officer of the House he should be in Ottawa attending to his duties. He moved that the item be struck out.

Mr. Davin considered Mr. Brodenr's action was nothing short of a scandal. In the interests of propriety he would support Mr. Taylor's motion.

Mr. Pettit thought the vote should be reduced by $1000.

Mr. Foster said a most indecent exhibition had been given by the Deputy Speaker during the past ten days. It could not be expected that every member of the House would refrain from taking part in politics, but certainly they would look to the men who presided over the House not to outrage public decency, as Mr. Brodeur had done. The Government had been masquerading as supporters of the principle that no man should be an offensive political partisan, otherwise his head would go off.

Mr. McIsaac said there was a vast difference between taking part in a provincial election and a federal election. The late Deputy Speaker went all the way to Antigonish to oppose him (McIsaac.)

Sir C. H. Tupper said there was no parallel betwen the two cases. The late Deputy Speaker did not leave Ottawa during the session, but attended to his duties.

Mr. Maclean said the same rule which applied to the Speaker should be applied to the Deputy Speaker. As it would be wrong for the Speaker to take part in elections, so it should be held with regard to the Deputy. He trusted the Prime Minister would see that such a state of affairs did not occur again.

Mr. Craig believed that a Deputy Speaker was required for the service of the House, hence he could not support Mr. Taylor's motion. He trusted the Government would lay down a rule applying to the Deputy as well as to Mr. Speaker.

Sir Charles Tupper was sorry to hear Mr. Craig say he could not support the motion, as the conduct of the Deputy Speaker merited the condemnation of every member of the House. He read a telegram from Mr. Bergeron, stating that the employes of the Beauharnois Canal had been forbidden to take part in the Quebec elections, and that the lockmaster at Valleyfield had been dismissed and replaced by a man who had been dispensing liquor in a bar room on nomination day.

Mr. Laurier said perhaps it was just as well that there should be an understanding of the duties of the Deputy Speaker, and if he was to conduct himself in future like the Speaker, then he (Mr. Laurier) had no objection. But it appeared as if the Opposition had a different rule when they were in office, the late Deputy Speaker having been as strong a partisan as anyone. He (Mr. Laurier) had frequently met Mr. Bergeron on the public platform and did not object to that. But if objection was taken to Mr. Brodenr's action Mr. Bergeron's conduct was ten times worse.

Sir Charles Tupper asked if the Premier could cite such a scandalous case as the Deputy Speaker leaving the service of the House to take part in an election.

Mr. Laurier replied that his conduct did not approach in magnitude the scandal of a Deputy Speaker taking part in a Dominion election.

Mr. Taylor's motion was negatived by 50 to 32, Mr. Craig voting with the Government.

Mr. Foster then moved to reduce the vote by $1000. This motion was negatived by 51 to 36. Messrs. Stubbs, Pettit, Douglas, Lewis, McInnes and Graham voted in the minority. The item then passed.

On the item for members' stationery Messrs. Hughes and Craig protested against the way in which stationery was doled out to the members. Mr. Craig saw no reason why the Senators should be treated better than members of the Commons.

On the Experimental Farm vote Mr. McMillan saw no reason why six teamsters and four stable men should be employed at the Central Farm all the year round.

Mr. Fisher said he had not yet had time to look into Experimental Farm affairs as closely as he would wish. He proposed, however, during the recess, to go into the matter thoroughly, and would economize wherever possible.

Mr. Fisher entered into a lengthy explanation of the experimental work done in the way of testing grains and other seeds for farmers.

Charlotte Street Church Organ.

The falling of the ceiling over the organ in the Charlotte street Methodist church having so injured it that it had to be taken down, the matter of repairs was referred to Messrs. Jackson & Co. and they will have the work completed so that the organ can be used on the occasion of Mr. Ranton's lecture on Thursday night. Incidentally with the repairs, marked improvements will be made in the instrument by the addition of a harmolophon in the the great organ, a new stop, and also a soft dulciana, another stop, to give reed effect—in the swell an attachment not provided for other organs. Mr. Jackson it may here be remarked has perfected an important invention to improve the tuning machanism of a piano, which, when applied to a piano will greatly improve its durability.

A BAD RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

A Team from Bridgenorth Gets Beyond Control on Barnado Avenue Hill.

Yesterday afternoon as George Ray, driver for W. B. Kelly, of Bridgenorth, was bringing a load of shingles into town, one of the lines with which he was driving the team broke when he was just half way down the steep Barnado Avenue hill.

Control of the team was instantly lost and as the wagon pitched and swayed in the career which the horses immediately embarked upon, the driver was thrown violently from the load and striking on his head lapsed into unconsciousness.

The neighborhood which had been alarmed by his calls upon the horses to stop gathered around him and Dr. Clarke was summoned. On his arrival he found that the injured man was in care of the Nicholls Hospital attendants, who had been administering stimulants. On the doctor's order, Ray was then removed to the hospital, but did not recover consciousness until his wounds were dressed.

He has a bad cut in the back of his head, which had to be stitched up and there are two ugly bruises beside it. His arms give him great pain, the flesh being laid bare to the muscles, the wheel having evidently passed over one of them. The right leg is also bruised as is his back. Fortunately no bones were broken, but the patient is being closely watched in case internal injuries develop.

The horses were unhurt.

FINE FIRE APPARATUS

Test Made in the Presence of Hundreds of Citizens.

The Fire Department is in possession of a set of deluge nozzles, together with a Siamese coupling, and a most satisfactory test was made in front of the opera house last night.

Under the supervision of Chief Rutherford and Asst. Chief Craig, the hose was attached to two hydrants and both streams united by the Siamese coupling and thrown from one nozzle.

The water was thrown fully twenty-five feet higher than the tower on the opera house, which is itself 115 feet in height. Against the wind the stream was thrown from the same position to a point just opposite the Custom House on George street.

The nozzles are those which throw a stream known as the "deluge," and it was a deluge indeed which descended upon the tower and roof of the opera house. The stream ascends over a hundred feet in the air before it breaks into a shower and the force of the two united streams was such as to tax the strength of several men to control it. The test was considered most satisfactory from every point of view, and with such perfect apparatus a fire will have to attain great headway before the arrival of the brigade if it can remain long beyond control.

The Spitting Habit.

The spitting habit is an absolute menace to public health. Dr. Paul Gibier recently declared that "if this habit of expectoration in public could be stopped, I am sure that in time tuberculosis would die out altogether." The danger to health by the indulgence of this disgusting habit has frequently been pointed out, and the existence of the danger has never been denied. A protest from the fair sex appears in the Ladies' Home Journal for May. The writer says, with much truth, that if men were compelled to wear skirts for a period their indulgence of the habit would be very materially lessened. Much has been said against the festive bloomer, but there is no doubt that a bloomered pedestrian would escape much of the contamination and filth which her skirted sister is forced to encounter on the street and in public buildings. Why should not public buildings as well as street cars be sacred from this sort of pollution? Let our civic and government officials see to it that suitable notices are posted and the rules enforced. Let health and cleanliness be our motto, before the bloomers come and flourish in our midst.

ST. PAUL'S SACRED CONCERT.

A Very Great Success—A Large Audience—Excellent Music.

"A good name is better than riches," and the good reputation Mr. John Crane has established of giving high class musical entertainments was sufficient to fill the great auditorium of St. Paul's church with an audience representing the advanced musical culture and best moral and social elements of the town. The programme of the sacred concert, while it was, as to the composers represented, of a most excellent character, was carried out in a manner that resulted in the highest musical enjoyment and reflected the highest credit upon all concerned—conductor, choir and soloists.

The programme opened with an anthem by Dudley Buck—"Brightest and Best of the Sons of the Morning," which was an earnest of the great excellence that characterized the production of the succeeding choral numbers. The parts were fairly well balanced and the ensemble was charming. The volume was always sufficient for the requirements of the composition, and the finish was all that could be desired. Special admiration is deserved by the progressive evenness of the crescendi, and the general shading was delicate and judicious. The piano passages were given in the most delightfully delicate manner, indicating the master hand at the baton. It is easy enough to get the ordinary choir to roar, but to teach it to subordinate its powers to the expressive requirements of a selection, in the way of subdued, but at the same time, distinct and clear piano effects is a work that requires no usual skill. The same general remarks apply to all the other concerted compositions presented. These were the Sanctus from Gounod's "Messe Solennelle, in which Mr. Harold Jarvis took the solo in his accustomed magnificent manner. The beautiful molette, founded upon the 137th Psalm—"Babylon's Wave," was sung unaccompanied, and it was the gem of the evening. The finished work of the choir was worthy of the very highest praise. Similar credit belongs to the singing of the other unaccompanied chorus "God so Loved the World," from Stainer's "Crucifixion." The closing chorus was finely effective. In this Mrs. Mein took the soprano solo. To the soloists it is also a pleasure to give unstinted praise. Mr. Harold Jarvis' first selection was Handel's aria—"Rest in the Lord," from the oratoro of "Semele." This was followed by Faure's "Charity," sung in such magnificent style that, in spite of the sacred character of the edifice a large part of the audience broke into hearty applause and insisted upon an encore, in response to which Mr. Jarvis sang "O Holy Saviour." His next number—"Fear ye not ye, O Israel"—provoked another recall, and Marsden's sweet song, "Thy will be Done," was sung. "Guard while I Sleep" required another recall, and Mrs. Blight's "Wandering Child Come Home" was grandly given. By special request Mr. Jarvis sang Adam's "Holy City," as only he can sing it. Mr. Jarvis in his singing is a perpetual delight. His robust tenor voice is under the completest control, and his great chest capacity—reserve of strength—permits of his giving with delightful smoothness the most exquisite piano effects. Miss Vair showed her ability to sing on even terms with so great a celebrity in the beautifully effective duet, "Love Divine," by Stainer, which she sang with Mr. Jarvis. The two fine voices blended with delightful result. Miss Vair's solo, Faures' "Sancta Maria," received splendid treatment at her hands. It was sung in excellent voice, with most captivating expression and finished execution.

In all respects the sacred concert was a most successful and enjoyable affair, and the large audience that assembled were simply delighted. Mr. Crane deserves especial praise and thanks for the success of another effort to provide a really first-class high-class programme. The choir also deserves great praise for the manner in which they co-operated with him.

At the conclusion of the concert, the choir and Mr. Jarvis, and a few others, were entertained at luncheon by the ladies of the choir, and most complimentary references were made to the work of the choir by some of the guests. In consideration of the fact that the occasion was the eve of Mr. Crane's departure for a two months' holiday trip to the Old Country, the company joined hands and sang in the usual manner "Auld Lang Syne."

THE QUEBEC LANDSLIDE.

The result of the Quebec general elections yesterday were almost as disastrous to the Conservatives as the recent elections in Nova Scotia. The Flynn Government went into the fight with a majority of twenty, and the Liberal majority in the new House is thirty-six, a turn-over of fifty-six seats. Even the Conservative Premier was defeated. The issues presented in this contest more or less directly were the four following important ones: (1) Financial reform; (2) improvement of the educational system of Quebec; (3) the Manitoba school settlement, and (4) the general question of freedom of elections as against clerical intimidation. The victory will have far-reaching results.

DIED IN TEXAS.

Death of Mrs. J. B. Nicholls at La Porte, Texas.

The La Porte Chronicle has the following in reference to the death of the wife of Mr. J. B. Nicholls, formerly of Peterborough:

"Ann Nelson, beloved wife of J. B. Nicholls, died at La Porte on the 2nd inst. The bereaved family mourn a loving wife and mother.

A few weeks ago the family moved to La Porte from Nebraska. Mrs. Nicholls was afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism, and it was thought a course of salt water baths might benefit her. Despite the most careful nursing and attention her strength gave way before a trial of the baths could be made. Her end was peace

The funeral was largely attended. Evidences of sympathy with the bereaved were shown by numerous choice floral offerings.

CAVAN.

The Late Mamie Macknight.

It is with genuine sorrow we report in this issue the fatal termination of Miss Mamie Macknight's illness, elsewhere noted in these columns. Till the evening of Thursday, the 6th instant, it had been anxiously hoped that the poor girl would recover, but it then became obvious that this was impossible. Her strength gradually waned on Friday, and at about five o'clock that afternoon she peacefully passed away. The funeral on Sunday afternoon was very largely attended, the procession of carriages reaching fully across a concession. Rev. Mr. Johnston, Presbyterian minister, Millbrook, conducted the services at the home and the grave. The Sabbath school sent a handsome wreath of lilium harrisi, spirea japonica, white carnations, white and pink roses, white allyssum, white sweet peas and swansonia, trimmed with smilax. The Christian Endeavour Society sent a beautiful badge of white carnations, white allyssum, white foxglove and spirea japonica, trimmed with smilax. These tributes were ordered from Mr. F. Mason, florist, town. Perhaps not the least affecting expression of regret for the deceased, as well as of sympathy for the bereaved family, was made by Dr. Turner, who so faithfully and tenderly tended her in her sufferings, and who spent the greater part of Saturday afternoon in trimming her grave with evergreen boughs. Mamie Macknight's life, though only 15 years and 4 months in duration, was, in many respects, remarkable. Her character was pure and loving, and doubtless had she been spared she would have adorned a high place in social and religious circles. It must be a solace to her sorrowing parents to think that she has been called to a higher and unchangeable sphere of service. They may rest assured too that the very warmest public sympathy is accorded to them in this trying season.—COM.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Continued Sitting—Yelland vs. Yelland Concluded—Judgment Reserved—The Sawing Case.

Yelland vs. Yelland was an action brought by Wm. Yelland against William G. Yelland, Eliza Yelland and William Albert Yelland—the two first being the executors of the will of the late Dr. Yelland, and the last named being an infant son of the late Dr. Yelland, and grandson of the plaintiff. The plaintiff claims that as next of kin, as father of Dr. Yelland, he is entitled to an equal share with the infant, William Albert Yelland, son of Dr. Yelland, of an insurance of $1,000 in the Canadian Order of Foresters.

There was a considerable array of legal talent engaged upon the case. Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., appeared for the plaintiff, Wm. Yelland, Mr. G. H. Watson, Q. C., and W. H. Moore for the defendant, Eliza Yelland, Mr. L. M. Hayes (Hall & Hayes) for defendant, W. G. Yelland, and Messrs. Dumble & Johnston for the executors.

The evidence of the case did not cut very much of a figure compared to the arguments of counsel upon the points of construction of the meaning of the constitution and rules of the Order of Foresters, as applicable to the case, and the citation of large number of decisions, etc. The case as far as a laymen can see, seems to turn on the interpretation of the rules, etc., and upon the application of subsequent chances to existing endowment policies.

The first witness called was the plaintiff, Wm. Yelland, who being sworn, said he was plaintiff and father of the late Dr. Yelland, who was first married on Oct. 5th, 1885. His first wife died June 1st, 1891. He married again on Aug. 15th, 1893, leaving one child.

To Mr. Watson—Witness said he was Mayor of Peterborough in his second term. Was not in business, but was retired and end looking after the interests of the town. Had considerable means. Dr. Yelland was aged 32 at time of death. Witness had six other children. Wm. Yelland and Eliza Yelland were executors of his son's will. Witness was beneficiary to the extent of $1,500 under it. Did not bring the suit as against his grandson. Was not aware that Dr. Yelland wished his insurance to go to his family. Deceased promised to pay back witness the expense of his education. Was present at son's death. Witness got the idea that he (witness) was next of kin from a solicitor. He gave a bond for $1,000 to see that the cheque for the insurance was properly applied.

To Mr. Poussette—The $1,500 dollars he (witness) received by the will was in the nature of repayment of money advanced.

W. G. Yelland, sworn—Was brother of late Dr. Yelland, and one of the executors of his will. He received the money for the amount of the Foresters' insurance. It was deposited in the Canadian Bank of Commerce in trust for the infant son, William Albert Yelland.

To Mr. Watson—$9,500 of Dr. Yelland's estate was life insurance. The money for the insurance was paid to the executors for the benefit of the son.

To Mr. Hayes—The balance of the estate was real estate, household estate, etc.

THE DEFENCE.

The first witness called for the defence was

Thomas White—who being sworn said he was the High Secretary of the Canadian Order of Foresters, founded in 1879. Applications for membership came first before the Medical Board, and were then sent to the office of witness. Counsel produced the application for membership of Dr. Yelland, dated Jan. 25th, 1889. This application designated that the endowment be paid to himself. Counsel produced the certificate based on the above application. It contained no names designated as beneficiaries. It was considered that the designation in the application was improper. When no names were mentioned it was customary to put "next of kin." On the advice of the solicitor of the order it was considered that "next of kin" meant, in the case of a married man his family by descent. The intention of the certificate was that the "next of kin" meant the family, by descent, of the deceased.

To Mr. Watson—According to the application "next of kin" did not occur. The words "next of kin" were inserted in the certificate according to the requirement of the constitution of 1888. "Next of kin" was inserted in the application as a general term. The members of the Order are subject to the rules and regulations at the time in force or that might afterward be enacted. The Order was incorporated according to statute. The rules and regulations were changed before Dr. Yelland's death. In the constitution of 1895 the term "next of kin" was eliminated and left the endowment to the "wife, children or any other designated payee." Dr. Yelland would be notified of changes in constitution. The beneficiary cheque was made payable to the infant son in trust because it was thought he was entitled to it. In making out the certificate the object was to have it according to the rules of the society.

To Mr. Hayes—Witness did not know whether the certificates ever reached Dr. Yelland or not.

To Mr. Poussette—If an application did not specify how the endowment should be paid a proper certificate was sent subject to the acceptance of the applicant. It was the intention that a claim should not go into the general estate of a member.

To Mr. Watson—Since 1890 it has been against the rules to pay a policy to the "next of kin."

This concluded the evidence and the arguments of consul followed—Mr. Watson, Mr. Poussette and Mr. Hayes—and at the conclusion judgment was reserved.

Pearse vs. Linton.—Nathanial Pearse of the township of Harvy, sued James Linton & Co, of Lakefield, a private banking firm, for negligently selling a considerable quantity of logs. Mr. Benson the manager for the defendants at Lakefield, was unable to effect a sale of the logs which had been assigned to the firm and was obliged to have them sawn into lumber and ties. The question was tried as to whether he had made the best bargain he could make in selling and also for cutting. The Judge held that he had been a little precipitate in entering into a bargain to sell the timber until he had a binding agreement for the cutting and that the amount he had to pay for the cutting was larger than the usual rate. He also found that the ties had been sold too cheap, but expressed the opinion that as he had given this indication of what his probable judgment would be, and as the plaintiff owed defendant some $200 for which they counterclaimed, he thought the parties ought to be able to close up the matter without the necessity of his going further and giving a formal judgment and estimating amounts to be payable by each party to the other.

GRANDMASTER UNITT PAYS AN OFFICIAL VISIT.

To Peterborough Lodge A. O. U. W. Accompanied by the Grand Organizers.

F. W. Unitt, Grand Master, J. B. Nixon, Grand Organizer and H. Hill, Grand Organizer paid an official visit to Peterborough Lodge No. 135, Tuesday evening.

The Grand Officers were enthusiastically received and much satisfaction was expressed at the great progress made by the Order under the Grand Mastership of Bro. Unitt.

In his address to the Lodge the Grand Master alluded to the fact that more than three thousand members had been admitted to the Order during the year 1896 and during the first four months of 1897 two thousand applications had been received thus indicating that the admissions for 1897 would be at least six thousand. The Order never was in as good a position numerically or financially as it is to-day and never commanded the confidence of the public as it does to-day.

Bro. Nixon spoke of the vast amount of good done by the Order since its inception—seventy-five million dollars having been paid to the widows and orphans of its deceased members during the last twenty-eight years, four and a quarter millions having been paid in Ontario. Probably three-fourths of the homes of those who had died would have been sacrificed and the families reduced to poverty and distress had it not been for the protection extended by the A.O.U.W.

Bro. Hill's address was practical. He requested the members to do their duty to the Order and assist, by their influence, in extending the noble work in which it is engaged.

Bro. D. W. Dumble, on behalf of the lodge, thanked the Grand Master for his official visit and expressed renewed confidence in the Order and its future prosperity, more particularly on account of the recent changes which had been made by Grand Lodge, and which had already been productive of such magnificent results.

At the conclusion of the meeting a committee was formed for active work, and it is expected that the lodge will derive much benefit from the official visit of the grand officers.

LACROSSE.

The Nelson Lacrosse Club, of the Toronto Senior League, writes asking for a game with the Peterboroughs on the 24th, but the date is already taken, the Rosedales, of the same city, having arranged to come. The Nelsons may be obliged later in the season.

All players are requested to turn out for practice this evening, as the team will have to be in the best of condition to play against the Rosedales on the Queen's Birthday. The team will be chosen from amongst the men who have put themselves in the best condition through practice.

Millbrook would like a game with the Juniors on the 24th, but as so few of the younger members have turned out for practice so far a game cannot be given at present.

The Eastern District of the Canadian Lacrosse Association composed of Port Hope, Campbellford, Cobourg and Peterborough, will meet in Port Hope this year to draw up a schedule of games for the season. Alf. Terrill, of the Peterboroughs, has been appointed District Secretary and will name a date for the meeting.

The famous Checkers, of Beaverton, write, asking for a game on the 24th of May. The club regrets having to write and refuse, but the date is already spoken for.

THE WHEEL.

Messrs. W. Lyttle and J. S. Knapman rode in from Nassau to the rear of the telephone office, a distance of over four miles, in 13 minutes last evening on a tandem.

Word has been received from the Royal Canadian Bicycle Club, Toronto, that the representatives who will come down to make arrangements for the road race will not be in Peterborough until next week. The race will be held some time in July.

Chief Consul Campbell, of Lindsay, Quinte district No. 8, C.W.A., has called a meeting of representatives to be held in Peterborough to-night, when it will be decided what place will have the district championship race meet. Committees on roads and touring, membership and rights and privileges will be appointed.

A meeting of the Victorias is called to meet at the Oriental hotel this evening to finally decide on the selection of rooms and to settle other business.

100 per cent Better.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are curing heart and nerve troubles in every city, town and village in Canada. Mrs. F. Abbey, Toronto, says, "Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured my husband who had for fifteen years suffered with weak nerves caused by heart trouble. He was subject to pains in his head, dizziness, fainting spells, sleeplessness, etc. He is now free from these troubles, and feels 100 per cent better than when he began using the pills."

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

Of Kingston and Toronto Now in Session at Lindsay.

The Synod of Toronto and Kingston, which embraces the Toronto, Whitby, Lindsay, Peterborough and Kingston Presbyteries meets annually in the month of May, and has for years began its regular sessions with conferences on special subjects connected with church life and work. The Synod proper went into session yesterday in Lindsay. When nominations for the position of Moderator for the ensuing year were called for, two names were placed before the committee and announced by the clerk. One was Rev. H. Gracey, of Gananoque, submitted by Kingston Presbytery, and the other was Rev. J. M. Cameron, of Wick, submitted by both Owen Sound and Lindsay Presbyteries. In a graceful speech Mr. Gracey's nominator and seconder withdrew his name in favour of Mr. Cameron, Lindsay Presbytery not previously having had a representative in the Moderator's chair. Rev. Mr. Cameron's election was made unanimous and he was duly installed. There are few men in the church in Canada who possesses more of the personal esteem of his brethren in the ministry and of all classes than does Mr. Cameron. When installed he made a brief address of thanks for the honour done him. A resolution of thanks to the retiring Moderator was passed. The meeting adjourned until 9.30 this morning.

The meeting of Synod will probably last until Friday afternoon.

A Voice from Virden.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used Hagyard's Yellow Oil for the past ten years, and find it a splendid remedy for colic, neuralgia, bronchitis, croup, pains in the back, ulcerated and sore throat, sprains, chilblains, etc., in fact we use it for almost every pain, and it always relieves quickly. I can safely say I know of no other remedy of the sort that can equal it. We always keep a good stock in the house.

SICK NURSING.

MRS. W. S. SCOTT

Is open for engagements as Sick Nurse. Terms on application at her residence, No. 71 Westcott Street. 2m39

The man who "Has wounded on the battle-field is an object of pity. The first thought of a tender-hearted comrade is to offer succor and sympathy. There are many wounded men and women on the battle-field of life. Shattered in body and mind, and suffering tortures before which the brief suffering of the wounded hero on the battle-field of war, pales into insignificance. They make no outcry and their friends and acquaintances pass them by without offering help. Their sufferings are known only to themselves. These are the thousands of sufferers from ill-health. Their name is legion.

The pity of it is that if they but knew it there is relief at hand.

An unfailing cure for all the multitude of ills that are due to disorders of the digestion and to impure blood is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes the digestion perfect. It restores the appetite. It fills the blood with the life-giving elements and drives out all impurities. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder.

Mrs. A. I. Gibbs, of Russellville, Logan Co., Ky., writes: "I can heartily recommend your 'Golden Medical Discovery' to any one who is troubled with indigestion and torpid liver. I was so bad I could not lie on my left side and could scarcely eat anything. I had a dull aching and pain in my stomach all the time. Now it is all gone after taking one bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

"The People's Common Sense Adviser" explains symptoms of ailments common to every family, and suggests remedies. It has several chapters on woman's diseases and weaknesses. An edition in heavy paper covers will be distributed absolutely free. Send the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Cloth binding may be had for 50 stamps.

WHEN SPRINGTIME COMES.

When springtime strews my path
With sunshine and with flowers,
With what anxiety I watch
The passing of the hours.
'Tis then my daughter gets a hat
To match the time of year;
My son gets a brand new wheel,
With most expensive gear;
My wife she gets malaria,
And entertains the chills,
While her husband gets the doctor,
And also gets the bills.

HOW HE WON HER.

Truly All Things Are Yet Fair to Love and Lovers.

"No, Jack, I cannot be your wife."

The tone in which sweet Kittie Charmynge uttered the above sad and solemn verbiage was replete with firmness and finality. It was plainly evident to the most superficial observer that she had issued an ultimatum and that she had secretly harbored no intention whatever of making a single alteration or amendment to the purpose of her stern decree. What mattered it if the fond heart palpitating so incessantly beneath its snow-white covering did become a fitting candidate for the repair shop because of this uncompromising determination? What mattered it if the future did lume up before her mind's eye painted o'er with dark and sombre colors? In short, what mattered it if she did love the man who had just asked her to be his? Such trifles as these were not to be considered for a moment when placed in juxtaposition with that high idealic principle which had become the guiding star of her life from the very moment when she had read the first line of her first love story years ago. No, Kitty Charmynge was not the girl to sacrifice a sacred tenet for a mere craving of the flesh, and when the crucial hour had come she hesitated not a second to immolate her happiness on the altar of principle.

To the young man kneeling before her the words came as the death knell of cherished hopes. Only a few brief minutes had sprinkled their own ashes on the towering ash heap of the past since he had felt his bosom swell with tumultuous joy at the bright dreams of future bliss. Now all those phantom pictures had vanished, and life had suddenly become a drear and worthless waste.

He slowly arose, and turned to her a haggard face, on which the grim goddess of despair and set her seal.

"You have pronounced my sentence, Miss Charmynge," he said in broken accents, "and I will not ask you to revoke it, for I feel that such an appeal would be useless. But won't you tell me before we part, perhaps forever, why it is that you refuse me?"

"Certainly I will, Jack," responded the happy girl. "It is for the simple reason that I vowed years ago to wed none but a man who was brave and clever. I consider it my duty to remain true to my solemn vow."

A gleam of hope shot athwart his sorrow-laden soul.

"But surely you have not forgotten," he cried, "how I saved you from drowning when our boat upset last summer?"

Her sweet face grew strangely white as she recalled this circumstance, and the sublime heorism that the man before her had then displayed.

"No," she replied slowly and painfully, "I have not forgotten. That deed of yours was a truly brave one, Jack; but it was by no means what I would call clever."

He moved a step nearer the lovely maid, then bent his head and whispered in a low, ecstatic tone:

"But I upset the boat on purpose!"

"Jack! My darling!"

THE RAILWAY COMMITTEE.

Winnipeg, Hudson's Bay and Duluth Bill Stood Off - News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, May 11.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Railway Committee today the Winnipeg, Duluth & Hudson's Bay Railway bill came up for consideration. This road is intended to run from Duluth to Winnipeg, and from Winnipeg to Hudson's Bay.

Sir Charles Tupper opposed the granting of the charter until there was evidence of the ability of the company to carry out the work. He agreed with the stand taken by Mr. Blair in this regard. He advocated the completion of the Winnipeg & Hudson's Bay Railway.

Mr. Blair asked that the bill be allowed to stand over until next session to permit of him looking into the financial standing of the company. By doing so he did not, however, want to make any reflections on the company.

The bill was allowed to stand over, and also a bill respecting the Manitoba & Southeastern Railway.

An act respecting the Calgary & Edmonton Railway was next proceeded with. Mr. Oliver opposed the bill unless the company finished their road to the towns of McLeod and Edmonton. A bill was passed giving the company power to build towards the Crow's Nest Pass on condition that they constructed a line to McLeod.

Edmund E. Sheppard of Toronto, who has been appointed by the Dominion Government a commissioner to go to Central America to find out the possibilities of trade between that country and Canada, is expected to leave about June 1. The probability is that he will go by Vancouver, and will have meetings of the Boards of Trade of that city and Victoria before proceeding South.

Mr. Sheppard will put himself in communication with some of the leading business men of the Dominion, so as to ascertain the articles and the prices for which a market is likely to be found in Central and South America. If Mr. Sheppard's mission is successful a line of steamers may be placed on the Pacific to carry the trade.

The Marquis of Lorne has written to Senator Macdonald of British Columbia, approving highly of his bill anent the Queen's Birthday. "The thought," says His Lordship, "is a very grateful one, and the time of the year should aid in its acceptance, for the date falls in a pleasant season. The Princess was much pleased to hear of your patriotic idea."

Col. Cotton of the R.C.A. at Quebec arrived in the city last night to take over the duties of the Adjutant-General, pending Col. Aylmer's absence in England in command of the Jubilee regiment.

French Hearts United in Grief.

Paris, May 10.—Cardinal Richard, the Archbishop of Paris, has written to President Faure, thanking the Government for having taken part in the funeral ceremony on Saturday last at the Cathedral of Notre Dame, where a requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of the souls of the victims of the charity bazaar fire, and expressing confidence that the ceremony will mark an epoch by the union of all Frenchmen in their devotion to the country and that henceforth there will be no dissension "o separate French hearts united in grief."

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
by the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

PASSING IT ON.

He needed a lickin', I always said
I'd love to see any kind of man
Rise up and knock the boastful head
Right off the shoulders of Sullivan;
When Corbett had done the thing up brown
I was one of the tickledest men in town.

But out at Carson, you know, I hoped
That Fits would get down to work and dust;
I hoped that in all the ring they roped,
There wouldn't be any of Corbett's crust
To grease the floor when Fits was through Poundin' the pieces black and blue.

I was tickled to death at the way it went;
But I know, in a year or two from now,
If Fits just follows the fighter's bent,
I'll ache to see him in such a row
That somebody's fist will drive a hole,
Just under the point of his active jowl.

Would Have to "Git" Very Lively.

An inventor recently went to the British War Office with an explosive that he said would destroy any army against which it was directed. "It is the most powerful explosive the world ever saw," said the visitor, "and I propose to send up a balloon over an army that would attack ours, setting the fuse so that it might go off the moment the balloon floated over the army of the enemy." "That is all very good, indeed," said the Secretary of War, interrupting, "but supposing that a current of air should carry your balloon over our army—what then?" "Well," said the inventor, laying his hand on the right honorable gentleman's arm. "I tell you what it is, my friend—our army would have to get up and run like the very dickens."—New York Tribune.

Get Ahead.

A sea captain and a lawyer lived next door to each other. One very windy night the lawyer was reading a book in his study when a terrific crash up-stairs startled him. Upon investigation he found that a chimney had hurled itself through his roof, doing considerable damage. He discovered it was the sea captain's chimney. Hastening down to his library, he pulled out his law books and hunted up similar cases, devising and scheming how he could secure satisfaction from the detestible captain. While thus engaged a note arrived from his enemy that read as follows: "Sir: If you don't return those bricks at once I will put the matter in the hands of the law."—San Francisco Argonaut.

An Attraction to the Ladies.

Mr. Trivvet—I wonder why there were so many ladies at church this morning?

Mrs. Trivvet—It was given out that a bargain collection would be taken up.

Heart Disease Kills.

Relief in 20 Minutes.

The most pronounced symptoms of heart disease are palpitation, or fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath, weak or irregular pulse, smothering spells, swelling of feet or ankles, nightmare, spells of hunger or exhaustion. The brain may be congested, causing headache, dizziness or vertigo. In short, whenever the heart flutters, or tires out easily, ashes of heart disease, it is diseased and treatment is necessary. Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure has saved thousands of lives. It absolutely never fails to give perfect relief in 20 minutes, and to cure radically. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

TO STAIN FLOORS.

A Bit of Housewife Information of Service at This or Any Other Season.

The knowledge of the use of stains and varnishes and how to polish and clean furniture is invaluable to an economical housekeeper, who can easily, with the help of an intelligent maid, keep her house clean and bright and freshen it up when need be, without calling in the aid of an expensive workman. Formerly stains were confined to the colors nearly resembling natural woods, but of late colors are used—greens, blues, reds and yellow—which partake in no sense of the nature of paint, but are stains pure and simple, showing the grain of the wood.

The most fashionable stain at present for cottage furniture is green, not a sage green, but good, old fashioned regular green, which when rubbed well into the pores of the wood and then polished is really beautiful. The two transparent colors, Prussian blue and raw sienna, make, when mixed together, an excellent green, or if a brighter tint is desired, gamboge and Prussian blue. A very little of the latter goes a great way, as it is altogether the most powerful color known and completely overcomes any other pigment if mixed in equal proportions. In staining, it should be borne in mind that it is not paint, but stain, and that a very little should be used, a pound being sufficient to stain a whole set of furniture.

To get a good color the wood must be light. Oak, yellow or white pine, maple, any of these are suitable, and the more grained the better, the more effect of bird's-eye maple, the heavy markings of oak and the picturesque knot so often seen in yellow pine, all coming out particularly well through the translucent color.

The best way to apply stain and bring out the grain of the wood is to put it on quite thick and then rub it off with a linen or cotton rag, and it is absolutely necessary that the wood should be in its natural condition without paint or varnish. By sending a special order to the manufacturers it is easy to get sets of furniture without either; but if it is an open piece that is to be renovated it must be thoroughly scraped. After staining, a coat of hard oil finish may be applied as a filler, and then, after it is dry, it should be rubbed all over with the prepared beeswax that comes in cans for floors, and then rubbed with a flannel cloth until it is quite shiny and bright. After the wax is rubbed on it should be allowed to harden before polishing it. Prussian blue alone makes a very pretty peacock blue stain, raw sienna a yellow or orange, according to the amount of color used, crimson lake a lovely red, burnt sienna an almost exact imitation of new mahogany. All these are what are called transparent colors, and are, therefore, especially adapted for stains; but even opaque colors, if put on thin enough to show the grain in the wood, produce sometimes very pretty effects. White on certain woods has a milky opalesque coloring that is very harmonious with delicate chintzes. Light blue, canary yellow, apple green and pink all may be used on woodwork as stains if applied in the way that house painters call "priming"—that is, one coat of paint put on so thin that it shows the markings of the wood beneath. Georgia pine looks particularly w when treated in this way.

THE DESERTER.

You must wake and call me early, call me early, mother dear,
For I understand that you're about to start housecleaning here;
That you're going to rip things up, mother; that there'll be the deuce to pay;
So I want to get out of the way, mother—I want to get out of the way!

I sleep so sound all night, mother, that I shall never wake
If you don't come in and call me ere the things begin to break,
Oh, I know how you will work, mother, and the things that pa will say;
So I want to be far away mother—I want to be far away!

I know how pa will kick when things are all turned upside down;
Oh, a crosser man than he will not be abroad in all the town!
You know how he will "balance all," and do the grand "mashay,"
Oh, I want to get out of the way, mother—I want to get out of the way!

So you must wake and call me early, call me early, mother dear,
For I know that you will just raise Ned, when you get a-going here!
To-morrow'll be of all the year the maddest worst old day,
And I want to get out of the way, mother—I want to get out of the way!

White and Gold Dinner.

White and gold china enables one to set a lovely table for a white and gold tea or a white and gold dinner, using gold-colored flowers and gold-colored ribbons for decorations. The ices may be yellow, the cake, icings and trimmings may be of the same hue, and tall lamps, with yellow shades, will throw a soft, golden light over the festive scene. Beautiful tea and dinner gowns are made in white and gold, and if the hostess has golden hair and a pure white complexion, she will look like a fairy princess at a magic banquet.

How to Curl Feathers.

Feathers may easily be curled, if only a little time and care can be devoted to them. A simple process is as follows: Have a large kettle with steam pouring out of the spout. Hold the feathers in this steam for a few moments, and then with a blunt knife (preferably a metal paper cutter) curl each separate plume, and when complete, hold the feather in front of the fire to cop the stiffness in. Professional dressers do little else, but, of course, they are more expert than a mere amateur.

A Graduate of Toronto University Says: "My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always effects a cure.

Ants as the Guests of Plants.

All insects producing nectar may be regarded, as a whole, as ambulatory nectaries. They are more powerful causes of attraction to ants than the extrafloral nectaries. Scattering themselves nearly all over the surface of the plant, they determine the coming and going of the ants, which indirectly protect the whole plant. Yet the damage done by the "ambulatory nectaries," which extract the nutritive juices from the plants and cause deformities in their organs, can hardly be said to be compensated by the incidental and uncertain protection which the ants may afford them in other respects.

The ants which are really protective to plants are not those which obtain their food (indirectly for the most part through the aphides) from the vegetable kingdom, but those which are really carnivorous. These are numerous in temperate climates, and their usefulness to agriculture and sylviculture is incontestable. Thus the field ant is a great insect destroyer. A nest of this species is capable of destroying as many as 28 caterpillars and grasshoppers a minute, or 1600 an hour; and such a colony is at work day and night during the pleasant season. In the arid plains of America the beneficient work of ants is revealed in the ilex of verdure around their hills.

There are plants hospitable to ants, which furnish them shelter, and often food, within the cavities of which the instincts of the ants prompt them to take their abode. This is the case with several ferns, among them the Polypodium nectariferum, the sterile fronds of which bear nectaries on their lower face, and are, moreover, of a shape favorable to sheltering the insect.—Appleton's Popular Science Monthly.

Some 'Quickcure' was spread on linen, and applied; the pain ceased at once, the swelling was gone the next day, and on the fourth day she walked to school as usual. I have also proved it to be a wonderful remedy for cuts and bruises.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS
'Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

TORONTO PETERBOROUGH

CONFIRMATION SERVICES.

At St. Mark's Otonabee and St. Luke's Ashburnham.

His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto had a busy day yesterday when in addition to two private confirmation services, he drove to St. Mark's Otonabee in the afternoon with Rev. E. V. Stevenson and Rev. H. Symonds, and on his return held another service at St. Luke's in the evening.

The work of the Church of England at St. Mark's and Allendale is flourishing under the painstaking charge of Rev. W. L. Baynes Reed, and at a very hearty service in St. Mark's, the Bishop confirmed eleven candidates, four of whom were from Allandale, and seven from St. Mark's congregation. The Bishop gave a very earnest address, in which reminding the candidates of their baptismal privileges, he said that they were all summed up in the doctrine of God's Fatherhood. Hence, when passing to the subject of their obligations, they were not to think that they were bound to renounce the devil and all his works because God was a hard taskmaster but because He was a loving Father, who teaches us that our happiness depends on our renunciation of sin. So, too, faith is not merely the acquiescence in certain things because true, but God as a Father invites our trust and confidence. The obedience again of a Christian is not the obedience of a slave but of a son. The Bishop concluded by exhorting his hearers to be stedfast in their use of the means of grace provided for them. At the close of the service his Lordship shook hands with the candidates, and congratulated Mr. Greystock on having been churchwarden of St. Mark's for thirty years.

ST. LUKE'S.

There was a large congregation at St. Luke's in the evening, when the Bishop was again assisted by the Rector, Rev. H. Symonds, and Rev. E. V. Stevenson, and Mrs. Peck was in charge of the organ.

In his address the Bishop said that so long as confirmation is regarded solely as an external ceremony of the church, its meaning was greatly misconstrued. It was to be regarded as a means whereby the grace of the Holy Spirit was imparted to the sincere candidate. This was clearly indicated in the passage of Scripture, Acts viii, which had just been read to them, and also by the extremely ancient collect immediately preceding the laying on of hands, wherein God was asked to "Strengthen them with the Holy Ghost the Comforter, and daily to increase in them the manifold gifts of thy grace." One great end of the atonement of our Lord Jesus Christ was to win for men this gift. The work of the Holy Spirit was to restore to man what he lost in the fall. The penalty of sin was spiritual death; the gift of God through the Holy Spirit was eternal life. Our Lord by His life, death and resurrection won for His church this gift, and it was to be applied by his ministers. The Apostles were bidden to go into all the world and make disciples of all men. It is by the power of the Holy Spirit that we are made partakers of the kingdom of heaven. It is however, possible by our neglect to lose God's gift. We must then seek by every means to strengthen the spiritual life within us. "Man," said our Lord, "doth not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God," that is, he has not merely a natural but a supernatural life, to be supported by supernatural means. Of these His Lordship enumerated three, viz:

1. Prayer; not mere reflection of a certain form, but the giving forth of our spirits into communion with the Father of Spirits. Prayer bridges the gulf that separates man from God.

2. Reading God's word; which is not the mere transcript of God's will, nor a mere rule of life, but it is a spiritual food, the sincere milk of the word by which they grew in grace.

3. The Holy Communion; the participation of the broken body and the outpoured blood of Christ. If some rebelled against this because mysterious, he would remind them of the mysteries by which our natural life is surrounded. The building up of our bodies out of natural food, the transformation of that food by our own bodily powers into the muscles and tissues of our physical frame, was but a type of the spiritual food of the body and blood of Christ, whereby our spirits were strengthened, nourished and built up.

The candidates, to the number of forty-three, then received the laying on of hands while the choir sang the hymn—

"Thine for ever! God of love
Hear us from Thy throne above.
Thine for ever may we be,
Here and in eternity."

The recessional hymn was "Fight the Good Fight with all Thy Might," and at its close the candidates filed out of the church, through the vestry, where the Bishop shook hands with them. His lordship who appeared much pleased with his visit, returned to Toronto by the 7.20 train this morning.

Disadvantages of Gold Cure.

Outside of the fault found by physicians, the gold cure has its disadvantages. It necessitates a compulsory retirement into some sanitarium to the inconvenience of the patient and the profit of the specialist in charge. With the ANTI BOOZE treatment no such seclusion is necessary. It can, when necessary, be administered without the patient's knowledge. Victims of the awful habit are cured and credit the change to their own will power and self-control. This very efficient cure is perfectly harmless, in fact, its ingredients not only take away the craving for liquor, but build up the system and restore the shattered nerves. We'll send you the pills, on receipt of price $1.00 a box, in sealed plain wrapper. Oriental Chemical Co., 20 St. Alexis Street, Montreal.

WESTWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Moore, Havelock, were in the village on Sunday.

Miss Lizzie Scott was in town this week calling on friends.

Mr. Will Sharp has gone to Dairyville to take charge of a cheese factory this season.

Miss Emma Metcalf is home from Norwood.

Arbor Day has been fully recognised at our school. Our school and grounds are in A 1 shape.

Who was it brought his sister from Norwood and exchanged for another fellow's sister out in the suburbs last week?

The annual excursion of the I. O. G. T. is on deck. Who is not going to go?

Monday, the 3rd, was the scene of a merry gathering at Wilbeck. Long before eight o'clock little groups of men were seen on the grounds anxiously waiting for the sport to begin. Within a few minutes of nine the water was shut off above and a general rush was made for the capture. Suckers were in abundance both on land and in the water. The sound of many voices was not sufficient to drown the smacking of chops at the prospect of getting on the outside of those beautiful aquatics. There were suckers of quality, even such as to wear spectacles and lace. The most on land were fresh, but one was exceptionally so, and he had to be speared and hung up to dry until he cooled off. Norwood had to send up an undertaker to inter any remains, but preceding him were the insurance agent and hardware Jack to provide for accidents and to solder any leaks. The Dr. with his surgical instruments was relieving any in distress from flying fish, and removing any bones which might have obstructed the œsophagus of those who were too famished to wait until they got home. It was a day to be kept in remembrance, and many will look forward next year to the approach of the 1st May, '98. Our host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Breckenridge, laid open their home to the visitors, and it is here we take the opportunity of thanking them for their generosity and hospitable treatment of those present.

A MOTHER'S GRATITUDE.

SHE SPEAKS FOR THE SAKE OF SUFFERING HUMANITY

A Strange Illness Attacked Her Little Boy, Which Completely Baffled Medical Skill—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Saved Him When all Else Had Failed.

From the Amherst, N.S., Sentinel.

There are cases which baffle the skill of the best physicians; times when their science is completely at fault, and they are unable to successfully diagnose the trouble or give relief. The story told below is a striking illustration of this fact. Mr. and Mrs. Ogle Morrison live in the town of Maccan, N.S. Among their family is a bright little boy, Douglas, now eight years of age. Two years ago he was attaked by a malady that completely baffled the skill of local physicians, and for which they were unable to offer even temporary relief. Mrs. Morrison tells of her little son's illness as follows:—"The first symptom of my little boy's trouble was severe cramps in the stomach, for which the remedies ordinarily used in such cases were tried without the least success. Then large purple spots broke out on his legs, extending in patches from the hips to the ankles, and presenting the appearance of bruises. He suffered intensely, became very pale and thin, had little or no appetite, and presented the appearance of one rapidly wasting away. He received the best of care and all that medicine and good nursing could do for him, yet he steadily grew worse. His case completely baffled the doctor. His right arm began to swell and from the shoulder to the wrist it was of one size. With the swelling came a stiffness which made him unable to bend his arm at the elbow, or move it about. Then a purple swelling similar to that on the legs, broke out on the forehead, extending from the right to the left eye-brow. It had a glossy appearance, in fact looked as though it had been varnished. We were greatly alarmed, for my little boy's condition was pitiable and every effort we were making to relieve him only ended in failure. One of my neighbours advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as his case was so desperate that I was willing to try anything that might better it, I decided to do so. Before two weeks had passed there was a decided change in his condition. The spots that had covered his legs and forehead began to assume a greenish tinge and to disappear. How gladly we continued the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, feeling that we had at last discovered a medicine that would cure our child. Nor were we mistaken. His stomach trouble left him; the swelling from the arm disappeared; his appetite returned, and he began to grow strong and healthy looking, and instead of having to be in bed all day, he began to run around more and play like other children. We still continued giving him the pills, and the end was that he was as healthy and strong as if he had never had a day's sickness in his life. He now goes to school every day walking a distance of over a mile, and he enjoys the very best of health. I am confident that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my child's life and I feel that I would be doing an injustice to suffering humanity if I did not tell of their wonderful merit.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly upon the blood and nerves, building them anew and thus driving disease from the system. There is no trouble due to either of these causes which Pink Pills will not cure, and in hundreds of cases they have restored patients to health after all other remedies had failed. Ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and take nothing else. The genuine are always enclosed in boxes the wrapper around which bears the full trade mark "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." May be had from all dealers or sent post paid on receipt of 50 cents a box or 6 boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TERRIBLE HUMOR

A Little Boy's Sufferings. Covered with Sores and Raw from Scratching. Cured by Cuticura.

About eighteen months ago my baby boy (now three years old) broke out with horrible sores all over his body, which tortured him night and day. He would scratch to such an extent, that his face and such parts of his body that he could reach with his hands were almost raw from scratching After being under treatment by doctors for three months the child got worse, and there seemed nothing that would relieve him.

He had wasted away to a mere skeleton, from want of sleep. A Mr. J. G. Ahern, of the Gate City Loan Co., who happened to call at our residence, was attracted by the fearful screams of the child, and asked if he might see him. He was brought in, and upon seeing him, Mr. Ahern said, that "while it was the worst case he had ever seen, he felt satisfied that it could be speedily cured by the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES." I finally consented to try them, purchasing the CUTICURA SOAP, CUTICURA ointment, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and used them according to directions. Before we had been using them three weeks, we noticed a decided change for the better, the itching began to subside and a healing process had set in. In seven weeks from the time we began with CUTICURA REMEDIES, my little one was completely cured, and without a sign of the trouble left. It is over a year since he has been cured; there has been no return of the trouble, and the little man is now fat and hearty, with a beautiful, clear skin.

Athenian Newspapers Urge Submission and Obedience

TO THE BEHESTS OF THE POWERS

The Greek Campaign Was Very Badly Managed—Soldiers Fell by the Wayside Exhausted From Hunger—Austria and Russia Shown to be in Accord.

Athens, May 12 (3.30 p.m.)—The Asty approves of the decision of the Government to accept mediation, and urges upon the papers which help to aggravate the situation calmness and obedience.

The Acropolis asserts that the decision of the powers should be respected, and discusses the chance of a honorable peace.

The Kairi attacks Premier Ralli for seeking peace, and other newspapers urge the Government to organise for defence, and if peace is impossible it can continue the war on the most favorable conditions.

It is officially stated this afternoon that there were German officers on the Turkish steamer which was captured yesterday by Greek warships off the island of Tenedos.

Greece Made a Capture.

Athens, May 12.—Advices received here to-day from the Island of Skiathos, off the east coast of the Volo peninsula, say that the Greek gunboat Penus and the Greek torpedo boat No. 14, captured yesterday, off the Island of Tenedos, on the west coast of Asia Minor, a Turkish steamer having on board 100 Turkish soldiers, six officers, 300 Martini rifles, several thousand cartridges, six quick-fire guns, various military stores and £4000 in cash. The money was found upon a Turkish major, who was one of the officers captured. The Greek warships took the prize to the Island of Skiathos.

The Admirals Notified.

Constantinople, May 12.—The admirals in command of the foreign fleets in Cretan waters have been notified of the mediation of the powers between Turkey and Greece, and have been instructed to permit the departure of the Greek troops from the Island of Crete.

Proposed an Armistice.

Constantinople, May 12.—The Ambassadors of the powers held another meeting this morning, after which they presented at the palace and to the Turkish Government a collective note proposing an armistice, in view of the negotiations for peace between Turkey and Greece, which are now in progress.

Ambassadors in Conference.

Constantinople, May 12.—The ambassadors of the powers held a prolonged conference to-day, at the close of which they presented to the Turkish Government, a collective memorandum, proposing an armistice between Turkey and Greece on the basis of the negotiations for peace now in progress through the powers.

The memorandum, which was presented to Ahmed Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, by the dean of the diplomatic corps, Baron de Calice, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, enumerates the conditions which have been accepted by Greece and begs the Porte to issue the necessary orders to arrest the progress of the Turkish troops.

Austria in Accord With Russia.

Buda Pest, May 12.—In the Lower House of the Hungarian Parliament to-day Baron Banffy, the Premier, replying to interpellations with respect to the recent visit of the Emperor Francis Joseph, to St. Petersburg, said:

"Austria-Hungary's position toward her allies is unchanged. The Tripple Alliance is not one of those short-lived political abominations, which can easily be replaced by other arrangements. The tripple alliance constitutes the unchangeable basis of Austria's foreign policy. It is absolutely peaceful and, therefore, allows its members to enter into friendly agreements with other powers.

"Russia, like Austria-Hungary, has declared that she is not pursuing selfish ends in the East, but that she has as her only aims the maintenance of order, security and the preservation of the status quo. In the light of these facts, I declare positively that Austria-Hungary and Russia have identical and harmonious aims in their Eastern policies and the visit of the Emperor to St. Petersburg has doubtless helped to foster and to strengthen the good relations existing between the two countries."

THE MANAGEMENT WAS VERY BAD.

Greek Soldiers Were Without Food, Although Food Was Sent for Them.

London, May 12.—Mailed despatches from the English reporters continue to unfold the story of disorganization and neglect in the Greek army. The correspondent of The Daily Mail, writing from Arta under date of April 25, relates that the Sixth Regiment, when at Filippiada, received at an early hour on the morning of April 23 bread and water for the breakfast of its men. Afterward the regiment marched by easy stages to the neighborhood of Pentepighadia, arriving at 6 o'clock in the evening. No provisions of any kind arrived that night.

Next morning the men still had nothing to eat, but they were ordered to march back to Filippiada. The poor fellows began the retreat, but many were unable to keep in the ranks, and the roadsides were lined with hundreds who had sunk down exhausted from hunger and fatigue.

The Turks, who were only a few miles behind, could, if they had advanced, have annihilated them. There were no supplies at Filippiada, and when the writer left on the afternoon of April 24 the regiment was still unfed.

Upon reaching Arta, the writer found a similar condition of affairs. A crowd of soldiers on the main street, rendered almost mad by hunger, attacked a provision store, the doors of which they battered down with their rifles.

Then followed a wild rush to secure food. A Colonel rode up and tried to disperse the men. He was surrounded in a moment by the starving men, who, regardless of discipline, seized his reins and stirrups and clamored for bread.

Elsewhere, the writer saw 200 soldiers fighting to obtain from a bag of tobacco lying on the street a portion to appease their hunger.

Col. Manos, the commander-in-chief of the Eastern army, finally arrived, and was appealed to to maintain order.

Crete Not Yet Pacified.

London, May 13.—The Times correspondent at Candia says: It is feared that autonomy will fail to pacify Crete, owing to the opposition of 20,000 Cretan Mahomedans in the island. They suspect that autonomy will end in union with Greece, while the insurgents are still defiant and actually talk of resisting the departure of the Greek troops.

Agate Anxiety at Athens.

London, May 13.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says: "Acute anxiety is felt here because of the absence of any news from General Smolenski's column.

"Owing to the delay in arranging the armistice, the Government has addressed a strong protest to the powers, declining to bear the responsibility should further bloodshed occur and lead to serious complications.

"As M. Ralli explains to me, the Government is in a serious predicament. In order to secure mediation, it has compromised itself in the eyes of both Greeks and Cretans, without obtaining a positive guarantee that Turkey will cease hostilities. Should the war be resumed, the position of the Government will be most unenviable."

ROCHE IS AGIN US.

An Irish Member Who Opposes the Canadian Tariff Because of Fears of Our Competition.

London, May 12.—James Roche, Irish Nationalist member of Parliament for the East Division of Kerry, has given notice of a motion to call attention to the Canadian tariff proposals, in addition to raising the question as to how far the treaties with France and Belgium prevent Great Britain's acquiescence.

Mr. Roche opposes the Canadian tariff proposals on the ground that they "will create unfair competition with Irish agriculture by flooding the markets with cheap and inferior Canadian produce."

Clawson Hanged for Murder.

Somerville, N. J., May 12.—Elmer Clawson was hanged in the jail here this morning. The trap was sprung at 10.07 o'clock. The body was thrown a height of 12 feet and dropped 16 feet. At 10.17 Clawson was pronounced dead. On Aug. 29 last Clawson shot his employer, Harry Hodgett, a farmer, because he refused to re-employ him.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Scranton, May 12.—Toronto and Scranton played two games this afternoon in a wind that was almost a gale up to near the close of the second game. The Canadians won the first on Scranton's errors. The score was a tie in the second, when, at the end of the ninth, it was called on account of darkness. Score:

HOUSE OF COMMONS

A Field Day for the Western Members.

THERE WAS SOME WRANGLING

And Mr. Davin Was Called Down by the Speaker—Mr. Taylor Went Into Details on the Tariff—The Agricultural Estimates Under Discussion.

Ottawa, May 12.—(Special.)—There were some sharp passages across the floor of the House to-day, and Mr. Davin was much in evidence. Other members from the Northwest also took part in the discussion. Dismissals of men came up again, and in reply to Sir Charles H. Tupper Mr. Blair said that James McLean, a foreman on the I. C. R., had been dismissed on the personal assurances of Mr. McIsaac, M. P., that McLean had been guilty of offensive and partisan conduct.

Mr. McCleary asked if a certain man employed as lockmaster and bridge tender on the Welland Canal had been dismissed.

Mr. Blair: None of the persons named in the question were dismissed from the employ on the canal. At the close of navigation, in the fall of last year, the employes were notified that their services were not further required, but they were given to understand that they would be informed before the opening of navigation this spring if they were to be taken on the work again. Very few of the persons employed on the canals have been regarded in the department as permanent employes. It may be true that on one or more of the canals a practice had grown up of buying and selling the places of lockmasters and bridge tenders, and many persons having bought these places from those who had influence with the late Government, or with members of Parliament, might have come to consider that they had thereby acquired a permanent title to employment, but, inasmuch as no portion of the purchase price passed into the Dominion treasury, such a transaction could not be regarded as conferring any such right upon the employe. Before selecting the staff for the current year, I gave explicit instructions to the superintendent of the canal, Mr. Thompson, as I did the other superintendents, that he was to take up the list of the employes of last year, and give to persons on that list the preference who had given satisfaction in the past, and who had not made themselves obnoxious by active partisanship or participation in the last general elections. Mr. Thompson was further informed by me that I would not countenance the putting off of good men who had not interfered in politics, simply to make vacancies. Mr. Thompson prepared the list, and I see no reason to doubt that the instructions I gave him have been followed and that the men taken on the canal for the current year were chosen in struct conformity with such instructions. Neither do I see that the number of changes in the employes, as enumerated in the question just asked, are considerable, in view of the fact that out of a total of 170 persons employed on this canal, there appear to be only 45 persons whose services were dispensed with.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, replying to Sir Charles Tupper, said the present Minister of Justice was of opinion that under clause 11 of chapter 18, Revised Statutes, a civil servant entitled to superannuation may be retired without adding, for the purpose of computing the superannuation allowance, 10 years to his actual term of service.

Mr. Davin rose to a question of privilege. He claimed that when his amendment was put to the House yesterday it had been declared lost, although a sufficient number of members rose to ask for a division.

Mr. Laurier stated that there was no question about the rule, although he differed with Mr. Davin as to what actually occurred. It was only after the motion to go into supppy had been adopted that Mr. Davin's friends rose to ask for a division, and then it was too late.

The Speaker said, not having been in the House when the incident occurred, he could only go by the printed record, and this showed that the motion to go into supply had been carried after Mr. Davin's motion had been negatived. The matter then dropped.

Mr. Davin, on motion to go into supply, rose to move that good faith with the western farmer on the part of the Government demanded that agricultural implements and lumber should be placed on the free list.

Rev. Mr. Douglas explained why he could not vote for the amendment. He and his friends were not for free implements, but they had made representations to the Government for concessions that would be equal to free implements.

Mr. Pettit said that he was not altogether satisfied with the tariff, but thought the Government would be disposed to grant further relief by special reductions in raw materials.

Col. Domville said it was not to be expected that the Government would give them everything they wanted all at once. He hoped that at an early day the Government would legislate specially for the farmers.

Mr. Casey said a Conservative member had remarked to him that there were seemingly only two parties in the House, the Government and Mr. Davin. [Laughter.] He raised the point of order that the amendment was really the same as the one negatived yesterday.

Mr. Davin said that after the declarations of the patrons he did not see any necessity to press his amendment.

Mr. Speaker, ruling upon Mr. Casey's point of order, said the amendment had been sufficiently changed to bring it within the rules of the House.

Mr. Richardson explained why he felt it necessary to state his views on this amendment, lest his silence might be misunderstood. He accepted the present tariff as an instalment in the direction

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. THE WOOLLEN MANUFACTURERS.

The Monetary Times has the following to say about the woollen textile industry in relation to the new tariff:—"On the whole, perhaps, no industry will feel the changes so much as that of the woollen textiles; in their case the new tariff will often come as the proverbial last straw. Many of the smaller concerns had for some time been in a position from which virtually all hope had fled. Antiquated machinery, inadequate capital, out-of-date methods carried with them the germ of fatality; and a liberal estimate of the permanent survivors is not more than one in ten. The rest had become moribund under a tariff of 50 or 60 per cent. The survival of the fittest, even here, may teach us what are the lines of woollen textiles in which we can make our way. At the first international exhibition, Canadian blankets took the first prize. Here was a hint how to select one line of goods in which we ought to be successful. Halifax tweeds, which flourished in the absence of special tariffs, pointed another road to success. This domestic manufacture as it was in its primitive state, has practically disappeared. In the development of local factories, which began by doing customers' work, there have been regrettable features; many of them have unfortunately failed to pass into the modern factory, not having been in a position to take advantage of methods which elsewhere bring success. The survivors will owe their success to having done so." All of which goes to point the moral that the properly conducted business of manufacturing a staple that is adapted to the country, will flourish and will not need coddling to the extent of 75 per cent. to keep it in motion.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It would be less kind than apt to refer to the Quebec situation as "Bleu ruin."

The Conservatives are very like the Greeks; the rank and file are splendid fighters, but they have no generals—they are like sheep without a shepherd.

Quebec is represented in the Local Legislature by fifty-nine Liberals and nineteen Conservatives; she is represented in the House of Commons by forty-nine Liberals and sixteen Conservatives.

The Montreal Star (Conservative) referring to the effect of the Quebec general elections, says: "Yesterday's victory must be regarded as the finally final settlement of the school question."

The Detroit Evening News announces that a number of French Canadians leave that place for the Lake St. John district. They have, it is stated, been "struggling with adversity for years," and hence are returning to their own country.

One feature of the great contest in Quebec is the enormous majorities. In a dozen or so constituencies the Liberals had 1,000 to 2,000 majority and several of these were ridings formerly held by Conservatives. On the other hand, no Conservative majority was over 500 and only half a dozen were over 200.

Apropos of the rejection of the United States Senate of the treaty of arbitration with England, the words that Jefferson wrote to Monroe, October 24th, 1823, may be recalled:—"Great Britain is the nation that can do us the most harm of anyone or all on earth; and with her on our side, we need not fear the whole world." The two greatest English-speaking nations should be in accord, and would if it were not for the political figuring of tenth-rate pothouse politicians. The United States can not be really great so long as she is under the thumb of such contemptible cliquery.

Referring to Kipling's mal-apropos title for Canada—"The Lady of the Snows," the Flag, a journal devoted to the joint interests of Britain and Canada, says:

> Ah, yes, in the day of battle, in the day of need, count on Our Lady of the Unsalted Seas, Our Lady of the Northern Forests, Our Lady of Magnificent Distances, Our Lady of the Fertile Belt and the Wheat Farms and the Peach Lands, and the Grape Vineyards, and the Sunshine, and the Prairies and the Cattle Ranches, and the Sheep Runs, and the Lumbering Camps and the Maple Sugar, Our Lady of the Gold and the Silver, and the Nickel and the Mica, and the Plumbago, and the Asbestos, and the Copper and the Lead, and the Iron, and the Coal—count on her and her big boys, especially her big boys.

A FLAT CONTRADICTION.

The Oft-Repeated Statements by Physicians that Chronic Rheumatism Cannot be Cured Refuted by Sworn Statements.

There never was a time when people were so sceptical in reference to medicine as the present; 'tis no wonder, for their credulity has been played upon by the unreliable claims of advertised cure-alls until doubt is converted into a belief that all announcements are imaginary pen pictures. Rheumatic sufferers are of the class whose intense suffering has led them to try first one thing, then another, until repeated failures convinces them "there is no help for them." They hear about the startling cures made by Kootenay, but cannot overcome the suspicion that 'tis like all the rest. They do not know of the hidden power in "The new ingredient" peculiar to this preparation, that banishes Rheumatism—of how it enabled George Ball, blacksmith, residing corner Sanford Avenue and Huron Streets, Hamilton, to arise from a helpless condition and take up work in the City Quarries at hard labor, discharged from the hospital with the assurance "they could do nothing for him, his system was so full of rheumatism no power on earth could drive it out;" then lying at his home for weeks unable to lift hand to mouth, having to be fed by his wife, when the King's Daughters of Hamilton brought him Kootenay. Three bottles effected a complete cure. This is not more strange than the story told by Mrs. Guy, wife of Mail Carrier Robt. Guy, Brant Ave., Hamilton, whose mother love breathes thanks for the restoration of their seven year old Willie. His lower limbs were so swollen with inflammatory rheumatism he could not put his feet to the floor, the slightest touch causing intense pain, growing gradually worse, until his condition was pitiful; it seemed they were going to lose him, when Kootenay was used and three bottles completely cured him, so that he is going to school. The detailed sworn statements of above cures, with hundreds of others, can be obtained by addressing The Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont. If Kootenay is not obtainable of your dealer, sent charges prepaid on receipt of price, $1.50 per bottle. Send for Chart Book, mailed free.

One bottle lasts over a month.

HAD INDIGESTION!

For a Matter of Some Forty Years or More.

Joseph Gardner, stove dealer, of Bath, Ontario, is a great believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, Brigat's disease, rheumatism, and kidney, liver and stomach troubles generally.

"I was troubled for over forty years with indigestion and constipation," he writes. "At intervals I suffered from severe headache. I spent dollars and dollars without result until Mr. Ball, our druggist, advised me to try Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they are the only remedy that gave me relief. I would not be without them for anything."

Many people suffer from rheumatism. Bad blood and diseased kidneys bring it on. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will remedy all this and cure rheumatism, sciatica and all kindred complaints. Here is a sample case:

"My boy was all crippled up and suffered awfully with rheumatism," writes Mrs. H. Wills, of Chesley, Ont. "He also had a touch of diabetes. The doctors could do him no good, but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills completely cured him."

Sold by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 25c.

When all other remedies fail Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine will cure the worst chronic cold 25 cents.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

"Objective" or "subjective" was inadmissible, according to Mr. Speaker, as a palliative qualification.

Thereupon Mr. Davin retracted, with the observation that the expression was used by Schleget. He added that the offence implied towards him by Mr. Richardson was made in that hon. gentleman's peculiarly vulgar style.

Mr. Speaker here intervened with some warmth, declaring that if Mr. Davin did not respect the ruling of the chair he would take steps to compel him.

Dr. Sproule drew attention to the fact that Mr. Richardson had not retracted a statement denied by Mr. Davin, as bound to do by the Speaker's ruling. But Mr. Richardson was allowed to proceed without withdrawing, so the incident ended.

Mr. Foster charged that in thus shielding themselves behind promises of further reductions of the tariff members supporting the Government were men showing that they had information from the Government which was withheld from members generally. This was on a par with Mr. Fielding's confidential of what the West wanted. He went on to accuse Mr. Davin of a propensity to take to the woods or crawl under the barn on every possible occasion.

Mr. Davin took exception to the observation. If, as he believed, it meant that he went back on his tariff professions, the statement was incorrect.

As Mr. Richardson was resuming hon. members began to call out to him "Order," "Take it back," etc.

"If the hon.member for Assiniboia says he did not crawl under the barn——" interrupted Mr. Speaker, rising to make a ruling, but the rest of his sentence was drowned in roars of laughter.

Mr. Davin remarked that if by that expression Mr. Richardson meant that he had failed to support his own tariff motions he uttered an objective falsehood.

Mr. Speaker called Mr. Davin to order. He could not impute falsehood to an honorable member.

"I said objective falsehood," explained Mr. Davin.

communication of tariff proposals to the coal owners in Montreal.

Mr. Fraser explained that any assurance the Liberal members had was simply drawn from an understanding of the Liberal policy.

Mr. Lister read from Hansard that Mr. Davin voted against free binder twine in 1891.

Mr. Davin observed that up to 1891 not a murmur had been heard in Assiniboia against that duty. But next year he himself introduced a resolution demanding the reduction of the duty. In that regard, as well as in the matter of Northwest creameries, the Government had adopted his policy.

Mr. Macdonald declared that the farmers in his constituency were fairly well satisfied with the new tariff.

Mr. Taylor went into the tariff question in a practical way. Taking up each item of consumption and production affected by a change of duties he showed that the net result as regards smaller implements, barbed wire and twine, would be $2.29 a year benefit to the farmer. Against this was to be set the reduced protection involved in the completion of free corn, etc., so that the farmer would stand to lose $50 a year. The workingman was quite as badly hurt. He would be worse off by $40 a year. Those engaged in the manufacture affected by the tariff tinkering would have to submit to a reduction of ten per cent. in wages or move to the United States.

The discussion was continued by Mr. Stenson (Richmond and Wolfe), Dr. Roche (Marquette) and Mr. Craig, the latter announcing his intention to vote against the motion because he had no fault to find with the Government for sticking to protection. Of course the Government was inconsistent in so doing, but that was a matter they could settle with their supporters.

Mr. Oliver was put out about the tariff, but he would not vote to put the Tories in and make matters worse.

Mr. Bell (Pictou) resumed after recess the debate on Mr. Davin's amendment. He defended Mr. Davin from the charge of attempting to catch votes merely by his motion. As for Mr. Richardson, he had given himself such latitude in these matters as to be able to take any course he might choose. Last session, when a similar motion was introduced, the Premier opposed it because it was dealing with a tariff matter six months before the tariff was brought down. Mr. Richardson accordingly voted against the motion because it was too soon. To-day he was going to vote against the same motion because it was too late. [Laughter.] Mr. Bell proceeded to criticize the performances of the Government in the light of their pledges.

Mr. Logan retorted by reading a free trade lecture delivered by Mr. Bell in 1891 and a protectionist speech by the same hon. gentleman in 1896. The House, a very thin one, then divided on Mr. Davin's amendment, which was voted down by 131 to 10. Those who voted in minority were Messrs. Davin, Gillies, Roche, Cochrane, Powell, Mills, McDougall, Monck, Bergeron and Macdonald (P. E. I.).

The House then went into committee on the estimates for the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Fisher explained, on the dairy vote of $90,000, that the Government proposed with regard to new creameries to lend the necessary capital for starting them. In the case of creameries already in existence, but which might be in difficulties, the Government would take charge of the building, plant and equipment in order to put these establishments on their feet. An agreement of three years' duration would be made with the creameries. In addition to a charge of 3 cents per pound for manufacturing, 1 cent a pound on butter manufactured would be retained as a sinking fund in order to facilitate creameries to become self-sustaining.

Mr. Clancy thought the Government were adopting a vicious principle by practically becoming partners with any class of industry.

Mr. Taylor commended the Government for following in the footsteps of their predecessors. He asked to what portions of Canada the vote would apply.

Mr. Fisher said it would apply to the Northwest and to Nova Scotia.

Mr. Taylor thought, in view of this fact, the item should be so specified.

Mr. Henderson urged that supplementary estimates should contain a provision for a bonus on first-class butter for export. He thought some consideration ought to be shown for other portions of the Dominion than those named.

Mr. Ganong reminded the Minister also that New Brunswick was entitled to consideration. In his own County of Charlotte there was a weak creamery which would be benefited by Government assistance.

Major McLennan asked if the Minister of Agriculture intended to bring down the Branding of Cheese bill, which he had promised, on the lines of the measure introduced by him (Mr. McLennan) last year.

Mr. Fisher said it would be ready for presentation in a few days.

Dr. Sproule called attention to a statement made by medical men on board the C.P.R. steamer Empress of China, recently quarantined at Williams' Head, of undue severity of the quarantine regulations, and that Medical Health Officer Watt had not visited the small-pox patients until specially requested to do so.

Mr. Fisher said that Dr. Montizambert, chief quarantine officer, approved of the action taken by Dr. Watts at Williams' Head. Undoubtedly he had been successful in preventing the spread of the disease.

Col. Prior said, in view of the fact that this discussion had arisen, he felt it necessary to mention it to the Minister that before he had left Victoria a serious statement affecting Dr. Watt had been made to him. It was to the effect that when a vessel arrived at Williams' Head with a case of small-pox on board, Dr. Watt caused the patient to be removed on shore, and another Chinaman put with him, but from the time the patient was put on shore until he died the Quarantine Officer never went near him, and the fact of his death would never have been known but for the frantic appeals of the poor fellow who had been locked up with the sick man.

Mr. Fisher said this was the first he had heard of this. He would give Dr. Watt an opportunity to explain.

At 12.15 the committee rose and the House adjourned.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

For six years I suffered from cancer, and got no relief until I used Burdock Blood Bitters. I used seven bottles faithfully, when the cancer gradually dried up and finally disappeared. CIRCUS TRAIN TUMBLED UP.

Some of the Cars Crashed Through a Flag Station - Loss $30,000.

Rochester, May 12.—While the third section of the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus train was passing the Brown-street crossing of the Central Railroad at 5.40 o'clock this morning a drawhead broke on the front end of the fifth car from the engine, derailing that car and two others, which crashed through the flag station, carried away two telegraph poles, ripped off 40 feet of the station platform, and finally brought up diagonally across the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg tracks. No one was injured. The loss to the circus people will aggregate $20,000 at the lowest estimate, counting in damage to cars and wagons.

What Art and Science Can Do.

Prof. Dorenwend announces a visit to Peterborough at the House Thursday, May 27th, with his famous art hair goods. His statement that over 20,000 gentlemen wear his toupees, 20,000 his wigs, and 30,000 ladies his hair coverings, bangs, etc., will open the eyes of our readers as to the immense business his company must do, and is a proof of the excellence of his goods, and now that there is an opportunity, them all baired and bald persons should call on him. For ladies he has wigs, ventilated open wigs, switches, bangs, wavy and plain fronts, etc. For gentlemen, featherweight wigs and toupees. Health, comfort and good looks can be obtained by their use. He can also give you reliable advice as to the care of the hair. Call and see him. dw

STONY LAKE PARAGRAPHS.

Desecration of Cottages Disproved—Government Interest in Stony Lake. Other Topics.

The presence of Government Detective Murray in town indicates the anxiety of of the Ontario Government to protect the interests of the cottage owners of Stony Lake. He spent some time in investigating the currently reported robbery and sacking of one of the cottages at the lakes, but though careful investigation was made no evidence of the contents of the cottage named having been disturbed or tampered with to any extent, was found. In company with Constable Crowe, who is in charge of the cottage of Mr. John Craig, M.P.P., Detective Murray visited this cottage, which had been reported as completely despoiled, and found it in good condition, except that some boards had been disturbed and the lock tampered with.

The action of the Government in so promptly sending down a detective shows that it is determined that the security of one of the finest of Canadian summer water resorts is to be maintained. This will give the cottage owners renewed confidence, and will be a very effective hint to any persons of the vicinity who might be maliciously or mischievously inclined, that they run great risk if they venture to molest the cottages in any manner.

Stony Lake is worthy of the attention it receives. It is the resort of a large number of our citizens during the summer months, and every effort that will contribute to making it a desirable summer residence, apart from what nature has so lavishly bestowed, should be encouraged, and is appreciated.

NO COMMUTATION RAILWAY TICKETS.

Under these circumstances, it is natural that means of access from town should be facilitated as much as possible, and with better success than has attended the efforts of Mr. Dumble, president of the Cottagers' Association, to secure commutation rates from the Grand Trunk Railway. It appears that in accordance with the policy of the railway, no commutation tickets will be issued this year—nothing more favourable than the ordinary return fare. This is a great drawback to Stony Lake cottagers, especially business men, to whom frequent visits to town are a matter of much importance. It is suggested, in view of the decision arrived at by the railway management, that a stage line be established to ply between Peterborough and Lakefield during the season. The drive would be a pleasant one, and time would, it is claimed, be gained by saving the loss of time at Lakefield in transferring baggage etc. from train to boat, for no success has attended the efforts to induce the G.T.R. to run trains direct to the steamboat wharf, the plea being that the nature of the siding prevents the adoption of such a practice.

Incidentally the cottagers would like to suggest to the steamboat owners that they should arrange on Saturday night, that they do not take the same route. By making some such subdivision of route it is held that the convenience of the cottagers would be better served.

IN ARMS AGAINST BURLEIGH ASSESSMENT.

It appears that the Cottagers' Association has taken in hand to appeal against almost the entire assessment of the township of Burleigh. Those owning islands embraced in the bounds of that township, claim that the assessment is unjustly unequal. Among the grievances specified is the fact that the uniform rate of assessment of farm lands is one dollar per acre irrespective of improvements, while, as it is asserted, the assessment of some of the islands is at the rate of one hundred dollars per acre and it is claimed that, as the cottagers enjoy none of the advantages of the use of the roads and schools, the disparity in assessment is far too great. Whether or not the complaints of over assessment made by the cottagers is justified, will be decided by the County Judge, to whom the appeals, it is said, will be made.

A Suite of Apartments Secured in the Bank of Commerce Building.

Another well attended meeting of the Victoria Bicycle Club was held last evening at the Oriental Hotel, with President A. H. Stratton in the chair.

The Executive Committee reported in favour of securing a suite of apartments in the new Bank of Commerce building, and the club endorsed their choice. The apartments consist at present of one very long room, in which a partition will be erected, and one somewhat smaller. The rooms are heated with steam and will be supplied with electric light.

The Executive Committee was empowered to proceed at once with the furnishing of the rooms and to collect the fees immediately.

A House Committee to govern the rooms was elected, composed of Messrs. W. L. Allan, W. A. Sanderson, R. Ross, W. J. Montgomery and H. R. H. Kenner.

Messrs. F. A. Lount and F. J. Rogers were elected auditors.

The Captain of the club, Mr. Dickson Davidson, reported that he had held a conversation over the telephone with Mr. A. E. Walton of the Royal Canadians, and had learned that the representatives from that club would not be down from Toronto to look over the proposed route of the road race until Monday or Tuesday. They were willing to have the road race held some time in July.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. George Graham for his kindness in allowing the club the use of his hotel parlours in which to hold their meetings.

A meeting of the Executive was called to meet to-day to close the agreement concerning the rooms.

The Board of Representatives of the District, which had been holding a meeting earlier in the evening, was then invited to join the club.

Mr. R. J. Wilson, of Kingston, Chairman of the District Racing Board, in a few remarks stated that the meeting had been called to boom cycling in the district generally and to make plans to assist Peterborough in getting the meet next year. He was anxious to see a good meet held here during the summer, as complaints were made last year about the inactivity of the local club in this respect. The Board of Representatives had been considering a scheme for holding a circuit of meets, beginning in Lindsay on July 26th and going from there to Peterborough and then on to Campbellford, Belleville, Port Hope, Cobourg, Trenton, Brighton, Oshawa, Napanee and Kingston. If arrangements could be made carry out the idea it would certainly prove a success, as the racing men of the country would start in at Lindsay and follow it right through, if the meets were held on successive days. He hoped the Victorias would take hold of the idea and assist in making it a success.

Mr. Wilson was assured of co-operation.

Mr. Campbell, of Lindsay, chief counsel for the district made a few pleasing remarks in which he spoke most hopefully of Peterborough for the meet of 1898. He also urged on the club the taking up of the circuit idea.

Mr. Mundy, Oshawa's representative, spoke of the small circuit which had been held last year in which Oshawa had participated. It had been successful although only a few towns were interested and a larger circuit would do even better.

President Stratton asked Mr. Wilson when he was finally arranging the dates for these meets to endeavour to give Peterborough a Thursday if possible, as during the summer months half holidays were given on Thursday afternoons.

Mr. Wilson stated that the arrangement would be made if possible and informed the club that he had appointed its secretary, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, the Peterborough member of the District Racing Board.

After a short conference with the representitives the meeting adjourned and when the club is again called together it will in all probability assemble in its own quarters.

A HARD FOUGHT CASE.

It Lasted From Tuesday Afternoon Until Wednesday.

Pearson vs. Linton & Co.—The trial of this case commenced on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and was continued until 6.30 in the evening when the court rose until 9.30 yesterday morning. The evidence was all in and arguments concluded by 3 o'clock when the learned judge delivered his findings of fact as follows:—

He found that the plaintiff's timber was worth from $450 to $500 on Deer Bay, and that it cost $180 to bring it to Lakefield; that the quantity of logs measured by Cochrane on Deer Bay reached Lakefield without an appreciable loss; that the defendants had a right to take possession when they did under the lien given them by the plaintiff when he borrowed the sum of $208; that an execution creditor came in and seized the plaintiff's logs, and that the defendants took an assignment of the execution. A fair portion of the logs was unsuitable for lumber. There was a sale of lumber to Lillicrap and no sale of ties. Lillicrap withdrew from his contract when he ascertained that the logs were under seizure. On the same day that Benson bought the judgment and took possession he sold to Lillicrap for the same price as Pearson had previously sold to Lillicrap with the exception of ties and culls. Benson, the manager of Linton & Company at Lakefield, in selling in the way he did, was rather precipitate in his action because there was an uncertainty about the sale unless he had obtained figures as to cost of cutting. It turned out there was an increased cost of cutting much more than was usually charged at that same mill. When Benson sold the ties to Lillicrap he should have made an effort to obtain a higher figure. Benson might have obtained twice the figure for which he sold to Lillicrap. These findings of fact are in favour of the plaintiff and judgment on the question of damages was reserved. The plaintiff admits the defendants' counterclaim amounting to about $200. Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson, plaintiff's solicitors. Kerr, Gladman & Kerr, defendant's solicitors.

A Government Bulletin Containing Directions.

Now is the time to begin spraying operations to destroy the insect pests that cause so much destruction to the fruit crop. Copies of this bulletin, which should be in the hands of all fruit growers, may be had from the Department of Agriculture, Toronto.

RECEPTION TO THE Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY.

The Workers Received Him Last Evening—A Supper.

Thirty of the workers of the Y.M.C.A. gathered together last evening at the old rooms and tendered a reception to Mr. Williamson, the new secretary of the Peterborough association. It was a bright gathering of cheerful, happy and enthusiastic young men under rather hazy circumstances. They have been accustomed to meet in well lighted and neat parlors and of course were much surprised on entering to find these parlors in darkness owing to the current being disconnected. The enthusiasm of these young men could not be quenched by such a slight inconvenience however, and impromptu programme was arranged consisting of music followed by three minute speeches A great deal of merriment was afforded by the latter. A topic was handed to each speaker and, without any preparation, he had to deliver his address. To hear Mr. Bennet handle the difficult question of "Flirtation, is it Justifiable?" and Mr. J. R. Kidd on "Marriage, is it a Failure?" was highly amusing. Mr. Parker spoke feelingly of "The Present Need of Young Men," and with tears in the eyes of each was the subject of "The Present Condition of the Work" considered. This was followed by an "Illustrated Talk on Phrenology," and "The Present Condition of Greece." "The Prohibition Question from the Revenue Standpoint" was also discussed, after which all present repaired to Mr. Watts' dining room, where neatly arranged refreshments met the gaze and suffered annihilation at the hands and appetites of a now very happy throng.

This repast was followed by addresses. Mr. Williamson spoke to the young men for the first time and created an impression that warrants the respect and co-operation of all.

Mr. Parker issued a proclamation to the workers to the effect that each shall rally around their new secretary. Mr. Bennet, who was the lion of the evening, spoke in pleasing terms at the reception given to Mr. Williamson. Mr. Bennett is now recognized as one of the very prominent workers in the Association and is honoured and respected as such by the band of workers. Taking last night as an index the members are ready for the work among young men of the town. At no time during the history of the Association has there been such a strong band of workers and Mr. Kennedy, the acting secretary for the past few months, has done a quiet but effective work in gathering together such a body of young men together.

Mr. Williamson starts under favourable circumstances from this standpoint, even though he has to assume the great difficulty of organising for other features. The campaign has opened, during the next few weeks the residents of town will hear a great deal more about Y. M. C. A. work than ever before. This information will come through many sources; sometimes through the press, again through individual effort, but the burning topic will be funds. The young men say they will have to get the price to float this work, so that all will have an opportunity of doing a little to help along the cause. —COM.

IMPROVED MODEL PUMP.

Mr. Henry Owens Make Some Valuable Improvements to His Popular Pump.

The Model lift and force pumps which have been manufactured by Mr. Henry Owens of this town for the past thirteen four years are known in every township and concession of Peterborough and adjoining counties. Numerous instances could be mentioned where these pumps are still doing good work after more than thirteen years constant use. Their durability would almost seem to have rendered further improvements unnecessary and yet recent valuable changes which have been made deserve special mention. The new improved Model lift pump is supplied with a cone-shaped iron head, attached to which is an iron bracket from which a new leverage power is obtained, increasing the length of stroke for a stronger discharge of water. The movements of the handle, while they produce a more powerful action, have a steady even bearing, and the pump remains rigid and steady at every stroke. The new iron head adds increasing durability to these pumps, all checking and loosening being positively prevented. All the important working parts are of steel, and consequently not liable to wear out. Another valuable improvement is the increased water space between the spout and head, which allows more freedom for the surplus water lifted, thus greatly reducing the liability of freezing in winter. Mr. Owens has already turned out quite a number of the new Models, and wherever exhibited have been highly recommended by practical judges.

THE WHEEL.

The utmost of good feeling prevails between the old and the new bicycle clubs. The Victorias are quite willing that the Peterboroughs should handle the C. W. A. meet if it comes to Peterborough next year and at last night's meeting agreed to everything possible to make the meet a success.

The Board of Representatives of the District met at the Oriental yesterday, there being present Chief Consul Campbell, of Lindsay, R. J. Wilson, of Kingston, chairman of the District Racing Board, and Mr. Mundy, of Oshawa. The committees for the district were struck and will appear in the next official bulletin, as will the names of those whom Mr. Wilson has selected to act with him on the Racing Board. As reported in another column the board also considered the advisability of securing dates at the end of July and beginning of August for a cuecuit of races through the district.

The practice of scorching on the streets after dark is highly dangerous, particularly where the riders are lax about keeping to to the right hand side of the car tracks as they are in Peterborough. On Tuesday night a young scorcher crashed into Mr. J. S. Knapman and badly damaged his wheel. Mr. Knapman states that he himself was on the right side of the road, but the scorcher was not hence the collision.

On the home trainer in W. B. Rickey's tobacco store last evening, Gordon rode an eighth in eight seconds and a quarter in 20 seconds, beating the world's track record by three seconds in the first score and by 6 seconds in the latter. The fast time made is accounted for by the fact that the fans, which are arranged to create an air pressure as is occasioned on a track, were not running at full speed, Little won from Lytle in a quarter mile dash.

LACROSSE.

It never rains but it pours. The Peterboroughs have just received a challenge from the Young Capitals, of Ottawa, for a game here on the 24th. An effort was made to arrange this match early in the spring for the Queen's Birthday, but the Young Caps were busy settling some little difficulties of their own and the matter dropped. Although it will be impossible to give the Ottawa team a game on the 24th, arrangements will probably be made to bring them here on Jubilee Day.

BASEBALL.

The Globe says that Mr. Lem Feicher is moving to Peterborough, and has already arranged a game of baseball between the Peterborough and Toronto hotel men. The diamond seems to be Lem's weakness.

At first thought it seems impossible that any human being should wilfully embrace death. Yet thousands of women daily court the grim-visaged monster. Some do so through ignorance and others through wilful neglect. The woman who neglects to look after the health of the organs most essential to her womanhood ignorantly or wilfully courts death, and death in a slow and agonizing form. Ills of this description render a woman's life a daily burden and approaching motherhood a menace of the grave.

An infallible cure for all weakness and disease of the delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible is found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on these organs. It prepares the maid for wifehood and the wife for motherhood. It does away with the usual discomforts of the period preceding motherhood. It insures a healthy baby and makes parturition easy and comparatively painless. Thousands of women have testified to its wonder-working virtues. Get it at the druggists and refuse all substitutes. There is nothing "just the same" or "just as good." The druggist who tells you there is, is either mistaken or dishonest.

"I am very thankful to you indeed for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. Etta E. Smith, of Grenola, Elk Co., Kansas. "About a month before I was confined I had such pains I could stand up only a little while at a time. I could not rest at night at all, nor at any other time. I could scarcely eat anything at all. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after the second dose I felt better. From then until I was sick, I carried nearly all the water that was used, up a long hill, and worked in the garden every day, besides my other work, and did not feel at all bad. When the baby was born the doctor and the women who were with me said I had a very easy time. The women said I had an easier time than any one they ever saw for the first time. The baby is very healthy and growing right along. I got up when she was five days old and have been up ever since. After two days I began my own work in the garden, and felt stout and healthy. The baby is now a month old."

In nine cases out of ten sickness is caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, speedy and safe cure for constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

BLOODSHED WILL NOW STOP.

Greece Unreservedly Accepts the Mediation of the Powers, and Will Get Her Troops Out of Crete.

Athens, May 11.—The diplomatic pourparlers, which have been proceeding all the morning, have been brought to a definite conclusion. Greece has formally adhered to the preliminaries of peace as agreed upon between the powers, and the heads of the different legations have received positive assurances, investing them with authority to treat with Turkey. The negotiations at Athens are regarded as concluded.

Mediation Accepted.

London, May 11.—In the House of Commons to-day, the First Lord of the Treasury and Government leader, Mr. A. J. Balfour, announced that instructions had been received this morning from all the representatives of the powers at Athens, saying that mediation between Turkey and Greece had been offered to the latter country, and had been accepted by the Greek Government.

Will Now Approach the Sultan.

Athens, May 11.—Greece, having accepted mediation, the ambassadors of the powers at Constantinople have been instructed to approach the Turkish Government with the view of ascertaining upon what conditions Turkey will agree to declare peace.

Baron Von Plessen, the German Minister, received instructions this morning to join the other ministers here in mediating between Turkey and Greece, whereupon M. Onou, the Russian Minister, presented the note of the powers setting forth that upon the declaration of Greece that she will recall her troops from Crete and will formally agree to an autonomous regime for that island and accept the counsels of the powers unreservedly, they will intervene in the interests of peace. The Greek Government, in acknowledging the receipt of the note, reiterated its acceptance of the terms.

TURKISH OUTRAGES.

Women and Children Massacred and Villages Burned by the Rascally Hordes of the Sultan.

London, May 12.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: M. Ralli, the Premier, showed me today despatches and reports from Col. Manos and various civil authorities in Epirus, showing that fourteen villages between Toulour and Kastroaykia have been burned by the Turks after all the women and children had been massacred, except a few who hid in the fastnesses of Mount Zalongos, famous during the war of independence, and a few more who concealed themselves in the marshes along the shore and finally managed to get aboard the Greek ships, half dead with hunger and fear.

Not a stone of the Village of Kamarina is left standing. The men fought like lions in defence of the women, who sought refuge in the woods and caves of Mount Zalongos, and, when chased by the Turks, jumped from precipices to avoid capture and dishonor.

Pitiful Scenes on Every Hand.

London, May 12.—A despatch to The Daily News from Lamia, dated Sunday, says that 80,000 Thessalians are herded there and in the neighboring villages after successive flights from Tyrnavo, Larissa, Pharsalos and Domokos. The most pitiful scenes are to be witnessed on every hand. Thousands of women and children are lying exposed to the continuous heavy rains. Most of their cows and horses have been requisitioned by the military. Fires are night occurrences, and villages are burnt wherever the Turks are to be seen. The Greek authorities have endeavored to supply bread to thousands of the homeless, but their efforts are almost unavailable.

BRITONS AND BOERS.

The Transvaal Postmaster-General Says the Boers are for Peace, But if They Must Fight They Will Fight.

New York, May 11.—Isaac Van Alphen, Postmaster-General of the Transvaal, was in the city yesterday, on his way to Washington to attend the International Postal Congress. He says the situation in the Transvaal now is very grave. "We are all for peace, but if it must be fight—why then, we will fight to the last. As for myself, I am trying to be a bridge between the Uitlanders and the Boers. We don't mind having them there in the Transvaal. Let them come and make all the money they want, if they will only let us alone. But the trouble is they don't stop there.

"They boom the share market in mines, and then they depress it so as to make speculation. They have forced up wages so high that we can't work our properties at a fair profit, and what we would have refused £40,000 for five years ago, we are now glad to sell for £20,000."

"What sort of a man is your President?" he was asked.

"Ah!" he replied, with enthusiasm, "he is the greatest living statesman. Paul Kruger is a man who knows no language but the Dutch. He can read it, but he is apt to make mistakes when he writes it. But he is the greatest politician that ever lived. He has done everything for the country. John Bull can't fool with him."

Every Boer thinks Cecil Rhodes the wickedest man that ever breathed the breath of life, says Mr. Van Alphen, who credits him with a desire to make South Africa all one color on the map and that color the color of Her Majesty Queen Victoria's dominions.

They Say Rhodes Deceived Them.

London, May 11.—The Parliamentary Committee appointed to inquire into the Transvaal raid held another meeting today. The examination of the Duke of Abercorn, chairman of the Chartered Company of British South Africa, was continued.

The Duke of Fife, son-in-law of the Prince of Wales, was also a witness. The Duke said he had no knowledge whatever of the raid before it occurred, nor had he any suspicion that the Chartered Company's troops might be used anyway in connection with the troubles at Johannesburg or elsewhere in the Transvaal. The witness said: "I have a great regard for Mr. Rhodes, but if pressed, I am perfectly prepared to say Mr. Rhodes deceived me."

Sir Horace Farquhar, Bart., a director of the British South Africa Company, and member of Parliament for West Marylebone, testified that he sold 500 shares of the company's stock late in 1895, but he explained, the raid could not be connected with the market, because the directors were absolutely ignorant of it.

Mr. Cawston, another director, endorsed the statements of the Duke of Abercorn and the Duke of Fife.

CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

AGE AND CLIMATE.

Figures Showing That Life Is Longest in Temperate Climates.

During 1896 the death of 188 persons over 90 years of age—fourteen of them being over 100—was recorded in Great Britain and Ireland, says The New York Sun. It is a somewhat curious circumstance that the average longevity in England, and greater in Ireland than in Scotland, the birth rate being largest in England and least in Ireland. Of a thousand persons, men, women and children, resident in England, the average number over 60 years of age is 72, or somewhat more than 7 per cent. In Scotland the proportion over 60 years of age is 7.7 per cent., and in Ireland it is 10.5 per cent.

Ireland stands second to France as regards the longevity of its inhabitants, the proportion of men and women in France over 60 years old being by the last census 12.7 per cent., or 127 of each 1000 population. The official figures of the census report show that longevity is, to a considerable extent, regulated by climate, that is, in countries within the temperate zone the duration of life is greater than in warmer or semi-tropical countries. The average number of persons over 60 years old in 1000 inhabitants in the United Kingdom is 77, and in the German Empire, the climate of which is similar, it is the same. In Holland it is also 77; in Denmark, 84; in Sweden, 88, and in Norway 90. In Russia the longevity of the inhabitants is greatest in the northern provinces and lowest in the southern ones. The average of European countries in the north temperate zones, England, Germany and Holland—77 a thousand—falls to 71 in Austria and in Portugal. In Spain, where the climate is generally milder than in Portugal, the number of persons over 60 years of age in a thousand is 68 only, and in Greece it is 54. In the East Indies, as far as there are any authentic figures, the average is only 40 in a thousand inhabitants. In South America the average is about 56, though there are, of course, many exceptional cases.

The United States do not stand very high in respect to elderly persons. The duration of human life is longest usually in old, and least in new, countries.

THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD

NATURE'S COLORS.

M. Chassagne's Radiotint Invention Apparently a Success.

An exhibition of the new process of photography in colors was given before the Society of Chemical Industry at the College of Pharmacy, says The New York Journal. This colored photography is known as the radiotint process, and is the invention of Villedieu Chassange of Paris, based on the original suggestion of Dr. Adrain Dansac, R. A. Anthony of Anthony's Photographic Bulletin, who has just returned from Paris and London, whither he went to secure the rights in North and South America for his process, brought back with him from Mrs. Chassagne's laboratory a collection of photographs colored by the new method, and these were exhibited last evening.

These photographs, it is conceded by all who have thus far seen them, are remarkable, and the new process opens up a field which hitherto has been unattainable. One of the prints was developed by Mr. Anthony himself in 25 minutes, demonstrating conclusively what may be done by one who is entirely unfamiliar with practical photographic manipulation.

One of the prints is a photograph of the Czar of Russia, and shows perfectly the color and effect of real life, the flesh tints being particularly good and the drapery excellent, both in color and tone rendering. Another print is of a young girl in a plaid gown, all the colors of which are exactly reproduced. Still another print is of a richly-gowned woman with bleached hair. This photograph was taken as a test, and the result shows how successful the new method is.

Other prints are of landscapes, rich in brilliant lighting and strong in deep shadows, with all the various shades of green in the foliage and intermediate tones and reflections in the water. There is the rich green of fresh grass in one photograph, with a picturesque white fence in the background, and in another there is the exquisite Autumnal coloring of the leaves of trees.

The first public knowledge of the invention was in January, when Sir H. Trueman Wood described it in a communication to The Journal of the Society of Arts in London.

M. Chassagne, in his new method, employs four solutions, the nature of which he at present keeps secret. His process is as follows: A negative is taken on a gelatine plate prepared by treatment with one of his solutions. This is developed and fixed in the ordinary manner. It shows no trace of color. From it a print is taken on glass or paper, the plate or paper being specially prepared by treatment with the same solution. The transparency, or the paper print, in no way differs, apparently from an ordinary positive, and shows no trace of color by transmitted or reflected light. It is then washed over successively with three colored solutions—blue, green and red—and it takes up the appropriate colors in the appropriate parts, these three colors giving, by their various combinations, all varieties of hue.

Within the space of a few weeks, therefore, it will be possible to have photographs of scenery, with all the wondrous tones and shades of nature, photographs of dress finery in all its varying colors, photographs of little children with the rich flesh tints of youth and health in their faces, photographs of a sweetheart with the color of her hair, the bloom, artificial or natural, on her cheeks, and the shades in her raiment. Photographs of theatrical subjects will also show wonderful improvement, and scenes from picturesque operas and richly mounted plays may be caught and preserved with life-like accuracy by the new process. Its advent gives promise of a revolution in the art of photography.

Human Camera-Phonograph.

The harder Charles Dorr tries to forget anything the more indelibly it is stamped on his memory. He has the most wonderful memory on the Pacific Coast. He is often called "The Human Camera," and "The Live Photograph," so faithfully does his eye and ear record passing events.

If he once gets a good look at a face it is never forgotten. More than one criminal caught by the San Francisco police, and positively identified by Dorr, can sorrowfully but truthfully testify to this.

Mr. Dorr frequently goes to see a play, and hours after can quote any part, or even all of it, if called upon to do so, word for word, although he might never have seen or heard of the piece before entering the theatre. He knows every policeman in San Francisco by sight and number, if not by name, and if you tell him the number, he will instantly tell you where that particular officer's post is, what the man looks like, and to what division he belongs. He knows where every fire alarm box is located, and now he can tell the location of any one almost without pausing to think. He also knows the numbers of all the street cars and where they go. Mention a street through which cars pass and he will tell the numbers of the cars running on that thoroughfare.

A column of figures is a mere bagatelle to this man of wonderful memory. A column of twenty numbers of six figures each is as a child's addition table to him. He scorns the use of pencil, and the sum is always correct —Chicago Times-Herald.

Firing Under Water.

A stage was erected in the harbor at Portsmouth within the tide mark; on this an Armstrong gun of 110-pound pattern was mounted. The gun was then loaded and carefully aimed at a target while the tide was low.

The target itself was placed only 25 feet from the muzzle of the gun. It was composed of oak beams and planks, and was 21 inches thick. In order to make the Griper invulnerable, a sheet of boiler plates three inches thick was riveted to the water-logged hull in direct range with the course the ball was expected to take if not deflected by the water.

On all of these—the oaken target, the boiler plates, and the old vessel's hull—the effect of the shot from the submerged gun was really startling. The wooden target was pierced through and through, the boiler iron target was broken into pieces, and driven into its "backing," the ball passing right out through both sides of the vessel, making two huge holes, through which the water poured in torrents. Taken altogether the experiment was an entire success.

Fossils in Chalk.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS
Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

Miss Mann of Peterborough was in the village on Tuesday.

Mrs. R. Graham, who has been spending the winter at Pasadena, Cal., returned home on Saturday.

Miss Edith Strickland is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mrs. Lillicrap and Mrs. Lefevre were in Toronto last week attending the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary as representatives from the Lakefield Auxiliary.

A great many of our citizens were in Peterborough as witnesses at the assizes this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Linton of Orono, are in the village this week, the guest of Mr. Benson.

Rev. George Warren preached at Buckhorn and Lakehurst on Sunday. The pulpit of the English church was filled by Rev. Mr. Hartley.

Rev. F. H. Hartley left on Tuesday for Toronto.

Mr. Fitzgerald started with a large gang of men this week excavating on the canal near Mr. Hull's mill, Few and scarce goods just received at R. Graham & Son's millinery rooms this week. The ladies are invited to call.

On Friday last the steamer Golden City went up the lakes and carried a goodly number of passengers.

The council held their regular meeting on Monday evening. There was not much business of importance before them.

Rev. A. H. Ranton has been attracting large crowds at all his meetings during last week. On Friday evening it is stated that there were nine 'bus loads up from Peterborough, and every evening since there have been several 'bus loads up. On Sunday Mr. Ranton held three services—in the morning at the Presbyterian church, and in the afternoon and evening in the Methodist church. On Tuesday evening, owing to a cold, he was unable to address the meeting. He has decided to give his address on "The Modern Dance" next Friday evening in the Methodist church. As this address received so much criticism when delivered in Peterborough, no doubt it will attract such crowds here that there will be barely standing room.

COLD SPRINGS, OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The members of Cold Springs Union Sunday School are busily preparing for the usual anniversary services. One of Peterborough's pastors will be present Sunday and Monday. Particulars later.

We are pleased to welcome in our midst Mr. John Boyd and family, formerly of Peterborough, who are occupying the place recently vacated by Mr. John R. Gouldsilow.

It is with feelings of the most profound regret we chronicle the death of three of the oldest and most respected of our residents, who all passed away within one week of one another. Mr. Samuel Smyth, Mr. John Clifford and Mr. John James Welsh. Although Mr. Smyth recently removed to Peterborough, he resided here for many years. The friends of the deceased have the warmest sympathy of all in their hour of bereavement and sorrow.

THE CHRIST-LIFE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR READERS,—In our introduction to the citizens of Peterborough we remarked that we were the only representative of the Christ-life here. This fact has proved itself already, for none have identified themselves with us as living the life of Christ, and the same is true that none outside the Christian Association claim to please God in everything, although this is the universal aspiration of mankind.

We shall now explain fully our position for the good of all concerned. We learned this satisfactory life through Mr. BURNS, who was the first to discover the life of Jesus. So prominent has the life of Mr. Burns been since his absolute abandonment to God nearly 20 years ago, that we who have learned that life are styled followers of Burns, having adopted the same principle of living, just as he learned it from Jesus.

Knowing that we truly represent God continually, we remain.

Yours truly,
W. M. EADIE,

THE DISMISSAL OF CIVIL SERVANTS

Again Came Up and Caused Some Hot Talk—Northwest Farmers in Debt to the Government to the Tune of Over $153,000 for Seed Grain.

Ottawa, May 13.—(Special.)—Mr. Perry, the new member for West Prince, P. E. I., was introduced this afternoon by Hon Mr. Davies and Mr. Yeo.

Replying to a question by Mr. Davin, Mr. Sifton said that 5384 farmers in Manitoba and the Northwest owe the Government for seed grain, the total amount of their indebtedness being $153,602.

Rev. Mr. Douglas enquired whether the basis for duty on farm implements from the States was to be the retail or wholesale price, a matter which the Finance Minister said was now being considered. As to whether oil would be allowed to be transported in tank cars to all railway points, that, said Mr. Fielding, was a subject for special legislation.

Mr. McMullen enquired: "Is the Alf Jury at present taking an active part in the fight for Sunday cars in Toronto the Alf Jury recently appointed emigration agent and supposed to be attending to his duties, and is it with the Government's consent and approval that he is actively engaged in the conflict?"

Mr. Sifton replied that he had no knowledge of the matter except from the Toronto papers. Mr. Jury had been granted a short leave of absence to go to Toronto to prepare for his departure. The Government, while not assuming that it had a right to interfere with any official's opinion, had not consented to or approved of Mr. Jury or any other official neglecting his duties to take part in such contests. The Deputy Minister of the Interior had, however, been instructed to enquire into the facts of the case.

Mr. Bergeron made a personal explanation in regard to the charge made the other day that when he was Deputy Speaker he went electioneering in Antigonish County. Mr. Bergeron wished it to be understood that that was not during the session. When the local election took place in his county in 1892 during the session he remained at his post in Ottawa. Still, when offered the position of Deputy Speaker in 1891, it was upon the express understanding with Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson that he should be free to take part in politics. Besides, he had Mr. Laurier's certificate as to his impartiality.

Mr. Laurier remarked that when Mr. Brodeur was appointed deputy the Liberals made no bargain at all with him.

Mr. Prior, on motion to go into supply, asked for information in regard to the item of mining machinery, as to which there was a deal of uncertainty abroad. The item reads: "Machinery of a class used and required for smelting or refining purposes and also all materials for the construction of such machinery in Canada to be free for that purpose, the whole to be subject to regulations made by the Controller of Customs."

Now, from what he learned from the Controller, hardly any machinery could be brought in free, since there was scarcely any mining machinery that could not be put to other uses. Take hoisting machinery, air compressors and ore cars. These were applicable to other uses, and the Controller could not say but that under the new item they would have to pay duty. So, too, with rock drills and ore crushers, so that he could not see that the new tariff was going to be of any benefit to the mining industry. There was one smelting plant about to be erected in British Columbia, for which 50,000 tons of machinery were ready to be brought in. Would it come in free of duty? He contended that these regulations should be promulgated so that miners might know what machinery they could import free.

Mr. Paterson replied that, while the tariff went into effect as a matter of arrangement, he could not make any formal regulations until the tariff bill had passed.

Mr. Prior: But how is it with machinery brought in now? Who says what is to be free and what is not to be free?

Mr. Paterson supposed it would be referred to Ottawa, and he had not heard of any references so far. It could not be long, however, until the duty was settled, and then the regulations would be made.

Mr. Taylor urged that the Government proceed with the tariff instead of going on with supply. The present uncertainty was most embarrassing to manufacturers and business men, he said.

While appreciating the desirability of bringing the resolutions definitely before the House as soon as possible, Mr. Fielding said there was no possibility of doing so this week. However, there was no unusual delay.

Mr. Fielding added that any delay that occurred was due to the desire of the Government to hear further representations of deputations who were anxious to present further facts to the Government. As to mining machinery, the complaint was made that the old system was open to vexatious complications, and the new tariff proposed to admit all machinery free, but since then representations had been made that it would be preferable to make a specified list of items which should be placed on the free list.

Mr. Foster said that here was the Government, three weeks after having brought down its tariff, which from that moment became law, not able to say that instructions had been sent out to customs officers as to what classes of machinery should be admitted. The excuse that the tariff was not yet passed upon was absurd. The tariff was law the day it was brought down. The business of the country was being demoralized because of this uncertainty, which was as great as before the tariff was brought down, and not one manufacturer of mining machinery has since been able to conclude a single sale. This cabinet of business men was surely acting in a most unbusinesslike way. He would beg the Controller and Minister of Customs to come to a conclusion, not to sit there lazily and helplessly while the business of the country was suffering.

With some observations from the Controller and Mr. McMullen the discussion closed, and the House went into committee of supply.

The first item taken up was that of $50,000 for salaries, etc., in connection with quarantine. Col. Prior brought up the case of the dismissal of Dr. G. H. Duncan from the position of Superintendent of Quarantine at Williams' Head, Victoria, B.C. He detailed the circumstances under which Dr. Duncan had allowed two suspects, who had been in contact with a patient suffering from chicken pox, as it turned out, to leave the detention hospital on the 23rd of June to vote. He read the affidavits of both to the effect that they had been disinfected, that one voted the Conservative ticket and the other the Liberal ticket. The City Council had investigated the matter and exonerated Dr. Duncan, who was also then City Health Officer.

Mr. Fisher admitted that the facts were as stated, but the further fact that, although Dr. Duncan had allowed these suspects to go abroad, he subsequently detained them, was evidence that he did not consider all danger at an end, so that in permitting them to mingle with the public on election day he committed an offence which justified his discharge.

Sir Charles Tupper characterised the dismissal of Dr. Duncan, under the circumstances, as a public outrage. He reprobated in the strongest terms the action of Dr. Watt in neglecting the smallpox patient at Victoria.

Mr. Fisher, adverting again to the charge against Dr. Watt, said it was not the custom to report regularly. He would like the name of Col. Prior's informant.

Col. Prior said he would give the name to the Minister. He had brought up this matter, not from personal feeling, but for the safety of the public. [Hear, hear.] He asked if any cases of smallpox had developed from the outbreak on the Empress of China.

Mr. Fisher replied that the department had been notified of four.

Dr. Borden asked on whose report had the caretaker at Halifax quarantine been dismissed.

Mr. Fisher said the dismissal had been made on the personal assurances of Mr. Russell, M. P.

Dr. Borden asked if Mr. Russell had personal knowledge that the caretaker was an active and offensive partisan.

Mr. Russell said he had affidavits made by parties whom, he was informed, were reliable men.

Dr. Borden pointed out that this action did not agree with the rule laid down by Mr. Blair. The caretaker had not had fair play accorded to him.

The discussion switched off to the general subject of dismissals and superannuations, Mr. Lister contending that the late Government had abused the superannuation system.

Mr. McCleary said the question of dismissals would bear ventilating and the Government benches had not heard the last of it.

Mr. Lister said Mr. McCleary no doubt felt sore over the change of Government. For years he had been supplying lumber to the late Government without tender and at his own figures.

Mr. McCleary said this statement was absolutely untrue. Mr. Lister's braggadocio was not going to scare a new member.

Loud cries from the Opposition benches: "Take it back!"

Sir Charles Tupper insisted that Mr. Lister ought to be made to withdraw his statement.

The Deputy Speaker: I suppose the hon. gentleman has no objection to take it back.

Mr. Lister: In conformity with the interests of the rules of the House. [Derisive cheers.]

Mr. Foster dealt with Mr. Lister's assertions as to partisan superannuations under Conservative rule. He showed that in the cases of Messrs. Griffin and Vankoughnet their retirement was for the purpose of replacing them with younger and more active men. But there were instances under the Liberal regime of 1874 and 1878 of superannuation of officials who were alive and well to-day, and in one case the superannuated official had been only recently employed by the Government as a commissioner. But no more flagrant instances of the spoils system now in vogue could be adduced than the dismissals made by Mr. Tarte, the suave but excitable Minister of Public Works.

Mr. Tarte: Oh, I'm all right!

Mr. Foster did not doubt he was.

Mr. Tarte (gleefully): And so is Quebec.

"Yes, and so was Quebec," pursued the ex-Finance Minister, "the revenge of Mercier was complete, and Pacaud was again in office, who had stolen $100,000 to help Mr. Laurier into power."

Then, returning to the question of dismissals, Mr. Foster quoted a score of instances in which the spoils system had been carried out without compunction.

The item was carried.

On the item of $4600 for Tracadie Lazaretto, Mr. Fisher said that there were 16 lepers in that asylum, including those taken from Winnipeg, being Icelandic settlers.

Discussing the vote of $37,000 for cattle quarantines, Mr. McCleary drew the Ministers' attention to the fact that, under the new arrangements, while American horses were rarely inspected on the Canadian side, all Canadian horses were rigidly inspected at Fort Erie and Niagara Falls.

The Ministers promised to have the matter looked into.

Considerable criticism of the quarantine regulations ensued, Messrs. Davis and Oliver asserting that there was much dissatisfaction in the Northwest.

Explaining the item of $5000 for compensation for slaughter of hogs in Western Ontario affected with cholera, the Minister observed: "This has cost me $15,000." However, he only asked for $5000 just now.

The item having passed, the committee took up the vote of $80,000 for cold storage, and Mr. Fisher entered into a full explanation of the scheme, practically as detailed by Prof. Robertson before the Agriculture Committee. The Minister expects a great loss by way of compensation to railway companies for carrying less than car loads in cold storage. The C. P. R. was erecting a central warehouse, another would be put up by the Government at Revelstoke, others would be at Grimsby and Toronto. As to the latter, the company accepting the offer had failed to come to time and so it was now open to anyone else. Taking the case of the Halifax warehouse, Mr. Fisher explained that the method of assistance was this: The company was to expend its capital of $100,000 in erecting and equipping a cold storage warehouse, the Government guaranteeing 5 per cent. interest for 3 years on $40,000 of the stock, and the Provincial Government guaranteeing a similar amount.

The item passed.

Good progress was made on the items for the Marine and Fisheries Department.

In moving that the House adjourn, Sir Richard Cartwright said, in answering the question put by Sir Charles Tupper the other day, without desiring at all to prejudice the question as to what might be done one way or the other as to export duties on pulpwood, he was authorized to inform the House that precautions would be taken to prevent any parties who were now making contracts for pulpwood from suffering any loss from whatever course might be adopted.

Sir Charles Tupper: Hear, hear.

The House adjourned at 11.30 p.m.

MORE THAN POLITICAL OFFENCES

Charged Against the Officials of Stony Mountain Penitentiary—Crops Looking Well in the West.

Winnipeg, May 13.—(Special.)—The commission appointed to investigate irregularities at Stony Mountain Penitentiary claims to have discovered more than political offences. Nearly all the officials are charged with offensive partisanship, including the warden, guards and chaplains. The deputy warden is said to have personally profited by a garden cultivated by convict labor. The investigation will be continued next week.

Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh of the Territories, now in this city, says the crops in the west are looking well, and prospects are good. Ranchers are equally hopeful, as the cattle are in first-class condition, and there is a tendency to higher prices.

The new shell in which our four will row at Henley, England, has arrived from Waters, the New York manufacturer. The crew are practising steadily and are already in splendid form.

HORRORS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Barbarity on the Part of the Natives—People's Hands Cut Off, Baked and Sent to Officials.

London, May 13.—A representative of the Associated Press to-day had an interview with Rev. Mr. Sjoblom of the American Baptist Mission in the Upper Congo, who has just returned to London. He said:

"When I left in February, matters in the Upper Congo were as bad as ever. The commission which the King of the Belgians appointed to enquire into the atrocities committed, the victims being natives, has had almost no result. The officials are indisposed to act on missionary evidence, and only a few cases of barbarity were punished. The iniquitous rubber traffic continues. When the natives are unable to obtain rubber, the State troops burn the villages, murder the natives and cut off their hands, which are afterwards smoked and sent to the state officials. Parts of the Equatorsville district are in a state of open warfare."

It is understood that the statements of Rev. Mr. Sjoblom will be made the subject shortly of a question in the House of Commons.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE clamor upon the part of Ontario Conservatives that Hon. A. S. Hardy should bring on the Ontario elections immediately, seems, says the Brantford Expositor, to have become hushed in silence that is thick enough to cut.

THE Mail and Empire is an example of the truth of the proverb—misery loves company. It strives strenuously to make it appear that there are splits and dissensions in the Liberal party like those that seam the Conservative party through and through. One evidence of dissension presented is the fact that Mr. McMullen made some inquiries in parliament respecting the employment of teamsters at the Experimental farm. This is all explained by the organ by the statement that Mr. McMullen was a candidate for the portfolio of Minister of Agriculture. The organ should try again.

MR. DAVIN, the bard of Piles o' Bones Creek, is not satisfied that the Government has a larger majority than he has. Mr. Davin was elected by a majority of one, and even that is under protest, while the Government's majority is three times as large, three ones, that is 111. The first division in the House was taken on Wednesday, on a motion of want of confidence introduced by Mr. Davin. The result was a majority of 111 for the Government. Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. Foster et al. shirked the vote. The vote had little political significance, but it had a good deal of party significance as showing that nothing can apparently be selected upon which the Conservative party can pull together.

THE present session of the Dominion Parliament was, according to the Conservative organs, to be a fighting one. The Opposition was in great shape and full of fight, and the Government was to be shaken in its boots, which were, by the way, several sizes too large for them. But, with the session half over, we find the fight abandoned. Achilles Montague is sulking in his tent, represented by the coach that is taking him to the Pacific coast, and he is to be followed soon by his inseparable shadow, Hon. John Haggart. Sir Charles Tupper, the gentleman who has reduced blizzards, hurricanes, cyclones, typhoons, and all sorts of expositions of windy energy to articulate speech, and Hon. Mr. Foster, the Hercules of Finance, took no part in the debate, and shirked the vote on the first want of confidence motion introduced by Mr. Davin. Mr. Davin, by the way, appears to have stepped into the breach as the real leader of the Opposition. He has at least one quality

FODDER AND SPRING CHEESE.

Points for Factory-Men Throughout the Province.

Appended is a special bulletin issued from the Dairy department of the Ontario Agricultural College.

TO MAKERS.—It will be well to bear in mind that the cheese made in the spring of 1897 are almost sure to go into immediate consumption. Other years, makers have been undecided whether to make the cheese for early use or make them "to be held." This year there can scarcely be any room for doubt as to when spring cheese will be needed. They are wanted now.

With this fact before them, makers should govern themselves accordingly and make use of all their art in order to produce a "quick-curing" article. To obtain this end observe the following points:

1. Accept nothing but pure, sweet milk.
2. Heat to 86 degrees and then make a rennet test.
3. Set the milk when the rennet test is about 18 seconds, or at sufficient ripeness so that the curd will "dip" in about two and a half hours.
4. Use sufficient rennet to coagulate the milk in about twenty minutes. This will require from three to four ounces of standard rennet. (Be sure that your rennet is all right.)
5. Do not cut more than three times, unless the milk is over ripe. Retain plenty of moisture in spring curds for an early market. Our spring cheese are usually too dry and harsh.
6. Heat slowly to 98 degrees—not above this temperature, as it is desirable to retain moisture.
7. Dip at the first appearance of acid. If the acid does not show on the hot iron, use the alkali test. Do not leave the curd in the whey more than three hours, even if the hot iron indicates "no acid." If you test with the alkali, you will find plenty of acid at the end of three hours, provided the temperature is kept up to 98 degrees. The hot iron is not always reliable at this point.
8. Mill early—as soon as the curd becomes meaty, and shows about one inch on the hot iron.
9. Hand-stir sufficiently to improve flavour, but not enough to lose all the moisture.
10. Salt at the rate of about two pounds to one thousand pounds of milk, and before the grease runs too freely. Allow the curds to stand longer in the salt. You will thus save butter fat and will not be troubled with greasy curds. Many are sacrificing a good deal of butter fat for the sake of getting a "close" cheese.
11. Keep the temperature of the curing room at about 70 degrees, and thus hasten the curing.
12. Do not allow a cheese to go into the curing room which is not nicely finished, nor one to leave it until it is at least two weeks old. Not a few are ruining their reputation by shipping curd to their customer. The writer heard of a case this spring where cheese was made on Saturday and shipped the following Tuesday. Such a practice cannot be too strongly condemned. Don't do it, no matter what the pressure from salesmen, buyers or patrons, who may be anxious to secure the advantage of the present high prices. The reputation of Canadian cheese is at stake. I repeat, don't do it.
13. To sum up:—In order to obtain fat, meaty, quick-curing cheese which will be fit to eat in about one month after making, use plenty of good rennet; leave sufficient moisture in the curd; salt lightly; keep the temperature of the curing room up to 70 degrees, night and day; and keep the cheese in the curing room for at least two weeks.

In conclusion.—Take a little trouble to inform patrons as to the best methods of caring for milk. Do not send milk home without first trying to remedy the trouble. Pay a visit to each patron at least once a year. Send to the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, for bulletins on the Care of Milk and send one to each patron. Keep the factory clean and tidy.

TO FACTORY OWNERS.

Please see that the factory is in good repair before commencing the season's work. Have all the holes in the floor made good. Look over the vats, presses, hoops, etc., carefully and put them in good shape for the maker. Tidy the yards and approaches to the factory. Plant some trees about the place. Make the factory a place where patrons will like to come, rather than a place to be shunned on account of bad smells, untidy surroundings, and an ill-tempered cheese-maker. Prizes given to patrons who send the best and largest quantity of milk will help the business.

TO PATRONS.

Endeavour to supply the factory with first-class milk. Take a pride in sending a large quantity of the best quality of milk that your section can produce. Strain and aerate the milk well. Deliver it at the factory every, day, if possible. There is always more loss of fat in making up milk two or three days old. The maker is also likely to be troubled with greasy curds and other things which will give him difficulty in making fine cheese.

TRADE AND FODDER CHEESE.

Mr. A. W. Grant, of Montreal, says:—"The statistical position of cheese in England to-day is the strongest for the past seventeen years. There are practically no English cheese, and the new Cheshire cheese, when I left England on April 7th, was selling at 70s per cwt, or equal to 15c per lb. Of course these prices will not be maintained. I am very glad that factorymen have seen it to their advantage to make as few fodder cheese as possible, and I hope those who have made them will keep them on the shelves until they are at least two weeks old, so that they will be cured and meaty when they are sent forward, as the cheese does not properly cure in the box."

Messrs. A. A. Ayer & Co., Montreal, say:—"It is a great mistake to ship fodder cheese so very young. All fodder cheese should be made soft, fat, and quick curing, as they are intended for immediate consumption. The present price is very tempting, and we fear lecturing the farmers under such circumstances will do very little good, at the same time, one's duty demands that they should warn the farmers in shipping cheese so very, very green. They are no credit to the country and are very apt to spoil or rot in some instances."

Messrs. J. C. & G. D. Warrington, of Montreal,—Report that of 27 factories in Eastern Ontario, whose cheese had been inspected by them, they found all to be clean in flavor, solid and close in cutting and none showing signs of greasy curd or stable flavours.

Montreal "Trade Bulletin," April 30th: "In this market we have just heard of the sale of a lot of finest Western coloured at 10¾c., and two lots of finest white at 10c. and 10¼c., respectively. Less desirable goods are quoted at 9c. to 9¾c.—a lot of French fodders lean and hard, selling at the inside figure."

"The first few small lots of French fodders were received here a few days ago, but the quality was very disappointing, being as a rule lean, leathery, and improperly cured, which sold for 9¼c to 9¾c."

"OUR LYDIE OF THE SNOWS."

WOODYARD KINDLING.

A paset spwke to a paset,
An' w'at o' said was this!
While you 'ave made a dawnify 'it
You've likewise made a miss;
We know w'at Rudyard Kipling writes
Most generally goes,
But 'e shawnt call fair Canada,
"Our Lydie of the Snows,"
So 'e shawn't.

For though our new-born tariff's
Preferentially sublime,
So sweetly sentimental as
To give excuse for rhyme,
We're goin' to get our dawnder up
With feelin's mighty 'et
At folks w'at say we're bound with snow
An' other cockney rot.
So we are.

Now, look you 'ere, 'ow would it sound,
You funny, rhymin' dog,
If you should call old Lunnen town
Our Lydie of the fog!"
Or when you write of India,
The land of'arf-tud slaves,
Now, would you dub your native 'ome
"Our Lydie of the Graves?"
Bet you wouldnt.

A paset spoke to a paset,
An' w'at 'e said was this:
'E won't tyke more'n 'arf a crown
To punch that 'ead of 'is,
'E's touched us on a tender spot,
An' w'at o' said just shows
The blowke don't know much w'en e calls
Us "Lydie of the Snows."
That's no joke.

A Kingston Lady Testifies to Her Experience in the Use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

The Following Letter Should Carry Weight.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.,

DEAR SIRS,—I have suffered for some years with a smothering sensation caused by heart disease. The severity of the pains in my heart caused me much suffering. I was also very nervous, and my whole system was run down and debilitated.

Hearing of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills being a specific for these troubles, I thought I would try them, and therefore got a box at McLeod's Drug Store.

They afforded me great relief, having toned up my system and removed the distressing symptoms from which I suffered. I can heartily recommend these wonderful pills to all sufferers from heart trouble.

THINGS IN A TANGLE

The Turkish Government is in a Stubborn Mood.

WILL NOT AGREE TO AN ARMISTICE

Until Domokos Has Been Occupied—The Sultan Wants to Arrange Things Himself With King George and Resents Interference of the Powers—Latest News.

London, May 13.—Pessimistic reports from Constantinople and Paris assert that hope is almost gone of reducing the Porte, even to the partial pliability which it displayed before the war. It is believed that the scheme of reforms for the Ottoman Empire, which was agreed to in December, must be wholly abandoned.

The agreement between Russia and Austria will not much improve the situation, because the attitude of France is becoming more philo-Greek, in sympathy with England.

The Constantinople correspondent of The Standard, adhering to the pessimistic view, declares that the proposal for an armistice is far from palatable to the Turks, who fear that they will be deprived of the fruits of their victory. He adds that, in view of the excited state of public feeling, it is to be hoped that the powers are prepared for the possibility of having to enforce their demands.

Hitherto Russia alone has been in a position to act promptly. It is no secret that she has 100,000 troops, armed and equipped, on the shores of the Black Sea, and that transports are ready to land them anywhere in 36 hours. At the same time, Russia does not pretend to conceal her anger with Greece, or her intention to refrain from compelling the Turks to evacuate Thessaly.

The Telegraph's Constantinople correspondent says that the attitude of the Sultan shows resentment against the powers for intervening, and that unless he is allowed to treat with Greece directly, he is likely to be exacting in his demands. In an interview to-day, Sir Charles Dilke, M. P., who is generally accepted as an authority on foreign affairs, said that he had great confidence in King George of Greece, who was one of the ablest statesmen living. Greece's interests, Sir Charles added, would be better cared for in his hands than in the hands of his Ministers. Moreover, the King was on good personal terms with the Sultan.

A despatch to The Daily News from Domokos, the present headquarters of the Greek army in Thessaly, says that a three-days' rain has greatly tried the troops, whose tents and blankets were abandoned in the flight from the frontier. The fresh reserves from Athens are wearing summer uniforms and have no overcoats to protect them from the inclemency of the weather. The men are hollow-eyed, and coughing is heard all over the camp. Nevertheless, their spirits are high and all are burning to purge themselves of the reproach of flight.

Greek Squadron on the Watch.

Salonica, May 13.—The Greek squadron is watching the coast from Platamona to the Gulf of Volo, and it is claimed the Greek warships are also blockading the Gulf of Salonica. A British steamer, bound for Salonica, has been prevented from entering the gulf.

Turkish Troops on the March.

Constantinople, May 13.—An official despatch from Larissa, dated from that place yesterday, announces that six battalions of Turkish infantry from the east and from Larissa, four battalions from Dilata and four battalions from Janina, are marching on Kalambaka, northwest of Trikhala, where they will shortly be joined by the Turkish armies from Janina and Elassona.

ALL DEPENDS ON THE PORTE.

The Report of an Armistice Not Generally Credited in London.

London, May 13.—The Graeco-Turkish news received to-day does not change the situation. Everything is facing on the Porte's action. There is no confirmation of the report, printed by The Journal of, but the silence from the seat of war seems to indicate that Edhem Pasha's advance on Domokos may have been countermanded. The Sultan's position is little stronger than King George's, and, therefore, it is not surprising that, while war feeling is so strong, he hesitates at taking a step which could be construed at Constantinople as a surrender of Ottoman interests. In addition to this, the feast of Bairam begins to-day and lasts until Sunday, offering another excuse for delay.

Moslems are Feasting.

London, May 13.—The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Larissa telegraphs, under yesterday's date, as follows:

"The feast of Bairam has commenced and there will be no military operations except when necessary. Edhem Pasha has caused sheep to be killed, according to the Turkish custom, and has visited the generals in the vicinity. The troops fired a 'feu de joie.' The Mussulmans and their families are celebrating the feast with enthusiasm, as marking their release from foreign domination. Each head of a family kills a sheep with his own hand. The rich are keeping open house, and the Mussulmans are promenading the streets in gala dress."

Ambassadors Again Confer

Constantinople, May 13. — The foreign Ambassadors held another conference to-day, after which Baron de Calice, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, called upon Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, and renewed the proposal of an armistice, which was presented yesterday. The opinion is general in Turkish circles that until the occupation of Domokos, which is momentarily expected, the Porte cannot grant an armistice.

Still Showing Fight

Athens, May 13, midnight.—According to despatches just received here, the Greek forces are besieging Nicopolis and Preveza.

Sending Troops Forward

London, May 14.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Mail says that the Government continues to send men to the front, and is purchasing large quantities of war material.

The War is Over

London, May 13.—The correspondent of The Morning Post at Domokos, under yesterday's date, says:

"It has been decided to evacuate this position and a large number of troops have already left. It is freely asserted that the war is over. I am about to start for Athens."

Volo Blockaded

Athens, May 13.—The Government has proclaimed the Gulf of Volo blockaded. It is sending large orders for horses and munitions of war to various European cities.

COMBINE AGAINST THE STATES.

An Effort to Get All Europe to Retaliate Against the Tariff Policy of Uncle Sam

Vienna, May 13.—At a large conference of Austrian manufacturers held here to-day it was resolved to call upon the Government to endeavor to conclude international agreements with European powers, with a view of "effectually meeting the common danger to European economy arising from the prohibitive tariff policy of the United States."

FEARFUL RAVAGES.

Bubonic Plague Has Killed 2000 People in a Fortnight in One District of India.

London, May 13.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Bombay says that the bubonic plague is making fearful ravages in the Outchmandvi district, where there have been 2000 deaths in a fortnight. Half the population have fled.

A Very Destructive Frost.

Paris, May 13.—A despatch from Auxerre, the centre of the wine growing district of the department of Yonne, says there was a general and sudden frost yesterday evening and the night before, destroying the crops of vines, fruits and vegetables. The amount of damage done is estimated at 20,000,000 francs.

Foreign Prison Made Goods Barred

London, May 13.—In the House of Commons to-day the bill to prevent the importation of goods manufactured in foreign prisons passed the second reading.

A LIVELY CHASE AFTER A POACHER.

Inspector Breese and "Jim" McMartin go Down the River—Gaffing Prohibited.

Mr. David Breese, Fishery Inspector, accompanied by his assistant, Mr. James McMartin, were down the river last night on a still hunt for illegal fishers.

They left town in a canoe about eight o'clock and examined every creek and inlet on the way down. Just in behind Robinson's Island the inspector's eye was caught by several net stakes standing up out of the water. No notice was taken of them, however, as they were quite well aware that the nets would not be left without a guardian. A canoe with a man in it was soon observed hidden amongst the willows and the inspector and his mate made a dash for him. He would have been captured at once only he had entrenched himself behind a fallen log, upon which Mr. Breese's canoe ran full tilt. By the time the canoe was backed off again the poacher had fled. A lively chase ensued, but the poacher reached the land first. He attempted to haul up his canoe in order to carry it across the peninsula to the river, but before he could get it out of the water Inspector Breese had hold of the other end. The poacher thereupon took to his heels, pursued by Jim McMartin, revolver in hand. The Inspector says that McMartin is a dandy on fences, as he cleaned some six footers without touching a rail, but still he did not run down his man, though he got sufficiently close to recognize him.

The canoe and nets were seized and brought to town in a democrat along with the Inspector's canoe, the plan being to go down the river and have a team to drive home with in order that as much ground as possible may be covered during the night. A summons will be issued for the man who was discovered watching the nets.

Inspector Breese wishes to announce that as it is unlawful to gaff for fish, he will hereafter enforce the law. He was under the impression that no harm resulted from gaffing, but in his recent trip down the river a number of fine 'lunge were discovered dead with their bellies ripped open by the gaff hook. Such being the case all found using the hooks hereafter will be prosecuted.

REV. A. H. RANTON'S LECTURE LAST NIGHT.

IN THE CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Entertainment under the Auspices of the Ladies' Aid of that Congregation.

There was a large number present at the Charlotte street Methodist church last night to hear Rev. A. H. Ranton deliver his lecture on "The Ups and Downs of Life," as well as to enjoy the excellent musical programme, which had been prepared by the Ladies' Aid of that church. The following is the programme which was presented:

Prayer.....Rev Mr Cragg
Instrumental solo .....Miss Rose Clarke
Vocal solo, 'The Gate of Heaven'..Miss Hendren
Chorus, 'Saviour Breathe an Evening Blessing' Ladies of the Choir
Address .....Rev W R Young, B A
Lecture .....Rev A H Ranton
Solo, 'Lead Kindly Light' .. Miss Florence Hall
Solo, 'Come with Me'.....Miss Hendren

Rev. J. J. Rae, the pastor, occupied the chair, and filled the position very acceptably.

Mr. Ranton, in his opening remarks, stated that when he was invited by the ladies of the church to give a lecture he had left the subject to them, and they had chosen that on "Ups and Downs." He had to prepare it especially for that occasion, and as he had not had much time to study it he would have to follow his manuscript rather closely. It is very seldom that he used manuscript, but on this occasion it would be necessary for him to do so.

"We have in this life," said Mr. Ranton, "our ups and downs. To-day we are exalted and on the highest mountain top, to-morrow we are depressed and in the valley of despair. We have also our joys and sorrows.

In the first place one has one's social "Ups and Downs." Men and women who yesterday were unknown to the fashionable circle of society, to-morrow, by the sudden change of fortune, are placed in the highest ranks. Again, persons who have never known what it is to want are suddenly thrown into the ranks of the poorer classes.

IT IS A CUSTOM

in this world to help one when he has money, position and power, but let one lose his money, position and power, and he will go down in the estimation of his hitherto best social friends and also when financially down, instead of trying to help him rise again, his friends either forsake him entirely or try to keep him down.

Then, again, there are ups and downs in moral life. Take Adam for an example. Adam was created pure and undefiled. Then he was 'up,' so as to speak. The tempter made him yield to his snares and then he was 'down' in reality.

Then there are ups and downs spiritually. Some are like the old man who said he had been on and off for forty-five years. Every Christian gets into the 'slumps' or into the valley of despondency sometimes, but he must not expect to be on the mountain top all the time. Trials and temptations will come and the important thing is to come off conqueror.

Some think that when they are singing and having a good time generally, that they are growing in grace, but, oh dear, do not let affliction or temptation come near them or they will immediately become despondent. Elijah had his ups and downs. We see him on Mount Carmel, trying to turn the people from worshipping Baal, and exhorting them to worship the true God, and he draws a upon the people. A little later we see him under the juniper tree pleading for God to take his life away.

Look at Jonah, who says "Forty days and Nineveh shall be destroyed." Not long after we find him pleading with God to take his life.

Peter furnishes another example.

Jesus himself had his ups and downs.

Then childhood has its ups and downs. "When I was a boy," said Mr. Ranton, permission given me by my father to drive or do anything else that I liked put me at once on the mountain top, refusal put me into the valley of despair. To have to go to school puts some boys down."

The speaker said that he used to hate to go to school. His father told him he either had to go to work or else to school. Well, I said I would rather go to work and immediately procured a situation with a baker. The first day he said to me, "Now Angus, help yourself to anything you would like to eat." I tell you what," said the lecturer, "I was up then, but when I was turned out of bed at 4 a.m. and made to grease pans till 7 a.m., I was down, and I graduated from the business in a little over twenty-four hours. "It might have been," are sad words, and I would say to all the young people here, lay the foundation for a good, useful manhood and womanhood by procuring a good sound education.

Although I do not know much about courting, said Mr. Ranton, I intend to address a few remarks to those who are perplexed as to

HOW TO PROPOSE.

It seems to be such a hard object to accomplish properly; and here Mr. Ranton related some humourous incidents in his own inimitably comic style. He told of a young man who wished to propose to a girl with whom he had been keeping company. He said he had a confession to make to her, and started three or four times to tell what it was, but could not until the fifth time, on account of faint-heartedness. Then he said: "I am a somnambulist," and she thinking that meant some kind of a religious organization, said—"Oh, well, I am a Methodist, but we will both go together." Then the fellow was "up."

Marriage also has its ups and downs. The speaker illustrated this by telling of a young couple who made too frequent use of the words "dear, darling, pet," etc. Not long after they were married there occurred a little scene in which she threw a cup at him which struck the motto above his head, which read "God Bless Our House." Some people worry so much about the future. Do not cross the bridge until you get at least within a mile of it. The only way to make marriage a success is to take Christ into your life. Have some controlling, absorbing object in life. Do not lack concentration, decision and elasticity in all that you do and also be enthusiastic.

At the conclusion of Mr. Ranton's address, Rev. Mr. Cragg moved that a vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Ranton, which was seconded by Rev. Mr. Young, and unanimously carried.

Mr. Ranton in his reply to the vote of thanks said that he was very much pleased to have been present and was thankful for the kind words which had been said about him by Revs. Rae, Young and Cragg. He concluded by inviting all up to Lakefield to hear his lecture on "The Modern Dance."

The keenest fun the world ever knew is the fun of being perfectly well. If coffee don't agree, use Maddon Cereal. It makes red blood. 3d

A C. P. R. East Bound Freight Kills Four Cattle Near Norwood.

On Thursday afternoon as the east bound C. P. R. freight was nearing Norwood four cattle, the property of Mr. Hugh Drain, appeared upon the track and before the train could be stopped the four were killed, the engine picking them up one by one and throwing them some distance, mangling or injuring them so seriously as to cause death almost at once. The train was a heavy freight and the cattle had escaped from the pasture fields to graze along the railway track.

Farmers residing along the railway cannot be too careful with their fences where cattle are supposed to be pasturing. A large number of animals are killed annually by trains and the lives of the travelling public are more threatened with accidents of this nature than from almost any other cause. So long as the animals confine themselves to freight trains it is not so bad, but when they rush in front of a passenger train the matter is one of much more seriousness.

The Peterborough Bicycle club held its annual meeting last evening in the Street Railway office, with the president, R. Neill, in the chair.

The first order of business was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—R. Neill.
Vice-President—T. E. Bradburn.

Auditors—Messrs. Knapman and Bennet.

The selection of a road committee was left in the hands of the Executive Committee.

Mr. W. K. Hall brought up the matter of the proposed Road Race, and a committee was appointed to meet a committee from the Victoria Club and arrange matters.

A committee composed of Messrs. Hall, Mercer and Fair was appointed to select suitable club rooms.

Tuesday evening, May 18th, was named as the date of the first club run, to start from the Central Park.

The club decided to make application for the first Provincial meet on July 1st, 1898.

A discussion then ensued as to the advisability of affiliating with the local Y.M.C.A. It was decided that the executive committee should meet the directors of the Y.M.C.A. and see what arrangements could be made to that end and report to a meeting to be held Monday, May 17th.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS.

The Interior of Fairweather & Coy's Store Enlarged and Remodelled.

The progressive firm of Fairweather & Co. has taken a big step in the right direction to accommodate their ever increasing patronage. For some time it has been felt by the firm that although their store on the corner of George and Simcoe streets was large, still they could not do themselves justice in it, so an enlargement was decided upon and arrangements made to absorb the store just in the rear on Simcoe street, formerly occupied by Mr. Robt. Weir. The intervening walls were torn down and the two stores united, after which several large plate glass windows were inserted along the Simcoe street side. The corner window was also enlarged by the addition of another big plate glass on the side. Remodelling of the interior was then entered upon.

A metallic ceiling was put on by Mr. Adam Hall and Mr. H. W. Watson was given carte blanche as to the decorating, of which he certainly has made a great success. The walls are tinted in terra cotta with an artistic fleur de lis border. The cove is shaded off in a lighter shade of terra cotta and finished in aluminum and gold. The shading continues to grow lighter and the ceiling is a pure white with the patterns of its artistic designs brought out in gold. The wall paper, etc., was purchased from A. H. Stratton & Co.

The store is now 100x25 ft. in size and has a new hardwood floor throughout. On account of the many large windows the interior is very bright.

The old stairway near the front of the store has been removed and a much more modern one, finished in oak, placed a little further to the rear and just in front of the new office, which is also finished in oak and surmounted by a handsome piece of scroll work, which adds greatly to its appearance. The entire interior is finished in oak, with the exception of the cases, which are of mahogany, making a pretty contrast, some especially fine new ones having just been added to the furnishings of the store.

The cellar is especially fitted up for the keeping and storing of furs, being dry and pure and having all the advantages of cold storage. A fine cement floor has been laid in it.

The second story is also being fitted up as a show room and when completed will be in keeping with the rest of the well equipped establishment.

This evening, and at intervals to-morrow, bicycle races on the Boyle Home Trainer will take place in the big south window, advertising the many excellent grades of wheels carried by the firm, which has added a bicycle department to its already large business in hats, caps and furs.

OBJECTS TO STREET PEDDLERS.

The following letter appears in the Evening Telegram, Toronto, and we are requested to reproduce it in the EXAMINER so that the City Fathers may have their attention called to how this same thing affects Peterborough business:

Sir,—Why are times so hard? Is it because there are a few departmental stores in the city, or is it because canvassers and peddlers are doing all the business? For instance, Jones rents a store at $25 a month and decides to go into the fruit business. He purchases a large stock of the finest fruit that his money will buy; he opens up, intending to sell as cheaply as possible; but along comes a son of sunny Italy, and stands right at his door and sells fruit as cheap as the storekeeper can buy wholesale. Why? Because one pays $300 a year, and the other pays $10 per year. Thus the man who enters the fruit business must become a peddler or a bankrupt, the property owner a pauper, and the city a gainer by a few thousands. What I think the city should do is to make the license fee for street peddling $200 per year. Not only is this the case with fruiters, but grocers, dry goods, smallwares and others are affected by street canvassing and peddling. If the city never derived one cent from peddling licenses, if they were abolished altogether, the extra taxes on the increased value of store property would more than make up for any deficiency, thus giving the property owner a fair profit on his investment, and the storekeeper, who is satisfied to take chances on the store he occupies, a profitable business. Peddlers can then become storekeepers and equal rights will prevail.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S

FIRST MEETING IN ITS FINE NEW HOME.

The Honorary President Present—A Beautiful Contribution to the Museum Collection.

Last night the Historical Society held its first meeting in its new quarters, Inverlea House, Nicholls Park, and it was one of the most largely attended meetings of the series. What added especial interest to the gathering was the presence of the venerable honorary president of the Society, Mrs. Catharine Parr Traill who, in addition to previous evidences of her deep interest in the welfare of the society, last night presented a valuable collection of Indian relics and curiosities, which form a much-prized and unique contribution to the proposed museum.

In taking the chair the president remarked that this meeting formed an epoch in the career of the society; it was the first occasion of their occupying their new quarters. It was due to the kindness of Mr. Richard Hall that the society had a roof over its head. He also referred gracefully to the presence of the honorary president, Mrs. Traill.

After routine, the secretary read a communication from Mr. J. B. Reynolds, secretary of the Pioneer Historical Association of Ontario, with which the local society is affiliated, stating that the annual meeting would be held at Niagara-on-the-Lake on Wednesday, June 2nd.

The president pointed out that the object of the society was originally to collect and preserve historical data, and to develop a spirit of research on historical and antiquarian lines, in the members. But when Mr. Richard Hall generously placed Inverlea House at the disposal of the society for the purposes of a museum, the scope of the society widened. With the absence of sufficient funds, however, the gift could not be taken advantage of without outside assistance. Consequently the town council had been approached in the matter of a grant to assist in furnishing the rooms for museum purposes, after the project of holding a loan collection exhibit, from lack of funds had been abandoned as a means of making money for the purpose. The council proposed a meeting with the society, but at that meeting only four councillors were present, and they were evidently favourably impressed individually with the project, and upon the matter of a grant hinted that if the trustees of the Nicholls Estate made a grant the town council might duplicate it.

THE QUESTION OF AID NARROWED DOWN.

At this point Mr. Richard Hall, one of the Estate trustees, who was present, said that the trustees did not feel called upon make such a grant as there was no money available for the purpose; besides he hinted that the trustees had done well in giving the society a building so admirably situated and adapted to the purposes of a museum. He referred rather warmly to the proposal of the councillors, in the matter of a grant from the Nicholl's estate, and pointed out that the town had benefitted very largely in the shape of hospital, parks, etc., through the bequest of Mrs. Nicholls, these having been supplied to the town for its benefit without any expense to the town. Therefore, since the proposed museum was for the benefit of the public—for their free use—he (Mr. Hall) thought it was as little as the town could do to make a grant, and a liberal one, too, for the purpose of furnishing the building for a museum, especially since the building itself had been placed at the disposal of the public for museum purposes free of charge. He intimated that no grant from the estate for the purpose mentioned could be expected.

MRS. TRAILL'S CONTRIBUTION.

Mr. Hampden Burnham then read the memorandum which Mrs. Traill had written to accompany her very highly appreciated contribution to the museum, which was as follows:

Dear President and friends of the Peterborough Historical Society:—Hitherto circumstances have prevented me from attending your meetings on former occasions. It gives me great pleasure to be present with you to-night. I bear to you all the good wishes of my niece, Mrs. Col. Chamberlain, Mrs. LeFevre, and my daughter, Miss Traill.

I have great satisfaction in presenting a small but curious collection of Indian relics for the museum. The stone axe was found by my nephew, Mr. Roland Strickland, near a high mound on the shore of Katchewanook lake, and one flint arrow head. The flint weapons, spear-heads, arrows, bones and pottery, were a free gift to me from my esteemed Indian friend Mrs. M. Jane Loucks, of Hiawatha, with the very interesting pamphlet (accompanying the collection) which was, with the relics, left to her by an aged native missionary from Minnesota, U.S. Comparing the plates with the specimens, it will be seen that the arrows, etc., are the same as represented in the book, and so are from that ancient, mysterious race, the Mound Builders of the Mississippi. The fragments of bones and the pottery were also with the flint relics.

My Indian friend told me that the aged man was in a very weak state, and died some time after he visited Hiawatha.

I am sorry that the house of the Indian who gave me the relics has been destroyed by fire. She had promised to obtain other Indian relics for me, and it is possible that, for a small gift, I can get additions to this little collection. Would any of our members contribute a small sum in aid of my Indian friend? It would be thankfully received in her behalf by your honourary president and friend—

C. P. TRAILL.

The conclusion of the reading of the letter was greeted with cordial applause, indicating how greatly pleased the members were with Mrs. Traill's practical sympathy with the objects of the society, which is indeed honoured with having for its head so venerable a personage, who forms a living link with the earliest history of the Peterborough district, and who, besides by her pen and personal influence, has done much to make its capabilities and resources known a'road.

(It may be noted that two of the articles in the collection presented, were of unusual interest, one was a very fine trilobite and the other an equally fine specimen of a fossil of the silurian period, the orthoceois.)

A PAPER ON TECUMSEH.

Mr. Hampden Burnham read an interesting paper on Tecumseh, the great Indian warrior statesman, whose history was interwoven with a great struggle that ended in the failure to re-establish Indian supremacy on the continent. The paper detailed the early history of Tecumseh and vividly portrayed the lofty traits that were comprised in his character. With all his hostility to the usurping white race that had robbed the Indians of their territorial heritage from the Great Spirit, Tecumseh had none of that revolting cruelty toward captives taken in war, usually displayed by the Indian. His life and career were graphically sketched and his alliance with the British forces treated in detail. A most interesting paper was concluded by an eloquent tribute to the lofty character and great abilities of Tecumseh.

A vote of thanks, moved by Mrs. Greenwood, seconded by Mr. Yokome, was tendered Mr. Burnham for his excellent and entertaining paper.

Mr. Hay, secretary, gave an explanation respecting the proposed Loan Exhibition of much the same tenor as that given earlier in the evening by the President.

On motion of Dr. Bell, seconded by Mr. C. N. Brown, a vote of thanks was enthusiastically passed to Mrs. Traill for her splendid addition to the museum and for the accompanying interesting autograph letter which will be religiously preserved in the archives of the society.

The meeting then adjourned.

DEAD AT HIS DESK.

That is the story the morning newspapers tell of the modern business man. Too much money-getting. Too little care for health. Too much rush, and strain, and wear and tear. Too little time to eat, to sleep, to digest the food, to rest tired body and tortured brain. Not enough time to think once in a while of health and strength and happiness and a long and useful life. A widow and orphans left to mourn. A big estate that under the dissecting knife of the executor falls all to pieces. 'Tis the story of thousands of business men in life reputed wealthy and successful. It is a story that is unnecessary—need not be.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if resorted to occasionally will keep a man or woman in good health. It goes to the roots of things. It tunes up the strings of life and makes them vibrate to the music of good health. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion good, the blood pure, and the nerves strong. Then ill-health is an impossibility, and work is a pleasure. Thousands say so.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has been a great physician to our family," writes Mr. Ira S. Foust, of Naylor, Ripley Co., Mo. "My wife's father had Bright's Disease. His water was almost pure blood. We got a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it did him so much good that he tried another and then a third, and the fourth entirely cured him."

Nothing in the world so many times pays for itself to its owner as a good medical book. The very best one is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Now for a limited time, an edition, paper-covered, will be distributed FREE. CONSERVATIVES IN CONFERENCE

Arranging for the Campaign in Ontario—Creamery Operations in the North-west—Fireproof Roof to be Put on the Western Block—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, May 12.—A deputation of liquor men, consisting of Messrs. Harry Maxey, Hamilton, president; James Haverson, Toronto, solicitor; E. Dickie, secretary of the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association; J. G. Gibson, secretary of the Brewers' Association; T. Crooks, Hamilton; F. Collins, Dundas; John Coffee, Barrie, and E. Sullivan, Toronto, arrived here to-day, and will interview the Government to-morrow on the subject of the plebiscite. It is understood that they will ask the Premier that no one be allowed to vote but the property holders. The contention of the liquor men is that, as the property holders pay the taxes, they ought to be entitled to decide the result. The question of compensation, should the plebiscite carry, will also be discussed.

An important conference of Ontario Conservatives in the Dominion House was held to-day, with leading members of the Conservative Opposition in the Local Legislature, the object being to advise the best means for organizing the province for carrying the local elections.

Mr. J. P. Whitney and several of his lieutenants were present. Mr. Whitney made a speech and got an enthusiastic reception. He fully outlined the position of the Conservative party in Ontario and spoke hopefully of the outlook. The others who spoke were: Sir Charles Tupper, Messrs. Foster, Haggart, Dr. Willoughby, Dr. Ryerson and J. W. St. John, Col. Matheson and Mr. S. Barker of Hamilton.

The following were appointed chairmen of districts:

Hon. Peter White, Major McLennan, Messrs. Taylor, Smythe, Corby, Col. Matheson, Dr. Willoughby, S. Hughes, E. F. Clarke, H. D. Macpherson, W. H. Bennett, S. Barker, W. McCleary, M. Henry, Dr. Sproule, Messrs. Cargill, Hurst, Ingram, Sharpe, Kloepfer and Beatty.

It was decided that Mr. Whitney, accompanied by his lieutenants, should make a tour of the province in June.

Sir Charles Tupper gave a large dinner party to-night in honor of the visitors.

J. M. Macoun of the Geological Survey left to-day for Behring Sea to make further investigations into seal life in the Pribyloff Islands this year. He goes to San Francisco, where he will embark on a vessel sailing direct to the Pribyloff Islands.

Prof. Thompson, agent of the British Government, has already started for the same place via Yokohama. He will first visit the Russian seal islands, and later in the season will join Mr. Macoun on the Pribyloff Islands. The United States Government have again appointed Dr. Jordan, Dr. Stejneger and Mr. Lucas, their commissioners of last year, to carry on investigations this year similar to those of Mr. Macoun and Prof. Thompson.

The British Columbia members are pushing for further restrictions on Chinese immigration. Rev. Mr. Maxwell, M. P., has written to friends in Vancouver that so far as himself and other representatives of British Columbia in the Commons are concerned, they have no information to the effect that Sir Richard Cartwright has shelved the Oriental immigration question, but that the Government, owing to the tariff bill, the Queen's Jubilee and the probable short session, will not be able to make any legislation this session. The Government will be urged, however, to grapple with the question next session.

The special committee appointed to take evidence on Messrs. Maclean's and Casey's bills, respecting the safety of railway employes and passengers, met again this morning. Mr. J. B. Morford, superintendent of the Canada Southern Railway, and also representing the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company, presented a written statement, in which he reviewed the features of the bill clause by clause. He favored the side as well as the end ladders on all box cars, those of the Michigan Central being already so equipped. He did not approve of the arched iron rails, as designed by Mr. Casey for the ends of the cars. It would be dangerous to brakemen running along the tops of cars.

The Minister of Public Works has decided to at once proceed with the construction of a fireproof roof for the Western Block. To-day the department is writing to different firms regarding the supply of terra cotta, the best fireproof material manufactured, and also regarding iron joists to hold up this material. The work will take considerable time. Day labor will be employed altogether. As regards the completion of the building itself no decision has yet been reached as to just what plan will be adopted, and whether a new storey shall be put on.

Dr. McEachran, Dominion Veterinarian, has condemned a number of animals which arrived at Montreal from the West, designed for shipment abroad. They were found to be suffering from lump jaw.

At the meeting of the Private Bills Committee this morning the bill relating to the Canadian Power Company was considered. The powers asked are the construction of works in Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park, and the time extended eighteen months for the completion of the works. The bill was reported, after important amendments had been made. Mr. Aemilius Irving, on behalf of the Ontario Government, opposed the cutting of a canal through the park.

A bill to confer on the Commissioner of Patents certain powers for the relief of the Myceniun Marble Company of Canada was also reported.

A bill of considerable importance was that of the Continental Heat and Light Company. The promoters are William M. Doull, Robert D. McGibbon, William Hanson and Ed Hanson of Montreal and Frank L. Slocum of Pittsburg, and the capitalization is to be $1,000,000, with head office in Montreal. The bill was very carefully gone into and reported.

There is a good deal of anxiety among some of the older military men as to the effect of the recent regulation declaring invalid certificates obtained from military boards and schools of instruction previous to December, 1883. It is understood these certificates are still good in the cases of officers serving in their present rank, but they are no longer considered a qualification for the purposes of promotion. The reason of the new regulation is that in December, 1885, cavalry and infantry schools of instruction were established. Since then great changes have taken place in drill and tactics, so that proficiency in the old methods is no longer accepted as proof of present qualification.

Professor Saunders, director of Experimental Farms, addressed the Committee on Agriculture to-day. He gave figures of results obtained by experiments with the different kinds of cereals, thus proving to the farmers the most profitable species of oats, barley and wheat to sow. He illustrated the importance of a careful selection of the best seeds by the statement that one pound weight per bushel gained on the oat crop of the Dominion represents a total gain of one million dollars per year. Dr. Saunders showed the success of cross breeding of cereals on the farms, and explained the method of procedure in this delicate operation, from which valuable new species have been derived, and are now being cultivated by farmers; also the vast benefits being derived from the free distribution of the best seed grain, as ascertained by repeated experiments. The director furnished also illustrations of the success attending tree and shrub planting for shelter belts on the prairie lands of the territories, and the experimental efforts now being put forth to discover fruits adapted to these extensive lands, every attempt to grow the fruits of the Eastern Provinces there having proved a failure. Sir Henri Joly, who was present, indicated his pleasure at the success of the effort to grow trees and shrubs on the prairie lands.

Col. Tilton, chairman of the Bisley building committee of the D.R.A., had letters from Major Perley yesterday stating that work on the building at Bisley is making excellent progress. The last car load of fittings leaves Ottawa to-morrow. Messrs. Taylor of the Don Valley Pressed Brick Works have donated a handsome mantel for the reception room of the building.

A SECRET MARRIAGE.

The Duc d'Aumale Wedded the Countess Berthe de Clinchamp and Kept it Quiet.

New York, May 12.—The Journal's correspondent at Paris telegraphs: There appears to be no doubt that the Duc d' Aumale contracted a secret marriage with the Comtesse Berthe de Clinchamp. The marriage was celebrated in the private chapel of an Austrian cardinal in Rome.

Several reasons caused the Duke to keep the matter a secret, the chief of which was because it was impossible to place the Comtesse in a position in which she would be received in the same circle with the Orleans family.

The Comtesse de Clinchamp is an elderly, refined woman, to whom the Duke, her husband, bequeathed a princely annuity, with a life residence in the beautiful Chateau de Lanoyette, close to Chantilly.

Funeral of the Duc d'Aumale.

Palermo, Island of Sicily, May 12.—After a funeral service here to-day over the remains of the late Duc d' Aumale, who died on May 7 at his villa at Zuccos, from shock experienced at hearing the news of the death of his niece (by marriage), the Duchesse d'Alencon, who was one of the victims of the charity bazaar fire at Paris on May 4, the body was embarked for France. The garrison of Palermo lined the streets along the route followed by the funeral procession.

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. May Johnson, 368 Rider Avenue, New York City.

CRIME AND TELEPATHY.

Interview With a Woman Telepathist Who Is Interesting London.

Here is an interview had by a London reporter with Miss Maud Lancaster, a telepathist who is just now greatly exciting Great Britain by her exhibitions of seemingly marvelous power.

"I am not attached to any force," said Miss Lancaster, "and have certainly not done any work for Scotland Yard, as a London evening paper recently reported. I might begin by telling you of an experience I had in New York. Walking down Broadway one day with a detective of Inspector Byrnes' force, I started as a man passed us, and exclaimed, 'That man has committed a murder!' The detective laughed, but when I pointed out the man I meant he grew suddenly serious and told me that the person who had caused me to make the exclamation had indeed killed a man but had got off with a short term of imprisonment.

"That was wonderful, wasn't it? And if you won't put the names in your paper I will tell you of a curious experience last year in London.

"I was sent for suddenly one evening by a lady who had lost her jewels. She suspected her maid, but, after passing in review all the servants of the house, I was convinced that the thief was not among them.

"Why? Because—well, I will tell you something that will help you understand it. A hall full of people thinking of a mimic crime (as in my entertainments) do not give off as much magnetism as a single really guilty person, and it is by magnetism that my work is done. I went up to the lady's boudoir, and I told her the drawer from which the vessels had been taken. She acknowledged I was correct; and then we went down into the drawing room, and I felt I was on the right track more and more, till we reached the apartment where a man was standing.

"Instantly I was convinced he was the thief; and, full of triumph, I was about to call the lady aside to tell her that the culprit was at hand, when she said:

"'Let me introduce, my husband.'

"Pleasant, wasn't it? However, I broke it to her gently when we were out of the room, and, of course, was finely abused for my pains. But about a fortnight afterward my client wrote to me and said that her husband had owned up to taking the jewels, so my instinct was again justified."

"Tell me, Miss Lancaster, if the pestle with which the recent railway murder was done was put into your hands, do you assert that would help you find the murderer?"

"No," replied Miss Lancaster, "that is not my work at all. That would be clairvoyance, which is quite a different matter. But I will tell you what I could do. Had I been traveling by that train, and the murderer had gazed the window after the crime, I would have got out and given him in charge. I would know in a minute that he had committed a crime. He would appear to me as if enveloped in a red mist."

"Supposing, now, Miss Lancaster, that you were taken to the compartment in which the murder was committed, could you track the man in that case?"

"That depends. If it was the same night, or even the next morning, it would be easy. But when other people have passed and repassed above the scene of the crime, the magnetism left by the murderer is distributed and obliterated by their magnetism. I should like to have tried my hand at that murder," added Miss Lancaster in a regretful tone, "but it is too late now."

A Graduate of Toronto University Says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always effects a cure.

EARTHQUAKES AND DEATH.

Terrible Loss of Life in the Leeward Islands—Scores Killed in Guadeloupe and Montserrat.

New York, May 12.—The Journal and Advertiser says: 'Earthquakes are shaking the islands of Guadeloupe and Montserrat, of the Leeward group in the West Indies. The cable a few days ago reported that a number had been killed at Guadeloupe. Details were supplied by the Quebec liner Madiana, which arrived here yesterday (Tuesday) from Leeward Island ports. When the steamer reached Antigua, 40 miles from Guadeloupe, on May 1, everyone in port was discussing the shocks. The heaviest had occurred two days before, when 50 negroes had been killed outright by being buried in the ruins or their houses.

In a brick church a congregation of two hundred people were caught by the collapse of the walls and 50 crushed to death. Those in the streets saw the houses sway back and forth and the walls of brick structures crack. The report also said that 25 or 30 people had lost their lives at Point-a-Pitre.

Twelve houses of brick in Guadeloupe had been demolished, and scores of others cracked and seamed by the shocks.

From Antigua the Madiana steamed to Montserrat, arriving there on May 2. There, too, a state of terror existed. That town was rocked like a boat at sea on April 30. Six houses were destroyed, but no lives lost. The island before the earthquake had not been noted for the piety of its people, but while the Madiana was in that port meetings were held at short intervals in all of the churches, which were crowded with worshippers.

The inhabitants finally believed that it was on account of their iniquities that they had been visited by earthquakes, and that if they did not turn they would all be utterly destroyed. Not only were services held twice daily in the small churches or chapels, but open air meetings were held.

FIGHTING IN BECHUANALAND.

A Serious Engagement—Chief Toto Captured and Six Volunteers Killed.

London, May 12.—A special despatch from Cape Town announces that a serious engagement has taken place in Bechuanaland. Chief Toto has been captured and six volunteers have been killed.

Seventy Bechuanas were killed and many were wounded. In addition to the six volunteers killed, 13 whites were wounded.

Seventy million people know Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens the system and gives good health.

A Watering Arrangement.

The brick and cement cistern A B C D is 14 feet in diameter, nearly 10 feet deep and holds about 360 barrels. A 1-2-inch galvanized iron pipe E G, under stable floor and barn foundation, connects the bottom of the cistern with the 5-barrel wooden tank, about a foot above its bottom, as shown in the cut. The cistern as shown is very much reduced in size, as compared with the tank—to save room in the cut. At D (letter indistinct) is a rolling cut-off or faucet worked by the iron lever, D G. The small iron rod, G C, connects this lever with the lever of the float. To the right of C the lever of the float swings on a pivot fastened to the back side of the tank. To the left of C is the hollow copper globe about 5 inches in diameter, attached to the end of the lever. The action is as follows: When the water is used down in the tank the copper globe falls with the receding water, pushes down G, end of the faucet lever and opens the faucet, and the water from the cistern rushes into the tank and lifts the globe and gradually closes the faucet or cut-off. When the globe reaches the position shown in the cut it has shut the faucet tight, the tank is four inches from full and no more water can come in though the water level in the cistern may be five feet higher. The lid of the tank (not shown in cut) is closed in cold weather to prevent possible freezing. It is a very handy watering arrangement and has worked perfectly for nearly a quarter of a century, requiring no fixing of windmill or pump, for there is none.—Ohio Farmer.

CISTERN AND TANK.

Cancer can be Cured.

For six years I suffered from cancer, and got no relief until I used Burdock Blood Bitters. I used seven bottles faithfully, when the cancer gradually dried up and finally disappeared. IS NORVELL IN CANADA?

A Buffalo Postal Employe Missing—Some Cash is Also Said to Have Gone Somewhere.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 12.—R. H. Norvell, who acted as a postmaster in charge of a sub-station on Walker-avenue, is missing, and said to be in Canada. He was last heard of in St. Catharines. The postal authorities have examined Norvell's books, found a shortage of less than $500, and have removed the office. Norvell was under bonds, which can be collected, but his friends have ineffectually tried to induce him to return. The offence of defalcation is extraditable. The Canadian authorities may be asked to co-operate to apprehend Norvell.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 31 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

The Wonder of the Age.

Dear Sirs,—I must honestly say that I have tried your valuable medicine B.B.B. for the disease called prairie itch, and have found this remedy to be the wonder of the age. I took only three bottles and to my great satisfaction was completly cured. I can highly recommend it to all who suffer from any skin disease or impurity of the blood.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

'Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

TORONTO PETERBOROUGH

THE PRESBYTERIAN MINISTERS CONFER.

THE SYNOD IS STILL IN SESSION.

Rev. Wm. Bennett's Paper Favourably Noticed Yesterday—Reports on the Augmentation of Stipends—The Young People's Societies and Church Life.

In a report on the proceedings of the Kingston and Toronto Synod now in session in Lindsay, the Post says:

Rev. Wm. Bennett, of Peterborough, contributed an extremely well-written paper, the subject being "Is the tithing system, as at present advocated, sound in principle; and is it fair to all parties concerned?"

The speaker pointed out that Christians are exhorted to contribute one-tenth to the service of the Lord, but no reference is made to those who contribute more than the amount stated. It is asserted by well-known writers that one-forth, and perhaps one-half, of the revenues of the Jewish people found its way into the coffers of the Jewish priests for one purpose or another. Why, then, speak of the Jew as giving but a tenth, and say that the Christian of to-day does very well who comes near that standard; he is encouraged to lay the flattering unction to his soul that he has done as well as the Jew of old, when the fact is that he is far in the rear.

The tithing system is unjust to the Christian because in is unfairly applied. It is not fair to put the labourer and the millionaire upon an equal footing—the formers dollar may be of greater sacrifice than the latter's thousands. Nor can artizans be taxed upon the same unvarying basis—two men, neighbours, may be earning $500 per year each; one may have a wife and ten children to maintain, the other a wife only. In the case of the latter a tenth—or $50—would not seem too much to give to the church of God, but in the case of the former the sum of $10, or even $5, would represent a very worthy gift. Some merchants maintain that the losses in business should be deducted before the tenth is allotted. In the case of farmers, few of whom keep an accurate account of their gains and losses, it is difficult to arrive at the proper amount he should contribute, and on that account very many of them contribute nothing. Such a plan must be unjust. In the millenium period of the church on earth the proportion will not be one-tenth for God and nine-tenths for ourselves, but the reverse, nay, it will be all for God.

If people would only give liberally and proportionately, the work of the church might be increased a hundred fold. Why, also, should the sad sight be seen of three or four evangelical ministers preaching the word in the one little village or hamlet. That could be remedied by amalgamation or friendly arrangement, and additional labourers thus gained for the work among the heathen peoples.

If the church is ever to get a firm hold on the masses, there must be newer and better methods. Christ went about among the poor and degraded, preaching, curing disease and relieving the distress of the widow and the orphan. He gave all, even His life for us. Are we doing all we can for Him? Of whom has it ever been said: "He injured himself in substance by giving to the church."

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES.

The first annual report of the committee on Young People's Societies was presented by Rev. Dr. Fraser, and also referred to by Dr. McTavish. The report was highly encouraging. It stated that never before in the history of the church had so many young people been actively and earnestly engaged in church work. In all there are 337 societies, with a total membership of 10,295, an increase of 300 over last year. It is exceedingly gratifying, the report says, to find that almost 40 per cent. of the members in these societies are young men and boys. A total of $7,549 had been contributed for various objects during the year. Several recommendations were made, among them one that sessions be recommended to organize young people's societies in those congregations in which societies do not now exist. In presenting the report Dr. Fraser alluded to the excellent work done for the church and Christian advancement by the women of the church, and he especially referred to what had been accomplished by Mrs. Ewart of Toronto, recently deceased. Dr. Fraser and Dr. McTavish both made happy speeches in support of the report.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Reference being made to the Sunday car vote about to be taken in Toronto, a committee was appointed to frame and introduce a resolution calculated to strengthen the hands and encourage those who are fighting Sunday cars.

AUGMENTATION COMMITTEE.

The report of the Committee on Augmentation of Stipends for the Synod of Toronto and Kingston was then read by Rev. S. Houston. The amounts granted by the committee in response to the applications of the various presbyteries during 1896-7 were as follows: Kingston, $1,570; Peterborough, $554; Lindsay, $350; Toronto, $1,850; Barrie, $650; Orangeville, $700; Owen Sound, $356; Saugeen, $200; Algoma, $750. No grants were asked from the Whitby and Guelph presbyteries. The total amount contributed to the augmentation fund this year by the presbyteries is about $1,400 less than last year, being $7,465.30 as compared with $8,888.31 in the previous year. Following were the sums contributed by the various presbyteries within the bounds of the Synod during the year: Kingston, $570 55; Peterborough, $693.20; Lindsay, $221.89; Whitby, $316.57; Toronto, $3,972.33; Orangeville, $150,96; Barrie, $491.47; Algoma, $146.50; Owen Sound, $256 55; Saugeen, $215.99; Guelph, $490.15. Number of non-contributing congregations, 69. The committee recommended:—1, that the regulations of the assembly be fully observed by the Presbyteries before applying for grants; 2, that Presbyteries make a thorough visitation of all their augmented charges before the meeting of the committee in October, when the grants are revised, that enquiry be made as to their method of raising funds, and that assistance be given, where necessary, in adopting better methods; 3, that Presbyteries give sufficient time during their sessions for considering the interests of this fund, and that an effort be made during this year to increase the amount given for augmentation by at least $2,000 to provide for the work in the Northwest.

The report was adopted.

At the request of a number of members, the Synod took a few minutes to select the next place of meeting. Rev. Mr. Hay proposed Cobourg; the motion was seconded by Dr. McCrae, and was agreed to without debate.

CHURCH LIFE AND WORK.

The report of the Committee on Church Life and Work was presented by Rev. S. A. Eastman, who dwelt on the principal points in it. The report deals with congregational and family life, Sabbath schools and young people's societies, marked manifestations of the Holy Spirit's presence and power, Sabbath observance and temperance. In moving the adoption of the report, Rev. Dr. Milligan gave utterance to some wholesome, vigourous truths, speaking on the matter of assembling together for worship, he said that this was a sphere of Christian life which we all could agree on, for a man who neglects this, whether he had Christian life, certainly had no Christian work. He was disposed to place less stress on special services, perhaps, than the report did. What was essential in the pastor and in the people was continuous service. Efficient services depended mainly on the pastor, and we should go to the Kirk expecting a blessing every time. Every service should have the life of the pastor in it, and he should wrench as if for the one occasion of his existence, as if it was to be his last sermon and the one most powerful for good. "On Saturday nights," he said, "I read The Saturday Telegram, with the advertisements of next day's services and the temperance meetings in the pavillion, to which people trot, and I think that a lot of the ministers of Toronto are responsible for Sabbath desecration by the manner in which they try to get the people to church. The ship should either go to sea with an honest cargo or go down. He highly approved of definite catechistical training of children, but pointed out that the Sunday school teacher is only the auxiliary of the parent, not the superseder. He was disposed to doubt the value of the plebiscite; if we had it to-day he did not think it would be worth a two-penny bit. Men could not be made temperate or virtuous by legislation; they must be taught true self-control and what their duty is, personal and natural. If we get legislation beyond the virtues of a people we simply get an idle thing on the statute book. He commended the report, which was seconded by Rev. Mr. McGillivray, who spoke for some time on the necessity of preventing Sabbath desecration. The report was adopted.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Of the Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George Westlake, of Bridgenorth.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George Westlake, of Bridgenorth, was celebrated recently, and both are still enjoying excellent health, and enjoyed the pleasant family gathering which took place as much as anyone present. The children are John Westlake, of Cavendish; Phillip, Mrs. James Stabler, and Mrs. Thos. Tindal, of Smith; William, George and Thos. Charles, of Peterborough. The first named with his family were unable to be present at the celebration of the anniversary, although they were at the homestead during the week to extend congratulations. The four eldest children named first came to Canada from the old country with their parents, arriving in Peterborough with their parents on May 23rd, 1855, and the two younger children were born at the homestead.

Mrs. Westlake is seventy-six years of age, but is not the eldest of her family, as she has still three sisters living in the old country.

On the occasion of the celebration of the golden wedding, a large number of the grandchildren were also in attendance. During the festivities of the evening the old people were the recipients of many handsome gifts as well as hearty congratulations. The following address was read by the pastor, who was also present:

To Father and Mother:

On this the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding, we, your children, cannot allow the day to pass without giving expression to our gratitude to God who has prolonged your lives, and at the same time conveying to you our congratulations. To you has been given a privilege enjoyed by but very few, that of spending together half a century of married life. There will doubtless come to you as you recall the experiences of fifty years many things that cannot fail to produce pleasure. Evil there has been, hardship there has been, suffering and loss there have been, but the mutual trust and confidence and the union of hearts and of hands have enabled you to successfully overcome all these.

To us has been given the privilege of enjoying your love and care. Words cannot express our gratitude for this. We assure you no act of self-sacrifice has been forgotten and our desire is that we may be worthy children of worthy parents.

We ask you to accept these gifts as reminders of the day. May your closing years be the brightest and happiest of all your life.

WAR IS NOT OVER YET

Fierce Fighting Took Place Yesterday.

GREEKS WERE THE AGGRESSORS.

They Forced the Turks Back and the Fighting Only Ceased With Darkness—The Battle Resumed This Morning—Sultan Being Worked by the German Emperor.

Arta, May 14 (6 o'clock p.m.)—Desperate fighting has been in progress all day near Griboro, on the road to Filippiada. Two brigades of Greeks with many guns, two brigades of sappers and a squadron of cavalry, attacked the Turks, who are almost without artillery. The Greeks forced the first Turkish line of defence, but met with a stubborn resistance at the second. In several places the bayonets were so close to the cannon that they (the bayonets) could not be used. Already 500 of the Greeks are hors de combat. The battle continues as this despatch is being sent.

Fighting Ceased for the Day

9 p.m.—The fighting at Griboro has ceased and the Greeks have occupied various heights in the neighborhood. Twenty-five officers and 400 men are hors de combat. The battle will be resumed to-morrow.

Since 4 o'clock p.m. the gunboat flotilla has been attacking Nikopolis from inside the Gulf of Ambracia, with a simultaneous attack proceeding from the landside. The Turkish batteries replied vigorously, and firmly resisted the attack. The coming on of darkness stopped the engagement.

All the Greek efforts are now concentrated upon capturing Nicopolis and Prevesa before advancing to Pentepighadia.

Turks Retired From Domokos

Domokos, May 14 (7 p.m.).—The Turks have retired in the direction of Pharsalos.

Serious News From Bulgaria

St Petersburg, May 14.—Following upon the intimation that Russia would not be opposed to the administration of Thessaly by Turkey, it became known semi-officially this evening that the diplomats are greatly concerned at the news recently received from Bulgaria. During the past week much agitation against Turkey has been reported, both among the people of Bulgaria and in the Bulgarian army, and fears are expressed that the popular feeling thus aroused may force the hands of the Government of Bulgaria.

Emperor Billy Runs the Sultan

London, May 15. — The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says: The Sultan, acting upon the advice of Emperor William, has declared to M. Cambon, the French Ambassador, that he cannot agree to granting an armistice until the basis of peace has been decided upon and approved by him.

Fighting Fiercely This Morning

London, May 15.—The Athens correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says:

"The Turks who had taken refuge at Griboro were largely reinforced during the night (Thursday) and received the attack of the Greeks this morning (Friday) with a terrible fire. The Greeks retired with a loss of 500 men."

What Premier Rallli Says

London, May 15.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says:

"The resumption of offensive operations in Epirus greatly complicates the situation and tends to hamper the negotiations for peace. The evident intention of the Greek commanders is to capture the Turkish positions there in order to show that they have not been defeated.

"In an interview to-day, M. Ralli, the Premier, repeated his statement that humane motives are responsible for the advance on Epirus, but he did not deny the advantages which might be hoped for from the capture of Prevesa and the occupation of the adjoining Turkish territory.

"'We are still at war,' he said, 'and until an armistice is concluded Greece retains her liberty of action. We cannot allow our activity to be confined to Thessaly, where the Turks are predominant. The powers have hindered us from acting in Crete, but Greece cannot be barred everywhere nor compelled to restrict her operations to a limited area.'"

"We have done our best to obtain an armistice, and until it is accorded we must act where and when we can. If we have not already prosecuted the war at various points and among the islands of the Aegean it is only because we have taken into consideration the sufferings to which the Greek population might be subjected.'

"The Government apparently thinks that a removal of the war will hasten instead of retarding the armistice. This calculation may prove to be correct, but it is more likely that Turkey will seize upon it as an excuse for delaying the armistice and will deal a crushing blow in Thessaly."

The Sultan is Perplexed

London, May 15.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says:

"The Sultan is sorely perplexed and embarrassed by the Islamic influences, military and theological, which are united in vehement protests against leniency to Greece as defrauding Turkey of the legitimate fruits of victory."

The correspondent adds that M. Cambon, the French Ambassador, addressing the French colony yesterday, spoke hopefully and predicted an early restoration of normal conditions, and the conclusion of peace.

A Rising in Macedonia.

London, May 14.—A despatch to The Daily Chronicle from Athens says that Greeks who have arrived there from Drama report a Macedonian rising in the district between Seidse and Kavalal, while The Times, an Athens evening paper, states that there has been a rising in Central Macedonia; that 4000 insurgents have captured the pass forming a part of the principal line of communications of the Turkish army; that they are advancing towards Elassona and are preparing to unite forces with the bands under Davell, Zermas and other Macedonian chiefs.

A Capture by the Greeks.

Paris, May 14.—A despatch from Athens this morning announces that the Greeks have captured Nikopolis, the site of the Turkish fortress on the peninsula upon which Prevesa is situated. Eighty Turks, it is added, were killed in the engagement. The Greek troops, according to the same despatch, have reoccupied Suloura without opposition.

Must Wait Till After the Feast.

Constantinople, May 14.—The Turkish Government, in its reply to the note of the Ambassadors of the powers, offering mediation between Greece and Turkey, says the Sultan will be in a position to discuss mediation after the great Bairam festival, which began yesterday, and ends Sunday night.

What the Turks Mean.

Athens, May 14.—Advices received to-day from the headquarters of the Greek army at Domokos announce that the Turkish forces are executing movements which are believed to foreshadow an attack upon the Greek positions.

It is reported that the Turkish left wing has evacuated Almyros and is moving towards Pharsalos, to the right rear of that place, and it is further stated that General Smolenski, commanding the Greek right wing, has reoccupied Almyros and has restored telegraphic communication with the Greek headquarters. Unless the rearward movement of the Turks is the result of the action of the powers, it is believed to indicate that the Turkish Commander-in-Chief, Edhem Pasha, is again concentrating his troops, preparatory to making a general attack upon the main Greek stronghold.

MR. BROWN SHOT HIMSELF.

The Proprietor of Maplehurst, Rosseau, Ont., is in a Dangerous Condition and May Not Recover

Rosseau, Ont., May 14.—At 6.05 this evening the servant girl at Maplehurst was preparing tea. Mrs. Brown was in another part of the hotel, when a report of a revolver was heard by the servant. She ran into the sitting room, and said, "Is that you, Mr. Brown?" He answered, "Yes, Dolly, it is me." He was lying on the floor, with a revolver beside him, having shot himself, either accidentally or intentionally, in the right temple. The ball had taken a slightly downward course, blowing the left eye out and lodging in the cheek. Dr. Waddy was immediately sent for. The unfortunate man is lying in a semi-conscious state, groaning terribly. His wife is dazed by the shock, and has not spoken since the accident, except, "Oh, his poor mother!" Dr. Walton is on his way from Parry Sound to hold a consultation with Dr. Waddy. There is little hope of his recovery.

DINGLEY'S FOLLY.

The Buffalo Courier Record Appears to Think That the Trade of Canada is Worth Looking After.

Buffalo, May 14.—Under the head of "Trade with Canada," The Courier-Record this morning says editorially: "We have been furnishing our Canadian cousins with about one-half their importations. We have found them good pay. Uncle Sam needs their trade quite as badly as does that opulent shopkeeper, John Bull. We have heretofore sent 60 per cent. more goods to Canada yearly than has Great Britain. The increment also has been in our favor. Our proximity to Canada and other causes have had a constantly increasing tendency to kill British competition. In 1889 Great Britain exported to Canada more products than did the United States. In 1890 the exports from the two countries were about equal in value. During the last seven years the United States has been steadily getting the business away from Great Britain. Our expectations to Canada are of the value of $30,000,000 annually. British exportations amount to $20,000,000. We purchase Canadian products of the value of $30,000,000 each year, while the English purchase $20,000,000 worth. Thus it appears that the Mother Country has every claim which reciprocal patronage confers to the import trade of Canada. It was offered to us and we refused it. Thus, at a single stroke we exclude ourselves from a foreign market of sale for our goods, relying upon an inadequate home market to consume them and bar ourselves from a foreign market of purchase."

DROWNED HERSELF.

A Melancholy Case of Suicide at Hespeler —Miss Schwendimann Became Tired of Life.

Hespeler, May 14.—A most lamentable case of suicide occurred here some time during last night, when Miss Susan Schwendimann drowned herself in the Brodie milldam. She was missed from her room this morning, and search being made, her body was found floating in the water. She was a most estimable person, in the prime of life, and in circumstances above the average. Her aged mother, who had been tenderly cared for by the deceased for years, died recently, and since that event Miss Schwendimann has been in failing health, doubtless due to grief at her mother's death. No reason other than this can be assigned for the rash act. She left a note saying that she had gone along the river side, and that it was all her own fault. The greatest sympathy is felt for her family connections, who are most respected citizens. No inquest will be held.

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMINATIONS.

A Circular Issued by the Ontario Department of Education—Object of the Examinations.

The following circular has been issued by the Ontario Department of Education:

As the time for receiving applications for the annual departmental examinations is near at hand, permit me to call your attention to the following:

(1) These examinations are specially designed for candidates for a teacher's certificate or as a preliminary qualification for some other professional course of study. It is, therefore, desirable that those who are pursuing their studies for any other purpose, should be allowed the fullest discretion with respect to these examinations.

(2) Under regulation 28 of the Education Department, the principal of the High School has ample authority to make "such promotions from one form to another as he may deem expedient." It is not intended that High School pupils should be required to take any departmental examination in order to be entitled to promotion. Such a test apart from the expense to the pupil, would be objectionable on many grounds, which must be obvious to every teacher. Although the Education Department has no desire to interfere with the discretion of any pupil as to the examinations he should take or to prevent any teacher from giving such advice to pupils with respect to examinations as appears, in his judgment, to be for their own interests, it is to be distinctly understood that a departmental examination is not considered a necessary part of any Public or High School course of study.

(3) The departmental examinations should not be taken as the chief test of the teacher's efficiency. Sometimes teachers are exposed inadvertently to the application of such a test by comparisons made with other schools before the annual school opening; at other times trustees inconsiderately make such a test the chief basis of a teacher's promotion. A more correct view of the purpose of examinations on the one hand, and of the dignity and qualifications of the true teacher on the other, would greatly assist in establishing standards of efficiency which would amply protect the good name of every well conducted school. I have the honour to be,

Yours truly,
GEO. W. ROSS,
Minister of Education.

FROM THE FAR WEST.

An Interesting Letter From a Former Resident.

The following extracts, taken from a letter written to Dr. A. Ross, by Mr. Sidney Truscott, a former resident of South Monaghan, will be of interest. It is dated Stony Plain, Alberta, May 5th:

The people in this part of the country are looking forward to better times this summer. There have been several dollars made out of the gold diggings on the Saskatchewan river ever since Edmonton was known, and next to Winnipeg it is amongst the oldest parts of the Northwest.

The gold is found in very small particles in the sand along the river and was washed out with the old time grizzley. This machine consisted of many horizontal bars of iron in the form of an inverted V. A shovel of sand was placed on the ridge and a bucket of water poured over. The coarse sand with the rocks ran off and the fine sand with the gold ran through on to a sloping woollen blanket down which it ran onto a blanket sloping the other way. These blankets caught all the gold with a peculiar black sand. At night each miner took his blankets and washed them in a tub and then poured in enough mercury to gather all the gold. He then held the amalgam over a fire and the mercury evaporated leaving the pure gold. In the earlier years little fortunes were made in a single summer, but the last few years the river has been worked so much that good miners seldom make over two dollars a day.

It has been found that the black sand which is so hard to separate from the gold contained four valuable minerals, two of which are gold and steel. As a result of these experiments two large companies have secured a number of shares and have put up very valuable machinery on their properties. One company claims to be backed with $150,000 and the other claims to have an unlimited capital to invest. It is claimed that the raw black sand is worth from 9 to 20c per pound and a miner can get 20 lbs. per day, beside the clear gold. People are losing their heads over it. A person cannot hear of anything in which black sand is not mixed and you won't be listened to unless you talk about black sand.

The grain has mostly been sown and is quite green, that is the wheat. The oats have not put in an appearance yet and the barley has not been sown. The farmers here do not farm on a very extensive scale, from thirty to forty-five acres per farmer. The weather has been rather dry since the snow went away and the ground was so dry last fall that although the fall of snow was greater than usual, the water just soaked in out of sight and the lakes are very little fuller than they were last fall.

I am still in the same school. The children could not speak a word of English when I came and now they can talk fairly well. One drawback is that there are no English speaking children in the school, and nothing but German is spoken outside. I am having a pretty good time. I board in an English settlement and ride to my school four miles. I have a good horse and saddle and ride around to my heart's content. In the winter I had a notion of going farther west into British Columbia, but the trustees made me stay another year.

This is just 35 miles from town and we are out of coal oil. I was just dark when I started to write and now I cannot see what I am writing, but I have to ride 8 miles to the post office in the morning before school and so will not have time to finish them.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator, it is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is most profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps, however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is, by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars.—G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 381; Telephone, 93.

UNHAPPY QUESTIONS.

The Opposition in the Dominion Parliament, badly officered as they are, are naturally not happy in the subjects they select for cross-questioning the Government. Their questions generally arouse "sleeping dogs" that, for the credit of the Conservative party, had better be let lie. There are numerous instances where the questioner and his party has got a rather robust Roland for his Oliver. An instance is afforded by the questions put by Mr. McCleary, of Welland, in reference to the dismissals on the Welland Canal. Mr. Blair, in his reply, said the men in question had not been dismissed, but had simply not been re-engaged this season. He added these stinging words: "It may be true that on one or more of the canals a practice had grown up of buying and selling the places of lock-masters and bridge-tenders, and many persons, having bought these places from those who had influence with the late Government or with members of Parliament, might have come to consider that they had thereby acquired a permanent title to employment; but inasmuch as no portion of the purchase price passed into the Dominion treasury, such transaction could not be regarded as conferring any such right upon the employee." Of 170 men on the Welland canal only 45 have not been re-employed this year.

THE main cause of the fiery collapse from Gaspe to Vancouver is pithily put by the Montreal Witness. Thus:—" " " "The Conservative party has gone through a steady process of disintegration ever since the death of Sir John Macdonald, until the party was at last too weak to prevent Sir Charles Tupper settling down upon its heart like an incubus and crushing its life out."

THE Montreal Star is canny in what it says on the local election. But it is emphatic enough on one point. For the sake of the party "they (the Conservatives) might well wish their opponents to stay in power long enough to attract to themselves some of the leeches that have been living on the Conservative party so many many years." Who are these leeches? It's a pertinent enquiry. Some of the Opposition, when they are in an inquiring mood, which is their normal condition, might bring up the matter in the House.

A SPECIAL WARNING TO LADIES.

The proprietors of Diamond Dyes are the only people in the world that make special dyes for colouring cotton and all mixed goods.

It is now admitted by all the best colour chemists that a dye prepared especially for all wool goods will not colour cotton or mixed goods successfully.

When Diamond Dye Pink, Purple, Orange, Garnet, Navy, Yellow, Blue, Scarlet, Turkey Red, Green, Cardinal, Brown and Black for Cotton and Mixed Goods are used, satisfaction is always guaranteed.

Beware of dyes that pretend to colour all wool goods and cotton with the same package of dye.

The verdict of millions on this continent is, "Diamond Dyes are first and best."

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. CIV.

A Society for the Preservation of Birds.

The Massachusetts Audubon Society was formed last May "to discourage buying and wearing for ornamental purposes the feathers of any wild bird, and to otherwise further the protection of our native birds." It has for its president, William Brewster, and in the list of vice-presidents appear the names of Mrs. Louis Agassiz, Mrs. Augustus Hemenway, Miss Sarah Orne Jewett, Hon. Charles Francis Adams, Right Rev. Wm. Lawrence, D. D., Horace E. Scudder, Bradford Torrey, and many other prominent men and women.

The society has profited by the experience of an earlier society formed by the editors of Forest and Stream, which accomplished much, but did not become self-supporting and permanent, mainly because it had no membership fee which, with each new member could help in extending its principles and establishing them firmly. Thus through its very numerical success and finally ceased to exist.

The new society therefore asks for a fee of $1. It is, moreover, being carefully organized. Its circulars give the name and address of the secretary, Miss Harriet E. Richards, Boston Society of Natural History, Berkely street, Boston, to whom all enquiries may be addressed and fees sent. Through the efforts of its directors, vice-presidents, and members it hopes eventually to find one woman in each city and town in Massachusetts who will help to procure names of people to whom circulars can be sent and who will interest her neighbours in the purposes of the society. Fifty such "local secretaries" are already in correspondence with the central office; and any one in towns not so provided for, who will undertake this work in her own neighbourhood, will be gladly welcomed by the secretary. Other States are also becoming interested; a Pennsylvania society is already organized in Philadelphia, and it is expected that similar organizations will soon be formed in New York, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Maine.

In the Massachusetts Society 870 members been thus far enrolled; 236 of these are school children, for whom and their teachers their are special twenty-five-cent membership cards. The directors of the society realize that the wearing of birds feathers is the result of ignorance and indifference, not of cruelty, and that if can be taught to know something about birds, the girls will not believe such a statement as was actually made by a milliner: "I assure you, madam, I have not a feather in my establishment that was not dropped by a bird in its flight." They are making, therefore, a special effort to enlist the school children, and therefore, also, they offer to send to those who ask, lists of books on birds, and the names of publishing firms which have consented to make reductions on the price of the books to the members of the Audubon Society. That it is often through ignorance of the means of procuring aigrettes that they are worn, is shown by the many letters to the secretary from women who, upon hearing the facts, have plucked the plumes from their hats and cast them into the fire.

Mr. John Graham Brooks, in one of his recent lectures on "Social Revolutions," said:—"The whole thought and purpose of the Audubon Society rest upon the soundest economic principles. No one who buys can escape the responsibility of making or helping to make the kind of a thing he purchases. Things are made because wants first exist. More than half the problem socially is to make a consumer's (buyer's) conscience. An enlightened economic conscience will refuse to buy a thing which it would not willingly create. Such a conscience will indeed see that buying is creating. The woman herself kills the bird upon her hat. In the mere consent that it appear there she slays it, in the economic sense, as truly as if she held the gun."

MINING NOTES.

Concerning the Mines in Which Peterborough People are Interested.

The Boundary Falls mine, owned by Peterborough and Vancouver people, which at 20 feet is running $120 across the face of the tunnel, in chiefly free-milling gold ore, has widened in the vein one foot six inches in that distance. The company are erecting a mill on the strength of this big showing.—Toronto World.

In Lillooet the Golden Cache, the Alpha Bell and the Gold Reefs Companies' propositions have been taken in hand by the public and ample means for development work has been secured, so that it is probable that this season the Golden Cache will be on a paying basis, and the Alpha Bell and Gold Reefs properties will be developed into mines. The Golden Cache mill is now being erected.—Toronto World.

A LONG LIST!

This Whole Column Would not Contain the Names of the Many Prominent Ministers, Members of Parliament, and Professional Men all over this Continent who Have been Cured of Catarrh by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder—It Gives Relief in 10 Minutes.

Volumes of testimony have been written of its curative powers. Catarrh is an aggravating malady, insignificant in its beginning—a little cold in the head—neglect it and soon you're in its thrall. Eighty in every hundred have the taint. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder will cure the slightest cold in the head, and cure the most stubborn case of catarrh. "Its action is instantaneous," says one. "I feel it my duty to recommend it to the public," says another. "Never got relief until I used it," says another, and so on and on. Acts like magic and always cures. Sold by H.S. Macdonald.

To Flavor Apples.

Apples at this time of year have lost much of their flavor and freshness. If when making a pie a teaspoonful of tartaric acid is sprinkled over the apples it will give the pie more of the flavor of fresh green apples. When baking the apples, remove the cores and fill the space with sugar, in which has been mixed a little of the tartaric acid powder.

"I AM NOW A CHANGED MAN."

"I Am Convinced That Paine's Celery Compound Has No Equal."

The Only Medicine That Produces Positive and Permanent Cures.

The declarations above are made by Mr. Charles B. Holman, 232 King street West, Hamilton, Ont., a young man known to hundreds in the ambitious city.

Mr. Holman's declarations are honest and from the heart. After a siege of sickness and great danger, and failure with other medicines, friends who had been cured by Paine's Celery Compound recommended him to use the same life-saver and health-restorer.

Mr. Holman, who had been so often deceived, had yet faith to do what he was advised, and a glorious reward was his. The dangerous cough, his debility, his weakness and depression of spirits that were dragging him to the grave were all banished, and he was made a new man. He writes about his cure as follows:

"In the spring of 1895 I was troubled with a cough, debility, and general depression of spirits. During the summer and autumn I used a number of medicines but received no benefit from them. About the beginning of November I was advised to use Paine's Celery Compound. I procured the preparation and began to use it with wonderful benefit. I am now convinced, after using several bottles of this unequalled medicine, that no other can compare with it in any respect.

"I am now a changed man; my health is renewed, depression of spirits is gone, my appetite is good, and I sleep well.

"I will always gladly say a good word for Paine's Celery Compound."

A THOUGHT THAT KILLED A MAN!

He thought that he could trifle with disease. He was run down in health, felt tired and worn out, complained of dizziness, biliousness, backaches and headaches. His liver and kidneys were out of order. He thought to get well by dosing himself with cheap remedies. And then came the ending. He fell a victim to Bright's disease! The money he ought to have invested in a safe, reliable remedy went for a tombstone.

Warner's Safe Cure

is the only standard remedy in the world for kidney and liver complaints. It is the only remedy which physicians universally prescribe. It is the only remedy that is backed by the testimony of thousands whom it has relieved and cured.

THERE WAS A BAD SCARE.

The Tug Ida Ran Ashore. But There Was No Loss of Life

The body was well preserved and was buried on the beach to-day.

"Although I am over 84 years of age," he says, "I feel as young as ever I did."

Mr. Moore, however had a narrow escape from death about a year ago. "I was so bad with indigestion," he writes, "that the doctors gave me up. I tried various alleged remedies but found them no good. One day our popular druggist, F. C. Humphries, sent me a sample of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to try. The result was marvellous. After taking two I was able to get up. Then I sent for a box. I could soon eat anything. In a short time I was able to walk two miles to Bancroft and back, with ease."

WILL WE GET THEM?

Proposal to Bring the Hundredth Regiment to Canada.

A DEPUTATION AT THE CAPITAL

Petition From All Over Canada Presented to the Governor-General, Who Promises to Send it to the Prince of Wales—General News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, May 14.—(Special.)—The petition signed all over Canada for the repatriation of the One Hundredth Royal Canadian Regiment was presented to the Governor-General to-day. The deputation consisted of Senator Boulton, a former officer of the regiment, who joined in 1858; Capt. Wallis, another original officer of the regiment; Lieut.-Col. John Macpherson, Senator Gowan, Major Harrison, Capt. Winter and others.

On behalf of the deputation, Senator Boulton presented to His Excellency an address setting forth what had been done by the committee in promoting the movement for the re-establishment in Canada of the Regiment.

His Excellency, in reply, said it would afford him much pleasure to be the medium of transmitting this important book of petitions for the repatriation of the 100th Regiment to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. His Royal Highness, from the well-known interest he takes in all matters appertaining to the naval and military strength of the British Empire, would, he was sure, see that the prayer of the petitions was heard in the proper quarter. He could, of course, say nothing about the subject matter, but he could assure them he would lose no time in laying the wishes of the Canadian people, as expressed in these petitions, before H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, and he added that the moment was opportune to express the loyalty and patriotism which was the mainspring of the petitioners.

Senator Gowan, on behalf of the deputation, thanked His Excellency for his courtesy. He remarked that his military services dated back to 1837, but his heart was as warm as ever it was in its desire to maintain the honor of the old flag.

In the Senate to-day, Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked when the bill providing for the taking of a plebiscite on prohibition of the liquor traffic would be brought down.

Sir Oliver Mowat said the bill was now in the hands of the law clerk, and would be introduced in a few days.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell gave notice of enquiry as to why the Government had not taken legal proceedings against Mr. Petit, the writer of the "Business is business" letter, as promised in the speech of the Minister of Justice in the Senate last session, when Sir Oliver Mowat said that an official demand would be made on Mr. Petit for an explanation, and if that explanation was not satisfactory, the course to be pursued by the Government would be carefully considered.

At a meeting of the Private Bills Committee this morning there was a big kick against the bill incorporating the American Bank Note Company. Mr. R. G. Code, represented the applicants, and Mr. Gormully the interests of the British American Company. Objection was taken by Sir Adolphe Caron to what he called the special privileges accorded to the American concern, the present bill confirming their act of incorporation, of which we knew nothing. It was also objected that Parliament had no jurisdiction to pass a bill of this nature for a concern which was given only power to operate in Ottawa. Objection was taken by Mr. Gormully to the name of the new company. It was the cause of confusion with the British American Company, and this was likely to cause much trouble. The bill was amended to make the Companies' Clauses Act applicable, and to place the company in the same position as any other company doing business under a federal charter.

Before the Railway Committee this morning the Manitoba, Duluth & Hudson Bay Bill was taken up and the name ordered changed to the Winnipeg, Duluth & Northern. That portion of the bill which provides for a line up Hudson Bay was struck out. The Capitalization was reduced from $1,000,000 to half that amount.

An extension of time was granted to the Manitoba & Southeastern Railway Company till 1899, for the completion of that portion of the line from St. Boniface to the parish of St. Anne. Mr. Nicoll of Toronto appeared on behalf of the Canada Southern Railway. The time was extended for the completion of the road, and the bill passed, with the exception of an examination into the wording of the agreements with the Lake Erie and London lines.

The French reporters of the Hansard staff have had very little work to do this session, there having only been one or two speeches in all made in that language, but there is enough trouble about one of the amanuenses to have necessitated the appointment of a sub-committee of the Debates Committee to-day to settle the matter. Mr. Dorion, an amanuensis to Mr. Marceau, was dismissed by Mr. Choquette. Mr. Dorion says that his dismissal was on account of politics, and the sub-committee is to look into the matter.

There has been some comment in the English press over the Duke of Teck's connection with the British Yukon Chartered Company. The Telegram, sent to England from New York, said: "A despatch from Vancouver states that the Duke of Teck has asked the Canadian Government to allow him and his company to govern the Canadian gold fields in the district of Yukon. The British Columbia press is rather outspoken on this subject, and says that this is the most paralyzing proposal ever presented to any modern Government.

On receipt of this cablegram The Central News communicated with His Serene Highness, asking him if he would kindly confirm or contradict the announcement it contained, and the following reply was received: "Do not belong to any company. Am interested in British Yukon Chartered Company. Asked some members of the Canadian Government to support it. That is all.—Duke of Teck."

Dr. Montague, who has left for British Columbia, will not return to Ottawa this session.

The Printing Committee of Parliament met this morning and appointed Mr. E. B. Davidson of Hamilton as Assistant Clerk in the Distribution Office, in place of Mr. Harry Botterell, deceased.

Sir Charles Tupper narrowly escaped serious injuries yesterday. While alighting from a car in front of Stephen's shoe store on Sparks-street, an express carrying a derrick struck the steps of the car. Sir Charles just stepped back in time to avoid being struck, and got out on the other side.

Hon. Mr. Marchand is expected here next Thursday.

Mr. Fisher, M.L.A. of Manitoba, is here en route to Halifax to join the Hudson Bay Expedition.

It is said the Government has concluded arrangements with the G.T.R. for the running of Intercolonial trains into Montreal.

To Cure a Winter's Clinging Cold.

A troublesome throat irritation or cough, the result of a winter cold, is most annoying, but a home remedy will relieve and oftentimes cure it without the aid of other medicines. The following formula was given by a physician many years ago, and has been found to be of great value: Take one-quarter of a pound of the best gum arabic and pour over it half a pint of hot water; cover and leave it until the gum is dissolved; then add one-quarter of a pound of pure white sugar and a generous half gill of strained lemon juice. Place these ingredients over the fire and let them simmer about ten minutes; then pour the mixture into a bottle and cork. When taking this syrup a little water may be added.

HARD STUDY IN SCHOOL

BRINGS ON A SEVERE ATTACK OF ST. VITUS' DANCE.

A Young Girl's Life for a Time Made Miserable—Could not use Her Hands and Found it Difficult to Walk—Health Restored.

From the Napanee Express.

Nervousness is the frequent cause of much suffering. One of the effects of this breaking up of the nerves, particularly among young people, being chorea or St. Vitus' dance. A correspondent tells of a young lady at Selby who was badly afflicted with this trouble. He says:—"I never saw anyone suffering so badly before from nervous disorder. She was violently jerking and twitching all the time, and could not use her right hand at all. Anything that she would try to pick up with it would instantly fall. When she would attempt to walk, her limbs would twist and turn, the ankle often doubling down and throwing her. Lately I heard that she had been cured but doubted the truth of the statement and went out to see her. The statement proved quite true, and believing that a recital of the facts of the case would be of advantage to some one who might be similarly suffering, I asked permission to make them known, which was readily granted. The young lady is Miss H. M. Gonyou, a general favorite among her aquaintances, and it is thought that her trouble, as is not infrequently the case, was brought on by hard study in school." Miss Gonyou gave the following statement:—"All through the fall of 1894 I had been feeling unwell. I did not speak to anyone about it, for I was going to school and was afraid if I said anything about it to my parents they would keep me at home. I kept getting worse, and at last grew so nervous that I could not hold my pencil. My right side was affected most, though the trouble seemed to go through my whole system. In January I was so bad that I had to discontinue going to school, and I was constantly growing worse. I could not use my hands, because I would let everything drop, and frequently when I attempted to walk, I would fall. My brother had been ailing for a long time and was then using Dr. Williams Pink Pills and getting better, so I thought as they were helping him so much they would be a good medicine for me. Before the first box was done I was feeling much better, and after using the Pink Pills for about a month, my health was fully restored. It is now more than a year since I discontinued the use of the pills, and I have not had the slightest trace of the malady since. I am satisfied Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved me from a life of misery, and I would strongly recommend them for nervous troubles."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

100 per cent Better.

Milburn's Heart and nerve Pills are curing heart and nerve troubles in every city, town and village in Canada. Mrs. F. Abbey, Toronto, says, "Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured my husband who had for fifteen years suffered with weak nerves caused by heart trouble. He was subject to pains in his head, dizziness, fainting spells, sleeplessness, etc. He is now free from these troubles, and feels 100 per cent better than when he began using the pills."

THE DANNY SIMONS CONCERT.

An Excellent Programme Presented Last Evening in the Opera House.

Danny Simons has the pull—at least he had it last evening, for Bradburn's opera house was jammed to the doors by his many friends, all anxious to hear and see him in his different specialties.

Mr. Archie Moore was master of ceremonies, and the evening's entertainment opened with the appearance of Dan in three numbers, in which he introduced several new features. His singing has improved of late, his stock of jokes were fresh and side-splitting, and his dancing, as of old, artistic and clever. His imitation of a tipsy Scotchman brought down the house. Dan has certainly kept his eyes open while travelling.

Miss Jessie Riley sang very sweetly "Don't Drive me Out," and for an encore number "Josephine." Mr. Robert Beech, in his clever drum solo, also received a deserved encore.

Dan Simons in his tramp act caught the crowd. He made a typical hobo, but the climax was reached when a well-known local character posed as "Ajax defying the lightning."

Mr. Walter Wesley's bass solo, "Out on the Deep," was a splendid number and was well received.

Ruby Phelan, the clever boy soprano, excelled himself in "There will come a Time," which was so sweetly rendered as to earn a hearty recall. He responded with a very pretty negro melody.

Messrs. Ricketts and Hickey in their instrumental numbers pleased the audience.

Of course a great many were anxious to hear the clever young elocutionists, Miss L. Simons, who came off with flying colours at the Capital. Last evening Miss Lily surprised her many friends in her remarkably clever rendition of "The Maniac." The stage setting represented a prison, and the dramatic force with which this number was executed showed this young artist to be possessed of remarkable histronic powers. As an encore number she gave "Rory O'Moore" in such a finished manner as to clearly prove she is at home in a humourous number. She did not over do this number, as is sometimes done with an Irish recitation, her brogue being rich and natural. Her future undoubtedly will be a bright one.

The entertainment concluded with a screaming farce, "Razor Jim," and of course Dan was Jim. The others taking part were Mr. Harry Neill as "Mr. Brown," Mr. H. LaBelle as "Edwin Booth," and Mr. Geo. Butcher as "Sarah Bernhardt." This was an excellent number and a fitting finale for an excellent evening's enjoyment. The people are satisfied that Danny is hard to beat.

The pianistes of the evening were Misses Maggie McCabe and M. Pollock. Miss McCabe acted as accompanists very effectively, her excellent playing being a feature of the programme.

Live Stock Notes.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy has been keeping things lively in the live stock business this week, shipping a total of eight carloads. This stock was principally export cattle and stockers for the English and American markets respectively. Prices continue about the same for stockers, ranging about 3½c per pound on the local market. Export and butchers' cattle are, if anything, a little weaker, but choice steers 1,250 pounds and upwards continue to sell at about 4c per pound. Next week Mr. Kennedy proposes handling about the same amount, and says he is prepared to pay the above prices for all offerings.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Mr. Williamson of the Y. M. C. A., is Honoured by his Friends Previous to his Departure.

(Petrolia Topic)

On Tuesday evening last the Petrolia Y.M.C.A. rooms were literally packed by its members, who were there for the purpose of wishing Mr. G. H. Williamson, the retiring secretary, farewell. The evening was well spent, there being an excellent programme, which was well rendered. Mr. Wm. Pratt acted as chairman in an efficient manner. The programme consisted of selections by Mr. W. E. Langford, who gave a speech; Miss Della Brownscombe, piano solo; Rev. Mr. Craig, address and reading; Miss Peat, vocal solo; Mr. J. J. Bell, reading. Messrs. W. Clyde, R. Barbour and J. E. Armstrong, also made short speeches.

Mr. J. E. Armstrong then read an address as follows:

To Mr. Williamson:

DEAR SIR,—As you are about leaving Petrolea for a new field of labour in Peterborough, we, the members of the Y.M.C.A. Bible class, desire to express our high esteem for your untiring efforts in our behalf. We feel that under your careful study of the Word and your efficient manner of imparting it to others, that you have not only brought many careless ones to a knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus, but have encouraged and strengthened believers to greater activity in the Master's services. As proof of the high esteem in which you are held, we ask you to accept the accompanying gift as a small token of our sincere appreciation of your ability and zeal. We extend to you our best wishes for future success, and hope that your efforts will be the means of winning souls for Christ. Signed on behalf of the members of the class." (There were 40 names attached to the above address.)

Mr. Williamson was then presented with a well filled purse, after which he made a suitable reply, expressive of his thanks for favours both in the past and present. The orchestra was present and rendered some very pleasing selections. The evening's programme was brought to a close by brief addresses from Rev. Mr. Smythe and Mr. T. Vandelinder. The meeting dispersed after all joined in singing "Blest be the tie that binds."

THE Y.M.C.A. AND THE PUBLIC.

In other columns is printed a description of the new Y.M.C.A. buildings, which are now about completed. They are a noble pile, well worthy of the dignity of the town and the institution they are particularly intended to serve. While these buildings are intended primarily for the use of the Y.M.C.A., they are, in consequence of the peculiar relations of the institution to the public, chiefly for the public benefit. Such being the case the directors of the Association naturally look to public co-operation in making the new building effective. In its present condition the building is something like a table laid out with a splendid dinner service, without the viands being provided. The entire sum of Mrs. Nicholls noble bequest of $20,000, and accrued interest, has been expended upon the site, and buildings which will serve the purposes of the town for years and years, no matter how much the town and the work grow. There is, however a small balance of what may be called the endowment fund, retained, the interest of which is devoted to the purposes of insurance. There will be required to meet the expense of sufficient furnishing to make the new buildings tenable for Association work, about $1,000. Of this, there are, perhaps, $200 available, leaving about $800 to be supplied by contributions of the public. When we consider the relation of the institution to the citizens of Peterborough, and the scope of its work, it is eminently fitting that the public should come to the assistance of the directors in the matter of furnishing. The opportunities for moral training and influence, added to the opportunities of physical culture are important features. The necessity for an all-round symmetrical training of young men is admitted on all sides. In moulding young manhood the best moral and religious development is incomplete without the proper training of the physical, to equip the possessor for putting the former to effective use. It is open to doubt whether a man with a disordered liver can be a good Christian, that is, as useful as if he enjoyed better health. These remarks are more especially directed to those who would not likely be moved by sympathy with the moral features of the work. The two are associated, however, and are both directed to making young men in every sense, intellectual, moral and physical—better citizens and better equipped for taking their place in the battle of life. It is hoped that the appeal for funds for furnishing the Y. M. C. A. building will meet with a ready and liberal response from all classes of citizens.

THE NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING IS NOW ALMOST COMPLETED.

The Interior as Perfect in Finish as the Exterior is Imposing in Appearance.

MRS. NICHOLLS' MUNIFICENT BEQUEST WELL SPENT.

A Full Description of the Interior of the Building Which is now Ready for Occupancy and Will Probably be Opened Early in June—The Board Wisely Concluded to Erect a Building Suitable For Their Requirements and to Finish the Exterior as the Funds Were Available, Consequently the Exterior is Perfect in Construction and no Additions Will be Needed as There is Room to Spare Inside.

That great institution the Y.M.C.A., was originated by Mr., now Sir, George Williams, in a little room in St. Paul's church yard, London, fifty-three years ago. In the half century that has passed the growth has been most remarkable, the work has enlisted millions of co-operators, and is recognized as one of the most potent moral forces of a lay character in the world. This is shewn to a certain extent by the fact that at the celebration of the golden jubilee of the Y.M.C.A., in London, in 1894, Her Majesty conferred the honour of knighthood on the founder of the Association.

The work in Peterborough, which is just now attracting special attention in relation to the splendid new building about completed, was begun about fifteen or sixteen years ago, and, of course, in a very modest way. The local habitation of the Association was, from necessity, of somewhat of a migratory character. The first rooms, or, rather, room, was on the second floor of the building now occupied by Mills Bros. fur store. In the time of Mr. Geo. Williams, general secretary, three rooms were occupied and fitted up in the old post office building. Four or five years ago the premises now occupied were entered upon and they were a decided improvement in any of the former homes of the Association. The rooms are seven in number and there are baths and other modern improvements, but they sink into insignificance in comparison with the accommodation of the splendid new building, of which a full description is furnished below. It is felt by some that the present buildings are too large and pretentious for the use of the Association. True, they are larger than at present required. But the directorate felt, while they had the benefit of the munificent bequest of Mrs. Nicholls and while the trustees, Mr. Richard Hall and Mr. C. McGill, gave the Board a free hand in deciding upon the extent and design of the building, that it was well to make the means at command would permit—not only enough for present purposes but with an eye to the future. The building now provides no accommodation that is not required in regular work, though some of the rooms are larger than at present necessary; but the Board, with a full faith in the future growth of the town and also of the Association and its work, built with both these contingencies in view.

In consequence, the Y.M.C.A. has now a permanent home of which both it and the town may well be proud, and it would seem that the work will progress much more satisfactorily when it has full scope and is furnished with the best of facilities, than it did under conditions in which inadequate and unsuitable premises confined the expansion of the work to the accommodation in existence. The public will no doubt be interested in reading a detailed description of which the Association has erected on the corner of George and Murray streets, without doubt the most imposing in appearance and complete in interior arrangements of any on the continent, taking into consideration the money which has been expended on its construction.

When the Board of Directors decided upon having the plans drawn there was just $24,000.00 in the treasury, being the $20,000 donated by the late Mrs. Nicholls and the accumulated interest thereon.

The lot which has a frontage on George street of eighty feet was purchased at sixty dollars a foot and has a depth of one hundred and fourteen feet. The balance of the money was expended in the erection of the building with the exception of a small reserve fund, the interest of which which is not more than sufficient to meet the insurance account.

THE PLANS

of Mr. Wm. Blackwell for the building were accepted by the Board and the contract was let to Mr. A. A. McIntyre on June 8th, 1896. The contract for plumbing and heating was let to Mr. Adam Hall and that for the electric wiring and light fixtures to Mr. J. H. Greer. Mr. McIntyre sub-let the contracts for cutting and placing the stone needed for steps, etc., to Henry Chatten and Alexander Richardson and Mr. Robert H. Smith laid the same. The sub-contracts, for the painting, was let to Messrs. Duncan & Gray; for the brickwork to Mr. J. J. Hartley; for galvanized iron to Mr. Adam Hall; for the mill work to Mr. Wm. Donell, and for the plastering to Mr. Wolstenholm.

The entrance is an imposing one, a flight of stone steps leading up to a handsome vestibule enclosed by inner and outer doors of sash, panelled with plate glass. Through the inner doors the visitor is conducted into a rotunda of and elaborately fitted up. A handsome fire-place of pressed brick first catches the eye and gives a homelike appearance to the surroundings. It is indeed a beautiful piece of workmanship, being built by one especially versed in the art. In accordance with the most modern ideas, which now lean towards following the lines of ancient interior decoration, an ingle nook is found at the corner of the fireplace, luxuriously fitted up with plush upholsterings and looking most snug and inviting for a quiet half hour's lounge by a bright fire. It is quite an artistically contrived cosy corner, the woodwork being surmounted with a prettily designed scroll. Just opposite is the secretary's office, the arrangement of which especially pleases the directors, as it commands the entire lower floor, and in order to reach the other apartments a member must pass the secretary's inspection. From it he has a view of the reading room, parlour, lecture room, front and side entrances and the staircase. By means of an electric button he controls the whole physical department as the door, which leads to it is locked and can only be opened from the outside through the medium of the secretary and

HIS ELECTRIC KEY.

The office is located beneath an arch across which runs a counter. He has also a private office just behind this, but as it is practically surrounded by glass, to all intents and purposes he is as accessible as before.

The boy's room is also directly under the secretary's eye. A special apartment has been provided for their accommodation, as it is realized that the same parlour would not do for the adult members and the younger element. The side entrance on Murray street is designed also to meet the wants of the boys, although it will be used as well by the bicyclists.

To the right of the main entrance on entering is a fine, large, well-lighted apartment designed to serve the purposes of a reading room. The little enclosed alcove which juts out on the entrance steps will be used or private conversations. To the left of this is the parlour, being in the southeast corner of the building, facing on George street. Sliding doors divide it from the lecture or Bible class room. It is finished in cherry, and a carpet costing in the neighbourhood of a hundred dollars will be laid. A pretty fireplace of cherry, surmounted by the largest plate glass mirror obtainable for such purposes, has been brought down from Toronto and placed in position with the most modern fixtures attached, ennabling it to be used for either coal or wood, as desired. The mantel fittings were made by Roges, of Toronto. It is intended to make the parlours most inviting in aspect.

With the exception of the last apartment mentioned, the ground floor of the building is finished in polished ash.

One of the numerous doors of the rotunda leads into the cloak room, off which are lavatories and closets. The door itself is in two portions—an upper and a lower. In case of receptions, etc., a caretaker will close the lower half and be in a position to receive and ticket the cloaks of the guests.

THE DRINKING FOUNTAIN

in the staircase hall, is worthy of a special paragraph, having being designed and made expressly for the Association. The tank is located in the cloak room, and is of galvanized iron with a smaller tank inside it, for the purpose of holding the ice, which therefore does not come in direct contact with the water. The waterworks are connected with the larger tank, which can always be kept full and be cooled without absorbing any impurities which might exist in the ice. From it a coil leads into the hall, where a patent tap only allows so much water to be drawn off at a time, preventing any waste.

Here, as elsewhere through the building, combination fixtures for both gas and electric light will be placed. Radiators are in every room, as the heating is to be done with steam generated in a gigantic tubular boiler from the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co's works. The boys' room also leads off the central hallway and has a half-glass door. It is commodious and well lighted.

From the side entrance, mentioned before, a stairway leads to the basement, where a room is set aside for the storing of bicycles, a slide being arranged on the stairway for them. Racks will be procured for the use of the wheelmen and a couple of benches will be placed in the centre of the apartment. The floor is of cedar, as is easily detected by arising from the newly-laid planks. All the floors in the basement are to be of the same material. The manual training rooms are as yet unfinished. There are two of them adjoining, and pleasantly located. The bowling alley will not be finished at present either, but its situation is designated, running along the south side of the building from the manual training room to the rear.

In regard to the unfinished apartments, Mr. Bennet, through whose kindness the reporter was shown through the building, explained that the Board thought the wisest policy to pursue was to erect a building suited to every emergency, and if sufficient funds were not available to finish the interior, to allow such departments to wait until such times as the Association could see its way clear to furnish them. Through following such a course a perfect building had been erected from an architectural standpoint, whereas if the edifice had been erected piecemeal as needed, it would not have presented so imposing an exterior as it does at present, nor, indeed, could the present practically perfect interior arrangements have been accomplished.

In the basement there is also a furnace, as when steam is not needed heat has to be generated in order to for the operating of the ventilating chimneys, of which there are three.

The swimming bath, in which everyone is interested, is, of course, in the basement also. It is of cement and about 18 x 30 feet in size and from 4½ to 6 ft. deep. The depth of the water can be regulated and ladders descending into it will be provided. In order to temper the water, the bath is first filled and the water then drawn off by degrees to pass through the big Doric boiler, where it is heated and then allowed to run back into the swimming bath again until the water is of the right temperature. The floor is of cement. In the adjoining room are the shower and needle baths, so arranged that some of them can be shut off from the rest, if a private bath is desired. The cement floor slopes to a central point, where provision is made for disposing of the water. In another adjoining apartment a bath tub of the latest design has been placed, Mr. Adam Hall fitting one in position, which would have been far beyond the resources of the association to purchase, but which, was given at the same price as the less expensive one ordered.

THROUGH HIS KINDNESS,

There are 168 lockers in which the bathers can place their clothing when enjoying a bath. Each door is to be fitted with a combination lock and will be strictly private. The lockers are superior in construction to those in use at the Toronto University.

The boiler room is provided with all desirable conveniences. The coal is received through a manhole in the alley behind into an excavation beneath, into which a door leads from the boiler room. Suspended from the ceiling is a large tank, which will be constantly kept filled with hot water from the boiler, for the purpose of supplying the shower-baths and the lavatories up-stairs.

The gymnasium is on the main floor of the building in the rear and will compare most favourably with any in Canada. One great advantage which it possesses is that it is entirely free from posts and therefore is an ideal place for basket ball as well as all gymnastic exercises. It is 37.6x66.6 in size, and all around it, suspended from the ceiling and twelve feet from the floor, is a running gallery designed according to the most modern ideas, with the corners banked and every arrangement desired for training. The is of maple and it is wainscoted up to the gallery with ash. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on the Board for the care they have taken in recognising the athletic element in connection with the Association.

The physical director's room is just off the gymnasium, and the front is entirely of glass, so that he is available at any moment. In one corner of the room is a sliding pole leading through a hole up into the gallery and at the other end is a ladder. The gallery is also accessible through a door from the floor above. That the gymnasium is well lighted will be acknowledged when it is stated that there are no less than ten large windows in it. All these will be screened on the inside to prevent accident. Adjacent to the door leading out on the running gallery is a small apartment containing a sink, and from here a dumb waiter runs to the top of the building. A pantry is just opposite, across the hall, and it is here that provision will be made for supplying the wants of the inner man when receptions are held.

The auditorium is a grand room. It is in the front of the building on the second story, and is 36x40 ft. in size.

THE PLATFORM

is at the south side and from it a speaker can command three adjoining rooms, of large proportions, which are only separated by sliding doors and are easily available when needful, enabling an exceedingly large audience to be accommodated. Arrangements are made for perfect ventilation in the ceiling. The rooms which are adjoining and which can be closed off are designed for the winter educational work, to which department especial attention will be paid hereafter. Another adjoining room has been set aside for the use of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Association. It is very pleasantly located and most bright in appearance.

The Board room is also on this floor. It is to be furnished by the members of the local societies of Christian Endeavour.

The next story is unfurnished as yet, but when the necessary funds are forthcoming will be fitted up as class rooms and apartments for the caretaker.

This then is the description of the interior of the building, the erection of which has been so long and expectantly looked forward to by almost every citizen in the town, as the interests of all have been aroused by the work of the Association and the uphill struggle of its Board of Directors against great difficulties.

The board of directors resolved, at a meeting last night, to open the building for the inspection of the citizens, including ladies, on Monday, Tuesday and Saturday, of next week from 2 o'clock p.m till 6 p.m., when one of the directors will be present to show the premises to visitors. Saturday afternoon is fixed more especially for the benefit of those employed in manufactories who are presumed to have a half holiday.

Mr. G. H. Williamson, the new General Secretary, comes into a large responsibility, with, however, the best possible material equipment in the form of the new buildings, to show the metal he is made of, but his success will depend largely upon the co-operation of his fellow workers and the liberality of the general public. The first secretary of the local Association was Mr. G. H. Williams and he was succeeded by Mr. Stephens and Mr. Herbison. Mr. Colville occupied the position of general secretary for five years, followed successively by Messrs. Chapman, Crowe and Smith, the latter resigning to enter upon somewhat similar work in the Maritime Provinces.

There is something of an interesting coincidence in the matter of the names of the first general secretary of the local Association and the present incumbent, as well as with the founder of the Association, Geo. Williams. The initials of the two secretaries mentioned are the same, and the surnames almost alike, the younger being William-son, he, very properly, succeeding as son the father of the local Association, as far as the secretaryship is concerned.

Look to it that You are well Guarded Against that Stealthy Enemy, Kidney Disease—South American Kidney Cure is the only Remedy Which will Relieve at once and Cure.

Michael McMullin, of Chesley, writes: "I had been troubled with gravel and kidney disease for eight years. At times the pain was so severe I could not lie in one position for any length of time. I took South American Kidney Cure according to directions. I got immediate relief. The soreness and weakness all left. I can testify to the remedy being a wonderful cure." Prospects Brightening.

Mr. C. J. Pusey, President of the Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa Railway, is at the Queen's, says the Globe. Mr. Pusey says that the prospects of an iron smelter being built in the iron district traversed by his railway are looking more promising every day. The settlers are taking the matter up in earnest and a meeting is to be held at Bancroft next Tuesday at which the reeves of twelve townships are to be present and at which the preliminary arrangements for submitting the by-law granting a bonus to the enterprise will be discussed. If the bonus is passed Mr. Pusey says that one of the most modern and up-to-date plants that can be devised will be erected there at once.

Disadvantages of Gold Cure.

Outside of the fault found by physicians, the gold cure has its disadvantages. It necessitates a compulsory retirement into some sanitarium to the inconvenience of the patient and the profit of the specialist in charge. With the ANTI-BOOZE treatment no such seclusion is necessary. It can, when necessary, be administered without the patient's knowledge. Victims of the awful habit are cured and credit the change to their own will power and self-control. This very efficient cure is perfectly harmless, in fact, its ingredients not only take away the craving for liquor, but build up the system and restore the shattered nerves. We'll send you the pills, on receipt of price $1.00 a box, in sealed plain wrapper. Oriental Chemical Co., 20 St. Alexis Street, Montreal.

Attention is also called to the fact that the Government grant to each Institute is dependent upon the report presented and adopted at the annual meeting held on June 1st, which must be forwarded to the Department of Agriculture not later than June 20th, in order to insure a Government grant in 1897. Hereafter such reports are to be published, and it is, therefore, desirable to make them as complete as possible.

Three huge 'lunge took possession of the Riverside Park yesterday afternoon on account of the high water. Being noticed by the rippling of the waters, a couple of sports laid a trap by means of fencing them in, but with a wag of the tail the fish took their departure to deeper water. No doubt the boys could have secured the prize, they having a shot gun in their possession and a pitchfork, but knowing that the season was not open yet, they merely wanted to secure them till they became larger, and then—you know the rest.

Isn't it a pity that so many women go through life as nervous, fretful invalids, always in a sick-bed or on the verge of it. They are to be sincerely pitied for the great majority have in them the making of healthy, amiable, capable wives and mothers. These cases become sadder still when it is realized that the sufferings they endure are unnecessary. Any woman can be healthy and amiable and helpful if she will take care of the health of those delicate organs that are essentially feminine.

The greatest known medicine for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures all weakness and disease of the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, and restores calm and strength to the shattered nerves. It prepares for wifehood and maternity. Over 90,000 women have testified to its virtues. Druggists sell it.

"I commenced using your medicine three days after my child was born," writes Mrs. A. J. Bryant, of Wilbraham, Hampden Co., Mass. (care of Wesleyan Academy). "It was the fourth one, and I never got up so strong and well. I can do all my own work. I have recommended my friends to try the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

If somebody was offering to give away gold mines for the asking what a scrambling there would be! When a mine of health is offered there is some lively scrambling too. Over 680,000 people hurried to get Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser at $1.50 per copy. It has 1,008 pages with over 300 illustrations. Something over 90 of these pages relate to diseases peculiar to women. This book may now be had free. Send 21 one-cent stamps, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. (the cost of customs and mailing only), for book in paper covers; or, 50 stamps for cloth binding.

DIRECT TAXATION

Would be the Only Resort If Prohibition Carried.

THAT IS WHAT THE PREMIER SAYS

The Licensed Victuallers' Deputation Presented Their Views on the Prohibition Plebiscite to Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright—The Arguments.

Ottawa, May 13.—(Special.)—The Licensed Victuallers' deputation waited on the Premier and Sir Richard Cartwright to-day and presented their views in regard to the coming plebiscite. The requests briefly are as follows:

That the plebiscite vote be taken on the Dominion lists, but no man be allowed to vote in two places.

That it shall be made known to the people exactly what the consequence of the vote should be, that the people should know how the revenue should be made up. If by direct taxation the people shall vote on that understanding.

That the Government should say whether compensation would be part of the program, and the people should know before they vote.

That a majority of the total vote should be cast for prohibition.

That no province should have prohibition unless that province should consent.

The deputation included Messrs. J. Haverson, E. Dickey, E. Sullivan and J. G. Gibson, Toronto; F. X. St. Jacques, H. F. Brading, M. Quinn, Ottawa; Harry Maxey and T. Crooks, Hamilton; F. J. Collins, Dundas; John Coffee, Barrie; E. L. Ethier, A. Poitras, L. A. Lapointe, secretary Licensed Victuallers' Association, Montreal; P. E. Dufresne, Three Rivers, and Charles Lemoine, Pembroke.

Mr. Haverson, who was the chief spokesman, stated that he represented the Ontario Licensed Victuallers' Association, with a membership of 10,000, and also the associations in Quebec, Manitoba and other provinces. The business in which he was engaged had become much interested in the proposed plebiscite, and they believed it was necessary to have their views expressed before the vote was submitted to the people. He wished to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that one-fourth of the revenue derived in the Dominion was from the sale of liquor. The question of living was also seriously interfered with. The minority would, he said, be controlled against their will by the majority. Should any of the provinces in the Dominion vote against the law, and it carried in the Dominion, then the province would be coerced into submission. The association was not there to argue against the plebiscite. It was a pledge given by the Government, and he had no doubt the plebiscite would be taken by the Government. They advanced no reason why it should not be taken, but they did desire that great care should be exercised in the taking of it. There was no country where anything similar had been done.

The French plebiscite was not similar, and the only thing that came near the proposed plebiscite was the Swiss referendum, but even it was entirely different. This was a measure that had been passed by the House, then discussed and afterwards submitted to the people for their approval. The people there had the veto power. That referendum was the exact opposite of the proposed plebiscite in Canada. It had been before the world for many years, and no other nation had ever adopted it. It evidently had not been considered a good measure. Switzerland itself was the smallest of the independent states in Europe. It might work well in a small state in Europe, but it would be entirely unworkable in a country like England or Canada. Attempts somewhat similar had been made in Ontario, but had been a failure.

The local option bylaw was passed by the municipal council, then vetoed or adopted by the people. The plebiscite in Ontario in 1894 came nearer to the present proposed one than anything so far. The question submitted then was an abstract one. It was of no value. Members of the Liberal party stated so in the Legislature of Ontario. It had been taken advantage of by politicians, and he would not say but that some such thing might be done even in Dominion politics. The question at any rate was considerably mixed up with politics. In that plebiscite the enthusiastic temperance men and societies had worked hard to swell the vote. Those opposed to it had done nothing because they thought nothing would be accomplished, even if it did carry. If the question was to be submitted to the Dominion in the abstract the same thing might transpire. This would not be a fair and honest vote if so taken.

The question also of the electorate to whom the vote should be submitted was of vast importance. The association was there to ask that no vote be taken on the municipal or provincial lists, but that the Dominion lists be used. They further desired that no man should be allowed to vote twice, and that the Dominion lists be so amended.

How it shall be submitted must also receive consideration. A prohibition commission had been appointed. The association thought that the evidence taken by it should be put before the people. It would be of great use to educate the people to vote intelligently. The body who were urging prohibition were enthusiasts; they did not understand the practical side of the question themselves.

Much of the revenue was derived from the liquor traffic. In the Dominion $8,000,000 revenue would be cut off. The municipalities and provinces would also lose much. The enforcement of prohibition was an important matter. There was no country in the world where there was less chance of enforcing it than in Canada. Lying thousands of miles along the border of the United States, liquors were certain to be smuggled into Canada. The Dominion already has lost annually in Quebec a large sum of money by an illegal traffic. "How shall the revenue be made up?" That was the question that must be answered. There were two ways: 1st, by raising the tariff; and, 2nd, by a direct tax of two dollars each upon every man, woman and child in Canada. He believed that the party in power were not willing to raise the tariff, and the direct tax must then be adopted.

Those engaged in the business had also to be considered. Their entire capital was invested in their business, and thousands were depending upon them for a living. If their traffic was destroyed they must assuredly be compensated. When the slave traffic in England was abolished the owners were compensated, and justly so. Before the vote would be taken it should be clearly and definitely known what the result of the vote meant, what action the Government would take in the event of the carrying of prohibition. The property of a class of citizens would be destroyed, the source of one quarter of the country's revenue would be cut off, individual liberty destroyed, as well as the individual liberty of the province. The association believed that the prohibitionists should be required to have not only half of the votes cast, but at least 50 per cent. of the entire voting strength of the Dominion.

Sir Richard: Can you give us the actual figures in the Ontario plebiscite?

Mr. Haverson replied that he could not. It was, however, necessary that such a great change should be backed up by a great mass of the people. If public opinion did not stand behind the law it was useless.

Mr. Haverson closed by urging that the provinces be not interfered with, and claiming that the Dominion had no right to pass such a law for the provinces.

THE PREMIER'S REPLY.

Direct Taxation Would be the Only Resort in Case of Prohibition.

Premier Laurier, in rising to speak, was warmly applauded. He said the Government was bound to have an honest and fair expression of the people. There was a difference between temperance people and prohibitionists. He wished the distinction to be understood. There were many temperance people who did not desire prohibition. There were many difficulties to be met by the Government. They did not desire an academic answer, but a fair and practical answer. As to who the electorate should be, he was satisfied that they should be the persons who elected the Dominion Parliament. As to whether there should be "one man, one vote," he was not prepared to say. If the Government did that they might be subjected to the charge of preparing a special law for a special case. The matter of revenue was a very important one.

Eight million dollars wiped out at once was a serious consideration. It must be met in some way. There were only the two ways suggested, that of raising the tariff and that of a direct tax. The former could not be adopted by the Government, as the limit of taxation from customs had been reached. Then the latter must. He believed the temperance men were willing to pay the direct tax. They had so stated. A man who cast his vote and was not prepared to stand by it was disloyal. The electors must understand the consequences. The bill would be framed with great care at an early day. The question of compensation was not so important. Good precedents had been quoted, and the views of the association would be carefully considered. The question was one which could be discussed. He was not prepared to say what the conclusive vote should be, whether it should be a majority of the whole electorate, or a majority of the vote cast, but he admitted that the expression of opinion must be unmistakable. If the people expressed their will the Government would abide by it. The case was embarrassing. All admitted that the law must be strongly supported and strictly enforced.

Local option in his native Province of Quebec had proved a success. The people were well satisfied with it, and he did not think they would care to part with it. True, it was a difficulty to think that even if a province did pronounce against it they would have to submit to the will of the great majority.

Sir Richard Cartwright spoke briefly. He was pleased with all he had heard and admitted that there were great difficulties, but the Government would deal with them and endeavor to do their duty to all classes.

Experience proves the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures all forms of blood diseases, tones the stomach, builds up the nerves.

The Russian Press.

The press of St. Petersburg has just been re-enforced by half a dozen new daily papers, which bring the total of all the journals and periodicals now appearing in the Russian capital up to about 250. The chief of the new publications are The Echoes of the World, The People, The Morning and The Ray of Light, all of which start with elaborate programs. Altogether in Russia there are now about 780 journals and reviews, as compared with 440 in 1882; but there is no relaxation of the vexatious control of the censorship, nor is there any evidence of greater tolerance of liberal criticism beyond the narrow limits permitted under Alexander III.

Coin in a Potato.

Thomas McNamara of Lexington, Ky., made a queer find the other day, according to a local paper. "While assorting a lot of potatoes to select the frozen from the good ones, he came across a peculiar looking potato and laid it aside. Shortly after he examined the article and decided on breaking it open. What was his surprise to find safely in the heart of the potato a sound silver dollar with the date 1885 engraved thereon. No one can account for the appearance of the coin except on the theory that the farmer who had done the planting had dropped the dollar in a hill and the potato had grown around it."

Automatic Singer.

An "automatic singer" has been exhibited in Paris. The voice can be heard 220 yards off. The apparatus is said to be simple.

"IN SICKNESS AND IN HEALTH."

Man and Wife Join Hands in Proclaiming the Great South American Nervine King of Cures for Stomach Trouble and Nerves.

Mr. S. Phillips, of Wiarton, Ont., writes: "I was very much emaciated by chronic dysentery and dyspepsia for a number of years. No remedy or no physician seemed to successfully cope with my case. When all else had failed I read of the cures being effected by South American Nervine. I decided to give it a trial. Before I had taken half a bottle I was much improved and felt greatly relieved. A few bottles of it have made me a new man. I am better and healthier than I had felt for years." His wife was also a great sufferer from stomach trouble and headaches. She says: "Seeing the wonderful effect it was having on my husband, I tried it also. The remedy gave me almost instant relief, and has cured and made a strong woman of me." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

THE BEST
FAMILY MEDICINE
She Has Used ... Words of Praise from a New York Lady for
AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 303 Rider Avenue, New York City.

SCIATIC, OUCH

Excruciating Pains—Have You Suffered Rheumatic or Sciatic Pains?—South American Rheumatic Cure will Relieve in 6 Hours and Cure.

"I suffered intensely with rheumatism and sciatica in my left hip. I tried a great many remedies and a number of physicians, but they could do very little for me, only giving me at times a little temporary relief. I saw South American Rheumatic Cure advertised and decided to give it a trial. The first few doses benefitted me wonderfully, and after taking only two bottles the pains disappeared, and there has been no return. I consider my cure a marvel, as I had been so bad for two years, that had I been given the whole universe I could not lie on my left side." E. Errett, Merrickville, Ont. Sold by H.S. Macdonald.

A Cent a Year.

Charles Burton carries the mail daily, except Sunday between two towns 20 miles apart, receiving for this the munificent reward of one cent a year, says the Samford, Ky., Interior Journal. It is necessary for him to travel 40 miles a day, or 12,520 miles during the year.

The payments on star routes are made quarterly, and the question arises as to how Uncle Sam is going to pay the quarter of a cent, but the contractor will not likely sue if the payments are postponed until the last quarter, and then the Government can forward the copper, which will be in full. The worst part about the business is that Mr. Burton has the contract for four years at the same rate.

The cause of the remarkably low price for the contract is that Burton was determined to have the route over an enemy who was also a bidder, and besides he has stages and horses which he has been using for years for the purpose.

Sound Biking Philosophy.

The riding of a bicycle does not change a man's disposition. When in the saddle he will do just about the same as he will under ordinary circumstances and if he is naturally a "tough" he will remain so after he becomes a wheelman. The man who expects every one to make way for him when he approaches would have the same idea whether on a wheel or in a carriage or wagon. The man who thinks that he owns a large slice of the earth would demonstrate his belief in some other way if he did not do it awheel, and the scorcher would, if a driver, doubtless run just as much risk of arrest for fast driving, and be caught about as often.

A New Hollyhock.

The fringed hollyhock allegheny is an entirely new departure in this grand old garden favorite which has much to commend itself. The mammoth flowers are wonderfully formed of loosely arranged fringed petals, which look as if made from the finest china silk, and when out are hardly recognizable as a hollyhock, having none of the formality of the ordinary type. The color varies from the palest shrimp pink to deep red. The plants are of majestic growth, sending up spikes 6 to 7 feet high and are of a strong constitution, not being troubled with the disease so prevalent among hollyhocks. In a free and persistent flowering, it is quite distinct from the old type, coming into bloom in June and lasting until frost, every bud opening and the plant looking well at all times.

Of all the nerve-tonics—bromos, celerics or nervines—your doctor will tell you that the Hypophosphites are best understood. So thoroughly related is the nervous system to disease that some physicians prescribe Hypophosphites alone in the early stages of Consumption. Scott's Emulsion is Cod-liver Oil, emulsified, with the Hypophosphites, happily blended. The result of its use is greater strength and activity of the brain, the spinal cord and the nerves.

RAILWAYS WILL FIGHT.

They Don't Propose to Allow the Wheelmen to Walk Over Them Other Items From the Capital

Ottawa, May 13.—(Special.)—The railway companies are not going to submit to Mr. Casey's bicycle bill becoming law without a struggle, and they are industriously circulating information on the subject. A statement prepared by general baggage agents of railways in the State of Illinois, dealing exhaustively with the subject, is supplied by the G. T. R. The objection is taken that bicycles cannot be termed baggage unless they are packed in trunks or other suitable receptacles. On account of the greater time, care and labor required in the handling of bicycles, any marked increase in the number of bicycles to be handled must increase the cost and expense of this handling, and it is proper to consider where and how this expense is to be met, if no charge is to be imposed on the carriage of bicycles. At present rates, very few railroads in the country are making money. The railroads cannot increase their passenger rates, and the only way that seems possible to meet this additional expense—the employment of additional employes in the baggage department at the principal points—is to reduce the pay of such employes in order that the total expense may not be enlarged. The direct result, therefore, of compulsory legislation, requiring the free carriage of bicycles by common carriage, is to do so at the expense of labor, for that is where it must ultimately, if not immediately, fall. Attention is called to the fact that the minimum charge in Great Britain is equivalent to 25 cents, the same as in America, but applying only to a haul of 12 miles or less, and increasing to a charge of $1 before a change in the minimum rate is made here. Thus a bicycle will be transported 100 miles in America for 25 cents, while in Great Britain the charge would be equivalent to $1 for the same service, or four times as much.

Mr. Courtney, Honorary Secretary of the Indian Famine Fund, takes exception to the newspaper statement that Canadian subscriptions to the famine fund have not reached India. He says this is incorrect, as five and a half lakhs of rupees (equivalent to $167,000) have been sent through the Bank of Montreal to the Central Committee at Calcutta and have been duly acknowledged.

His Excellency the Governor-General has just received acknowledgment by cable of the last instalment of half a lakh of rupees, as follows: "Renewed warmest thanks for additional remittances. Canada's great sympathy very highly valued. (Signed) Sir Francis McLean, Calcutta."

"I think the subject of sufficient importance," says Mr. Courtney, "to demand that the public should be made aware of the incorrectness of the statement alluded to."

Hon. Mr. Blair gives notice that he will move that the following clause be inserted in the act respecting the James Bay Railway Company: "Any act which may hereafter be passed for the purpose of controlling railway companies incorporated by or subject to this Parliament, as to the issuing of its stock or bonds, and as to its rates or tolls, and the regulation thereof, and as to its running powers over, or other rights in connection with, the railway of any company, by any other company, and the exercise of powers conferred upon railway companies, shall apply to the company hereby incorporated from the time such act goes into effect, and also that the same clause be added to the bills respecting the Langenberg & Southern Railway and the Medicine Hat Railway and Coal Company."

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 31 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

A Voice from Virden.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used Hagyard's Yellow Oil for the past ten years, and find it a splendid remedy for colic, neuralgia, bronchitis, croup, pains in the back, ulcerated and sore throat, sprains, chilblains, etc., in fact we use it for almost every pain, and it always relieves quickly. I can safely say I know of no other remedy of the sort that can equal it. We always keep a good stock in the house.

MRS. J I. MADGE.

Cattle Individuality.

Cows have their individuality somewhat as people have theirs. Some require a little more of one thing and others of another. One cow may be able to digest a great deal more food, or food of another kind, than can another cow. This is why I say common sense should rule. Get acquainted with your animals, and learn to know their particular or individual needs. Find out for yourself the eating and digestive capacity of each animal, and then give the rations accordingly. When the cow gives her full ration of milk, without either losing in flesh or getting fat, and as long as to all appearances she is in good health and her functions perfect, your ration must be all right and properly balanced. If the animal gets fat, you will have to reduce the amount of cornmeal in the grain mixture; if she gets thin, you can add cornmeal and also increase the number of pounds in the daily allowance, or the meal mixture. If the cow's bowels are too loose, reduce the quantity of oilmeal, adding more bran (feeding dry); if the animal is rather costive, you can give more oilmeal, and the bran in the form of mash or scalded slops. If the cow eats her ration, then lies down contentedly to chew her cud, she probably receives as much as is necessary. If she remains standing, apparently waiting or calling for more food, you can somewhat increase the ration. All these are general rules, but they are safe ones if applied with good judgment. A cow that has as much of the meal mixture as she can make good use of for best results may be given all the good, bright straw she wants, and she will not be likely to eat more of it than is good for her. Of course, a cow should have water several times a day—and surely it would be an advantage if she could get at it any time that she desires. I like to give the water slightly warmed during very cold weather.—Farm and Fireside.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00.

Pushing Early Lambs.

The principal object to be secured in raising early lambs for market is to mature a fine animal of good size and condition as early as possible. Earliness and good weight are the two principal items to be secured, and care should be taken to secure these as rapidly and as economically as possible.

One important item is to give the lambs an early start. The first few days is the most important time, and if by neglect it is stunted at this time, no after treatment will entirely overcome the effects. It should be fed and cared for in a way that will best enable her to supply plenty of good milk.

When the ewes are fed liberally with ground feed and the troughs are of sufficient length to admit of the lambs eating by the side of their dams, the lambs will learn to eat when very young.

Whenever they have learned to eat fairly well a separate place should be provided for them, where they can be fed by themselves. This should be arranged so that the lambs can run in and out at will. They should be fed in this pen at least twice a day. Wheat bran, chopped feed, oilmeal, combined with cornmeal, makes a good combination.

While it is an item to feed liberally, it can hardly be said to be a good plan to keep feed before them all of the time.

The quicker they can be taught to eat and the better they are fed the better growth it will be possible to secure, and the less drain it will be upon the ewes.

By feeding the ewes liberally so that they can supply plenty of milk, and feeding the lambs liberally, a quick growth can be readily maintained, and usually the earlier they are ready for market and the better their condition the higher price it is possible to obtain.—Western Rural.

Dropsy Cured with one Bottle.

A great cure and a great testimony. "For ten years I suffered greatly from Heart Disease, Fluttering of the Heart and Smothering Spells, made my life a torment. I was confined to my bed. Dropsy set in. My physician told me to prepare for the worst. I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—one dose gave me great relief, one bottle cured the Dropsy and my heart."—Mrs James Adams, Syracuse, N.Y. Sold by H.S. Macdonald.

The Wonder of the Age.

DEAR SIRS,—I must honestly say that I have tried your valuable medicine B.B.B. for the disease called prairie itch, and have found this remedy to be the wonder of the age. I took only three bottles and to my great satisfaction was completely cured. I can highly recommend it to all who suffer from any skin disease or impurity of the blood.

Jim Bludso in Real Life.

An incident realizing John Hay's famous story of Jim Bludso, engineer of the Prairie Belle, who held her "nozzle agin the bank till the last galoot" was ashore, has occurred here on the Chattahoochee River in the wreck of the steamer Griggs. The steamer struck a snag and ripped open her bottom. She began to fill and the pilot headed her to a sand bar, while the engineer crowded on all steam, though the water was already over a portion of the deck. Reaching the sand bar the vessel careened, and the water rushing in caught the brave engineer at his post in the engine room. He died there. Two other persons were lost, a roustabout, who became frightened and jumped overboard, and a negro woman, who became panic-stricken and refused to leave the lower deck. All the others were saved, thanks to the devotion of the engineer. Most of the telegraphic accounts do not give the man's name, and none of them relates that he died to save his boat. The story is reported by a negro deckhand, and is doubtless a true one. The hero's name was Waterberry.—Mobile Daily Register.

MASON & RISCH
PIANOS
Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

A RELIGIOUS CEREMONY IN IRELAND.

A Niece of Mr. James Dolan Takes the Veil.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal contains the following paragraph. The Miss Dolan mentioned is a cousin of Mr. James Dolan, town:

RECEPTION AT THE URSULINE CONVENT, SLIGO.

At the Ursuline Convent, St. Joseph's, Sligo, on Thursday morning a very solemn and impressive ceremony took place on the occasion of the Reception, into the Ursuline Order, of Miss Beatrice Dolan, of Clontarf, Dublin, and Miss Delany, of Longford. Both young ladies, neither of whom has yet seen her eighteenth birthday, have been amongst the most distinguished pupils of this Convent in recent years, and although surrounded by all that was calculated to render secular life attractive they elected to renounce the world and follow in the footsteps of St. Angela Merici. The Most Rev. Dr. Clancy, Bishop of the Diocese, attended by the local clergy, officiated at the ceremony, at which the most Rev. Dr. Dyster, Bishop of Achonry, was also present. After the Reception the Rev. Mother Superior of the Convent entertained their lordships, the clergy and the numerous relatives and friends of the youthful novices at a very sumptuous dejeuner.

What to Drink.

It is now generally recognized by physicians that tea and coffee are unwholesome beverages. They each contain a harmful substance known as caffein or theine, of which seven grains will kill a small animal. Many nervous disorders, the origin of which is not suspected, are due to the use of tea and coffee. Physicians now recognize a "tea drinker's disorder" as a result of the use of tea and coffee. Both tea and coffee prevent the digestion of starch and give rise to various forms of indigestion. Madden Cereal, the new substitute for tea and coffee, is a product of our own fields. It has a delicious fragrance and flavor, as well as possessing medical properties that have attracted the attention of the most eminent physicians by whom it is now used and prescribed. It is only half the price of coffee and can be had from any grocer.

WHERE IS THE GAS?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Will you allow me space in your columns to ask the Gas Company, What is the matter with the gas? It is bad enough in my residence for lighting purposes, but where I absolutely get no use of it is in connection with my gas stove. Will the Town Council give a little attention to this question, and endeavour to see that we get some value for the great privileges given to a heartless combination. The Auburn Company did enough "kicking" until they obtained practically what they were after, then the public interest ceased, and the great public are allowed to pay for light that is not up to quality, and the franchise still out of the possession of the citizens.

Let the Light Company give us full strength of electric current and make the gas end of the machine flow more freely.

Yours,
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

SCALY SKIN HUMOR

Body, Head, and Arms Covered With Spots Like Drops Of Mortar.

Skin Came Off in Layers. Doctors Useless. Suffered for a Year Without Relief.

Almost Given Up Hope. Cured in 8 Weeks by CUTICURA. Skin Nice and Clear as a Baby's.

I was afflicted with an obstinate skin disease, called by some doctors Eczema and others Psoriasis. My body, head, and arms were covered with spots like drops of mortar, and which came off in layers of dry scales. I suffered for over a year without relief, and consulted several doctors but without aid, and I had almost given up hope, as my case was a bad one. I happened to see an advertisement about CUTICURA REMEDIES and got them, took them according to directions, and in eight weeks I was as well as ever. I consider myself cured, for my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIES have done for me.

GEO. REABURN, Hanover, Ontario, Can.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are beyond all doubt the greatest skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies of modern times. They are no long-drawn-out expensive experiment. A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, a single application of CUTICURA (ointment), the great skin cure, and a full dose of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, greatest of blood purifiers and humor cures, will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure of the most torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating of itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, pimply, and crusted skin and scalp humors with loss of hair, when all else fails.

ABUNDANCE OF GOLD

The Wondrous Wealth of the Yukon Country

AS REPORTED BY MR. W. OGILVIE

Where Men Scoop Out Dirt With Hundreds of Dollars in Each Pan—Prospecting Has Only Begun and There are Indications of Millions of Dollars.

Ottawa, May 16.—(Special.)—If Mr. William Ogilvie, the enterprising explorer for the Interior Department, were not known as a reliable man, people would hardly credit the wonderful reports of gold discoveries in the Yukon which he sends to the Government. Some extracts from his reports are as follows: Every report that comes in from Bonanza Creek is more encouraging than the last. Prospecting has only begun, and up to date of mailing (Nov. 22) very rich prospects have been found on the few claims prospected on. From one dollar to the pan of dirt up to twelve dollars are reported and no bed rock found yet. This means from $1000 to $12,000 per day per man sluicing. The excitement is intense, but at this season of the year it is naturally very local.

"I have just heard from a reliable source that the quartz in the Klondak is very rich as tested—over one hundred dollars to the ton. This lode appears to run from 3 to 8 feet in thickness, and is about 19 miles from the Yukon River. I will likely be called on to survey it, and will be able to report fully.

"Placer prospects continue more and more encouraging, and extraordinary. It is beyond doubt that three pans on different claims on Eldorado turned out $204, $212 and $216, out it must be borne in mind that there were only three such pans, though there are many running from $10 to $50.

"The discovery of the Bonanza Creek was made by G. W. Cormack, who worked with me in 1887 on the coast range. There are two other creeks above it, which it is confidently expected will yield good pay, and if they do so we will have from 800 to 1000 claims on the river, which will require over 2000 men for their proper working. This new find will necessitate an upward step on the Yukon, and will help the Stewart River region.

"News has just arrived from Bonanza Creek that three men worked out $75 in four hours the other day, and a $12 nugget had been found, which assures the character of the ground, namely, coarse gold and plenty of it. As three times this can be done with sluice boxes you can fancy the excitement here. It is claimed that from $100 to $500 per day can be made off the ground that has been prospected so far.

"Since my last the prospects on Bonanza Creek and tributaries are increasing in richness and extent, until now it is certain that millions will be taken out of the district in the next few years. On some of the claims prospected the pay dirt is of great extent and very rich. One man told me yesterday that he washed out a single pan of dirt on one of the claims on Bonanza and found $14.25 in it. Of course that may be an exceptionally rich pan, but $5 to $7 per pan is the average on that claim it is reported, with five feet of pay dirt and the width yet undetermined, but it is known to be 30 feet. Even at that figure the result at 9 to 10 pans to the cubic foot and 500 feet long—nearly $4,000,000 at $5 per pan—one-fourth of this would be enormous.

"Another claim has been prospected to such an extent that it is known there is about five feet of pay dirt, averaging $12 per pan, and the width is not less than 30 feet. Enough prospecting has been done to show that there are at least fifteen miles of this extraordinary richness, and the indications are that we will have three or four times that extent, if not all equal to the above, at least very rich.

"Good quartz is also reported on the hills around Bonanza Creek, but of this I will be able to speak more fully after my proposed survey. When it was fairly established that Bonanza Creek was rich in gold—which took a few days, for Klondyke had been prospected several times, with the encouraging result—there was a great rush from all over the country adjacent to forty miles. The town was almost deserted. Men who had been in a chronic state of drunkenness for weeks were pitched into boats as ballast and taken up to stake themselves a claim, and claims were staked by all men for their friends who were not in the country at the time. All this gave rise to such conflict and confusion—there being no one present to take charge of matters, the agent being unable to go up and attend to the thing, and myself not yet knowing what to do—that the miners held a meeting and appointed one of themselves to measure off and stake the claims and record the owners' names in connection therewith, for which he got a fee of $2, it being of course understood that each claim-holder would have to record his claim with the Dominion agent and pay his fee of $15."

THE M'LEOD MURDER.

Disagreement of the Jury in the Case of John Hughes to the Great Disgust of the Judge

Napanee, May 15. When John F. Troy was being tried for the murder of Angus McLeod, he, in his evidence, implicated John Hughes, a pal, stating that he was with him in McLeod's house when the shooting was done, as well as another man named Penn. The Grand Jury were recalled to consider the charge against Hughes, and they brought in a true bill. To-day the case came up for trial.

The first witness called was John F. Troy. He stated that he was prepared to tell the truth, knowing that it would make no difference in his sentence. He said: "I knew Hughes some months previous to the murder with Hughes in Port Hope a few days previous to the murder of McLeod. I also know Penn, his real name, I think, is Fitzgerald. He was called Penn because he came from Pennsylvania. We left Port Hope and came to Cobourg. At Cobourg we were searched by Chief Rankin. He did not find revolvers on us because we hid them. Penn and I had revolvers. Hughes and I left Cobourg together, Penn staying behind to get the revolvers. When I made the first statement I thought Penn was in the penitentiary at Jackson, that is why I said I stayed behind for the revolvers. When Hughes and I got to Trenton Penn overtook us. The three of us took a train to Bellville. It was a coal train. From there we came on to Napanee, arriving quite late. We got off the train at the section house and went to a barn, which is a tramps' resort. We stayed at the barn for a while, and I thought it was time to begin work. We intended to burglarize Napanee. It was our intention to prowl in Cobourg, and would have done so had not Chief Rankin seen us. The three of us went down town. We picked upon McLeod's house because, according to our method, the people appeared to be in good circumstances. We tried a house a little west of McLeod's house, but could not get in. I raised the window in McLeod's house and the three of us went in. We had some lunch from a cupboard down stairs and then unlocked the front door to make escape easy. We went upstairs and found a satchel containing money. I took some of the money from it. I found a cash box and upon shaking it found something in it. I went to get something to pry the box open, when I heard voices. I thought it was a case of "corral." Told Penn and Hughes I heard a noise as if people were getting up. Hughes put out the light. I said: "Keep back there." Penn said: "Keep back there, Mr. Man, or I'll blow your head off." I fired a shot and rushed down stairs.

Penn fired a second shot. I fired a shot. Hughes had no revolver. Penn got out first and ran. Hughes went out by the side door. I never saw Penn after he went out. After I fired the shot I heard a moan.

Prisoner identified the hat which was left in the house that night as his.

We went up to the station from the house. I hid my revolver in a culvert. When we got to the station I heard a train coming, and we laid down upon the ground so we would not be seen. Prisoner related their trip east and in Vermont State, and how long he had been in the penitentiary.

Mrs. McLeod, Dr. Leonard, Joseph E. Rogers and G. M. Elliott were the other witnesses examined. Mr. W. H. Perry made an excellent address to the jury, which was followed by Mr. W. R. Riddell, Crown prosecutor.

His Lordship made a brief address to the jury, which was certainly in favor of the prisoner. He said he would advise them to acquit the prisoner, but if they were satisfied in their minds that, according to the evidence, he was with Troy in the house, they must bring him in guilty. He told them that they must not rely upon the evidence of Troy, because he was considered as an accomplice.

At 1.20 the jury retired, and after being out an hour and 50 minutes were recalled by His Lordship to explain matters in connection with the remarks made by him before they retired. They again went out, and after 15 minutes were recalled and reported they could not agree. His Lordship said it was a deplorable affair that they could not agree, and asked them to again retire and come to an agreement. They again retired, and after an absence of 20 minutes returned with a report that they could not agree.

His Lordship said it was a most deplorable state of affairs that they could not agree. The prisoner, he said, must remain in the jail at the expense of the county until the next assizes. He then discharged the jury from further duties.

His Lordship told Troy that they could not pass sentence upon him until the next assizes, and he must remain in the jail until after Hughes is again tried.

His Lordship complimented Messrs. U. M. Wilson and W. H. Perry upon the able manner in which they had defended the prisoner.

Mr. Riddell, Crown prosecutor, also spoke in complimentary terms of Mr. Wilson's excellent cross-examining and of Mr. Perry's able address to the jury.

TURKEY'S DEMANDS.

The Porte Wants Thessaly and Ten Million Pounds

BEFORE THE WAR WILL BE STOPPED

Reply to the Note of the Powers Requesting a Cessation of Hostilities—Germany and Russia Find Their Plans Have Got Them in an Ugly Position.

Constantinople, May 16.—The Porte has replied officially to the note of the powers, and declines to agree to an armistice until the following conditions are accepted: The annexation of Thessaly, an indemnity of £10,000,000 Turkish and the abolition of the capitulation. The Porte proposes that the plenipotentiaries of the powers should meet at Pharsalos to discuss the terms of peace, and declares that if these conditions are declined the Turkish army will continue to advance.

The demand for the annexation of Thessaly is based upon the fact that the province was originally ceded to Greece on the advice of the powers, with the object of ending brigandage and Greek incursions in Ottoman territory, the Porte believing at the time that the cession would attain these objects, but the recent incursions of Greek bands and the events immediately preceding the war have proved to the contrary. This is the substance of the reply.

The Ambassadors met to-day to consider the Porte's answer, which is regarded as raising an extremely grave issue. It is believed that representations will be made to the Sultan personally to induce a modification of these terms, but it is foreseen that this will be very difficult owing to the attitude of the powerful Old Turk war party.

If the Porte should prove obdurate a European conference is not improbable, although at present Russia is opposed to such a step. It is regarded as quite certain that the powers will not consent to a retrocession of Thessaly. Even Germany is believed to be resolute on this point, because it would involve a violation of the Berlin treaty and imperil the peace of the Balkans.

Altogether the reply of the Porte has caused the greatest surprise. It appears that during the discussion of the note from the powers by the council of the Sultan's Ministers news reached the Council that 3000 Greeks had landed at Prilona and were marching to Janina with the intention of co-operating with other forces from Arta. This created a bad impression among the Ministers.

The Council of Ministers met again to-day, and the Sultan has ordered a distribution of troops at various points along the Salonica railway.

Official despatches have been received from the commandant at Janina, who says that a division of the Greek forces approaching the town at a narrow gorge from the direction of Gremenitza, charged the Heights of Grikoro and Kokomaria, but suffered heavily, losing 200 killed, while on the other side the Greeks were driven back upon Paskenpru (Paraskevi). The commandant also states that fighting has occurred at Kumuzades. No further details are given except that all these battles lasted until evening, and that the Imperial troops retained their position, with the probability that the Greeks will be reinforced and the fighting renewed on the morrow. No statement is made as to the Turkish losses.

The Turkish commander at Luros telegraphs under yesterday's date as follows: The outcome of a desperate battle, lasting two days, against a force of 15,000 Greeks, is that the latter have abandoned the positions of the heights they had previously captured, and have withdrawn to the olive groves at Gremenitza.

THE KAISER AND THE CZAR

May Come to Regret That They Have Backed the Wily Sultan.

New York, May 16 Commenting on the Greco-Turkish war, Mr. Ford in his London letter to The Tribune to-day says: Signs are not wanting that the two Emperors who are mainly responsible for the Turks' military triumph will now find themselves embarrassed by his vast increase of prestige. The Czar and his advisers have been acting on the theory that Russia must have no petty rivals when the Ottoman Empire breaks up, and consequently have allowed Greece to be crushed, but they now perceive that the Sultan, instead of being dependent upon Russian protection, is now disposed to act for himself, and may prove unmanageable when Europe attempts to intervene on behalf of the Greeks. The downfall of the Ottoman Empire has been deferred indefinitely by the revival of the Turkish military power, and that is not a result over which Russia can rejoice, especially when the Sultan has humiliated his sister, the Crown Princess of Greece, with whom he had quarrelled, and while he has been on the winning side a friend and ally of the Sultan, is now conscious of the fact that the financial losses of the campaign will fall mainly upon the Fatherland. The bulk of the Greek debt is held in Germany, and with the Sultan bent upon obtaining a heavy indemnity, with the Greek fleet as security for it, the repudiation of its financial obligations by the bankrupt kingdom is inevitable. The two Emperors have dragged the European powers behind them in a campaign of diplomacy almost as farcical as the burlesque military campaign of the Greeks, and in the end the Sultan alone is master of the revels. Meanwhile France is irritated by evidence that the value of her own allegiance with Russia has greatly diminished.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Conservative defeat in Quebec is bad enough, but we don't know exactly how bad it is till we see the papers calling it a "deringolade."

THE Belleville Sun has the following snappy comment:—"If they are going to distribute titles this year, bicyclists generally would be pleased to see the member for West Elgin made a Casey, M. G." Somebody should puncture the Sun's tire.

THE Montreal Star, a Conservative journal, with all the zeal of a new convert, so far recognizes the situation as to remark: "The Tories are now in the happy position of being able to hit every head they see without fear that they may damage the cranium of a friend."

HEAVY snow in England in May, when all the snow we have in Canada is confined to the odorus drift of apple blossoms that whiten the earth, should lead Mr. Rudyard Kipling to severely revise his poetical appellation of Canada, "Our Lady of the Snows."

WE see the result when the electors of Quebec are left to independent choice in the exercise of the franchise. It is stated that Mgr. del Val, the Papal delegate, through his secretary, M. S. Tampieri, wrote for publication to reassure the electors that "everyone is free in conscience to vote for the candidate he prefers" (chacun est libre en conscience de voter pour le candidat qu'il prefere). The Quebec voters, were, it seems from the result, enlightened enough to accept with gratitude this encouragement from the representative of the Pope to exercise freely the right of franchise.

HON. MR. FISHER, Minister of Agriculture, is always on the alert for the promotion of our cattle interests. For the better prevention of the introduction of infectious disease amongst animals he has been authorized by order in Council to declare any railway car or other conveyance bringing animal manures into Canada an infected place, within the meaning of the animal contagious diseases act whenever he shall have reason to believe or suspect that such may be a source of danger as respects the introduction of disease.

WE should be cautious of taking American spread-eagle statements at par. From time to time word comes from United States points that American machinery is driving British machinery out of the world's markets. In particular, it is often described how American locomotives are preferred to English ones abroad. This seems, says the Ottawa Journal, on a par with the "Made in Germany" bogey. London Engineering for April expresses much pleasure at the great increase in the exports of British built locomotives, which have been rapidly growing of late years. The trade in March, 1897, was nearly double that of 1896.

A Conservative newspaper opposes the removal of the British embargo, imposed through the supineness and carelessness of the late government, upon Canadian cattle imported into Great Britain on the singular ground that it will create a demand that will deplete Canadian herds. But that is just what is wanted. The Canadian farmer is anxious to have his stock depleted if he can secure good or even fair prices. The stock grower raises cattle to sell and will be pleased to have his best market—the British market—improved. If the removal of the embargo will deplete Canadian herds the enterprising Canadian farmer will speedily see that other stock takes the place of that sold in England.

THE (England Yorkshire Post thus refers to the effects of the Canadian tariff: "Certain manufacturing classes in Canada whose business has grown up under a stringent protective tariff, may lose thereby; but why should the farmers of Canada and the labourers, be compelled to support these classes? Canadian manufacturers are not profitable to the nation is they are not self-supporting, and to tax the farmers for their benefit is as unwise as it would be in this country to put import duties upon food." One would think that an "infant" industry that has been pap fed for eighteen years, was near enough its majority to be self-supporting. The larger part of the citizens of this country are earning their own living, and in many cases, helping others, at the age of eighteen years.

MILLIONAIRE MACDONALD, the Montreal manufacturer of tobacco, has, says the Sarnia Observer, closed up his factory and laid off 1,000 hands in the hope of bluffing the Government into a reconsideration of its intention to make the tobacco industry contribute a little more to the public exchequer. Mr. Macdonald is not getting very much sympathy from his Conservative friends. A Toronto World despatch says that "although W. C. Macdonald, the Montreal tobacco manufacturer, has made millions of dollars out of the National Policy, he was never known to subscribe to a Conservative election. In fact, when Col. Henshaw called upon Mr. Macdonald and asked him to give something to the Sir John Macdonald monument, the millionaire replied that he would not give a cent, but if they would build a free thought hall he might assist them.

THE CHEESE SITUATION.

Great interest is being taken in the cheese trade and its outlook, says the Trade Bulletin, and considering that it means a revenue of $12,000,000 to $14,000,000 to this country for the coming season, there would naturally be a great deal of attention given to the trend of values on the threshold of the new season. That the production in Canada will be fully as large as that of last year, there can be little doubt, as the favourable windup last fall and the opening of this year's prices will stimulate farmers to put their full complement of milk into the production of this leading article of export. As to the future of values, much will entirely depend upon the nature of the demand from England, and on this point there should be no falling off, at least judging from the almost complete clearance of old English cheese, due to the large shortage in last year's make. Writing upon this subject, an English firm says that it fears there will not be sufficient old stock to carry the trade through, and that it will be compelled to draw supplies of new from this side to fill the wants of old cheese for June consumption. Another English firm writes that it hopes there will be no need to call for new Canadian cheese to any extent until prices recede to 42s c.i.f.; but it fears a demand in this direction will have to be made earlier than usual, owing to exhausted supplies of old cheese. It is quite possible that the short make of English cheese last year may be more felt this season than expected, it being maintained that it will take two ordinary years to repair the big shrinkage of last season. Respecting the demand, it is only reasonable to assume that English buyers want above the average quantity of goods for June and July, owing to the immense influx of foreigners who will attend the Queen's Jubilee, letting alone the prosperous times throughout Great Britain which are favourable for a large consumption of cheese by the great masses of the population. Taking these things into consideration, the outlook certainly does not point to a very low range of values for some time to come. On the other hand, however, there are those who have recently offered cheese for June to September delivery at 42s to 43s c. i. f., on the other side, and talk the market weak with a downward tendency, although buyers say they have to pay well up in order to get the goods. The Liverpool cable is steady at 55s.

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood-disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then don't be an invalid.

"I will be glad to do so."

"When did you first notice symptoms of kidney complaint?"

"Something over three years ago."

"What were the prominent symptoms?"

"Pains in my back so that I could hardly stoop, no end of headaches, dizziness, puffing under my eyes, swelling of the hands and feet, sleeplessness and urinary difficulties."

"I presume you suffered greatly?"

"Yes, I suffered intensely."

"Did you try any other remedies?"

"Yes, I tried a number of different medicines, but none of them helped me. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, however, I got a box.

"Did they have a good effect?"

"Yes, they are a perfect cure. From the first few doses I got relief, and the improvement continued, until, after using them for six weeks the pains are gone. My appetite has returned, I sleep well, the dizziness, puffing, swelling and headaches have entirely disappeared, and I am better in every way than I have been for years."

"What do you think cured you?"

"Nothing else but Doan's Kidney Pills caused this remarkable cure, and I heartily recommend them to all those who suffer as I did." 182

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

The Premier of Queensland Visiting the Capital.

AN INTERESTING CHAT WITH HIM

He is a Lancashire Man on His Way to the Jubilee Festivities After 34 Years' Absence From the Mother Land—An Advocate of Woman Suffrage.

Ottawa, May 16. (Special.)—There arrived here to-day a distinguished colonial visitor in the person of Hon. R. J. Seddon, Premier of New Zealand, who is on his way to England to take part in the Jubilee festivities. Mr. Seddon is accompanied by his wife, two daughters and his private secretary, Mr. Crowe. He came to Ottawa via San Francisco, as the Huddart steamers have not yet commenced their calls at a New Zealand port. Mr. Seddon's agents had mapped out his route from San Francisco to New York and Washington via Chicago and the Falls, but he told your correspondent that he was too much of a Britisher to miss the opportunity of visiting Canada.

The New Zealand Premier is a tall, well-built Englishman of about 58 years of age, a Lancashire man by birth, who is returning home after the lengthy absence of 34 years. New Zealand is to be represented at the Jubilee festivities by a contingent of 50 mounted infantry, a volunteer force and 20 Maoris (native soldiers). The regulars of the colony are artillery, but none of these are included in the force.

Mr. Seddon speaks in high terms of the Maoris. He says they have repeatedly demonstrated their courage and make splendid soldiers. There are about 40,000 of these aborigines still in the colony.

Your correspondent asked the Premier what his views were on woman suffrage, which is now the law of New Zealand, every adult person, male or female, of 21 years of age having the right to vote.

Mr. Seddon said that at first he was opposed to female suffrage, but, now, having seen the practical workings of the law, he is a firm believer in it, and at this point the thought flashed through the interviewer's mind whether the result of the general elections in New Zealand last year, when Mr. Seddon secured a new lease of power, had aided in converting the Premier to believe that it was proper for women to vote.

Tariff matters were then touched upon, and your correspondent asked what had become of the draft convention arranged between Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Colonial Secretary Ward a couple of years ago for interchange of products between Canada and New Zealand on a reciprocal basis.

Mr. Seddon replied that the Colonial Legislature had declined to ratify the convention, hence the matter had been hung up for the present. During his present visit to Ottawa he hoped to discuss with the Government the question of closer trade relations, as well as the improvement of the mail and steamship services between the two.

Asked as to what he thought of the preferential offer in the new Canadian tariff, the New Zealand Premier declined to commit himself. From a remark which he let drop it is evident he is a strong advocate of closer trade relations on a preferential basis between England and the colonies. He is strongly opposed to the colonies being hampered by the favored nation clauses in the German and Belgian treaties, but felt that it would hardly be proper for him to argue the matter at present, as it would be a subject of conference between Mr. Chamberlain and the Colonial Premiers in London next month.

Mr. Seddon and his party drove round the city in company with Mr. Sandford Fleming, and to-night they dined at Government House. During the course of the day nearly all the Ministers called on the New Zealand Premier and to-morrow they willl meet him at a lunch to be given in his honor by Mr. Laurier. Mr. Seddon will leave for Washington to-morrow afternoon, sailing for England by the Campania from New York next Saturday.

HARD LINES FOR CUBANS.

Depreciated Currency Has Hit Hard on the Working People—Insurgent Forces Whipped.

Havana, May 15.—The decision of the Government against the exchanging of bank bills for silver coin has caused a panic. Prices of bread, milk and other necessities of life have doubled within the past few days. The working classes, as well as all Government employes, both civil and military, openly express their dissatisfaction at the action of the Government in paying them in scrip, which is 50 per cent. below par. It is believed that the Government will no longer accept paper money in payment of taxes. In that event a further depreciation of the paper money may be expected.

The Trinidad military commander reports that the battalions of Alava and Viscaya fought at Inferno (Limones 100) men commanded by Quintin Bandera. The insurgents finally dispersed, leaving their medicines behind them. Nine of the insurgents were killed and it was discovered that they were absolutely without clothing. Their mess consisted of horse meat without salt, and palmiche palm seed. The inability to procure good meat is said to be due to the orders of Capt.-General Weyler, requiring the concentration of cattle at the principal towns.

LOOKING AFTER SETTLERS.

An Agent From Queensland Promises Great Things to Emigrants

San Francisco, May 15.—John D. Russell, commercial agent of the Queensland Government, is here on behalf of the colony of Queensland and hopes to induce a goodly number of farmers and skilled artisans to emigrate. "We have several millions of acres of the finest land that ever lay out of doors," said Mr. Russell, "and we can raise everything from sardine cans to sugar and mangoes. What we want is for people of the middle classes, with experience and some capital, to emigrate to Queensland and develop the natural resources of the country. There is an abundance of good Government land that may be rented or purchased for a song. Out of 668,497 square miles of land in the colony, the Government has only sold thus far 24,205 square miles. Over 450,000 square miles have been leased, and there remains nearly 200,000 square miles open to settlement. The mineral deposits in the country are rich and varied. People with experience and small capital can here make a better living, in my opinion, than in any other country in the world."

SKIN DISEASES!

One Remedy Which has Never Failed—Tried and Tested Ointment.

Because other alleged remedies for piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, chafing, black heads, salt rheum and skin diseases generally have proved useless, don't condemn Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. For instance, Nelson Simmons, Meyersburg, Ont., writes:

"I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Itching Piles, and can recommend it highly. Since using it I have had perfect freedom from the disease."

Peter Vanallen, L'Amable, Que., had the eczema for three years. He tried three doctors, but received no benefit. One box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Pills cured him completely. Large scales covered his legs and body, but the Ointment soon removed them. He will swear to these facts.

Chase's Ointment may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto. Price 60 cents.

Mother's greatest remedy for coughs, colds, bronchial and lung affections is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. The medicinal taste is wholly disguised making it pleasant to take. Large bottle 25 cents.

They do Good Work.

The following letter tells what people think of Laxa Liver Pills:

Mr. Fred Lynch's Name Will not Figure on the Peterboroughs This Year.

Mr. Fred Lynch, who came so rapidly to the front last year on the defence field of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club, and who has shown up so well already this year in the practices, left this morning for Berlin, where he has been offered a most remunerative position in order that he may play with the Twin City Lacrosse Club.

While Lynch's loss will mean a great deal to the Peterboroughs, yet he is so general a favourite, that the boys will join in congratulating the western team on securing a defence man of such undoubted prowess. All will be glad to see him do well.

Peterborough has had a number of good opportunities to strengthen the lacrosse team by offering positions to outside men to come here and play, but the practice is not one calculated to forward the best interests of the game and hence is frowned down upon here. Such action merely makes the smaller league towns feeders to the more wealthy cities and has a tendency to discourage the fostering of the game in the smaller centres. In the past, some of Peterborough's best players have been signed by other clubs and their names now figure amongst the best known players on the continent, showing that their early training has stood them in good stead.

One hundred and thirty-five teams of the Millitary Rifle League in various parts of Canada shot off the first match of the season on Saturday last.

Peterborough had two teams in the field and in the scores made Team No. 1 stands in ninth place, which is a most creditable showing indeed, and especially so when it is known that the local men have not practiced any this year, but went to the targets for the first time on Saturday. The score made by team No. 1 was 831 points. The highest score was 890 points. Peterborough's second team scored 750. Their individual score is unobtainable, but that of team No. 1 is appended:

The Preston correspondent of the Galt Reformer speaks as follows concerning Mr. Dan McCabe: The baseball team held a practice match on Saturday. A good number of players turned out and an interesting game was played. McCabe, the new one-armed player, astonished everyone with his brilliant playing. Although not in condition he gave a good exhibition of Uncle Sam's national game. He twirls a very fast ball and his curves are very deceiving. As a fielder and a batter he is splendid, and the absence of one of his arms does not seem to be any hindrance to his playing.

LACROSSE.

Peterborough is having to face the difficulty of which a number of the outside clubs complain—viz., the enticing away of her rising young players by towns which offer them good positions.

BICYCLE RIDING ON THE SABBATH DAY.

REV. J. J. RAE SPOKE ON THE SUBJECT LAST NIGHT.

It May be all Right to Ride a Bicycle to Church, but Will This Not Justify the Scorcher Getting Out and Riding to a Neighbouring Town to Desecrate the Sabbath?

Rev. J. J. Rae, the popular pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church, spoke to a very large congregation last evening, when he took occasion to deal with the Sunday bicycle-riding question. He took as his text "It is lawful to do well (good) on the Sabbath day," St. Matthew, 12th chap., 12th ver.

The Sabbath, he claimed, was an institution and as such, it had made a place for itself from the beginning. God had rested from His labours on the seventh day and hallowed it. Some say Moses inserted the provisions concerning the observence of the seventh day afterwards when he saw that it had become an institution, but this argument would seem to be settled by the instruction to "Remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy." The word 'remember" seems to carry the origin of the day far back to former years. In was an important factor in as on it hinged all their sacred ordinances.

The observance of the seventh day enters into every system.

It could be understood why the years and months could be divided off by the change of the moon, etc., but no moon of this nature could be assigned for the designation of weeks, yet in all the old systems the regular seventh day observance was to be found. It was engraven on the tablets of old Egypt, written on the stones of Assyria and deciphered in the teachings of the sages of Persia. Through all these can be traced the same observance of the seventh day division. In the Chinese almanacs, where each day has its distinct marking, the same division is noticed. The sages say they do not know the origin of this, but such has been the custom from time immemorial.

Christ has made a declaration of the seventh day in human nature. It is positively required as a day of rest. Even with machinery it is found that by resting one day in seven it will last incomparably longer. In crossing the continent in the early days with great droves of cattle, the drovers found that by stopping one day in the seven, time was invariably gained. God has therefore stamped his Sabbath with the very nature of things.

The Sabbath is organized for rest and worship. Some say it is but the speaker claimed that there never was a time that it was more generally observed. Attention might be called to the European Sabbath in contravention of this statement, but it had never been any better. The same could be said of the American Sabbath also.

It is said that there is now some reason for anxiety in Canada, but all that had to be done in this case was to compare the Dominion in this respect with any nation under the sun. Naturally the recent decision in respect to Sunday cars made a slight difference, but Mr. Rae did not believe there was the least cause for anxiety regarding Sabbath desecration in Canada.

In speaking of the dangers which imperil the sanctity of the Sabbath the pastor mentioned four especially, viz:

1. Laxity in respect to the home life. There must be a proper home life or there will never be a proper Sabbath or a proper anything else.

2. The inroads of a foreign population. It must be acknowaledged that the old lands get rid of their scum by unloading it on the newer countries.

3. The desire on the part of a certain class to limit the power of the law.

4. The immense power of liquor, which was opposed to the keeping of the Sabbath and warred against it with a MENACE UNTO DEATH.

The speaker argued, however, that the people were now rising in opposition to the liquor traffic, and there was never as little drinking done as at the present day in the Dominion.

On the other side there were factors which would aid materially in the preservation of the Sabbath.

Sabbath observance is beneficial. It is in the best interests of the state. The law ought to regulate the Sabbath. These laws do not interfere with the freedom of man. It is for the best interests of the poor—of the labouring classes, and whispers to the contrary came from the same source as that which induced Adam and Eve to blacken Eden and blacken their souls.

Where shall find rest on the Sabbath day?

In religious service. A day spent in God's house is the best rest a man can have. It is so restful that at times a man has been known to indulge in an half hour nap while the minister is delivering his sermon.

SOME SEEK NATURE'S

quiet retreats. If a man seeks the country to enjoy the fresh air and the flowers, no fault should be found. If he takes such a trip, may be speed on and come home with his soul refreshed and his spirit broadened by the contact with nature's beauty. Some may find rest and quiet at home. Let them read their books, invite in their friends and expand their powers of friendship.

If a man does only this it is all right, but the danger is that the simple stating of it does not verify it.

There has come amongst us a machine, continued the speaker, which is raising a great many questions and causing considerable anxiety. A man asks must he hide his bicycle away on Sunday or can he ride it to church? Would it be all right if he rode it into the country?

The question must be asked "If I do this am I justifying others in carrying it further?"

In order to decide and consider the sin or otherwise—the justification or condemnation of the act of Sunday bicycle riding, a number of questions have to be considered.

Then is the motive of the act all the circumstances such as

TO JUSTIFY IT

and what are the influences proceeding from the performance of it?

In these days we are anxious to find a change of name for everything. Call a man a burglar and he is insulted. Tell him he is a cracksman and it makes a difference. So with the woman thief being termed a kleptomaniac. The change of the term, however, does not change the fact.

"I am asked," said Mr. Rae, "Do you think it is wrong to ride to church? Do you think it is wrong to ride into the country on Sunday?"

Concerning the act itself, I say "No."

"Should a man hide his bicycle away on Sunday?"—"No."

If I want to go to church, and can do it more easily and quickly by riding my bicycle why should I not do it? I merit no condemnation in so doing. Every new invention was opposed at first even the locomotive.

Circumstances govern the matter. A man might be justified in a time of war in throwing open his granary doors to the troops who were defending his all, and telling them to help themselves, but if he did this in time of peace he would soon be bankrupt.

There might be circumstances which would justify a man on Sunday, but there could hardly be any to justify him in doing it every Sunday.

RIDING TWENTY-FIVE MILES

But what are the influences flowing out of the action? Can you ride to church and by doing it, not in a measure justify the scorcher, who, with humped back and contorted features, goes tearing over the face of the country from one town to another desecrating the Sabbath.

All things may be lawful but all things are not expedient.

He expressed himself as being of the opinion that it was not his place to give the final opinion on this matter. The question had to be considered as to whether a man could go to the country to enjoy the fresh air on his bicycle and not justify his friend in going for a different purpose.

The young man says he must have recreation, but there is no recreation in riding madly to a neighbouring town at top speed. It is a depletion of the vital powers.

"Must have recreation."

There is no must in this world that governs you except the must of righteousness. It may not be necessary for you to have recreation, food or friends but you must have righteousness.

It is lawful to do good on the Sabbath day.

I am not, continued Mr. Rae, a conscience for any man, nor is it my place to set rules. I have no doubt but the use of the bicycle properly and legitimately on Sundays is perfectly reasonable and perfectly expedient, yet be careful that you do not authorize that which is the condemnation of those around us. We cannot settle this question ourselves, but it, as well as the question of card playing and dancing, must be left to the Great Arbitrator.

PRIMARY S. S. UNION.

An Excellent Paper on "The Child Mind" by Miss L. Davidson.

The Primary S. S. Union held a very successful meeting on Friday evening in the Murray street Baptist church. Mrs. VanEvery, President, introduced Miss Davidson, of the South Central Kindergarten, who read a very excellent paper on "The Child Mind."

So many good thoughts were given we can only give a few: Be guided when selecting material for a child's mind by the age, disposition, environment, and previous knowledge of the child. Appeal to his thought by suggestions or explanatory words, to his feelings by music of the highest order, to his activities by gesture. Dealing with him as a unity as God is one, so likewise he has created the child in his three-fold nature, physical, mental and moral, so closely combined and woven together that to develop one separately you would have to do so at the expense of the others. Children are naturally imitators, they instinctively make a gesture to suit their idea, cruds it may seem to us, but it is merely an outward true expression of their inner mind. We must always remember the three-fold nature of the child and bring ourselves down to its simplicity, remembering the words of our Master. "A little child shall lead them."

A short discusson followed, during which practical methods were dealt with, and applications made to the various branches of S. S. work. Miss Davidson knows her subject well.

Miss Annie Sanderson, Superintendent of primary work in George street Methodist church, was next introduced and taught a lesson in "Paul preaching to the Gentiles." Blackboard illustrations were used, also all original pictorial representation of the creation, which reflected great credit and won deserved praise for the young lady.

All mothers having children attending a primary Sunday school class in any church are urged to be present next Friday evening. A special meeting is being arranged for and their aid is desired.

TORONTO WANTS SUNDAY CARS.

The integrity of Toronto's reputation for olly sanctity—as being a moral city not as others are—has been broken by the popular verdict in favour of running street cars on Sunday. The people declared by a majority of nearly 500 in favour of the bylaw sanctioning passenger traffic on the Sabbath day. The campaign has been carried on with a bitterness and animosity that far exceeded a political contest of similar magnitude. The excitement has been of an intense character and though the new order of things will be accepted, yet the contest will leave scars long after Sunday cars have ceased to be a novelty. Naturally the churches were drawn into such a contest with the result that the congregations have been, it is said, divided, friendships of long standing disorganized, and personal hostilities have been engeadered by the mutual recriminations indulged in. There seems to have been a regrettable absence on both sides of that charity that should concede to another the right to have a conscience and to honestly differ on a debatable subject. The biggest vote ever cast in the history of the city developed the fact that self was the predominent factor in deciding the result. In those portions of the city where there was congestion of population and the scantest opportunities of enjoying fresh air, the vote in favour of Sunday street cars was the largest, indicating that these people desired an opportunity for an outing that can only be taken on Sunday, and only through the medium of Sunday cars. On the other hand those parts of the city convenient to the parks, went in opposition to the proposal, and we shall doubtless hear them taking credit for a morality of action that led them to pronounce against a convenience they did not require. This is but human nature. Those who wanted Sunday cars for the sake of the enjoyment of fresh air and change they would bring, voted for them, and those who had no use for Sunday cars for this purpose, voted contra. This is not, however, the whole truth. No doubt hundreds who would regard Sunday cars as a great convenience if their consciences would permit their use, voted against the bylaw because they regarded it as a breach of the Divine law, and as the thin edge of the wedge that would split in twain the fabric of the sanctity of the Sabbath. And, while many of the voters who favoured Sunday cars, might have been influenced by personal and other motives, no doubt others voted for Sunday cars, not from any personal feeling of advantage, but because they felt that in so doing they would act the part of a neighbour to their neighbours, according to the injunction of the Scriptures. At any rate, the people have decided; the people are supreme and their wishes thus expressed, must be respected. Toronto has Sunday cars, and it is to be hoped that the boon that the majority think they are, will not be abused.

DANIEL O'CONNELL.

The Fiftieth Anniversary of His Death.

The fiftieth anniversary of the death of Daniel O'Connell, the great Irish Liberator, fell on Saturday, May 15th, and the event was remembered by Irishmen the world over. The life work of the great liberator will stand forth through all the history of his country and race with sublime clearness and comprehensiveness.

It was the intention of the local Catholic Literary Association to observe the occasion by an entertainment in their rooms, but on account of it falling on Saturday the anniversary will be observed next Thursday evening in their rooms; and very fittingly Mr. Daniel O'Connell, of Peterborough, is to deliver the address on the occasion.

There are many of Erin's sons in Peterborough and vicinity who remember seeing and hearing this eloquent Irishman. Mr. Patrick Young, sr., of Young's Point, is a venerable old gentleman, who takes a pride in relating stories and incidents connected with the life of the great liberator. He remembers hearing Daniel O'Connell address an assemblage in Dublin.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, town, though only about fifteen years of age at the time, had a personal acquaintance with the great O'Connell, and remembers very distinctly an incident of the Liberator's visit to Cork as the guest of the Harbour Commissioners in 1843. The Carrighaline river, which flows from the west through a beautiful country into the harbour of Cork, at a watering place called Crosshaven, was the scene. The Harbour Commissioners had control of the shores up to high water mark, and as the gentlemen owning the property bordering on the river refused to allow the party to land, luncheon had to be taken on the portion of the strand over which the Commissioners had jurisdiction, and Mr. Fitzgerald also remembers O'Connell's facetious remarks to the ladies of the party, who, like women the world over, were hard to keep in bounds, and persisted in encroaching on the award of the gentleman who had forbidden the use of his land—"Ladies," said the great Dan. "please keep off the grass, or you will be subject to a fine." Another incident of the visit, and the most important and touching, was the pathetic welcome extended by a bare-legged shepherd lad, Sandy Macdonald, who removing his hat, and addressing O'Connel in Irish, said, "Oh, Hiernah, thure seaghi fodah-dhur ouhr serhachoure agus beige oge areesh," meaning in English, "Oh, God, give our Liberator a long life and Ireland will be young again."

Mr. Lucius Sherlock, of Peterborough, also remembers O'Connell, and on one occasion is said to have dined at the same hotel with him.

Residents of Ennismore and Douro distinctly remember seeing the people flocking by the hundreds to his immense open air meetings, when, it is said, he moved the vast crowd to the wildest enthusiasm by his matchless eloquence. Others remember seeing his funeral, which was declared to have been eight miles long.

O'Connell on his death bed bequeathed his heart to Rome, and accordingly the heart of the Liberator is now enshrined in a monument in the left side of the church of the Irish College in the Eternal City. On the urn which encloses the relic is the inscription, "Natus Kerry; obit Genues." O'Connell died in 1847 on his way to Rome to pay a visit to Pius IX, who had been elected to the Supreme Pontificate in 1846. The hand of death fell upon the pilgrim at Genoa, in the Hotel Feder. When he felt that the end had come and that he could not reach the terminus of his journey, he made that memorable will: "My soul to God, my body to Ireland, and my heart to Rome."

THE DROWNING OF LIZZIE MURRAY.

Letter of Condolence From the Council of Ennismore to their Late Clerk, Mr. Michael Murray.

The following letter of condolence was received from the township council of Ennismore, of which body Mr. Michael Murray has filled the office of clerk for a number of years. The following explains itself:

To Mr. and Mrs. Michael Murray:

We, as the representative body of the Township of Ennismore, desire to tender our sympathy in your bereavement in the sad event of the death of your little child, taken away from you so suddenly. We feel justified in not only expressing our heartfelt sympathy, but also that of the community at large. The circumstances attending the demise of your child make the occurrence doubly sad, inasmuch as the unthinking little one was allured to her death by one of her playmates, who sent her adrift in a helpless manner.

In conclusion we would again extend our sympathy, and hope that your bereavement will be lessened by the assurance that your child is now dwelling where care and sorrow are unknown.

Many a man will protect his money at the risk of his life. Thousands decline to protect their lives because it would require the sacrifice of a few dollars of their money. This seems almost incredible, but it is true. Men feel and realize that the most relentless enemy of mankind, consumption, is slowly but swiftly creeping upon them. But in the mad race for money they refuse to stop and drive off the dread disease. It would require a sacrifice of both time and money and so they neglect it, until it is too late.

There is no excuse for this. A sure and quick remedy is at hand. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It remedies all disorders of the digestion. It invigorates the liver. It makes new rich blood and builds up firm healthy flesh. It enters the blood and drives out all impurities, and acts directly upon the lungs driving out all disease germs. It builds sound vital tissue in the lungs. Thousands have testified to their cure by this wonderful remedy after they were given up by the doctors and all hope was gone. Druggists sell it.

"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and can and do recommend it every place I go," writes Mrs. J. D. Graves, of Salamanca, Cattaraugus Co., N. Y. (Academy Street). "I am a traveling salesLady and have been for eighteen years. When I find people who are afflicted I tell them what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me. Twelve years ago I was given up to die. I had what all my physicians called consumption. I had hemorrhage of the lungs, night-sweats, and in fact I fully realized my condition. I begged of them to let me try the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the result is, I still live and do lots of hard work."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. It is better to do than wait until the whole structure is ready to fall. Constipation is the one, all-embracing disorder that is responsible for many other diseases. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. Druggists sell them. They never gripe. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. Nothing else is "just as good." A permanent cure.

SPECIAL VS. GENERAL FARMING.

The Farm and Home Prize Essay on Which Pays the Better.

At first thought it would seem that the man who does special farming has a better chance for success than his neighbor who raises a little of everything, but in the long run this is not true. The man with the specialty sometimes makes as much in one year as other farmers do in three or four, but he is apt to be at a disadvantage many times on account of overproduction—a condition that does not trouble his neighbor so much, as he is not likely to find every market crowded.

The special farmer must hire much help during the busy season and if he lose his one crop, is frequently ruined, for his family expenses must be met somehow. The general farmer gets along with one hired man or occasional help according to the size of the farm, and if one crop fails has something else on which to depend. Then, too, it pays for his family. The children thrive better on fruits and vegetables with plenty of milk and cream. The special farmer is apt to look on many things, especially fruit, as a needless expense in poor years. There is a satisfaction in being able to provide the best of everything for one's family and in nine cases out of ten there will be plenty to sell.

Mixed farming pays best year in and year out and he who follows this occupation has all seasons for his own. You will find him reaping a steady harvest from garden, poultry yard and fields. In the hard times through which we have been passing this class has suffered least of all, for they have raised their living and carefully sold the surplus. They are looked upon with envious eyes by the men who have their money invested in high-priced stock or machinery for raising some special crop.

As a rule the men who do all sorts of farming are honest and contented, for they know small and steady profits are best.—M. B. Ichler, in Farm and Home.

One of the best evidences that Ayer's Hair Vigor is an article of exceptional merit is the fact that the demand for it is constantly increasing. No one who used this incomparable dressing thinks of trying any other preparation for the hair.

Ancient Dentistry.

That dental operations were unknown among the ancients has already been claimed by scientific writers; yet Dentist A. C. St. Amand claims to have positive proof that such a claim is unfounded. Dr. Harry Jeffries, a friend of Dr. St. Amand, has been in Egypt for several months, where he has been traveling in the interest of a historical society. Knowing of his friend's interests in anything pertaining to dentistry, Dr. Jeffries has been on the lookout for curios in that line, and has at last secured a novel one, which was forwarded with a letter, of which the following is an extract: "Myself and two companions were sent to look after some newly opened tombs that had been discovered near a village called Delur. The mummies found within were in fine condition, and, thinking I might find something of interest to you, I examined the teeth of one that had been unwrapped. Close scrutiny showed me four teeth that were filled with some substance hard as iron. However, I send one of the teeth so you may judge for yourself. If you find what it is let me know, as I am anxious to know what kind of fillings were used 3000 years ago." All attempts made by Dr. St. Amand to drill the tooth were futile, and, although exhaustive tests were made, nothing was found that would act on the old filling.—Philadelphia Record.

"I wonder if the little Eskimo boys have any out-of-door games like ours?" said Polly.

"Oh, I guess so," replied Jennie. "They have polo bears up there, you know."

HAMILTON BEAT TORONTO.

Toronto, May 15.

The Canadian League season was opened rather inauspiciously over the Don yesterday afternoon. A heavy shower between 3 and 4 made it look like no game, and what might have been a big crowd dwindled down to seven or eight hundred. They shivered through a game that seemed to drag after the fifth innings, and was handed up nasty curves, with plenty of speed. He was well supported by Snarky Conwell, Toronto's fat catch-work amounted to a brace of singles, both by the other twirler. Indeed, he made the locals look like a very poor lot of batsmen, and many were of the opinion that Charlie Maddock must strengthen up or his troubles will not end here.

The Hams put up the better game, both at the bat and in the field, and deserved their victory, although it looked at times as if the umpire was with them. The visitors seemed to enjoy the game more than the Don tribe, and this was particularly noticeable after old Marr Phillips sent in the first run with a long fly to right field.

It was a typical Hamilton team, and several of them reminded one of Mickey Jones, when he used to sport the old dark blue uniform of the Prims. They fielded sharply, and had a clean record up to the ninth, when Hi-Yu Roberts got rattled in left field and let a couple of easy ones go by, and Hardy got around on these mix-plays and his hit over Rodden's head. Downs was replaced by Blakie at first owing to a sore hand. Gunn was not hitting sufficiently hard, and McDermott batted for him in the eighth. There was 90s of kicking at the defenceless-looking umpire, especially in the eighth, when he declared Shepherd out at the plate. Doc rushed at the official in belligerent style, and only hustled him, leaving the bloody-headed Lyons to land slightly on Randall's chin, just to show that they were hitting a little. Score:

Immigration is Decreasing.

Washington, May 14.—The returns received by the Immigration Bureau during the last seven months show a marked falling off in the number of immigrant arrivals in this country.

The number of arrivals during the nine months ended March 31, 1897, was 142,041, as compared with 209,630 for the same period in the fiscal year 1896. This is a decrease of 66,689. During April the decrease at New York alone was 11,439, and during the first 11 days in the present month the falling off at New York was 10,800. Commissioner-General Stump estimates that the decrease for the entire country during the fiscal year ending June 30 next will not be less than 93,000, of which New York probably will show 70,000.

SLAUGHTER OF SOLDIERS.

A Railway Disaster More Destructive Than Actual Warfare

St. Petersburg, May 14.—A terrible railway disaster befell a military train last evening between Rockenhof and Eliva, on the Valki-Iurjev line. Sixteen cars were smashed. Two officers and nearly 100 soldiers were killed and 60 others seriously injured.

The People Are Convinced

Undoubtedly the Best.

GENTLEMEN,—I wish to say that Dr. Fowlers Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

She Has Proven Words of Praise from a New York Lady for

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Elder Avenue, New York City.

WORLD'S MEASURE.

The world in this case was represented by the sewing circle of Abington, which met once a week at the various houses of the ladies of the congregation of the church which it represented. There were matrons and maidens, young and old, and among the latter, notice, if you will, Alice Spencer, neither young nor old, but a maiden whose story all Abington knows. Ten years ago Dr. Greyson and Alice Spencer "kept company." There was a quarrel, growing from a trifle, until it ended in a separation, and Dr. Greyson married Maude Hepburn, heiress of the richest man in Abington.

Alice "wore the willow" gracefully enough, neither going into brain fever nor rushing about seeking a mission as a properly conducted maiden in her plight should have done. She is not beautiful, but, in her soft, gray merino, with snowy lace ruffles and a trifle of blue here and there, her sweet, fair face is very pleasant to see. She is gentle and placid, doing her duty well, and always cheerful, yet there comes a frown of pain across her low, white forehead as the stream of censure flows around her.

"I had it from Martha, Mrs. Greyson's cook," Mrs. Lee said, emphatically, "that Agnes and Lottie Greyson were sent to boarding school against their own mother's will. It is downright cruelty! Why, Agnes is not eight years old, and Lottie just passed six. Mere babies!"

"They say their mother took on dreadfully," said fat, comfortable Mrs. Agnew, looking up from a perplexing gusset; "screamed and cried and clung to the poor little things, as if she couldn't let them go. That hateful Miss Greyson took them away."

"Miss Greyson interferes in everything," said another voice; "for my part, if my husband brought a prim old maid sister into my house, I'd just put her in her place! But, they do say that half the time poor Mrs. Greyson isn't allowed to order her own dinner."

"I never thought much of Dr. Greyson after he gave up practice and went to live on his wife's money," said Mrs. Agnew. "Such a splendid doctor as he was, and doing so much good, had no business to fold his hands and live in idleness before he was 30 years old."

And so on, and on, and on, till a monster in human form and a suffering, martyred angel were evolved from the Greyson household, and held up to scorn. Even Mrs. Greyson herself had a side slap or two, as being "poor-spirited," and one who took too meekly to being "put upon" by her tyrant of a husband and sister.

Alice Spencer bent her head lower and lower over her sewing, hearing all, but saying no word of defense or blame. Her heart was very sore when these stories, that were not new in Abington, but merely were revised, improved and enlarged whenever the gossips met, were told. She was of a large hearted nature, forgiving and tender, and when her lover deserted her she bent no ill will after him. She had hoped he would return to her, and she suffered intensely, if silently, when he nursed his wrath so long and then married. But she lived, her sorrow down, and wished Dr. Greyson every happiness.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS FOR WEAK PEOPLE.

At all Druggists. Price 50 cents per Box, or 3 for $1.25. Sent by Mail on receipt of price. T. MILBURN & CO., Toronto.

Often, in the delicious days of courtship, Dr. Greyson had told Alice of his sister Margaret, the older sister, who had taken his mother's place when he was a child of three years. She had, from his loving descriptions, learned to think of Margaret Greyson as one of those noble, self sacrificing women who make the home a dwelling place of all peace and happiness. It had been one of their favorite dreams of the future, to think of Margaret in their home, a ministering angel, and to repay her by their devotion for her long, easterly care.

And now, an idol of her idols was torn down and smirched by evil tongues, and Alice heard of Miss Greyson as a sort of assistant domestic demon, to carry out her brother's wickedness.

She had no power to contradict any of these reports, for Maude Greyson had exhibited the most savage jealousy of her husband's first love, and her manner to Alice was positively insulting.

Pondering on all these things, Alice walked from the sewing circle to her own modest cottage, where she had lived alone since her father's death, five years before. He had been the pastor of the church, and had, by close economy, saved enough to leave his only child a modest competency. There were no money cares to trouble Alice, although she was far from wealthy, and her income was generously shared with the poor of the village.

Followed by her servant, she was entering the gateway of her garden, when a dark figure came from the porch, down the cottage steps, and she started and trembled, as she recognized Dr. Greyson. What could he want with her at that hour?

"Alice," he said, making no formal greeting, "I have forfeited the right to ask a kindness at your hands, and yet I have come to you, in a sore strait, for help."

"I will give it gladly," she faltered, all her accustomed quiet calm broken into a strange tumult of feeling.

"Will you come with me to Highbanks?"

"Now?"

"Yes, now. My carriage is here—indeed, I have but just arrived, and must have hastened back alone, if you had not come."

"But Mrs. Greyson—she does not wish to see me—I—"

"Mrs. Greyson is ill! Alice, I cannot wait. Can you not trust me?"

She gave a few words of direction to the servant and followed him. He gave her no explanation as they drove rapidly towards Highbanks, his whole attention being given to listening without danger over the road in the night gloom. But at the door he said:

"You had strength once. Are you as good now? Can you bear the sight of blood—of a wound?"

"If I can be of use—"

"You are the same, Alice," he said, sighing, and then led the way to a bed chamber, where, still dressed and cruelly suffering greatly, Margaret Greyson was extended upon a bed. From some neighboring room came the sound of a screaming voice, uttering appalling oaths, uttering language that sent sick shudders through Alice Spencer's frame.

Not until then did Dr. Greyson speak.

"Alice," he said, hoarsely, "I have tried to keep my painful secret from all, but it must soon be known. You hear Maude's voice; you see my dear sister lying dangerously wounded by Maude's hands. She has been insane for four years, and Margaret has tried to help me in guarding her from harm, and yet keeping her sad state a secret. Yesterday she broke into acute mania. I sent my little girls away hurriedly and Harry is with his nurse in another part of the house. We thought the worst of the attack was over, when she suddenly ran downstairs to the kitchen, and, seizing a knife, stabbed my sister. The servants are all occupied—one with Harry and two with my wife. Somewhere I had to look for help, and I went to you."

"Thank you for that," she answered, gently. "Tell me now what I must do."

Deftly she helped him to care for Margaret, whose wound had been dressed, but who sorely needed a woman's nursing. When he had done all required of a physician, she said:

"Now have me and send one of the women here," and she heard him by the next room vainly trying to quiet the raving woman, whose shrieks were unlike any human sound Alice had ever heard.

It was a long, painful task to make the unconscious, moaning woman comfortable in her bed, but the maid was strong and willing, and Alice tender and accustomed to sickness. As they worked, the other side of the story the world judged so harshly came out.

"You see, miss, I was the only one of the servants that knew Mrs. Greyson was queer like. She was about the house, but the doctor, he watched her constant, night and day, and a bitter time he had, miss, for she took that hatred to him that I think she would have killed him if she could. It was only when she was asleep and I awatching of her that he dared to rest. And there was the children and Harry not five years old, miss, and he looking after them like a woman, or there's no knowing what she might 'a' done to them. It's been better since Miss Margaret came, and if there ever was an angel on the earth she's one, miss—that patient with the poor, daft lady, and that good to the children as you never see. It was easy to hide it from the servants sometimes, but if they had not been dumb some other times it seems to me they must 'a' knowed the poor lady wasn't right in her mind. I hope she'll not have to go to a 'sylum, miss."

"I hope not," Alice said.

"Only the master's about worn out! If he didn't know about giving her doctors' stuff when she's worst, we'd 'a' had to have help long ago."

"Harry!" Margaret called feebly, and Alice was instantly beside her.

"I am Alice," she said, gently, knowing her name must be familiar to Harry's sister. "Your brother asked me to nurse you. What can I do now to help you?"

"Alice!" Margaret said, "oh, my dear, how I have longed to see you! And to meet in this way!"

"No, you must not cry," Alice said, kissing her tenderly; "you are badly hurt and must keep very quiet, but you are willing to trust me to nurse you, are you not?"

"Yes, dear, yes. I am glad to have you here. You know—"

"Yes, I know. Heaven help him," said Alice, choking back a sob; "it is very bitter!"

While Margaret was still too ill to leave her room, Maude Greyson died, raving day and night through weeks of madness. All Abington by that time knew the sad story, for servants will gossip, when ladies stoop to question, and Highbanks was the theme of every tongue.

As soon as his sister was able to be moved, Dr. Greyson took her to the seashore, with his boy and nurse, leaving the little girls still at school, where they were happier than they had ever been under their mother's capricious control. It was not far from Abington, and Alice visited them frequently, carrying the toys and dainties dear to children's hearts.

From their seaside trip Dr. Greyson and his sister returned to Highbanks, and Margaret took the little girls home and kept the house, while the doctor went abroad. He dared not trust himself near Alice, for all the old love was springing up again in a heart he had thought dead to emotion. His bitter experience had not hardened him, nor the fact that Maude's property was willed to her children, though under his guardianship.

For three years Margaret and Alice were like dear sisters, sharing the love of the children, and Alice learning much of the martyrdom of the life of Dr. Greyson and Margaret during the four last years of Maude's life.

He came home at last and resumed his professional duties, having spent most of his time abroad in the great hospitals in Europe. It was long before he spoke to Alice, but she understood, and when he asked her to be his wife, she knew that the love she had crushed down for years had come back, true and strong, in her heart.

Of course the world, as represented by the Abington sewing circle, had plenty of hard judgment ready for both, but they never heard it, nor would they have heeded it if they had.—New York Ledger.

To Freshen a Carpet.

When a carpet comes to be laid afresh, the colors are apt to look somewhat dingy and certainly not so bright as was expected. To remedy this use a pailful of warm water containing two or three tablespoonfuls of household ammonia and a soft flannel and two fresh cloths for rubbing the carpet dry after it has been washed with the first flannel and water. This treatment will, when the carpet is quite dry, be found to give a most effectual renovation. But it must be remembered that certain greens will not bear ammonia; in such cases clear warm water will freshen and help the carpet very much.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 31 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

HENRY IEVERS, L.D.S., Quebec, writes: "One of my children sprained her ankle, which became much swollen and discoloured. Some 'Quickcure' was spread on linen, and applied: the pain ceased at once, the swelling was gone the next day, and on the fourth day she walked to school as usual. I have also proved it to be a wonderful remedy for cuts and bruises.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

SOUTH WARD REPRESENTATIVES.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR MR. EDITOR,—Perhaps some of the readers of your valuable paper will kindly answer the following questions which are causing no small amount of discussion among the citizens of the southern portion of this thriving town!

First—Why is it that the representatives of No. 1 Ward are so dilatory in fulfilling their many promises made to the electorate on and before last election day?

Second—Why is it that wards No. 2, 3 and 4 have had grand improvements made this spring, which does much credit to each of the respective representatives, and yet comparatively nothing comes forth here where we have to wade through mud holes, over broken and low crossings that are not worth the name of such, broken sidewalks and no sidewalks at all, in the dark at night with street lamps as scarce as the hair on the back of a Mexican dog, sometimes out of the ditch and more times in?

Third—Where have they put that drain that was to have been placed on Park street, between Rink and Wescott streets, that our new No. 1 representatives so kindly promised, when they were made one of our city fathers?

Fourth—If a fire was to break out on Albert, Chamberlain or Parnell streets, are the water hydrants situated close enough to allow our Fire Brigade to be of any service in extermiuating the flames?

It seems to me, Mr. Editor, that those large seats in the council chamber have a tendency to make our new No. 1 representatives somewhat indisposed to duty.

To hear these No. 1 spouters on the day of election with enough gab for ten rows of teeth, you would have thought they would move the town before another twelve months, and now they seem to be afraid to let anyone know they have a tongue. Why is this?

Hoping to have the mists rolled away regarding the above question, I thank you Mr. Editor for the valuable space in your columns, and remain

Yours gratefully,
INQUIRER.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

SUNDAY CARS IN TORONTO.

The Voting on Saturday Resulted in a Victory for the Cars.

Sunday Cars in Toronto

Toronto, May 16.—Yesterday the citizens for the third time battled at the polls on the question of Sunday street cars. The heaviest vote ever cast in the city resulted, and the advocates of cars won by a majority of 4,38[illegible] votes, the total votes cast being 32,387. There was great excitement after the polls closed and an immense crowd gathered in front of The World office, cheering and shouting for Mr. W. F. Maclean, M. P., who briefly addressed them. The city having to receive the sanction of the City Council, no cars were run today, but it is understood they will be put on next Sunday.

—The Cleveland bicycle manufacturers, Messrs. H. A. Lozier & Co., no doubt carry off the palm for novel and effective advertising, and spare no expense to attract the public eye. Their latest production is a four sheet poster designed by Pal, the noted French poster artist, representing an Indian brave mounted on the latest Cleveland, leading by a long distance a column of braves mounted on ponies pushed to their utmost speed to overtake the big chap on the Cleveland, who is easily distancing them. The design is very clever, and the poster is one of the most effective ever shown in Canada. It can be seen at A. H. Stratton & Co's, the Cleveland agents.

—A burglar in Germany succeeded in frightening an over-superstitious boy into the belief that he was Satan, and would carry him off if he made any outcry. The ruse worked, for the boy was frightened into insensibility. He was, however, a boy of conscience as well as superstition, and, having recovered his senses before the burglar was through, he thought: "Oh, if I should kill the devil, there would be no more sin." So, creeping quietly to the closet where his father kept a gun, he put a charge of swanshot into the burglar's body. It does not always do to fool boys.

THE WAR RENEWED.

The Turk Advance Upon Domokos In Force.

THE FIGHTING WAS VERY SEVERE

Greeks Forced Back After a Battle of Seven Hours Against Great Odds—Turks Said to Have Occupied Domokos, But Greek Reports Do Not Admit Defeat.

Headquarters of the Greek Army, Domokos, May 17, 4 p.m.—The Turkish attack on the Greek right wing began at 2 o'clock this afternoon, but the flank attacks are considered to be feints, and it is believed the main attack of the Turks will be made upon the Green centre, where Crown Prince Constantine is in command. Two Greek cannon are doing great execution on the principal Turkish column, which is advancing through the hills. The Turkish infantry at several points is in contact with the Greeks.

It is believed here that the attack on General Smolenski, near Almyros, is only a strategic operation, and that the Turks will endeavor to cut between the two Greek armies, occupy the road leading to the Othry Mountains, and thus cut off the retreat of the Crown Prince.

Much Excitement at Athens.

Athens, May 17.—The most intense excitement prevails here. All the Cabinet Ministers have been assembled since noon at the Ministry of Matine, where the despatches from the front are being received. The gravity of the situation cannot be over-estimated.

All Depends on the Powers.

Paris, May 17.—The Temps, referring to the peace terms demanded by Turkey, says:

"Europe cannot consent to the cession of Thessaly. On the firmness which the powers now display depends the success of the whole scheme for reforms and the peace of Europe."

Fighting All Along the Line.

Lamia, Thessaly, May 17, 4.30 p.m.—Fighting is in progress all along the line, between the Greek and Turkish forces. 5 p.m.—The Turks are also attacking Almyros.

REPLY TO THE PORTE'S NOTE.

Representatives of the Powers Have Drawn Up One—Greece Not to be Crushed.

Constantinople, May 17.—The representatives of the powers here held a long meeting and drew up a note which will be presented to the Turkish Government as soon as one of the Ambassadors receives the necessary instructions from his Government. This note does not deal with the peace conditions, but merely repeats the request for an armistice and declares the powers will not permit Greece to be crushed. Although it is assumed in some quarters that the Porte, in accordance with Eastern usage, has demanded more in order to obtain less, it is pointed out that if the Turkish Government desired to bargain, it would not have formulated its conditions officially. The tone of the military officials here and elsewhere is most emphatically against abandoning Thessaly. They point out that if Europe has been unable to make Greece evacuate the Island of Crete, how will Europe be able to force Turkey out of Thessaly.

They All Protest.

Constantinople, May 17.—All the powers have now agreed to protest against the cession of Thessaly to Turkey and the abolition of the capitulations.

THE VERY LATEST NEWS.

Greeks Appear to Have Suffered Another Defeat by Outnumbering Forces.

London, May 18, 1 a.m.—The latest news from the seat of hostilities, by way of Athens, shows that the battle yesterday ceased about 9 o'clock in the evening, but will probably be resumed this morning. Thus far, no account of the fighting has been received from the Turkish side. It is evident from the Greek account that the Greeks have suffered a serious defeat, and if the left wing has given way as appears probable, Edhem Pasha may be able to cut off the Greek retreat and to separate General Smolenski, at Sourpi, from the main army. This is Edhem Pasha's reply to the foolish attempt of Col. Manos to snatch a victory in Epirus. If Greece had permitted Manos from playing this last card of a gambler, Turkey might perhaps have ceased hostilities. As it is now, she is in full possession of Thessaly, and the powers will find the task of protecting Greece more difficult than ever.

The despatches from Athens represent the populace as astounded when the news of the fighting came. They had hoped to the last that the powers would prevent Turkey from going further. One account reports the Greek Government as threatening to take extreme and desperate steps unless Europe arrests the progress of the invaders.

London, May 18. A despatch to The Times from Athens says that the following telegram has been received from the Crown Prince Constantine:

"Our right wing, under Col. Mastrapas, has been compelled to retreat. It still holds Voussi, but may find it necessary to retire on Phourka Pass. It was also necessary to bring up all the reserves in order to repulse the furious attacks of the enemy. Our wounded have been sent to Lamia. The conduct of the army was praiseworthy."

Greek Troops Retreating.

Athens, May 18. The correspondent of the Associated Press at Domokos, telegraphing at 1 o'clock this morning, says:

"The Turks having occupied Kitiki, the Greek troops are retreating towards the Orthrys range on the old frontier."

Official Account of the Fight.

London, May 18. The Daily Chronicle's correspondent at Athens says the following is the official account of the fighting yesterday:

"Over 50,000 Turks simultaneously and continuously attacked our whole line with the greatest fierceness. Our artillery and infantry did splendid work. Twice all the regiments of the enemy wavered and fled, though their attack was soon renewed with fresh forces, which, in turn, we were able to hurl back. The stubborn resistance and splendid vigor of our troops finally compelled the enemy to give way altogether. All the attacks on our left were similarly repulsed. On our right we did not fare so well. The first attack of the enemy was repulsed, but they massed in immense forces for the next attack. Our first line wavered and was broken and the wing would have been turned but for the timely arrival of the reserves. Still the enemy had gained ground, which it was then impossible to regain, and we, therefore, fell back on Bouzi. The Turks had 50,000 troops, with 30,000 reserves. Our forces was only 35,000. We have lost heavily, but the enemy must have lost thousands."

Turks Occupy Domokos.

London, May 17. The Daily Telegraph's special correspondent with the Turkish forces in Thessaly, telegraphing late to-night, says:

"Edhem Pasha has moved on from point to point and finally occupied Domokos. The Greeks have sustained a crushing defeat."

Plot to Murder King George

London, May 18.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Berlin says it is reported there that a plot to murder King George has been discovered at Athens and that many arrests have been made.

Hostilities Ceased in Epirus.

London, May 17.—The officials of the Greek Legation today received a despatch from Athens officially announcing the cessation of hostilities throughout Epirus.

Armstrong Guns at Salonica.

Salonica, May 17. Eight Armstrong guns have arrived here for the batteries at Karraburun.

Candia is Without Water.

Candia, Island of Crete, May 17.—The insurgents having cut the conduits above the town, Candia is now without a water supply.

Turkey's Absurd Demand.

London, May 17.—The conditions proposed by the Porte as to the terms of peace with Greece, have been freely discussed in the lobbies of Parliament to day and the idea of the retrocession of Thessaly and of such an indemnity as is already suggested is ridiculed as impracticable and absurd. At the outside, an indemnity of £5,000,000 or £6,000,000 and a slight strategic rectification of the frontier are considered as likely to be the terms finally settled upon.

Greece Must be Preserved.

St. Petersburg, May 17.—The newspapers of this city protest vigorously against the "excessive and unacceptable" conditions which Turkey demands as the price of peace with Greece. They declare that if Turkey insists upon them Europe will be obliged to abandon mediation. The Novoe Vremya says that in the event of Turkey's insistence upon the terms she has presented, the powers will have to take practical measures, to "preserve Greece from the pretensions threatening her national existence."

IT'S MONEY THEY WANT.

A Man From India Says Not a Single Person Has Died From Starvation. Government Feel Them.

Buffalo, May 17.—A special to The Enquirer from New York says: Mr. George A. Kittredge, who has been a merchant in Bombay, India, since 1862, arrived on the steamer Teutonic Wednesday last. In an interview Mr. Kittredge said: "Not a single person has yet died of starvation in India.

"When I say that no one has died of starvation," continued Mr. Kittredge, "I do not wish to infer that the people of that country don't need all the help that can be extended to them. The Government and private charity are feeding 81,000,000 people—more than the total population of the United States. All the people are receiving enough money, little as it is, to keep them alive, but their condition could be bettered.

"I do not believe that grain could be properly distributed, for it would take a very large organization, formed for the purpose, to do the work in a beneficial way. How much better it would be to send money with which the sufferers could buy food!

"The current reports of death from starvation and the pictures exhibited showing the natives in an emaciated and miserable condition are not only overdrawn, but are outrageously false.

"The people are in great need, however, and help should be given them, but I am sure money and not grain is what is needed."

A Speaking Watch.

A Geneva clockmaker has just perfected and patented a speaking watch. It is an application of the phonograph to the old-fashioned repeater, whose springs and hammers have been replaced by a disk of vulcanized India rubber. As the point moves over the surface it emits articulated sounds, indicating the hour, being an exact reproduction of those produced on a cylinder by the human voice, which can be heard in an adjoining room.

ROTTEN TO THE CORE

Corruption Rampant in Kingston Penitentiary.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS

The Treasury Plundered Right and Left—Thousands Thrown Away Yearly—Warden Metcalfe and All His Chief Subordinates Must Go—Some May be Prosecuted.

Ottawa, May 17.—(Special.)—The report of the Kingston Penitentiary commission of enquiry presented to Parliament to-day is a terrible arraignment of the administration of the Conservative Government. The condition of affairs disclosed affords ample evidence of how the contagion of corruption spread over the country from the departments at Ottawa, where it was exposed in 1891, to the outlying centres of Dominion authority. It was perhaps too much to expect that the fountain would rise higher than its source, but the country will be shocked to observe how closely the smaller rascals copied the methods of the Ministers at Ottawa, neglecting their duty, taking largess from contractors and misappropriating the property of the people. In the accompanying report are to be found in miniature all the evils shown to exist at headquarters and revealed in 1891. We have the chief officer, who does not appear to know what is being done by those under him. They in turn were living by plundering the treasury in various ways. There was the steward, who took toll from the butchers who supplied the meat for the institution, the frugal engineer, who on a moderate salary saved a comfortable competence, and incidentally received checks from persons from whom he ordered material. There are the middlemen through whom supplies were purchased, but who knew nothing of the transaction except that they had allowed their names to be used. There is behind it all, and yet clearly enough seen, the sinister influence of the men in power. Perhaps the most disgraceful feature of the whole affair is the statement of Devlin, the disgraced engineer, that on one occasion when he suggested that the price of certain supplies were too high Sir Hector Langevin threatened him with dismissal if he ever made such a complaint again. With pardonable irony the commissioners add that he never repeated the offence. The money loss following upon all the waste and corruption revealed cannot be now accurately estimated. Some idea can be gathered from the fact that under the new administration the estimates for the Kingston Penitentiary call for an expenditure on maintenance this year of $167,300, as compared with $211,300 last year. It is therefore fair to assume that in this one institution over $40,000 a year can be saved by reasonable efficiency, coupled with honesty. All the chief officers of the penitentiary are to be retired. Some of them are to be dismissed summarily, and, judging from the report, may be prosecuted. At St. Vincent de Paul a similar investigation is now in progress, and the warden there has already been relieved from duty. The report was presented to-day in the Senate by Sir Oliver Mowat and in the Commons by Sir Richard Cartwright.

Before attempting to give in detail a statement of the conclusions at which the commissioners have arrived respecting the moral and financial, or in other words, the disciplinary and economic management of the penitentiary it may be well to present a summary of the general result of their inquiries on both these heads.

First, as to the moral state or the state of discipline in the penitentiary. The discipline of the prison is utterly lax and weak. It is at the very lowest ebb. Neither the warden nor deputy warden is a disciplinarian. The authority of the warden is not felt or respected as it should be by his staff—indeed it is almost ignored. The regulations of the prison, which sadly need revision, are in the opinion of the general staff of the prison largely superseded by "custom and usage," or "verbal instructions" from somebody, and consequently are practically neglected.

The officers of the staff, who should work harmoniously together with a feeling of "esprit de corps" and of loyalty to their chief officer and to the institution, are as a rule divided into cliques, caballing and quarreling among themselves, jealous and suspicious of each other, and utterly careless and indifferent as to the interests of the prison, the public or the prisoners.

The economic management of the institution is, if possible, in a still more hopeless condition. Waste and extravagance prevail in all the departments of the prison, accentuated in some by dishonesty and corruption. The prices paid for supplies purchased for years past for the penitentiary have been in almost all cases far beyond the market prices, sometimes two, three or even four hundred per cent. above the selling price at the time, while valuable property belonging to the penitentiary, but no longer required, has been often practically given away. The loss of money which the country has thus sustained is not easy to estimate. It certainly has been very great. Again, a large number of the convicts are either left idle altogether, as is general in the prison of isolation, or without any profitable employment, and those who are employed are not employed as profitably or as usefully as they might be. In a word, the disciplinary and economic condition of the penitentiary the alike desperate.

In the report the commissioners say the regulations are a dead letter, and that laxity and disorder prevail everywhere in the institution. Discipline is nil. The chief officer, Warden Metcalfe, a worthy and well-meaning man, is not a disciplinarian, and makes no effective efforts to keep up the discipline of the prison. He has not an efficient, loyal or judicious supporter or adviser in the deputy warden. The warden and his deputy are held to be primarily responsible for the very low state of discipline now prevailing in the institution, and also for the marked inefficiency and neglect of duty of a large number of the subordinate officers. There is said to be a lack of harmony, constant quarrelings, caballing and jealousy and sus-

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE University of Toronto has done a graceful act by conferring the honourary degree of D. D. upon Hon. Premier Hardy and Hon. Premier Laurier, as well as several Old Country gentlemen of title.

THE Mail and Empire objects to calling the overwhelming reverses sustained by the Conservatives, a "deluge," nor will it admit that it is a "cataclysm." Will the journal kindly give it a name?

THE proposed amendments of Mr. J. J. Kelso, Ontario Superintendant of Neglected and Dependent Children, to the laws affecting immigrant children have been adopted. Any Dominion or Provincial Government agent and any benovelent society are made guardians de facto of the children under their control.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT'S bill to amend the criminal code is of a thorough character. Among other things it prohibits prize fights, and also kinetoscope exhibitions of prize fights. The provisions against indecent pictures and publications is made more stringent. Hereafter it is unlawful to circulate such things privately, whether written, printed or type written. The age of consent with females is advanced to the age of 18, and illicit relations with a married woman under 21 years of age is a criminal offence.

IN view of the fact that Toronto plumes itself on being the centre of intelligence, as well as morality, the excuse that the ballot used, in which the "Yes," came before the "No," was the cause of the defeat of the anti-Sunday car contention, is a singular one. If the electors of Toronto, the hub of the Province, the self-asserted brains of the country, are so dunderheaded as to be unable to distinguish between "Yes" and "No," without the aid of alphabetical sequence of the initial letters of the words, then the claim to superior intelligence should be abandoned. And when it is added that the Mail and Empire after the vote on Sunday received a doggerel poem entitled, "Won't Have Sunday Cars," it must be concluded that the highly intellectual Torontonians don't keep pace with the times.

IT has often been stated that on account of his strong opinions and a somewhat dominating spirit, when he was in office, Gladstone was persona non grata to her Majesty, the Queen. A little incident relating to the Grand Old Man's granddaughter, Dorothy Drew, seems to contradict this idea. On Thursday, May 6th, the little grand-daughter of Mr. Gladstone, in whom he has always taken a special interest, proceeded to Windsor Castle by command of Her Majesty, who wanted to see the little one who was so dear to the aged statesman. Dorothy accordingly left Hawarden for London on Wednesday, May 5th, and the next day went to Windsor with the Princess Louise. The child wore an olive green costume. After luncheon with Her Majesty little Miss Drew returned to town greatly pleased with her visit.

AN INTERESTING REPORT.

The annual report of the Department of the Interior, just laid on the table of Parliament, contains a number of interesting and suggestive statistics. From it we learn that during the year 1896 the whole number of arrivals of immigrants at the ports of Quebec, Halifax, St. John and Montreal was 25,478, as compared with 25,788 for the previous year, a decrease of 310. Of the numbers arriving in 1896, 16,835 declared their intention of becoming residents of the Dominion, whereas 18,799 made this declaration in 1895. The persons who signified their intentions of making their homes in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia in 1896 numbered 6,214, which is an increase of 843 as compared with the corresponding period in 1895. In this relation a statement is sumbitted showing the nationality of settlers taking up homesteads in the years 1895 and 1896, indicating a decrease in the latter year of 537 entries and 1,489 souls. The falling of in the number of ocean arrivals is relatively trifling compared to this, which is, however, not to be accounted for by any diminution in the proportion of Europeans arriving in this country who made homestead entry. As compared with the previous year the entries made in 1896 show a decrease of 42 in the number made by persons from the older provinces, of 50 in the number made by persons already in the country who had previously had entry, of 58 in the number made by Canadians returned from the United States, and of 310 in the number of entries made by all other classes of settlers from the United States. This makes up a total of 460 entries, and the remainder, 77, represents the actual falling off in entries made by Europeans. The despatches of Saturday contained a short summary of the United States Government report on the same subject, showing a falling-off and an anticipation for the further falling-off in the number of intending settlers arriving from European ports. This would indicate that more attention is being turned to Canada by the old country as a place of settlement, and in view of this the outlook must be regarded as encouraging.

STONY LAKE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. James Robb has had five sheep and lambs worried and killed by dogs lately, but the dogs or the owners of them are not known.

The road inspector for the Ontario Government was in the neighbourhood this week laying out and inspecting the road round the head of Stony Lake, as there has been a grant made by the Government for the improvement of that part of the road leading back to the mica mines.

The steamboats have commenced to make occasional trips up the lake. Their old familiar whistle is heard now occasionally.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. Charlton's Sabbath Observance Bill

CAME UP AMONG OTHER THINGS

And After Some Modifications Passed Its Second Reading—The Soulanges Canal Contracts and Those Who Got Them An Early Adjournment.

Ottawa, May 17.—(Special.)—This was private members' day in the House, and as it only comes once a week now members were eager to get an opportunity of reaching the subjects standing in their names.

Mr. Davin introduced a bill to amend the Audit Act by providing for the Government procuring all supplies by tender. Mr. Sutherland introduced a bill to govern the examination of stationary engineers.

Mr. Mulock, replying to Mr. Pettit, said that Postoffice Inspector Merrick last June, stated that he had attended one Conservative meeting and two Reform meetings. He had not taken any part in the election and had scrupulously declined to do so.

Mr. Blair, replying to Sir Charles Tupper said that 17 tenders were received for sections 4 to 7 of the Soulanges Canal. M. J. Hogan of Montreal was the lowest tenderer; A. Onderdonk, Hamilton, second, and E. F. Fauquier, Ottawa, third. The tenders were invited before the Government decided upon the policy of requiring the works to be ready for navigation in the spring of 1899, the tenderers being based on the completion of the works by October, 1899. Mr. Hogan said he could not complete the work in the shorter time, and would not venture to put in an offer with that end in view. Mr. Onderdonk was then called upon and undertook to complete the work by the shorter date at his tender price. Accordingly the contract was awarded to him.

For section 12 there were 13 tenders received. Mr. Hogan, the lowest tenderer, had been awarded the contract, the understanding being that the work was to be completed by Oct. 1, 1898.

Messrs. M. A. Pigott and J. C. Ingles of Hamilton were the lowest tenderers for deepening and enlarging the Grenville Canal, and the contract had gone to them.

For the Cardinal section of the Galops Canal 9 tenders were received. William Davis & Sons of Ottawa, the lowest tenderers, had secured the contract. The work had to be completed by Jan. 31, 1899.

M. A. Cleveland of Watertown was the lowest tenderer for the improvement of the north channel.

The contract for the Iroquois section, for which 13 tenders were received, had gone to Larkin & Sangster of St. Catharines, the lowest tenderers.

Mr. Belcourt asked for copies of all communications, petitions, etc., received regarding the establishment of a national museum at Ottawa. He strongly urged the erection of a new and fireproof building to house the valuable exhibits in the Geological Museum.

Mr. Laurier admitted the importance of the matter, and said that the Government would consider it.

Mr. Martin moved for copies of all correspondence, etc., between the Government of Canada and the Government of Newfoundland in reference to the admission of Newfoundland into the union with Canada; also copies of all correspondence between the Government of Canada and that of Newfoundland in reference to the establishment of freer trade relations between Newfoundland and Canada.

Speaking to his motion Mr. Martin said he did not agree that Canada should delay the admission of Newfoundland into the Confederation until the French shore question had been settled. The union should be effected as soon as possible, and Canada should lend her powerful aid in the settlement of the difficulty with France. The importance of Newfoundland to Canada was dwelt upon, her new transinselar railway, the steamship connection and her great ocean wealth. A larger proportion of cod is taken by the United States than by Canada. Indeed, the Maritime Provinces should be better served with cold storage, in order to encourage the consumption of the splendid fresh fish output in Western Canada. He approved of the Government's extension of the protective duties on agricultural products, and thought that if similar protection were afforded the fishermen of the east it would result to the general benefit. At present we import fish from the United States to the value of $396,942 annually.

After a number of private bills had been disposed of, the House went into committee on Mr. Charlton's Sabbath Observance bill. There was considerable discussion upon the first clause, which refers to the publication and sale of newspapers on Sunday. In the end the Premier submitted an amendment, his objection to the draft of the bill being that, for instance, it would be an extreme case to make the sale of a paper on Sunday by a newsboy an indictable offence, rather than an offence for summary conviction. The amendment was as follows:

"That section 1539 of the Criminal Code [which is the section that provides for the punishment of disturbances of religious assemblies, etc.] be amended by adding the following section: Everyone is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars and costs for the first offence, and not exceeding $100 and costs for each subsequent offence, and in default of payment to one month's imprisonment, who (a) being the proprietor, publisher or manager of any newspaper, publishes or issues or prepares for publication or issue, any copy or number of such newspaper for sale on Sunday, or with the intent that such copy or number shall be sold on Sunday; or (b) sells or employs, or procures any person to sell, any newspaper on Sunday, provided that the publishing or issuing or preparing for publication or issue of any copy or number of a religious newspaper for distribution on Sunday, or with the intent that it shall be distributed on Sunday, shall be an offence under this section."

The word "newspaper" in this section has the same meaning as it has under paragraph 1 of section 3 in the section regarding defamatory libel.

Upon the suggestion of Sir Charles Tupper, the amendment was not pressed, the agreement being that the bill as proposed to be amended should be reprinted for the convenience of members, prior to the further consideration of the bill in committee.

The second section, dealing with the closing of canals on Sunday, was next taken up, the Premier explaining that this was at present done by Order-in-Council at the beginning of each season.

Sir A. P. Caron: Then leave it out; it will be a saving on the statute book.

Sir Charles Tupper favored leaving the matter in the hands of the Government at present.

Mr. Laurier observed that the section had been assented to by Sir John Thompson, and would, therefore, not object to its standing as part of the bill.

"But," observed Major Hughes, sententiously, "the world moves. Besides if this goes into effect and, under stress of circumstances, a vessel captain should be obliged to contravene it, it would be open to any crank along the canal to have him taken up."

Mr. Laurier explained that the clause would not make it a crime, but would be simply affirming a principle.

Mr. Craig urged that, unless reason was shown for such legislation, it should not be passed.

Mr. Penny (Liberal, Montreal) favored leaving the matter in the hands of the Government.

"The clause, said Mr. Laurier, "is neither good nor bad."

Mr. Prefontaine (Liberal) Maisonneuve) held that the clause should be struck out, otherwise the Government would be unable by Order-in-Council to override the law of the land.

Mr. Lount opposed the clause, as did also Mr. Davin, and Mr. Charlton's only excuse being a possible necessity for the legislation, the clause was struck out. So also were the remaining clauses, so that the bill will next come before the committee merely for the purpose of considering the one clause which it will contain—that relating to the publication and sale of newspapers on Sunday.

Mr. Charlton's other bill, to raise the age of consent in cases of seduction from 16 to 18 years, passed through committee without discussion and was reported, whereupon the House adjourned at 10.30 p.m.

CANADA'S JUBILEE REGIMENT.

Certain Officers Additional Have Been Invited, But They Will Not be Compelled to Engage in Executive Duties.

Ottawa, May 17.—(Special.)—A special general militia order was issued to-day in reference to the military contingent to represent Canada at Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee. It states that, in conformity with the invitation received through His Excellency, the Governor-General, from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the following, in addition to the command and staff, have been chosen: Major Pellatt, Q. O. R.; Toronto; Capt. Frank A. Fleming, the Governor-General's Body Guard; Capt. R. Brown, the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards.

Certain other officers have also been selected to proceed with the contingent, but not necessarily for executive duty therewith. Such officers will not be required to report themselves until the day of sailing, viz., June 5.

The appointments to the non-commissioned staff will rest with the officer commanding the contingent. It will be composed as follows: One sergeant, major, one quartermaster, paymaster's clerk, and one orderly room clerk. Return transportation from the regiment's headquarters to the point of mobilisation in Canada will be provided free, as well as passage to and from England, and also transport upon official duty while in England. All necessary transport arrangements in Canada, as well as passage to England and return, will be effected by the quartermaster-general. An allowance at the rate of 25 cents per diem for the days spent in England, including the days of disembarkation and re-embarkation, will be made to non-commissioned officers and men. The contingent will be mobilized at the Citadel, Quebec, on Wednesday, May 26, 1897, and will embark on the R. M. S. Vancouver on June 5, 1897, at Quebec.

THE "BIG" FOUR.

A Quartette of Remedies that are Effecting Wonderful Cures.

"I was sick for three years," says James Simpson, of Newcomb Mills. "I tried various alleged patent cures and several boxes of a certain pill which has been greatly cracked up. I got no relief. Then I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since I have been able to work every day and feel like a new man. Your pills alone cured me at a cost of 25c."

"I have been subject to severe colds every fall and spring," says Miss Hattie Delaney, of 174 Crawford street, Toronto. "I used many cough medicines, but none cured me until at a cost of 25 cents I tried Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine."

"My husband was troubled with the worst kind of piles," writes Mrs. Jane Potts, of Meyersburg. "He was often unable to work. Since using your Chase's Ointment he is completely cured. It is truly worth its weight in gold instead of the price you charge, only 60 cents."

"I bought a box of your Catarrh Cure for 25 cents at Mr. Boyle's drug store here," says Henry R. Nicholls of 176 Rectory street, London, Ont. "I am thankful to say it cured me."

Nearly a Bad Accident.

Last night Mr. Wm. Scott, baggagemaster on Conductor Morris' train, met with a painful accident. About nine o'clock he was going on a train to Lindsay, and while passing from one car to another met with the accident. As the train was pulling out of town at a pretty stiff rate to overcome the grade, a little beyond the junction of Brock and Bethune streets, Mr. Scott was passing from a car to the car with a blind end (with a passage along the side). On his own train the side door is opposite to that on the train he was on last night. While feeling for the door in the darkness he missed his footing and fell off the steps. In his fall he struck his hip on a tie. The train went on its way, and Mr. Scott tramped back to the station, and afterwards went to Lindsay on a special. He did not seem badly hurt at the time, but to-day is very stiff and sore, and will have to lay off for a day or two. It is very fortunate that his injuries are not more serious. His escape was a very narrow one.

It is a fact beyond dispute that tea destroys digestive power, and that it is a powerful inducer to habitual constipation and should not be used by persons so afflicted. On the other hand, Cereal, the new substitute for tea and coffee, has a wonderful effect on digestion, and is a sure cure for constipation if used instead of tea. Grocers are finding a large sale for Madden Cereal.

The buyers present were: Messrs. Wrighton, Jones (Imperial Produce Company), Fitzgerald, Madden, Hodgson, Cluxton, Whitton, Rollins and Cook.

THE BIDDING.

Mr. Fitzgerald started the bidding at 8½ for selections. After some delay Mr. Whitton added an eighth, and Mr. Madden advanced the figure to 8¾. Mr. Fitzgerald bid 8⅞ and Mr. Whitton made it the even 9c. Here the bidding, which had advanced briskly from 8¾, stuck for a considerable time, and at length Westwood, Ormonde, Norwood, Fleetwood, Shearer and Daisy D accepted. Mr. Madden suggested 9c for further selections and chose Warminster, Central Smith, Warsaw, Lakefield, Young's Point, Pine Grove, Trewern and Keene. Mr. Cook resumed the bidding at 8¾c, Mr. Hodson advanced to 8¾c, and named Fraserville, Peterborough, Otonabee Union, Maple Leaf, which accepted, Lang and Cavanville refusing. The bidding resumed with Mr. Jones bidding 8¾c, which Mr. Cook raised to 8 15-16c. He selected Melrose Abbey, Lang Bensfort and Lakeview, all accepting, Cavanville declining. Mr. Hodgson offered 8¾c for balance of board, which Mr. Cook ran up to 8¾c, Mr. Jones putting in 8¾c for selections. Mr. Cook bid 8¾c. This offer was accepted by North Dummer. Darlington Union refused 8¾c, but was willing to take 8 15-16c. Seven factories remained unsold and probably will sell off the board.

NEW DAY AND HOUR OF MEETING.

Mr. Cook moved that the board adjourn till a fortnight from next Wednesday, (June 2nd) at 11 a.m., in order to meet train arrangements.

Mr. Cook in support of his change of day, pointed out that Peterborough was the first board held in the week. It was, according to the Montreal Gazette, the only cheese board in Canada, and he (Mr. Cook) agreed that it was the best board in the Dominion. (Cheers.) It was the only board where cheese was sold on the board. Peterborough set the pace for the other boards throughout the country, and he would like to have this board have the advantage of knowing what other boards, that were held earlier in the week, did.

After some discussion the motion passed.

Mr. J. A. Kerr, instructor for this district, was present, and reported that he had visited the Lindsay and Peterborough sections and found things in fairly good shape.

The meeting organized by appointing Rev. W. R. Young to the chair, Rev. T. S. McKee, secretary, and Rev. L. Phelps, assistant secretary.

To-night a public meeting in connection with the District Meeting will be held under the auspices of the W. M. S. Addresses will be given by Rev. W. V. Sexsmith and Rev. Leonard Phelps, and Mrs. C. B. McAllister will give a recitation.

PERSONAL.

Rev. A. H. Ranton is in Port Hope.

Mr. Mart Scheak, of Toronto, was in town yesterday.

Mr. Thos. Woods, of Dummer, who recently had his leg broken through a tree falling on it, is recovering. It will be remembered that the limb was amputated.

The Port Hope Guide says,—Messrs. Reginald Turner and "Spike" Armstrong wheeled in from Peterborough on Saturday to hear Rev. A. H. Ranton preach Sunday.

Many of the members of the congregation of St. John's were pleased to see in church last Sunday the familiar face of Miss Corrigal, who passed the winter in Cobourg. She had the general sympathy of those she met on account of the death of two of her sisters who died recently in Cobourg. She returns to that place after a few weeks' visit in town.

A despatch to the Globe on Saturday stated that Rev. N. Hill, of Omemee, the former pastor of Queen street church, has been invited to take charge of the Methodist Tabernacle, Belleville, for the coming conference year. The reverend gentleman's many friends in this town will be pleased to note this evidence of his extending reputation as a clever and earnest expounder of the Divine Word.

THE QUARTERLY BOARD

Of the George Street Methodist Church Meets.

The reports presented were of the most gratifying character. The finances were in a most healthy condition despite the financial depression.

The total receipts for all purposes, including trustee board, salary fund, ladies' and connexional funds, W.M.S., leagues, Sunday schools, etc., were about $6,500. The gratifying statement was made that the debt on the church had been reduced $1,000 during the year.

The membership returns show a marked increase as the result of the services recently held. The membership is 707, an increase of 138 for the year.

In this connection the pastor gave some interesting facts. During the four years he has been in charge he has received on trial 280 and by letter, 140, a total of 420. During that time he has lost by removal 163, by death 31, and dropped 22, leaving a net gain for the four years of 204.

He has baptized 103 infants, fifty-six adults, married 101 couples and attended 111 funerals. The membership of the church has been raised during the year from 503 to 767, not including two very fine catechism classes.

On motion of Mr. D. W. Dumble, seconded by Dr. Fife, the following resolution was placed on the minutes:

"The pastorate of the Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., during the four years now expiring, has been one of great success. Under his ministry the spiritual interests of the church have been more than fully sustained, the membership increased, and the finances of the church advanced, and by special effort the new Grace church has been erected and a successful Sabbath school maintained in it. Peace, harmony and most pleasant relationship between pastor and people have been maintained without interruption. We give thanks to God for blessings received under this faithful servant. We heartily thank Mr. Young for his ever faithful services, and we place on record this expression of our gratitude and appreciation, and assure him that we will ever bear him and his faithful wife and co-worker in loving and grateful remembrance."

THE WHEEL.

Whenever you find a body of wheelmen, there you may count upon united support for road reform. Pioneer work is always difficult and expensive, and calls for a good deal of persistence to insure recognition.

The bicycle craze has now penetrated every part of the country. The army of riders has invaded the south, east and west, carrying the desire for better roads into every rural hamlet, so that it really seems as though the future of good roads was assured. It is very satisfactory to note that the good roads movement is not confined to the east, but is very largely in evidence in the far West.

Many people from the East visit Tacoma every summer. A good proportion of them are wheelmen, and they are surprised to learn in the early part of 1896 that the Wheelmen's Association had decided upon the bridging of the gulch in the Southern part of the city which leads to the good roads beyond. The nature of the riding district makes the bridging of the gulch of more importance than the casual visitor may imagine. The opening of the elevated cycle path, which had been built the preceding year, was the means of lengthening the cycle path, so that the riders have now four miles of excellent cycle path from the bridge direct to prairie roads. Since the completion of the bridge, which is the largest cycle bridge in the world, the wheelmen cannot imagine how they managed to get to the prairie roads by the inconvenient old route. Many of the citizens were opposed to the building of a cycle path. There was an argument as to how the bicycle license money should be expended, and it was finally decided to construct the bridge. Some few hundreds of wheelmen objected to the license being enforced; but they soon saw the benefits derived from the levy, and to-day there is not one of the 2,500 wheelmen who objects to the payment of the $1 per annum license.

The length of the bridge at the roadway is 330 feet, the height 110 feet, the width at the top 12 feet, the width at the bottom 50 feet. The trestle is built of 8x8 timbers thoroughly braced, the bents being 20 inches apart. The total cost of the bridge and approach was $1084 50.

The management of the local road improvements at Tacoma is admirably divided between the Wheelmen's Association and the L. A. W. The former attend to the improvements within the city limits and the L. A. W. officials take care of the outside work. The road committee is now to work with new propositions for the convenience and accommodation of the riders, and, as a result of their labours, there will be several small bridges built in Tacoma. Those constructed under the supervision of the L. A. W. will bear neatly painted signs. The wheelmen of the district desire to demonstrate their banding together for concerted action. The bridge is a fine example of what good results a little money judiciously expended could produce. It should be an incentive to those interested in good roads to prosecute the work.—Scientific American.

A conference between the Brantford bicycle clubs and the Board of Works is likely to take place soon, when arrangements will be made for laying down a cinder path in most of the public streets for the exclusive use of bicyclists.

OBITUARY.

The Late Surgeon-General J. T. C. Ross, C.I.E.

Surgeon-General J. T. C. Ross, C.I.E., who died on April 27th, at Budleigh Salterton, Devonshire, England, was only brother to Mrs. Edward Beatty, Ashburnham, late of Lakefield. He was born in 1823 and was appointed to the Medical Establishment, Bengal Army, 1845. He served in the Sutlej campaign, 1846, Punjaub campaign, 1848-9 (medal), in the N. W. Frontier campaign (medal with clasp), and in the mutiny, 1857-8 (medal). He was appointed P. M. O. in the Duffla expedition, 1874. He was appointed C.I.E. (Companion Indian Empire) 1st January, 1878, and retired from the service in that year. He was employed as Chief Commissioner of the Stafford House Committee in South Africa during the Zulu war, 1879 (medal), and as commissioner of H.R.H. the Princess of Wales' Branch of the National Aid Society for the Home Service, 1895. He was elected Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons in 1857 and received the Sanitary Science certificate from Cambridge University.

Surgeon-General Ross' father was private secretary to Lord Malmesbury, the famous diplomatist, and the deceased was an old and intimate friend of Field Marshal Lord Roberts, V.C.

Demise of Mr. Rinard Post, of Methuen Township.

On Monday afternoon the residents of Oak Lake settlement, township of Methuen, laid to rest the remains of a good and true friend in the person of Rinard Post, who had attained the age of 73 years.

Last summer Mr. Post was poisoned while working in the field, and later on jaundice set in, and for five months he was unable to leave the house. He was a resident of Oak Lake settlement for more than thirty years, having moved there from Prince Edward County when the only roads in the township were "blazed" trees, and only one settler remains who is farther advanced in life.

The deceased was a man of honesty and intelligence, with a genial disposition, whose friendly counsel was valuable, and he was ever ready with a large heart to lend a helping hand to those in need. Mr. Post was well known to hundreds of lumbermen who made his home a stopping place, and many a weary and hungry traveller sought shelter under his roof and received hospitality from him and his kind-hearted partner. He endured many privations and suffered hardships in raising his large family, known only to those who have struggled for a livelihood in the backwoods settlements of the early days. No one in that locality was shown greater respect, and the whole community regret his departure.

A widow and three sons and five daughters are left to bear in affectionate remembrance the many good deeds of a kind husband and father. The funeral service was conducted at the family residence by the Rev. Mr. McGinnis, pastor of the English church at Havelock, who also officiated at the grave. A large concourse of people followed the remains to the grave to pay the last mark of respect to a faithful old friend.

THE GAME OF GOLF.

What Some Experts have to Say of it in the Magazines.

Many of the May magazines contain articles on golf, each writer looking at the subject from a different standpoint. The Canadian Home Journal has a racy little sketch from a woman's point of view—bright and catchy, but not going beneath the surface. The two opening sketches are characteristic of what follows:

"If you haven't time to go in for all the sports, and want to devote yourself to some particular one, be fashionable and join the great majority in the rattling good game of golf. Everyone plays it; and not to possess a collection of little white balls and a set of clubs, is to acknowledge yourself hopelessly behind the times." Further on she says: "Vanity and the true golfer never go hand in hand. One must down the other, and it is usually vanity that goes under. Watch any two girls starting out for a game on a day that promises to end stormily. Every curl is tucked away under the fascinating tam or jaunty sailor, and a short sensible skirt reveals the little eager feet encased in strong, thick-soled shoes that haven't a trace of vanity about them. And how uncomplainingly they endure what, under other circumstances, they would call hardships! To do a little shopping or pay a few calls they must take the street cars, but a tramp around the links is a laughing matter to lots of girls, who imagined themselves delicate until golf proved just how much they could do and be better for it. Decidedly golf is the game of the day."

But those who are interested in the science of the game will do well to read the articles which appear in Scribner's and Outing. Both are comprehensive. The one in Scribner's, by H. J. Whigham, the golf expert, covers more ground than the one by "P. C." in Outing, but both enter fully into the subject, and help us to remember that golf is something more than a "society fad."

Whigham reminds us how, in the seventeenth century, the popularity of the game began seriously to menace the profession of the soldier and the pursuit of religion; how the great Montrose preferred a friendly contest at Musselburg to raiding the base Lowlander; and how Charles I forfeited his crown and his life, because he allowed the Irish rebellion to break out while he was sacrificing his royal duties to indulgence in this ancient sport.

He lays great stress upon the fact that strength, skill and training, are absolutely necessary for success in this royal and ancient game, and endeavours to disabuse the minds of his readers of this idea, possessed by so many, that golf is merely a pastime for old men, women and children, or simply a society fad, for "every prominent golfer, whose name we can easily recall, has achieved success in some other branch of sport. It may be taken for granted, then, that although a man can play the game as long as he can walk, or even ride round the links on a pony, the real science of golf can only be acquired by men of athletic capacity."

As to links, although it is five or six years since the game was introduced into the United States, Whigham says that the fact remains that there is hardly a course in the country that in any way approximates a first-class links in the proper sense of the term. He indicated the features of the best courses in Scotland and England, and the standard at which we have to aim; after which he explains what golf links ought not to be, adding, "A golfer is not a quarry-man that he should go down into a gravel pit to extricate his ball from the midst of bowlders; nor is he one of the 'hewers of wood and drawers of water' that he should slash the trees with his niblick, like a modern Don Quixote, or cover himself with mire from a muddy ditch."

As the whist-player turns to Cavendish for instruction in the science of his game, so the enthusiastic golfer turns to Badminton's book upon golf, which is still the highest authority on the subject.

PETERBOROUGH - - - - - - - TORONTO

Many a man will protect his money at the risk of his life. Thousands decline to protect their lives because it would require the sacrifice of a few dollars of their money. This seems almost incredible but it is true. Men feel and realize that the most relentless enemy of mankind, consumption, is slowly but swiftly creeping upon them. But in the mad race for money they refuse to stop and drive off the dread disease. It would require a sacrifice of both time and money and so they neglect it, until it is too late.

There is no excuse for this. A sure and quick remedy is at hand. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It remedies all disorders of the digestion. It invigorates the liver. It makes new rich blood and builds up firm healthy flesh. It enters the blood and drives out all impurities, and acts directly upon the lungs driving out all disease germs. It builds sound vital tissue in the lungs. Thousands have testified to their cure by this wonderful remedy after they were given up by the doctors and all hope was gone. Druggists sell it.

"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and can and do recommend it every place I go," writes Mrs. J. D. Graves, of Salamanca, Cattaraugus Co., N. Y. (Academy Street). "I am a traveling saleslady and have been for eighteen years. When I find people who are afflicted I tell them what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me. Twelve years ago I was given up to die. I had what all my physicians called consumption. I had hemorrhage of the lungs, night-sweats, and in fact I fully realized my condition. I begged of them to let me try the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the result is, I still live and do lots of hard work."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

It is better to do mending while the damage is slight, than wait until the whole structure is ready to fall. Constipation is the one, all-embracing disorder that is responsible for many other diseases. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. Druggists sell them. They never gripe. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. Nothing else is "just as good." A permanent cure.

NOTHING BUT THE JUBILEE.

All the Talk of London These Days is About the Great Demonstration.

New York, May 16.—The London correspondent of The Tribune says: There is really only one subject now before the English public, and it is neither political nor controversial; it is the approaching Jubilee celebration. The press is filled with details of official arrangements and preparations for the patriotic festival. Grand stands and temporary balconies are now under construction in the palace yard at Whitehall, in Piccadilly, and all along the route, although the parade will not occur for five weeks.

The National Gallery has an ugly timber front, and St. Paul's is flanked with hideous platforms. Rumors of carpenters' strikes and a corner in lumber have induced the vestries and private speculators to disfigure the streets a long time in advance of Jubilee week. The conversation in clubs and West End houses turns upon the single pivot of the Jubilee celebration, with the prices paid for windows and open air seats, schemes of decorating street fronts and illuminating buildings, court balls and great parties, the rise in provisions, the scarcity of servants, especially butlers, and the probable list of honors and decorations. If politics are dull, and Mr. Arthur Balfour more indolent than ever, it is Jubilee year, and the Queen commands the undivided attention of her subjects. If European diplomacy be discredited and six powers are following meekly behind the Sultan's triumphal car, it is the Queen's year, and there must be no discordant note of war in the Te Deum in front of St. Paul's.

A GREAT VARIETY.

The Troops From the Colonies Will be a Great Show in Themselves.

Ottawa, May 16.—(Special)—According to a memorandum which has reached the Militia Department, Canada has done very well in being invited to send 200 of her troops. Sons of the Empire will be present in great variety of race and uniform. The following is the detail of troops. From Jamaica 42, Hong Kong 24, Ceylon 60, Sierra Leone 12, British Guiana 23, Trinidad 26, Cyprus 12, Gold Coast 23, Lagos 22, Straits Settlements 50, Dyanks 26, Malta 50, Canada 200, Queensland 20, New South Wales 52, Cape of Good Hope 30, Victoria 41, Natal 26, West Australia 25, and New Zealand 50. Undoubtedly the Best.

GENTLEMEN,—I wish to say that Dr. Fowlers Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

THREE WERE DROWNED.

A Little Pleasure Steamer Drifted Over a Dam in the Schuylkill River and Capsized.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Mrs. James Ewen and Jessie Eleanor Davis, sisters, aged 10 and 8 years respectively, were drowned to-day in the Schuylkill River through the capsizing of the David W. Sellers, a small pleasure steamer. The twelve other occupants of the boat were also thrown into the river, but were rescued by men who put out from the shore in row boats. The husband of the drowned woman was among those rescued, as was also the mother of the two unfortunate little girls. The steamer had been engaged in taking out passengers to witness from the river the exercises and military parade connected with the Washington monument dedication. In some manner, as yet unexplained, the little steamer, got beyond the control of those in charge and drifted to the dam across the river at the Fairmount waterworks. The strong current then swept the boat over the dam and it capsized as it went over. The fifteen persons were precipitated into the swift-moving current and the three persons named were swept away. Their bodies have not been recovered. The accident was witnessed by thousands of persons on the shores. Whether any others were drowned in addition to the woman and two children is not yet definitely known.

Mrs. Hayes Knocked Down and Killed.

Seaforth, Ont., May 16.—A sad accident, which terminated fatally, occurred yesterday evening on the farm of James Hayes, ex Reeve of the Township of McKillop. Mrs. Hayes, in attempting to drive one of the young cattle down the lane, was struck by the animal in passing, knocking her insensible to the ground, and, without regaining consciousness, she died five hours after the accident.

AERONAUTS HAD A CLOSE CALL.

New York Balloonists Fell Into the Ocean and Were Picked Up in the Nick of Time by a Schooner.

New York, May 15.—Lee and Frank Stevens, the aeronauts, of New York City, who it was believed were drowned while making a balloon ascension, were brought to Long Branch to-night on the schooner Mary Jane, Capt. Conroy. They were picked up on Wednesday night by the captain of the schooner ten miles off Highland Light, below Sandy Hook. It was their balloon which was seen to drop into the sea on Thursday by William Furrie, the Sandy Hook pilot.

The Stevens brothers told a thrilling story of their adventures and rescue. They made the ascension in order to test a patent gas generator which would allow them to remain in the air indefinitely. An air current drove them out of their course and they were carried out to sea. They cut their car loose from the balloon. The car was made of willow and had a canvas covering. They were about 400 feet high at the time. They dropped into the sea, and for six hours they clung to the car, and just as they were about giving up in despair the schooner Mary Jane hove in sight and took them aboard.

Of all the nerve-tonics—bromos, celeries or nervines—your doctor will tell you that the Hypophosphites are best understood. So thoroughly related is the nervous system to disease that some physicians prescribe Hypophosphites alone in the early stages of Consumption. Scott's Emulsion is Cod-liver Oil, emulsified, with the Hypophosphites, happily blended. The result of its use is greater strength and activity of the brain, the spinal cord and the nerves.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

FAMILY MEDICINE
She Has Been Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady for
AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Avenue, New York City.

"REPLY PAID."

She had received a letter in the morning begging her to somehow procure him a little money. Things were going badly and he had been ill. She thought of it all day long, having despatched the little she had, and, for the thinking, things looked no better. Her brother had not enough to live upon, and there was an end of it. Fate was niggardly with them all. During the afternoon the girls came in, and Mrs. Hamlin. Mrs. Hamlin was always delightful and cheery. Her lovely dresses and sweet face and fragrant elegance reminded Maisie that at least she was the right person in the right place—with fitting surroundings, and the beautiful things of life that all women instinctively claim as their right, hers.

"Maisie, you look preposterously dejected. What is it? Are you in love with an anarchist, or is it only general aspirations towards the impossible?"

"No, I am not in love, but I am thinking of proposing to some one."

"Why?"

"Because I am in a hurry, Fred, you know, is frightfully hard up."

"But why don't you accept Mr. Howard, when he's so devoted, poor man?"

"That wouldn't be fair, because, you see, he is devoted, and I—no, I think a fat man with beard and glasses is the sort of thing—in the abstract."

"O, excellent in the abstract. Protects you, is kind to you, and gives you cheques. In the concrete he—"

"Dear Mrs. Hamlin, don't! The matter is not discussable in the concrete."

"Fancy Maisie proposing!" said one of the girls.

"You don't know what I am capable of," returned Maisie.

"I'll dare you Maisie!" Mrs. Hamlin twinkled, "£20 on, and I'll give you a month."

"Twenty pounds!" repeated Maisie, and there was an odd sound in her voice.

"Twenty pounds."

"Done!" she said, to the astonishment of the room. "It's a bet!" Everyone sat up and bristled with delighted curiosity. Maisie, of all people, who invariably treated her swains with a good-tempered scorn that was the envy of her friends.

"I will do it now!" she went on, excitedly. "Mable, give me those telegram forms. Of course, I won't undertake to carry out the contract if anyone accepts," she added.

"No, no; but a bona-fide proposal!"

She then sat down and addressed seven telegrams, and despatched them by her maid. "Reply paid," she said. "And now, we'll have tea!"

"What have you done?" questioned Mr. Hamlin.

"I have asked seven men to marry me!"

"Maisie!"

"Well, seven gentlemen will hardly be able to think that I am pining for them all; and they'll exchange notes."

"Men never do that."

"Ah, what men never do, that surely man always does," she laughed. "Honor with them is a collective virtue that has no application in the singular. You shall read the answers."

In due course of time the answers came. One by one the girl opened them before her expectant friends, who refused to go till all had come. "Regrets," quoted Maisie, holding up one with mock gravity. "Next, please. Ah! thank you. Susan! 'Sorry, previous engagement'—'Alas! impossible!' —'Circumstances over which I have no control!'—'I would if I could, but I can't!' 'No!'—That's rather impolite, and he really—well, one mustn't be pressed and tell. 'Twas so long ago, too. You see, ladies, how devoted my lovers all are; but I have won my bet. Ah! here is another, one more polite refusal. No! 'Of course I am honored,'" she read. A crimson flush of shame spread over the girl's laughing face. "That's chivalrous of him," she said, trying to hide her embarrassment. "And now to invent a polite refusal to my own proposal."

Horace Sands was in chambers when Miss Maisie's telegram—reply paid—arrived. He was smoking a cigarette with Max Welby. They generally smoked together after lunch in a kind of sympathetic silence. He read it slowly, and then said unrecordable words. After which, for him, unusual ejaculations, he went out of the room. On returning his friend noticed an expression of most pathetic woe upon his placid features, and such a haunting look that he refrained from putting any questions from fear of intruding on private matters. Horace, however, after some fidgetting, said: "You know, after all, it's a dreadful thing, but what could a fellow do? She's a charming girl, of course—but I didn't think of exactly—in fact, I am not a marrying man, you know—I never thought of marrying—don't know anything about it."

"If you'll explain what you are talking about I may be able to understand."

"Well, the fact is, Miss Maisie wired and asked me—don't you know; and I, of course—"

"Asked you what?"

"Well, I suppose I oughtn't to say," he said, suddenly flushing crimson.

"Did she propose to you?" asked Welby, with an incredulous look of amusement. "Answer paid, too. The devil she did! And you have accepted?"

"What else would you have me do?" returned Sands, stolidly.

For the next few days Horace Sands experienced a general sense of bewildering depression. He was an engaged man—to a very lovely girl, it was true, but nevertheless he was engaged, tied up, as it were—somebody's property. He must buy presents and rings, and think of furniture. Even at college he had not, as many of the men did, troubled how his diggings were arranged. He passed a man in the street carrying a kitchen safe. He tried to think what a safe was meant for, and realized that they would certainly have to have a safe. Some perambulators in a great shop caught his eye, and he blushed and looked disgusted on the other side of the road. He had postponed calling. He had to attend to it. He had never summoned courage to behave as a lover should to such a wonderful piece of femininity. He remembered now that her eyes were gray, and serious, and laughing all at once; that she had a delightful, petulant mouth. The thought of her was sweet. The reality at present was terrifying. He could not yet face his betrothed. He must have time to get used to himself under these new conditions. Another day passed. On the fourth he dressed himself in a frock coat, adorned his buttonhole with a bouquet, and started for her house. When he arrived as far as the street in which she lived he turned round and went to the club. There there was a note from her—three days old. Again he flushed, and thrust it into his pocket. He went out, and in the busy traffic of the streets read his first love letter from Maisie. "Dear Mr. Sands: How chivalrous and nice of you! It was a bet, you know." He did not read any more, but strode homewards. He had been a pretty kind of fool, anyhow—a vain ass, too. As if a beautiful girl like that—then he began to laugh. At any rate, he was free again—free!—but somehow he wasn't quite sure that he wanted to be so very free. The furniture had begun to interest him.

They met the next evening at Lady Vaughan's. She received him with a very bright smile, and they danced. They danced several times, and then he said, at the end: "I suppose you couldn't care for me, could you?" And she colored all over, and said: "O, no. I couldn't, not anyhow in the world!"

Fate threw them together. They constantly met. She tried to avoid him, but he would not let her, and she ceased at last to try. At the end of three months he again asked her to be his wife. The tears crept into her eyes then, and she said: "You are very kind and chivalrous, and I am very grateful, but I can't, indeed I can't!" So that he went away conscious that there was a barrier between them he could not break down. He went abroad with Welby, and proved a preposterously dull companion.

"She will never have me," he said one day, irrelevantly. "I believe it's all because of that confounded telegram!"

"Most likely."

"What shall I do?"

"Forget her."

"That's what I have been trying to do, but she's crept somehow into my heart, and I can't."

"Wire, then!"

"What?"

"What she wired to you."

Maisie was sitting with Mrs. Hamlin, and her pretty face was even paler than on the memorable occasion of the sending of the telegrams. "Ah!" she said, "it is a pity. I care for him so much—so much—and it could never be now! Could it?"

"It's rather difficult," said Mrs. Hamlin. "How mad of us all to have let you do it! We didn't realise till the things were gone. Your spirits carried us away. He's abroad, isn't he?"

"Yes, and I can't bear it, but I must: that's life, isn't it?" she said, with a little sad smile. "We all manage to bear what we can't." And then a telegram came, reply paid.

"What is it?" said Mrs. Hamlin.

"He has wired. Look!"

"And what are you going to say?"

The girl sat down upon her heels upon the floor, and looked first into the fire and then at Mrs. Hamlin. "I think I ought to be polite, don't you?" she said. "He was to me."

"Yes," said Mrs. Hamlin, "I think you should be polite!"

And Miss Maisie was.—Westminster Budget.

BROKE A GAS PIPE.

A Lumber Barge Caused a Heap of Trouble in the Niagara River Off Black Rock.

Bridgeburg, Ont., May 16.—The steam barge C. H. Curtis, lumber laden, after passing through the International Bridge river draw, with consort, turned in the river and drifted down to moor at the Black Rock dock. She drifted too near to the foot of Squaw Island, struck and broke one of the Provincial Natural Gas Company's pipes and grounded at 6.25 this evening. The natural gas escaped, throwing volumes of water 50 feet in the air and over the bow of the Curtis. The gas was shut off here shortly afterwards. The Curtis is still aground.

Picton Man Re-Married.

Rochester, May 16.—George Wright of Picton, Ont., arrived in Charlotte yesterday with a lot of carpenters' tools for the purpose of going to work for his uncle, Mr. Wright of Syracuse, to whom he had hired out under contract. The Customs Inspectors apprehended him, and he was compelled to return to Canada to-day on the steamer Alexandria.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 31 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00.

MASON & RISCH
PIANOS
Are the Instruments of the Cultured
For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.
They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.
That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.
They are Moderate in Price.
While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.
Their Terms Are Easy.
One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue, Mailed free.

ROTTEN TO THE CORE.

eral neglect or disregard of the interests of the prison. These quarrels and divisions among the staff lead to the existence of cliques.

Then the fact of a number of officers being closely connected by family ties leads to suspicion and dislike on the part of the other officers.

Objection is made by the commissioners to the presence within the prison walls of the families of four officers, which is held to be objectionable on disciplinary grounds.

The commissioners condemn the practice of subordinate officers, and even convicts, communicating directly with the inspector over the head of the warden. The inspector, however, had largely discouraged the practice. Subsequently, however, when the inspector found the warden held back communications he had informed the officers that they would be at liberty, when submitting reports to the warden, to send copies to him.

A fruitful cause of trouble and difficulty in the administration of the penitentiary, the origin of some of the worst scandals affecting the highest officers of the institution, has been the practice of allowing officers to make purchases of goods from the penitentiary shops or from the farm and fuel supplies, and permitting them to have work done for them in the shops. Similar evils have resulted from the practice of allowing the officers to keep animals for their own use. Such a system leads inevitably to a confusion between the property of the prison and the private property of the officers. The commissioners recommend that no officer be permitted to make purchases from the prison shops, or to have work done for themselves in them.

The commissioners think that the present system of distinguishing the three grades of prisoners in the penitentiary is unsatisfactory and costly. As regards clothing they recommend that hereafter the same kind of cloth should be used for all convicts, and that the three grades should be distinguished by stripes upon the sleeves of the coat or jacket.

The commissioners strongly condemn the manner in which visitors are allowed to see the prison. They think that strict regulations should be enforced, whereby it will not be possible for a visitor to communicate with the prisoners.

The commissioners condemn the chief trade instructor and suggest that when the prison is put under competent control it should be one of the first duties of the executive to consider the question of the fitness of the chief trade instructor. It is pointed out that numerous costly instruments have disappeared from the engraver's department, illustrating the flagrant laxity of his management. The manner of disposing of discarded prison property is condemned.

The sewage works in connection with the prison are described as badly planned, improperly constructed, faultily equipped, inefficient in operation, extravagant to maintain, and revolting to attend. The engineer is not responsible for the design of the present system, but he is not blameless as regards its equipment and operation.

In dealing with the water supply for prison purposes, there appears to have been the grossest incompetency on the part of the engineer.

The heating system is said to be operated without regard to the favorable conditions which exist to secure economy in expenditure. The labor of convicts is not directed with the forethought, judgment and precision necessary to secure the best results. The method of disposing of the products of prison labor is strongly condemned.

The prison farm is held to be badly managed and the recommendation is made to dispose of it, thereby contracting the field of disciplinary supervision. The prison industries are held not to be now well selected, or well arranged to secure the best results.

The tailor shop is over-supplied with the convicts for the work done. The cost of this department is excessive. The binder twine factory is likewise oversupplied with convicts.

The commissioners then go into a comparison of the per capita cost for maintenance in the penitentiary and at the Central Prison, Toronto, the average for the past five years showing, for the Central Prison, $172 per head, and at Kingston $210.

The building occupied as a criminal lunatic asylum is strongly condemned and suggestions are made whereby the lot of the poor unfortunates can be improved. Reference is made to the fact that, in connection with bookkeeping at the prison, there were documents missing and papers destroyed. Many of the officers evinced a great unwillingness to give evidence. The commissioners make reflections upon ex-Warden Lavelle, and say it was clearly proved, although not so reported, that, as warden, he was freely supplied with prison supplies and farm produce, to none of which he had any legal right.

Referring specially to the present warden, the commissioners say their relations with him during their protracted investigation had been most friendly, and that he afforded every facility to them to conduct their enquiry. For the important position of warden they are of opinion he possesses some valuable qualifications. They believe him to be a man of kind and amiable disposition, zealous to promote the interests of this institution, but they say he is neither a disciplinarian, nor a man of business, nor does he possess the power of commanding men. They feel that it would be in the public interest and in the interest of the prison if he were allowed to retire.

The deputy warden, Sullivan, is strongly condemned. Several specific cases of carelessness and negligence on his part led to the escape of convicts. They suggest that he should be allowed to retire.

The commissioners think also that a change in the office of the prison surgeon is desirable and recommend Mr. Strange's retirement and a younger and more energetic officer appointed in his place.

James Devlin, the prison engineer, the commissioners say, has received many gifts from contractors and middlemen, and they characterize his conduct as repeatedly dishonest. Moreover, he has been in constant conflict with both fellow-officers and convicts. When asked by the commissioners to hand them his letter book he did so, but with several pages torn out, and these pages the commissioners have not been able to procure. They recommend his dismissal from the service.

The storekeeper, Patrick O'Donnell, has been in the service of the penitentiary for 39 years. The commissioners find several instances where he has received pecuniary recognition from firms. They recommend that he be allowed to retire. The assistant storekeeper, Wood, is classed as incompetent and careless, and the commissioners recommend his retirement.

The steward, Weir, has been in receipt of goods and money from various butchers, and the commissioners say there has been repeated dishonesty on his part. They recommend his immediate dismissal.

Summarized, the chief recommendations include the following:

In order to secure the services of a competent man as warden the remuneration should not be less than $3000 per annum, with residence unfurnished. The prison regulations should be thoroughly revised and the duties of each officer defined. No officer of the prison to purchase any articles from the prisoners or to keep animals on the prison premises. Married men not to reside within the prison walls. Officers closely related should not be employed in the prison at the same time. Firearms in no case to be used in dealing with a convict in his cell. A refractory convict, armed with a dangerous weapon, to be disciplined by turning the hose on him.

The general admission of the public to the prison is regarded as objectionable and should be discouraged. It is recommended that the services of James H. Metcalfe, warden; William Sullivan, deputy warden; Patrick O'Donnell, storekeeper, and N. P. Wood, assistant storekeeper, be dispensed with, and that James Devlin, the engineer, and James C. Weir, the steward, be summarily dismissed. Dr. Strange, in view of his advanced age, should be retired. W. S. Hughes, chief keeper, should be transferred to another prison. The number of keepers and guards might be reduced from 56 to 48.

A number of recommendations are made regarding the internal workings of the institution.

What Art and Science Can Do.

Prof. Dorenwend announces a visit to Peterborough at the House Thursday, May 27th, with his famous art hair goods. His statement that over 30,000 gentlemen wear his toupees, 20,000 his wigs, and 50,000 ladies his hair coverings, bangs, etc., will open the eyes of our readers as to the immense business his company must do, and is a proof of the excellence of his goods, and now that there is an opportunity, then all haired and bald persons should call on him. For ladies he has wigs, ventilated open wigs, switches, bangs, wavy and plain fronts, etc. For gentlemen, featherweight wigs and toupees. Health, comfort and good looks can be obtained by their use. He can also give you reliable advice as to the care of the hair. Call and see him. dw

TURKS IN DOMOKOS.

An Armistice Has Been Agreed to at Last.

A WHITE FLAG HOISTED AT ARTA

Russia Shows Her Hand and Germany and Turkey are Out of the Game—Terrible Destitution in Epirus and Great Cruelty Charged Against the Turkish Troops.

Larisa, Thessaly, May 18, 7 a.m.—The Greeks have abandoned Domokos.

Greeks in Retreat.

Athens, May 18.—A private telegram received here this morning announces that the Greeks have abandoned Almyros, which has been occupied by 1500 Turks. General Smolinski is retreating on Kiphalosi.

All Troops Taken From Athens.

Athens, May 18.—Colonels Vassos and Limbritis started for the front to-day with the whole of the garrison of Athens.

White Flag Hoisted.

Athens, May 18.—The Turks have hoisted the white flag at Arta, from which it is judged that the Turkish commander has received instructions that an armistice has been agreed upon.

An Armistice at Last.

London, May 18.—The officials of the British Foreign Office this evening confirm the report that the Turkish commanders have received orders to arrange with the Greek commanders for an armistice.

Ordered to Stop Fighting.

Athens, May 18, 10 p.m.—Orders have been sent to the Greek commander in Epirus to cease fighting in view of the armistice.

Desperate Move Threatened.

Athens, May 18.—The Asty says that M. Rallli, the Premier, has informed the Ministers of the Foreign Powers that unless an armistice is quickly concluded the Government will issue an appeal to Greece, calling upon all able-bodied men to take up arms in defence of the Fatherland in danger, and that a royal message will summon beneath the standard the entire Landstrum and the peasants, who will also be armed.

This news caused intense excitement.

The feeling in official circles is very pessimistic.

Germany Climbs Down.

Berlin, May 18.—It was announced this afternoon that the German Ambassador at Constantinople, Baron Saurma Von Jeltsch, has finally been instructed to co-operate with the other Ambassadors in the efforts to secure an armistice between Turkey and Greece.

RUSSIA SHOWS HER HAND.

And Germany and Turkey are Practically Forced Out of the Game.

Constantinople, May 18.—There was a sudden and unexpected change in the political situation shortly before noon to-day. Russia quietly showed her hand, and thereby forced Germany and Turkey out of the game, to all intents and purposes. Last night and early this morning Turkey, supported by Germany, was practically defying Russia, France, Austria, Great Britain and Italy, insisting upon the annexation of Thessaly, in addition to a huge war indemnity, and to all intents and purposes was determined to march upon Athens. Then came a rumor, late last night, that Bulgaria was preparing to mobilise her forces. This caused alarm at the palace, and the feeling of consternation was increased when the Porte received official advices from Sofia this morning announcing that orders had been issued for the partial mobilisation of the Bulgarian army. There was a hurried consultation of the Ministers. The war party was for further defiance, but in the end pacific counsels seem to have prevailed, for at 11.25 a.m. orders were telegraphed to Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief in Thessaly, to cease hostilities.

The peace negotiations will now be undertaken in real earnest, and the Greeks will not likely be spared any further humiliation.

Destitution Appalling and Cruelty Awful

Manchester, Eng., May 18.—The Guardian to-day publishes despatches from its special correspondent with the Greeks, which says: "The destitution in Epirus of the Greeks is appalling. Everything they had in the world has been burned or pillaged. The scenes in their flight were dreadful. Young girls flung themselves from the rocks to escape outrage, and a youth shot his two sisters to save them from insult. A boy who was captured by the Turks had his lips, nose and ears cut off and his eyes torn out before he was killed.

THE SITUATION IS GRAVE.

Germany is Not in Favor of Compelling the Turks to Cease Fighting

Constantinople, May 18.—The note which the representatives of the powers here drew up at the long meeting which they held on Sunday, in addition to repeating the request for an armistice and declaring the powers will not permit Greece to be crushed, reminds the Porte of its circular, issued on April 18, expressly disclaiming any desire for conquest. This note, although its contents are known to the Turkish Government, has not yet been presented, as the instructions, of Baron Saurma Von Jeltsch, the German Ambassador, do not permit him to join in the step upon which all the other Ambassadors are fully agreed. In short, Germany continues to oppose any action tending to press Turkey to cease hostility, and generally disapproves of any measure directed from an anti-Porte standpoint.

The Ambassadors will hold another meeting and discuss the drawing up of a fresh note, the wording of which may conform more to the views of Germany than the note already drawn up. Nevertheless, the situation is regarded as being most grave, in view of the attitude of Germany and the absence of any sign that Turkey will modify her conditions.

In official Turkish circles the proposed annexation of Thessaly is not regarded as being the conquest of part of Greece. The Turks argue that this province was ceded to Greece for a defined purpose, and that as the Greeks have abused the rights conferred upon them, Turkey resumes possession of the territory belonging to her.

Austria and Russia.

Vienna, May 18.—The semi-official Fremdenblatt makes a statement to-day which is regarded as outlining the views of Austria and Russia on the eastern situation as developed by the extravagant demands of Turkey, supported, apparently, by Germany. It says: "By selecting Pharsalos as the place to discuss the peace negotiations, the Turkish Government appears to be desirous of eluding the intervention of the powers. In fact the Turkish Government is under a misapprehension as to the situation.

"The integrity of Turkey, upon which Europe has laid stress, and which Austria and Russia in the plainest terms have declared to be the basis of their policy, is far from meaning that Turkey can act in the Balkan Peninsula as she pleases and without regard for the powers. If Turkey feels the need of the intervention of the powers in behalf of her own integrity she cannot escape the other kind of intervention, which aims to prevent her from deriving an extravagant advantage from her victories. The Turkish conditions of peace are immeasurably exaggerated. Europe cannot assent to the retrocession of Thessaly, nor can it be brought about by a continuance of the war which the victories of Turkey have rendered purposeless. Further, the excessive amount of indemnity cannot but arouse the opposition of the powers, as it is far beyond the capacity of Greece to pay. Again, by the abolition of the capitulations, a precedent would be created which the powers could not accept. Turkey would do better to seek advantage from her victories in an enlarged capacity of action, in internal reorganization and in ending the disintegrating misgovernment.

"In short, the intervention of Europe in behalf of the integrity of Turkey means neither the reversal of everything in the Balkans nor the continuance of the old evil conditions which prevailed in Turkey."

SALISBURY ON THE CRISIS.

The British Premier Says the Liberals Are to Blame for Much of the Bloodshed in the East.

London, May 18.—Speaking to-night at the Junior Constitutional Club, Lord Salisbury touched briefly on the complications in Southeastern Europe.

The Premier said he regretted that political reasons precluded him from saying much on the subject of foreign affairs. The armistice which had been declared was due to pressure exerted by six powers, especially by Russia. It was a very important step, giving time for reflection and negotiations, but it did not very seriously diminish the difficulties which had to be faced. Neither Turkey nor Greece ought to be under an illusion as to the real state of feeling in the United Kingdom. He had mentioned both countries, he said, because in the dim future no one could know to which of the two it might become necessary to appeal for a solution of problems which must be solved.

"The peculiarity of this strange crisis," said Lord Salisbury, "is that the war cannot be left to work out its natural results. It is impossible that Europe should allow Christian communities to fall under the Sultan's Government. But it must not be supposed because this doctrine throws its aegis over Greece, that, therefore, she is to be free from all penalties attaching to unwise or unrighteous actions.

"And in this connection, I may say that the sending of an address such as was sent to Greece by a hundred members of the House of Commons ought, in its thoughtlessness, to be recorded as a disgrace to the Commons. They are guilty of the blood which has been shed in consequence of the false calculations generated in the minds of those they affected to support."

Continuing, His Lordship referred to the sympathies of England for Greece as founded upon classic associations, liberalism in politics and community of religious conviction, as well as upon other influences; but such considerations as these, he said, could not be suffered to guide the policies of nations, for their policy was to maintain peace by the strict observance of international engagements.

The Czar Appealed Directly

Constantinople, May 18.—It transpires that the Czar made a direct appeal to the Sultan to order his troops to cease hostilities and arrange an armistice, and this, coupled with the fact that most serious results would have ensued if Turkey had persisted in her defiant attitude, brought about the present state of affairs. Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister for Foreign Affairs, called upon the doyen of the diplomatic corps, Baron von Calice, this afternoon, to convey to the foreign Ministers the Sultan's decision to arrange an armistice. It is now believed the terms of peace will be negotiated directly between Turkey and Greece.

THE YUKON COUNTRY

Government Decides to Pursue a Vigorous Policy.

SURVEYOR HAS BEEN APPOINTED

With Seven Assistants He Has Started for the Far North. A Lively Discussion Over the Bill of Incorporation in the Railway Committee at Ottawa.

Ottawa, May 18.—(Special.)—The Government has evidently determined on a vigorous administrative policy in the Yukon country. Mr. Thomas Faucett, Dominion Topographical Surveyor, has been appointed the first regular gold commissioner in that country, and with a staff of assistants, numbering seven, has started for his new field of labor. The party goes direct to Dawson City, at the junction of the Klondyke with the Yukon, and their time of duty extends over a period of two years.

The duties of gold commissioner have until now been performed by Inspector Constantine, who is in charge of the Northwest Mounted Police, but they have of late become so multifarious that the departments, of necessity, had to be separated. To carry out the work as at present proposed it is believed the mining laws will have to be amended. Mr. William Ogilvie of the Department of the Interior will start for home when Mr. Faucett arrives at his destination, but other Eastern officials will be on hand shortly to engage in other departmental work. Among these will be a few surveyors whom the Government proposes sending out to make a survey of the feasible waterways into the country.

There was a lively discussion in the Railway Committee this morning over the bill to incorporate the British Yukon Chartered Company. Extensive powers are sought by the company, but the promoters to-day decided to drop the proposed administrative clause in the bill, and confine its request to trading and transportation power.

Mr. Morrison thought the bill should stand over until such time as the members knew about the Yukon country and the manner in which it was proposed to reach it. He strongly objected to a blanket charter being given to any company, no matter how influential the promoters were.

Sir Charles Tupper commended the bill, believing that if powers were given a strong company like this great benefit must result to the country.

Mr. Maxwell supported Mr. Morrison's contention.

Mr. Blair argued in favor of the measure, but Mr. Morrison gained his point for to-day, the bill going over for further consideration.

Meanwhile another syndicate is in the field, asking for a charter for extensive powers in the Yukon country. It is known as the Yukon Trading and Transportation Company, and is incorporated under the laws of West Virginia.

The bill providing for the sale of the Kingston and Pembroke Railway was proceeded with before the Railway Committee this morning. Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., asked for some changes in the bill, so that the claims of Mr. Rathbun, who sold $16,000 worth of coal to the company, might be protected.

Mr. Leonard of Kingston opposed the bill in the interests of the minority bondholders.

Mr. Nichols, a young Kingston barrister, advocated the passage of the bill as amended by Mr. Osler, in the interests of the bondholders.

Mr. Folger, one of the Folger Brothers, who are largely interested, was also heard in favor of the bill. It was shown to Mr. Folger that Sir Oliver Mowat had a bill before the Senate which would permit of the road being sold without the legislation asked for.

Senator Sullivan defended himself against some remarks made by Mr. Folger, after which Mr. Blair said that he did not believe in passing legislation for particular cases. He suggested that the promoters wait until Sir Oliver Mowat's bill could be examined by them, as it would likely meet their case. This suggestion was agreed to.

If the efforts of a strong deputation now in town are successful, Toronto will soon have another rifle regiment. Dr. Ellis, Dr. Ryerson, M.L.A., Prof. Baker and Mr. H. Mickle are here and will interview the Acting Minister of Militia to-morrow to urge the establishment of another regiment in the Queen City, to be the University Rifles.

It will be remembered that there were two university companies attached to the Queen's Own, one for Toronto University, the other for Trinity. The individuality of these companies has been gradually wiped out, however, owing to the fact that the time of year when the Queen's Own Rifles performed their annual drill was the busy season with the students; that is, when they were undergoing their annual examinations. The martial spirit, however, is strong among the students, and it is now proposed to form a four-company battalion, one company of which will take the drill of engineers and be recruited chiefly from the School of Practical Science. The other company will be in the nature of a medical staff corps and will gather its members from the medical colleges.

Glengarry County was represented in full force here to-day by a deputation, which waited on the Minister of Public Works to urge the completion of the reformatory started at Alexandria. Fully 100 gentlemen from different parts of the county were present. The deputation met Mr. Tarte during the afternoon, several gentlemen urging a resumption of work. Mr. Tarte, in reply, said the Government had not yet decided what course would be adopted. The question was under consideration as to whether or not it would be better to establish a reformatory in each province, instead of only one for the whole Dominion.

At a meeting of the Private Bills Committee this morning the bill of the Canadian Power Company, standing in the name of Mr. Gibson, was withdrawn.

In honor of Her Majesty's Birthday their Excellencies the Governor-General and Countess of Aberdeen have issued invitations for a full dress State reception at Government House

TWO SETS OF CRIMINALS.

The report of the Kingston Penitentiary Commission of Enquiry, printed in yesterday's issue, affords a terrible revelation of what may be literally termed the iniquitous administration of the late Government, and gives evidence that they were altogether unworthy of the nominal confidence of the country they possessed. And what makes the matter worse is that the rotten state of affairs revealed existed with the knowledge of the late Government, and no effort was made to discover the truth and provide a remedy. The commissioners were Messrs. E. A. Meredith, Jas. Noxon and O. K. Fraser, the examination they made was most searching, and the reforms they suggest are thorough, indeed, being nothing less than the removal of the chief officers of the prison up to the warden. The facts revealed, the corruption, venality and waste on the part of the penitentiary officials, suggests the inquiry, which are the greater criminals, the convicted inmates or the officials placed in charge of them; and the details of administration revealed show that the laxity of administration of the institution was pretty much on a par with the laxity of morals that made the maintenance of a penitentiary necessary. Another question arises. Were the penitentiary officials more influenced to wrong courses by the example of the prisoners whose crimes brought them to prison, or by the example of Dominion ministers, whose corrupt and venal methods were so effectually exposed in 1891. The practical outcome of the investigation will be interesting to the public. The money waste caused by such corrupt administration, while it cannot be accurately determined, is partially shown by the circumstance that the estimates asked this year by the Liberal administration amount to $167,300, as compared with $211,300 the last year of the late administration—a clear saving, to start with, of $40,000 a year, which will doubtless be made greater as proper and economic methods are applied by the present administration. The financial administration of the Penitentiary suffers seriously in comparison with that of the Central Prison, Ontario. The average cost of the maintenance of prisoners in the penetentiary for the past five years was $219.81. During the corresponding period the cost per prisoner in the Central Prison decreased from $189.45 to $172.70, the present figure, and if the earnings of the respective institutions had been taken into consideration the cost per head of Central Prison inmates would be about half of what it is in the Penetentiary.

It is said that some of the offences revealed are of so severe a character as to deserve criminal prosecution, as well as dismissal of the offending officials. If prosecution is called for it should be prompt and should precede dismissal. In case of conviction the offending officials could remain in the penetentiary in the capacity of convicts instead of keepers. Yet we shall have the Conservative organs raising an outcry and saying that the dismissal of these officials is an application of the "spoils" system by the Liberal Government. The facts show that the "spoils" system has been too long applied to Penetentiary management, and that a new and clean ordea of things must be and will be inaugurated.

MR. WHITNEY'S COMING CAMPAIGN.

Where is the Opposition Leader at in Provincial Politics?—What Claims has He upon the Public Confidence?

(Globe.)

Mr. Whitney, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario House, has been at Ottawa attending meetings of the Conservative Association, has received Sir Charles Tupper's blessing, and is billed to open an oratorical campaign at London. In connection with these events the Conservative press is disposed to be eulogistic respecting Mr. Whitney. The leader of the Opposition is undoubtedly a very pleasant gentleman. During his session of leadership he manifested a good deal of urbanity, was punctually and constantly in his place and made occasional speeches, not too long, and betraying more of the literary quality than is common in the average political speech. But beyond this rather meagre list of excellencies what can be said? What are the grounds of Mr. Whitney's opposition to the Government? What particular part of their administration excites his hostility? We defy anyone to discover by a perusal of the records of the late session. It is quite true there is always a lot of vague talk of extravagance, but there is never a practical suggestion as to what particular services could be cut off or what economies could be effected in them. It is one of the conditions of life that when you want anything done you have generally got to pay for it. This is particularly the case with Governmental services, and it is to be grumbling about the cost of some public service unless they are prepared to say either that it should be discontinued or that it is extravagantly administered. We have yet to hear of any service the discontinuance of which the Opposition advocate.

The Opposition press, indeed, instead of advocating economies is generally, on the other hand, urging to greater expenditures. Its idea of a mining policy, for instance, when reduced to a practical basis meant the taking of considerable financial risks and the annual expenditure of a considerable sum of money. The appointment of a Provincial Auditor was supported by a section of the Conservative press—very rightly, too. It was a service much needed, and it is merely mentioned now to illustrate the fact that the Province cannot have all these conveniences and necessities without paying for them. The Public Accounts Committee sits throughout the session and the members of the Opposition very properly avail themselves to the fullest extent of the privilege of examining accounts, vouchers, books, documents, officials, etc., with the purpose of acquainting themselves with the minutest detail of the Provincial transactions. If they were to be candid with the public they would say that after all these years of scrutiny the Administration have come practically unscathed through the ordeal.

If there is to be criticism of the Provincial finances give us something that the people of the Province can examine and decide whether there is anything in it or not. For example, year after year a conflict has raged around the question whether the railway certificates should be stated as a present obligation or not. Plain men could which way the question was answered. The real question was, has the money been wisely granted? Are the Government extravagant in their grants to railways? The great majority will answer the first question in the affirmative and the second in the negative. The real situation is that this Province has been managed since Confederation in such a way that, while we have every service of a modern, enlightened, humane and progressive community the public estate has been so carefully guarded and protected that it remains to all intents and purposes intact and complete.

This at once raises the question of the main source of revenue, the timber wealth of the Province. What is Mr. Whitney's policy with regard to this? Here again we have the usual vague declamation. We are told that the Government have been killing the goose that laid the golden egg. It may be said at once that good authorities agree that under present conditions there is nothing to prevent a perpetual public revenue from our timber lands. But if the reverse be true, what is Mr. Whitney's policy with regard to it? Is he prepared to say to the people of this generation that they are not to be allowed to enjoy the returns from this natural source of revenue? In regard to the mining lands, which, in the future, will, in all likelihood, be a close second to the timber as a source of revenue, what is Mr. Whitney's policy? The Government's policy is to secure a fair share of the advantages of the in western Ontario to the Province. While offering every encouragement to the adventurous prospector, it is not proposed that those who merely jump into a territory after the prospector has discovered it shall be able to gobble up everything in sight. That would neither help prospecting, help mining nor help the Province. Long before the session we heard a great deal in the Opposition press about this very sort of thing, and when it was invariably coupled the name of Mr. Conmee, the member for West Algoma. Blanket claims and Mr. Conmee's name were bracketed together, and it would have the public believe that he was a sinister character, and that Mr. Gibson and the Bureau of Mines were under his dark domination. But, lo and behold, when the mining bill came up for consideration Mr. Whitney and Mr. Conmee were found in the same boat, both offering determined opposition to Mr. Gibson's proposals and on the same ground, although it must be said that Mr. Conmee's opposition went somewhat further, because he was logical and Mr. Whitney and his followers were not.

On the school policy the same question may be asked. Where is Mr. Whitney? If not he, some of his lieutenants gave the country to understand that they had formed against High Schools. They were being favoured at the expense of the Public Schools, and the discrimination must cease. It is likely that they had persuaded themselves that a campaign against High Schools would be somewhat popular, for the Public Schools are attended by the greater numbers, and the crusade had something of the flavour of the masses versus the classes about it. As soon as they discovered, however, that the people regard the High Schools as being as much the schools of the people as the primary schools the gentlemen of the Opposition began to draw fish, and last session very little was heard about High Schools except denials and assurances of respect from the Conservative side of the chamber. On other questions coming before the Legislature Mr. Whitney was even more vague and indefinite. Nobody could discover where he stood on the license bill and in regard to the temperance question generally. Where does he stand on it? Will he tell his audience at London? And indeed generally will he tell us what he is in Opposition for? What does he advocate? What does he propose to reform?

Belleville People Speak Freely About the New Conqueror of Heart and Nerve Troubles.

Perhaps Some of Them are Neighbours of Yours—they Speak with Emphasis.

Mrs. E. McConnell, says:—"For the last 8 or 10 years I have suffered greatly from heart trouble and nervousness. The pains across my chest and over the heart were very severe. My heart seemed to jump and throb until I could hardly stand it. I often felt as if it would jump out of my body.

I grew so weak that I could not work, and was tired at the slightest exertion. Nervousness also afflicted me so much that I was startled at the least noise or alarm.

Naturally this effected me mentally, and I grew very morbid and despondent. The medicines I took did me no good, and I was almost despairing of a cure when I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills at McKeown's Drug Store.

I experienced prompt relief from the first box, and now am like another woman. My whole system is toned up. All my distressing symptoms have been removed, and I cannot feel to thankful to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for the great good they have done me."

TARIFF RESOLUTIONS

To be Taken Up in the House Next Tuesday,

MR. FIELDING'S ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Davin Discusses the Grain Standards—The Excise Estimates Taken Up in Committee of Supply—Good Progress Made Amid Some Opposition Criticism.

Ottawa, May 18.—(Special.)—The Minister of Finance made an important and interesting announcement in the House this afternoon when he stated that he proposed asking that Tuesday, the first day of the sitting next week, should be set apart for the consideration of the tariff resolutions. Mr. Foster reiterated his assertion that there had been unreasonable delay on the part of the Government, but Mr. Fielding showed that any comparison in this respect would not at all be in favor of the ex-Finance Minister, and he also disposed of the latter's claim that he represented the business men of the country in his complaint. The remainder of the day was spent in Committe of Supply. The estimates for the expenses of the Inland Revenue Department were discussed at some length, and comments which were made led the Controller to explain in detail the changes which had been effected under his administration. In pursuance of the notice he gave some weeks ago, Mr. McMullen moved to strike out $800 paid to the Commissioner of Inland Revenue as inspector of weights and measures, but the motion was rejected.

Mr. Fielding said that before the orders of the day were taken up he desired to make an announcement respecting the time when the tariff resolutions would be proceeded with. It would not be convenient to name a day this week, but he proposed that the first sitting of next week (Tuesday) should be assigned to this purpose.

Mr. Foster repeated his previous complaints that there had been undue delay on the part of the Government in this matter. He alleged that the business of the country had been injuriously affected by reason of the uncertainty which he said existed.

Mr. Fielding repudiated the idea that there had been any unusual delay, and he pointed out that any comparison on the subject would not be favorable to Mr. Foster, who, according to his own admissions, had kept the country in a state of uncertainty from the summer of 1893 until July 12, 1894. The ex-Finance Minister was not correct in saying that he was speaking for the business men of the country in urging haste, since those thus interested were in communication with the Government. Mr. Fielding also expressed the hope that the Opposition had recovered from the manifest uncertainty displayed during the tariff debate, which on that account it had not been anxious to prolong.

Sir Hibbert Tupper did not consider the Finance Minister's explanation satisfactory, and, in answer to the latter's remarks, he claimed that the Conservative party was united in support of protection.

Mr. T. D. Craig (East Durham) thought that the Finance Minister ought to tell the House and the country the reason for the delay in proceeding with the tariff resolutions.

Mr. Davin, who was greeted with some laughter, said that he had not intended to speak on the same subject, but would do so in consequence of this outburst. He stated that he was totally unable to understand the reason for the delay on the part of the Government, and he characterized the tariff as a Janus-faced measure, which had deceived John Bull. Mr. Davin complained that the Postmaster-General had once emptied the Government side of the House when he commenced to speak, and he also took exception to an article in The Winnipeg Tribune, which stated that Mr. Davin was an insufferable bore, who on an average probably cost the country $6000 a day. Continuing, Mr. Davin said his primary object in speaking was to call the attention of the Controller of Inland Revenue to the present unsatisfactory condition of the grain standards to the detriment of the farmers. It was generally felt in the West that a satisfactory solution of the difficulty might be found in a permanent standard, and he asked the Controller to name a committee to investigate the matter.

The House then went into committee of supply on the excise vote.

Sir Henri Joly, replying to Mr. Wood, said his department was doing its utmost to put down illicit liquor dealing in the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Casgrain charged that the law was not being equally applied to offenders. Poor men were being prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law, while a man of means, named George Viznia of Quebec, who was caught red-handed in running an illicit still, had been allowed to go scot-free.

Sir Henri Joly said there were reasons, as set forth in contradictory communications in the department, which had led to the course adopted in regard to Viznia. The case had originated under the late Government.

Mr. Wood, reverting to the subject of the tariff, assured his successor that the increase would encourage smuggling and illicit distilling.

Sir Henri observed that the increase in the item under consideration was largely due to his indisposition to dismiss an official of long standing, while at the same time desiring to protect the revenue. As to the case of Viznia, Sir Henry wanted to know why Viznia had not been prosecuted by the previous Administration.

Hon. Mr. Foster contended that this was no answer to the question before the committee; nevertheless, the item went through and Sir Henri was let off lightly with the remainder of his estimates.

On the vote of $16,750, reduced from $17,000, for culling timber, Sir Henri Joly, in reply to Mr. Wood, said that the transportation of timber by rail necessitated the retention of a culler at Montreal, hence he was unable further to reduce the appropriation.

Col. Domville came in for a roast on the next item, that for $13,160 for weights and measures.

Mr. McInerney quoted from the petition signed by Col. Domville against the superannuation of W. B. Scoville, Inspector of Weights and Measures, and a brother-in-law of the Colonel's.

Col. Domville protested against the quotation of newspaper articles against a member of the House.

Sir Henri Joly explained that Mr. Scoville was 72 years of age and was removed to make way for a younger man.

The item went through, but the Controller struck another snag in the vote for the salary of the Commissioner of Inland Revenue. Mr. McMullen proposed to reduce it by the $800 paid to Mr. Miall as Commissioner of Standards.

Mr. Davies, who was leading the House, made a vigorous defence of the Commissioner, pointing out the importance of his duties and the fact that he was appointed to office by the Mackenzie Government and was eminently entitled to his salary of $3600. Mr. Davies would like to have the amendment of Mr. McMullen withdrawn.

Mr. McMullen would only consent to withdraw on condition that the Controller would consider the reduction during the recess. But the Controller held that if the salary was a statutory provision.

Thereupon ensued a scene of some excitement, yells of "Now, back down," "Take it all back," greeting the member for North Wellington from the Opposition benches.

Finally Mr. Chairman Brodeur put the question to the committee, and declared Mr. McMullen's amendment duly lost.

At this a dozen members, some on the Opposition side and others on the back benches of the Government side, arose and demanded a vote, which the Speaker did not seem inclined to take. A lively time ensued, Major Hughes observing that Mr. Deputy Speaker was not going to work any Czar Reed's rackets in the House.

This protest was also joined in by Messrs. Macdonell (Selkirk) and Henderson, and Mr. Davin moved an appeal from the hon. gentleman's ruling. Mr. Davies, by way of restoring peace, suggested that the latter motion might be made to read that the commissioner's salary be reduced by one dollar, namely, to $799, for Commissioner of Standards.

Mr. Prefontaine accordingly made the motion, which was defeated by 52 nays to 37 yeas.

Good progress was made with the estimates until 12.40 a.m., when the committee rose and the House adjourned.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Pouch Evidently Shot Himself.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 17.—The dead body of William Poutz Pouch, who murdered Farmer Harris and wounded Marshold, his hired man, and Miss Verhaeth, a domestic at the Harris home, near Milwaukee, a week ago, was found today in Hale's pond at Prospect Hill. The body was easily identified, although it was badly bloated. There was a bullet hole in the neck. Pouch evidently waded into the pond and shot himself.

Mr. Charles LeGros, tobacconist, has on exhibition at his store one of the mysterious and wonderful graphophones, which records all sounds with wonderful accuracy. The graphophone is operated by an electric battery—all you have to do is to touch the button, and an interesting musical exhibition is the result. Mr. Legros has been appointed agent for this part of Canada for these wonderful machines, which can be procured for $75 up to $300. Go and hear it on Saturday. 3d

LAID AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Harry Woods—Touching Tributes of Respect.

The funeral of the late Harry Woods, which took place yesterday, was very largely attended, a tribute to the high respect in which he was held. All the employees of the Peter Hamilton establishment turned out in a body, and with numerous representatives of employees in other establishments in town, joined in the funeral cortege with the sixty members of the Iron Moulders' Union, of which deceased was a member, and under whose auspices the funeral was conducted. The Iron Moulders' Union sent a beautiful floral pillow, a similar one was contributed by the Peter Hamilton employees, a beautiful floral wreath was contributed by the Electric Works employees, and there were numerous personal offerings of flowers. All the moulding shops of the several establishments in town were shut down to permit the employees to attend the funeral. Rev. J. J. Rae performed the religious ceremonies at the residence, and Rev. W. L. Armitage conducted the services at the cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Geo. Minorgan, John Wharton, Robert Mulligan, Charles Theobald, Dennis Gleason and R. M. Scott.

At a meeting of the Iron Moulders Union subsequent to the funeral, the following RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE

was adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to remove from this earthly sphere of usefulness at a comparatively early age our esteemed brother, Harry Woods, therefore be it resolved,

That we, the members of this Union, do hereby place on record and tender to the bereaved mother and friends of our late worthy brother, our heartfelt sympathy in this great affliction which has bereft them of a loving son and brother, and we pray that the God of all consolation may comfort and sustain them in this their hour of trial, with the consolations of His Divine grace.

Signed on behalf of the Union.

ROBERT MULLIGAN, Rec. Sec. FRED. MCGILL, President.

Peterborough, May 18th, 1897.

Also a resolution moved, by Mr. R. M. Scott, seconded by Mr. John Wharton, was unanimously adopted thanking the employees of the several establishments who turned out to pay a last tribute of respect to a deceased member of the Union.

The bereaved friends in their affliction must be greatly consoled by the numerous evidences of practical sympathy the funeral of the loved and lost one called forth.

AN INVITATION TO THE FIFTY-SEVENTH

To Join the Military Forces of Montreal in Celebrating the Diamond Jubilee.

This morning Lieut.-Col. Bell received from the Brigade Office at Montreal a letter inviting, on behalf of the officers of the district, the Fifty-seventh Battalion to participate in the military review in connection with Montreal's celebration of the Diamond Jubilee, June 22nd. Lt.-Col. Bell feels inclined to accept the invitation.

At the last joint meeting of the local Diamond Jubilee Committee with the town council, it was understood that the council was to extend invitations to the battalion and other bodies to take part in the demonstration on June 22nd.

So far no such invitation has has been sent the battalion, nor as far as Col. Bell can learn, to any other body, and he says that unless some definite arrangement is made in regard to the 57th being invited to join in the local celebration within the next 48 hours, (the Montreal people wanting a speedy reply) he will accept on behalf of the battalion the Montreal invitation. If the battalion is not wanted at home there seems to be no good reason why the pleasure of joining their Montreal comrades in assisting in celebrating the Diamond Jubilee should be foregone.

It has been suggested, in view of the probability of the local Jubilee celebration not being enthusiastically carried out, that the civic celebration be postponed till July 1st. This will permit the battalion to be present on that occasion and also permit them to attend the Montreal celebration. Apart from the pleasure the battalion would derive from a trip to Montreal, the opportunity of having a field day with half a dozen regiments at Montreal would have solid advantages to the 57th which would have a beneficial effect of a marked character. As this is a chance that will not be again presented in years, if ever, it is no surprise that the battalion feels inclined to accept the Montreal invitation for the 22nd of June.

CHARGED WITH INDECENT ASSAULT.

A Young Man From Cardiff Township in Trouble.

(Lindsay Post.)

On Monday County Constable W. J. Austin, of Haliburton, arrived in town with a prisoner named Daniel Southwick, sixteen years of age, who had been committed Saturday by Magistrate Dover and Prust, of Haliburton, upon his own admission that he had attempted on three occasions to commit an indecent assault upon the nine year old daughter of his employer, Robt. McCormick, of Dysart township. The prisoner, whose parents reside in the village of Havelock, was transferred to gaol, and will, we understand, receive his trial to-morrow.

He is secretary of the Peterborough lacrosse club and was to have represented it at a meeting of the clubs in the district, of which Cobourg, Campbellford and Port were supposed to have been the other members, in order that scheudule of games might be arranged. But delegates failed to show up, the clubs being apparently adverse to the idea of a league. Peterborough club is now in a position to run away and play with itself as far as a Midland district is concerned.

GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

How Money is to be Raised for the Equipment.

According to previous announcement, the young men of the town have been requested by the Board of Directors to equip the new gymnasium of the Y.M.C.A. This will require $500, and when this is secured Peterborough will possess the finest gymnasium in the Province, if not in the Dominion.

Last night the young men connected with the Y.M.C.A. held a meeting to discuss the best methods of securing the amount as stated above.

There was a goodly number present, including representatives from nearly all the trades and professions.

The gathering was an enthusiastic one from beginning to end, and if the zeal is any indication of results, the gymnasium will be furnished before many weeks.

Mr. Williamson was selected chairman, and after the opening exercises, led by two of the members, he explained the situation fully, and presented a plan for work which was duly discussed and heartily endorsed.

The idea was that of a competition, which was then organized.

It was decided that every dollar secured should count a point, and the contest was arranged to close on Friday night, June 4th at 8 o'clock.

The sides are made up of fifteen men each and represented by colours, red and blue. The captains of the Reds is Mr. T.H. Martin, and Mr. H. D. Kennedy of the Blues.

After June 4th, when it is found which side has the most points, a banquent will be provided. There will be a difference in the bill of fare—the losing side will get bread and water, and the winning side the best menu that can be secured. To add to the interest the EXAMINER will champion the cause of the Blues, and the Review the Reds.

The men on each side will wear bands of ribbon representing their colours, and everyone who assists in any way will have the same privilege.

Small subscription books have been placed in the hands of the competitors with covers of blue and red. The ball was set rolling at the rooms to-day at noon, when all the men received their books.

Every night an announcement will be made as to the standing in the evening papers, and the result will be indicated at the room as well.

The following are the names of the men composing the sides:

BLUES.	REDS.
H. D. Kennedy, Captain.	T. H. Martin, Captain.
G. H. Williamson,	H. P. Kennedy,
B. Anderson,	H. Taylor,

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

The Peterborough are the champions of the Eastern District as the other lacrosse clubs in the group have decided to drop out.

A meeting was held yesterday in the Queen's Hotel, Port Hope, at which representatives from Campbellford and Cobourg failed to appear. Port Hope was represented by Mr. David Hooey, and as there were only the two clubs remaining in the district, he stated Port Hope's desire to withdraw, thus leaving the Peterboroughs district champions.

Arrangements, however, were immediately made with Port Hope for home-and-home exhibition games, which will probably take place during June.

Having the district matches off their hands leaves the home team free to arrange a number of exhibition matches with the following teams, which have asked for games: Metropolitans, of Ottawa; Young Captitals, of Ottawa; the Georgetowns, Ontarios, of Port Hope; Checkers, of Beaverton; University of Toronto, Maitlands, of Toronto; Orillas, Madocs, Elms, of Toronto; Millbrooks and Tweed.

A meeting of the Peterboroughs will be held on the grounds after practice this evening and a full attendance of the players and executive is asked.

The team which will play against the Rosedales on May 24th will be picked this evening on the P.A.A.A. grounds.

The team is getting into fine shape for their match on the Queen's birthday, when they expect to give a fine exhibition of the national game on the P.A.A.A. grounds in their match with the the Rosedales of Toronto.

THE WHEEL.

The Victorias are called out for their first run to-morrow, when a start will be made from the club rooms on the corner of Water and Hunter streets. As the club will make these runs a special feature, all members are requested to be on hand at 8 o'clock sharp. The route will be up the Ashburnham side of the river, and down this side.

Complaint is made to the police of a young man living in the vicinity of Edinburgh street, who rides a horse and will not recognise the rights of a bicycle on the roadway. It is said that several wheelmen have been forced to dismount or else take the risk of running into his horse.

The Peterborough Bicycle Club run was well attended last evening, twenty-seven riders following the route through Ashburnham and around by the locks bridge, through the cemetery and back to town again. The roads were in capital condition.

Between thirty and forty members of the ladies' bicycle club were out for a run last evening.

BASEBALL.

The Galt Reformer says,—Galt and Hespler cross bats to-morrow, and the league season will be opened in Hespeler. The local management are making a bid for the services of McCabe, the one-armed pitcher, now in Preston.

BATTALION NOTES.

The First March Out of the Season Last Evening.

The Rangers marched out for the first time this year last night with both bands in attendance. The line of march was from the drill shed along Murray street to George, to Charlotte, to Stewart, to Hunter, to Water, to Murray and back into the armoury.

The turnout was not as large as it should be at this time of the year, but the officers and non-coms. are making a big effort to drum up the veterans, as well as new recruits for the next parade.

The following orders were last evening:

THE ORDERS.

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, May 18th, 1897.

Orders by Lt.-Col. R. W. Bell, commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers:

No. 1—Officer for the week—Capt. Stevenson. Next for duty, Capt. Hayes.

The guard will be furnished by "C" Company, "D" Company in waiting.

No. 2—The Bugle Band will parade every Monday night after practice, for squad drill till further orders.

No. 3 The Battalion will parade with both bands on Monday, the 24th inst., at 1 p.m.

No. 4—Lt. Bell is posted to "D" Co. till future orders.

By order,
H. A. MORROW,
Adjt. and Capt.

Hereafter the line-of-march will be published the evening of the parade, in order that the citizens may know upon what streets to await the volunteers.

The subject of the annual outing is once more being discussed, and although no places have as yet been mentioned, quite a number of the officers and men would be pleased to again visit Picton, as the royal welcome extended them there in 1895 is still green in their memories.

FELL FROM HER BICYCLE.

Mrs. A. W. Brodie, of Galt, Meets With an Accident.

The Galt Reformer makes the following reference to a bicycle accident which recently befel Mrs. A. W. Brodie, daughter of County Police Magistrate Edmison, town:—

"About eleven o'clock this morning Mrs. A. W. Brodie met with a severe accident. She was riding a bicycle along King street west. A team of horses was standing by the roadside and Mrs. Brodie wheeled very near the animals. One of the horses, which was of a vicious nature, kicked Mrs. Brodie, knocking her off the wheel. She was at once picked up and medical aid summoned. On examination it was found that her elbow was dislocated. The hurt is quite serious."

THE RANGERS AND THE PUBLIC.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I am quite in sympathy with the proposal of a correspondent of your contemporary as to the matter of the public being advised of the route on the occasion of a march out of the Rangers. At the same time I would suggest that it would be a much appreciated encouragement if the spectators would reward the fine marching of the boys by a little applause. We are all proud of the Battalion, but it appears that we have become so accustomed to seeing them do things well, that we content ourselves with feeling, instead of expressing, our appreciation. Public approval is about the only reward, apart from a consciousness of duty faithfully done, that our noble volunteers receive. I have "been there" myself and know that the hearty applause of the spectators in recognition of good marching or other good qualities, is a great encouragement.

Yours faithfully,
VETERAN.

May 19th, 1897.

A NAME WANTED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Will some member of the Natural Science Association or ornithologist inform me, and other curious ones, of the name of the strange bird seen around town lately. It is about the size and build of the common robin, with black head and wings, and yellow back and breast, and is frequently seen in fruit trees, presumably on the look out for insects. Its vocal powers are somewhat similar to a robin's, but more cheery.

Yours, etc.,
CURIOSITY.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

An iron span is being placed in position across the space in the C.P.R. spur line beneath which the canoes and boats pass from the boathouses to the lake. This does away with the posts which has heretofore made the spot somewhat dangerous.

The I. B. & O. R. R. employees went on strike on Tuesday last, till arrears of wages are paid. The daily train to the end of the line is meantime cancelled, the mails being taken on a hand-car.

The Haliburton train met with a slight mishap yesterday afternoon. When near Kinmount on the way north one of the cross heads of the engine gave way, and the driving wheels had to be disconnected on one side. The engineer managed to pull into Kinmount, where the freight cars were left, and the train reached Haliburton but little over an hour late, returning with a coach and express car next morning.

The re-arrangement of business has rendered necessary the closing of eighteen night telegraph stations on the Grand Trunk Railway, one of which is Peterborough. Most of them are on the main line between Toronto and Point Edward, and the others are situated at small places where there never has been work enough for an operator. There are no night trains at these places now, and consequently nothing for an operator to do. The closing of the office means that eighteen men over that portion of the system will be thrown out of work.

A Destructive Habit.

"Have another with me?" and they have another. Thus first through sociability, the awful work of alcohol is begun, and then the fiendish desire starts on its work of destruction killing happiness and health. ANTI-BOOZE is endorsed by the leading physicians in Europe and America as a most remarkable remedy for the cure of intemperance in all its stages, and for destroying the fearful effects of all narcotic poisons. It rebuilds the shattered nervous system restoring the patient quickly to normal physical and mental conditions. ANTI-BOOZE is put up in pill form and sells at $1.00 a box, sent to any address, prepaid, in plain wrapper, on receipt of amount. Oriental Chemical Co., 20 St. Alexis street, Montreal.

Cutting up pranks with baby is great fun for a young mother. But before she can cut pranks with the baby she must have a healthy baby. A puny, sickly, peevish baby has no use for pranks. It lies in every young mother's power to insure the health of the expected newcomer. If she will see that the organs which make motherhood possible are healthy and vigorous, and will keep them so during the period preceding maternity, she may be sure that the baby will be healthy and happy.

A marvelous medicine for young mothers is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Taken during the period preceding motherhood it makes strong, healthy and vigorous the organs upon which rest the burdens of maternity. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, and restores steadiness to the nerves. It does away with the discomforts of the expectant period. It insures the health of baby and makes its coming easy and almost painless. It is the discovery of an eminent and successful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription before my confinement, and I was only in labor a short time," writes Mrs. Minnie A. Peterson, Box 5, Easton, Fresno Co., Cal. "The physician said I got along unusually well. I think the medicine saved a great deal of suffering and I get all my friends who need it to try it."

One of the best-known of American medical men said: "If you want to reform a man, begin with his grandfather." That would be wise if it could be done. Since it cannot be done, try something else. Reform the future grandfathers and grandmothers. Do this through education. The greatest thing for a man or woman to know is himself or herself. To know one-half the capabilities and disabilities of the human body is a liberal education. A good start for this education is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Any one can have this finely illustrated 1000-page book for the small price of thirty-one one-cent stamps. This is simply to pay for customs and mailing. If you would like the book in fine cloth binding instead of paper, send fifty stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

ANOTHER POSTOFFICE THIEF.

He Has Disgraced Himself and Put Shame on a Respectable Family.

Detroit, May 17.—Glenn Arthur Trowbridge, clerk at the Ann Arbor postoffice, was brought to Detroit this morning by Inspector Larmour, charged with robbing the mails. Trowbridge is 21 years old and belongs to a highly respected University City family. When arraigned before Commissioner Graves he waived examination. Bail was fixed at $1000, and he was remanded to the custody of the marshal, pending the arrival of relations in this city who had been notified. Larmour says mail had been missed at the Ann Arbor postoffice for a long time. The mailing clerks were suspected and the office was under surveillance. Last night young Trowbridge made a voluntary confession to Postoffice Inspector Bookes. He said he had been abstracting letters for about a year and a half. His conscience had been troubling him for a long time past. As an excuse for his dishonesty he said he took the money for the purpose of paying a debt which he owed his mother in connection with his college expenses, but his elegant attire indicated that he lived beyond his means. Young Trowbridge is a brother of Perry F. Trowbridge, instructor in the university. He has many friends and his guilt is a great surprise.

THE REBELLION IN URUGUAY.

A Six Hours' Fight in Which the Insurgents Get Whipped.

Montevideo, May 17.—A battle, lasting six hours, has taken place between the Uruguayan troops and the insurgents under Lamas and Saraiva. The Government forces were victorious, according to the official report. It is further stated that the revolution is dying out, owing to the insurgents lacking ammunition and on account of numerous desertions from their ranks.

Later in the day it was officially announced that the insurgents had been completely routed and that the revolution is considered ended.

BASEBALL YESTERDAY.

Syracuse N.Y., May 17.—The Stars won from Toronto here to-day in a loosely-played game of 12 innings. Gallagher and Sheamp were sent to the bench by Manager Buckenberger and Schelbeck and Grove took their places. Grove's two-base hit in the last inning, after Lesotte's single, won the game. Score:

A REPLICA OF THE QUEEN.

The Princess May Reproduces in Herself the Queen's Traits.

The Princess May, in the direct line of succession, threatens to be another Queen Victoria. She is like the Queen in every respect. Her mother is Her Majesty's own cousin, and she might be the Queen's daughter, and is more like her than any of her own children.

The reign of Queen May, which may begin suddenly, just as the young Kaiserin of Germany was thrust upon the throne when she supposed she must wait for two generations before her turn at ruling came—will be a Victorian reign.

This young lady will undoubtedly reproduce Victoria's early reign. Everybody who lived in the '50's remembers what that was. "The family" was all one heard. Victoria devoted herself to the raising of her children; and it was fashionable to walk in the streets in daytime with as many well-dressed little ones and their nurses as could be mustered up. The Princess May is precisely the same in tone and desire. She loves her babies and devotes herself to them assiduously, seldom letting a nurse relieve her. When she went to the Saxe-Coburg-Gotha wedding she trotted along little Prince Edward of York, a baby of less than three years.

The pastime of the Duchess of York is the care of her babies, and the entertainment of her mother-in-law. The two are inseparable, and only the insects that lie in the grass and the birds in the trees overhead will ever tell what their conversation is. Do they talk of their days ruling England? And do they, either one of them propose to become active in public life? Both have thus far refused to add their names to petitions with the smack of anything strong-minded upon them. No temperances causes, no clean elections, no pure or impure concert halls, have interested them. Their province has lain in home and in that which was purely ornamental.

The little fellow, Prince Edward, who now leans in his mother's arms, will be the one to change the tide of it all. No matter who may be his Princess, how English her blood, or how conservative her thought, the stars have decreed that the reign of domestic tranquility shall be distributed in the fourth generation.

The Reading of the Queen.

When Anthony Trollope was alive Her Majesty spent a good portion of her spare moments in reading his novels. She was an ardent admirer of his, and he left no successor in her affections. The Queen has a well-stocked library in each of her palaces, and often spends several hours a day among her books. She reads the Times daily, as every loyal British subject is supposed to do, and she occasionally skims through the magazines and illustrated weeklies. She subscribes for the Graphic, the Daily News and half-a-dozen or more religious and semi-religious papers. These she reads carefully, and is quite well informed on all topics of interest. The scores of books and pamphlets that are sent to her in the course of every month she rarely, if ever, sees. They are taken charge of by the lackeys before they get into the presence of royalty, and are either stored in closets or purloined by the servants. Only when a book has made a big hit, or is widely advertised, and the Queen asks for it, is it given to her. She still finds pleasure in Trollope's novels. Tennyson is her idol, Walter Besant is another writer whose works stir the aged monarch, and Mrs. Humphry Ward's "Robert Elsmere" was read not once, but twice. She likes Browning and Swinburne, and the merry jingle of Austin Dobson's verse interests her. But of all the poets, there is none who has made so deep an impression upon her heart of hearts as Robert Burns. Like all the rest of the world she has laughed and cried with the unfortunate Ayrshire plowman, and of all his efforts she thinks "The Cotter's Saturday Night" his masterpiece. It is said that among recent authors Marie Correlli is the Queen's favorite.

The Queen's Lucky Day.

The most important event in the Queen's life for many years was her birthday last year. Her Majesty was told many years ago by sooth-sayers, who amused a Windsor family gathering, that Her Majesty would be in peril physically in the latter part of her 76th year. But if she passed that time safely, her 77th would be full of strength and promise for another 10 years of life. Seven has always been a lucky number with Her Majesty.

Another point made this birthday particularly precious to the Queen. Her Majesty has always had a perfect mania for wanting to see her descendants upon thrones. The marriage of Alix, daughter of Alice of England, to the Czar gave her untold pleasure. The fact that Alix was crowned simultaneously with her own birthday was to her the greatest of all birthday gifts.

A Point of Contact.

Queen Victoria's one great infirmity is her temper. No one more regrets her violent passion and spasms of temper than does the Queen herself. Her efforts to overcome this constitutional disease may probably have lessened the frequency of its attacks, but they have not resulted in a cure. The very strength of the will power and stubbornness of disposition which she is known to possess, and which it might be presumed would afford her a means of resistance, only serve to augment the virulence of the paroxysms and render the task of self-control one of greater difficulty.

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood-disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then don't be an invalid.

The Succession to the Throne.

Their are more than fifty heirs to the British crown, claiming through the Queen. Among these is the Emperor of Germany, between whom and the British throne there are about twenty lives. Foreign nationality, or the possession of a foreign crown, does not vitiate his claim, but it is obvious that from motives of public policy he would never be allowed to succeed. Parliament could, and undoubtedly would, bar his claim. Similarly the Prince of Wales was heir to the Dutchy of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, but renounced his rights in favor of his next brother. Among other heirs to the British crown is the Princess May, as a descendent of King George III., but in her own right she stands seventy-fourth in the list.

The principle upon which the crown descends is that of following one branch of the family until that is exhausted, when the next collateral branch is followed until that is exhausted, and so on, until all the descendants of the sovereign are exhausted, when the crown reverts still further back. The descendants of Queen Victoria are so numerous that it is extremely unlikely that any other branch of the family of King George III. will inherit it.

The immediate succession is as follows:

The Prince of Wales, son.
Duke of York, grandson.
Prince Edward, son of the Duke of York, great-grandson.

Learns Hindustani at 68.

It was consideration for others that induced the Queen, at the age of 68, to undertake the task of learning Hindustani. Of course she is, as royal personages generally are, a fair linguist, but she is probably the only royal personage in Europe who has undertaken to learn an Asiatic language. She had really become quite proficient in her Hindustani. She took it up in order that she might converse in their own tongue with the Indian royalties who come from time to time to pay their respects to her.

FAMILY MEDICINE

She Has Been Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady for

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Avenue, New York City.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, May 17.—There were about 550 head of butchers' cattle, 400 calves, 120 sheep and 150 spring lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The butchers were present in large numbers, and trade was fair, with the prices reading about the same rates as on Thursday. A carload of superior steers were bought for shipment to Great Britain at $4.55 per 100 lbs.; prime butchers' stock sold at from 4½ to 4¾c, and pretty good animals at from 3¾c to nearly 4c per lb.; common, rough, half-fatted beasts sold at from 2½c to 3c, and some of old lean cows would not bring over 2c per lb.; calves sold at from $1 to $5 each, but there were no extra veals on the market. Shippers are paying about 4c per lb. for good large sheep, and the butchers pay from 3¾c to 4¼c per lb. for the others. Mr. Bournsa bought seven good sheep at $5 each and 28 spring lambs at an average of $4 each. Some of the lambs were rather small, and would scarcely bring over $2 each. Fat hogs sell at from 5c to 5¼c per lb. Store hogs bring from $3 to $7 each, according to size.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 31 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

THE QUEEN'S YACHT.

"VICTORIA AND ALBERT" LAUNCHED FORTY-TWO YEARS AGO.

A Modest Outfit For the Sea—Simple Fittings and Decorations—The Old Boat Still Used Twice a Year by the Queen.

TWICE A YEAR at least in these present days the Queen uses her modest yacht in going to and returning from the continent. The yacht, named the "Victoria and Albert" was formerly "The Windsor Castle," a name changed by the Queen's desire. The good old paddle boat was launched at Pembroke on Jan. 16, 1855.

The first and perhaps the most interesting occasion on which the royal yacht was used for the purpose of an important function was the historic visit of the Queen and Prince Albert's to France, which took place in August, 1855, the news of the successes in the Crimea preceding their departure by only a few hours.

The party on board the yacht on that occasion included the Prince of Wales and the Princess Royal.

The fitting and furnishing of the Queen's yacht is remarkable for its lack of luxury and unnecessary decoration, and is also remarkable for the uniformity of the coverings of the walls in all the royal apartments. This covering is of rose-bud patterned chintz, box-plaited, and may be, from time to time, perhaps, renewed, but is never varied.

The Queen's drawing-room with its photographs of the royal family, the dining-room with its charts and pictures of the different officers who have had the honor of the vessel's command, her breakfast room—in the stern of the yacht—with its portrait of Lord Adolphus FitzClarence, Captain of the First Victoria and Albert, her sleeping apartments with its homely furnishing—one and all are hung with this somewhat old-fashioned and simple looking material.

The suite of rooms next to the Queen's, once devoted to the Empress Frederick when a girl, is now called Princess Beatrice's suite. She uses these rooms, three in number, when on board with the Queen. When any of the Queen's daughters are on board alone they make use of these apartments which are specially devoted to the Sovereign.

An interesting cabin is that which was once upon a time in frequent occupation by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Edinburgh, and here for many a year with the maple furniture, were two small brass bedsteads for their use. Some three years ago these relics of the Princes' childish days disappeard and a larger bedstead took their place, for the late Prince Henry of Battenburg expressed a wish to have the cabin, and always used it.

Of course, everything is arranged for the Queen's comfort, and there are two cushioned lounges aft, one on each quarter when the weather is fine, but these are removed when bad weather prevails. Then there are two settees, one on each side of the yacht, just below the after part of the bridge, cushioned and comfortable, and these have hoods that can be lowered over the entrances.

On the bridge is a pretty little 5 o'clock tea cabin, and here also are a pair of settees, one on each side of the bridge, while opposite the 5-o'clock tea cabin is the chart room. Under the bridge are the armory, the lamp room and the signal lockers. The staircase is wide and ample, and the corridors leading to the royal apartments is hung in green silk damask and decorated with water color drawings of some of Her Majesty's ships.

In the wardrobe room, where the Queen's dresser sleeps, are some boat-cloaks, one of which, a scarlet affair, belonged to George IV. I have seen it stated that this garment is sometimes worn by Her Majesty. This is a mistake; the cloak has never been donned by the Queen. Indeed, she never wears boat-cloaks now, and has not been in a boat for a considerable number of years.

The rooms used by the lords and ladies-in-waiting, the equerries, etc., are in the forepart of the yacht; they are commodious and comfortably furnished, and their walls are not hung with chints, but are painted salmon color.

Her Majesty has sometimes lent her famous yacht to other sovereigns. In December, 1860, the Victoria and Albert was placed at the disposal of the Empress of Austria, who voyaged in her to Maderia, and from there the Queen's yacht fetched her in April, 1861, and took her to Cadiz, Gibraltar, Malta and Corfu, finally landing the Empress at Trieste.

In March, 1863, the Victoria and Albert brought to Britain from Denmark, the Princess Alexandria, destined to become probably the most popular foreign Princess who ever landed on the shores of the tight little island.

Another interesting trip was made in 1869 by the Victoria and Albert, when the Empress Frederick, with her daughters, Victoria and Margaret, took passage in her to Gibraltar, where the royal party was transferred to the dispatch vessel Surprise, in which they proceeded to Athens.

One of the longest of the recent voyages of the yacht was that of last year, when she conveyed the Duke and Duchess of Connaught to St. Petersburg for the coronation of the Czar. The voyage out lasted seven days, and the yacht anchored in the Neva for three weeks, while their Royal Highnesses were at Moscow. They called at Stockholm on their return, and were not back at Victoria till June 17, five weeks from the date of their departure from that place.

During the Queen's winter stay at Osborne the Victoria and Albert is always ready for sea, but remains at Portsmouth, her officers doing duty in the Alberta tender whenever members of the royal family pass to and fro between Portsmouth and East Cowes.

In the summer season the yacht and her tenders, Alberta and Elfin, all lie off Cowes. During both seasons the Victoria and Albert makes trips to Flushing for the convenience of the royal family.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

ITCHING ECZEMA

An Editor's Little Son Suffers Terribly. Itching Intense, Face Raw and Bleeding from Constant Scratching. Cured by Cuticura.

My little boy was afflicted with Eczema in acute form for nearly a year, during which time we tried without success every known remedy. The disorder appeared on the right cheek and was of a blistery and bloody form. His pillow, mornings, would bear the bloody imprint of the side of his face, while it was impossible to prevent the little fellow from scratching his face, owing to the intensity of the itching. I was advised to try CUTICURA. The first application was made before putting the child to bed, and the appearance of the affected parts showed a noticeable improvement the next morning. As a result of the continued use of CUTICURA my child has as fair and smooth skin as can be found anywhere.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Under its Auspices an Open Meeting was held Last Evening.

An open meeting of the local Methodist Women's Missionary Society was held last evening in the George street church in connection with the District Meeting of the clergy and elders of the Methodist church, which is now in session.

The opening devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Kilgour and Rev. W. R. Young.

Mrs. Seward and Miss Butcher sang an arrangement of Home Sweet Home as a duet with pleasing harmony.

Rev. Geo. Robinson of Warsaw was then called upon for a short address. He expressed his sympathy with the work of the W.M.S., and remarked on the arduous nature of the undertaking which the ladies had in hand, and the enthusiasm with which some gave their attention towards forwarding the missionary cause of the church. It was quite within his recollection, when a remark of his to the effect that he hoped the day would come when he would speak on missionary work from a woman's platform, created wonder, but, as was seen, that time had now come. The speaker related some interesting experiences in the missionary fields of the Canadian backwoods. Hardships were encountered, but the two happiest and best years of his life were spent in work of this nature. During that time he built a mission church—built it literally, as he took off his coat, and with axe in hand, assisted in hewing the logs, of which it was built. Mr. Robinson concluded his remarks with warm words of praise for the ladies.

Mrs. R. A. Hamilton's solo, "Come unto Me, ye that are heavy laden," was greatly appreciated, as was Mrs. C. C. McAllister's most pathetic rendition of the "Maiden Martyr" as a recitation.

A well-given number was a vocal quartette by Mrs. Seward, Miss Richardson and Messrs. Miller and Harvey.

Rev. Mr. Phelps, of Millbrook, was next called upon for an address. He referred to the great work done on the Pacific Coast amongst the Indians, by Rev. Mr. Sexsmith, now of Pontypool, who was unfortunately debarred from speaking by a sore throat. The speaker then dwelt on the Indian question to some extent. He thought Canada had every reason to be proud of the way she had treated the red men. Schools and churches were furnished for them instead of a war of extermination being inaugurated, as in the United States. On the grounds of common humanity everything possible should be done to alleviate the utter ignorance of the Indian in respect to Christ and His work. If quite as much money was not being given to missionary work as was needed, still the speaker thought that the foundation was being laid for a supreme effort in the future, as in the case of a steamer in a lock when the water is raising, she is standing still but still making progress.

During the evening the choir rendered a number of pleasing selections.

THE EDITOR'S ADVICE.

TO ALL THOSE WHO ARE SICK OR AILING.

A Young Man was Suffering with Paralysis. Follows it and is Again Rejoicing in full Possession of Health and Strength.

From the Trenton, Ont., Courier.

The editor of the Courier having obtained some relief from rheumatism by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and having observed their effect on a young man to whom he had recommended their use, in the interest that everyone should take in the public weal, interviewed Mr. Wm. H. Pickering on the subject. Mr. Pickering has been known to the writer for several years. He knew him when robust and well, a model of a healthy young man. Mr. Pickering told his story as follows, and the editor can vouch for its entire truthfulness. "It would be impossible," said Mr. Pickering, "for me to speak too extravagantly of the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the fall of 1894 I contracted a severe cold, which developed into quinsy. Following this, paralysis set in and I continued to grow worse until at last I could not stir off my chair without assistance. I lost the entire use of my limbs, and it looked as though I was doomed to spend the rest of my days a helpless wreck. Mr. Young of the Courier, who had observed the excellent results following the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in other cases advised me to give them a trial, and I acted on his advice. I had finished my third box when the hoped for relief began to make itself felt and from that time the progress towards a complete cure was both steady and satisfactory. I am now in possession of my full health and strength, and I feel that this satisfactory result is entirely due to the excellence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I shall always have a warm word to say in their favour." Medical science has not produced any other medicine that can accomplish such wonderful cures as those following the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills. Their action on the blood and nerves is speedy and emphatic, supplying the former with health giving vitality, and the latter with renewed energy and strength. They are a certain cure for paralysis, locomotor ataxia, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus' Dance, nervous prostration, erysipelas, heart weakness, etc.

There are numerous imitations against which the public are cautioned. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, the wrapper of which bears the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Insist on getting the genuine and be made well.

Husband is Well.

Mrs. Wm. Hambly, Belleville, Ont., says: "My husband was troubled with kidney complaint, rheumatism, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, etc., and could not get relief until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for him. He has now used four boxes in all and is perfectly cured."

Doans Kidney Pills are the ones to cure. Remember the name, Doan's.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket 15c contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent 339 George Street.

THE BEST

FAMILY MEDICINE

She Has Been Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady:

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Avenue, New York City.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, May 17.—There were about 550 head of butchers' cattle, 400 calves, 120 sheep and 150 spring lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The butchers were present in large numbers, and trade was fair, with the prices reading about the same rates as on Thursday. A carload of superior steers were bought for shipment to Great Britain at $4.55 per 100 lbs.; prime butchers' stock sold at from 4¼ to 4¾c, and pretty good animals at from 3½c to nearly 4c per lb.; common, rough, half-fatted beasts sold at from 2½c to 3c, and some of old lean cows would not bring over 2c per lb.; calves sold at from $1 to $5 each, but there were no extra veals on the market. Shippers are paying about 4c per lb. for good large sheep, and the butchers pay from 3½c to 4½c per lb. for the others. Mr. Bourassa bought seven good sheep at $5 each and 28 spring lambs at an average of $4 each. Some of the lambs were rather small, and would scarcely bring over $2 each. Fat hogs sell at from 3c to 5½c per lb. Store hogs bring from $3 to $7 each, according to size.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandness that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 31 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

THE QUEEN'S YACHT.

"VICTORIA AND ALBERT" LAUNCHED FORTY-TWO YEARS AGO."

A Modest Outfit For the Sea—Simple Fittings and Decorations—The Old Boat Still Used Twice a Year by the Queen.

TWICE A YEAR at least in these present days the Queen makes her modest comfort in going to and returning from the continent. The yacht, named the "Victoria and Albert" was formerly "The Windsor Castle," a name changed by the Queen's desire. The good old paddle boat was launched at Pembroke on Jan. 16, 1855.

The first and perhaps the most interesting occasion on which the royal yacht was used for the purpose of an important function was the historic visit of the Queen and Prince Albert to France, which took place in August, 1855, the news of the successes in the Crimea preceding their departure by only a few hours.

The party on board the yacht on that occasion included the Prince of Wales and the Princess Royal.

The fitting and furnishing of the Queen's yacht is remarkable for its lack of luxury and unnecessary decoration, and is also remarkable for the uniformity of the coverings of the walls in all the royal apartments. This covering is of rosebud patterned chintz, box-plaited, and may be, from time to time, perhaps, renewed, but is never varied.

The Queen's drawing-room with its photographs of the royal family, the dining-room with its charts and pictures of the different officers who have had the honor of the vessel's command, her breakfast room—in the stern of the yacht—with its portrait of Lord Adolphus FitzClarence, Captain of the First Victoria and Albert, her sleeping apartments with its homely furnishing—one and all are hung with this somewhat old-fashioned and simple-looking material.

The suite of rooms next to the Queen's, once devoted to the Empress Frederick when a girl, is now called Princess Beatrice's suite. She uses these rooms, three in number, when on board with the Queen. When any of the Queen's daughters are on board alone they make use of these apartments which are specially devoted to the Sovereign.

An interesting cabin is that which was once upon a time in frequent occupation by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Edinburgh, and here for many a year with the maple furniture, were two small brass bedsteads for their use. Some three years ago these relics of the Princes' childish days disappeard and a larger bedstead took their place, for the late Prince Henry of Battenburg expressed a wish to have the cabin, and always used it.

Of course, everything is arranged for the Queen's comfort, and there are two cushioned lounges aft, one on each quarter when the weather is fine, but these are removed when bad weather prevails. Then there are two settees, one on each side of the yacht, just below the after part of the bridge, cushioned and comfortable, and these have hoods that can be lowered over the entrances.

On the bridge is a pretty little 5 o'clock tea cabin, and here also are a pair of settees, one on each side of the bridge, while opposite the 5-o'clock tea cabin is the chart room. Under the bridge are the armory, the lamp room and the signal lockers. The staircase is wide and ample, and the corridors leading to the royal apartments is hung in green silk damask and decorated with water color drawings of some of Her Majesty's ships.

In the wardrobe room, where the Queen's dresser sleeps, are some boat-clouks, one of which, a scarlet affair, belonged to George IV. I have seen it stated that this garment is sometimes worn by Her Majesty. This is a mistake; the cloak has never been donned by the Queen. Indeed, she never wears boat-cloaks now, and has not been in a boat for a considerable number of years.

The rooms used by the lords and ladies-in-waiting, the equerries, etc., are in the forepart of the yacht; they are commodious and comfortably furnished, and their walls are not hung with chints, but are painted salmon color.

Her Majesty has sometimes lent her famous yacht to other sovereigns. In December, 1860, the Victoria and Albert was placed at the disposal of the Empress of Austria, who voyaged in her to Madeira, and from there the Queen's yacht fetched her in April, 1861, and took her to Cadiz, Gibraltar, Malta and Corfu, finally landing the Empress at Trieste.

In March, 1863, the Victoria and Albert brought to Britain from Denmark the Princess Alexandria, destined to become probably the most popular foreign Princess who ever landed on the shores of the tight little island.

Another interesting trip was made in 1869 by the Victoria and Albert, when the Empress Frederick, with her daughters, Victoria and Margaret, took passage in her to Gibraltar, where the royal party was transferred to the dispatch vessel Surprise, in which they proceeded to Athens.

One of the longest of the recent voyages of the yacht was that of last year, when she conveyed the Duke and Duchess of Connaught to St. Petersburg for the coronation of the Czar. The voyage out lasted seven days, and the yacht anchored in the Neva for three weeks, while their Royal Highnesses were at Moscow. They called at Stockholm on their return, and were not back at Victoria till June 17, five weeks from the date of their departure from that place.

During the Queen's winter stay at Osborne the Victoria and Albert is always ready for sea, but remains at Portsmouth, her officers doing duty in the Alberta tender whenever members of the royal family pass to and fro between Portsmouth and East Cowes.

In the summer season the yacht and her tenders, Alberta and Elfin, all lie off Cowes. During both seasons the Victoria and Albert makes trips to Flushing for the convenience of the royal family.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

ARRANGING FOR AN ARMISTICE

Turkish Officials Acknowledge That the Greeks Fought With Great Bravery —A Threat That the Porte Will Not Submit to the Powers Beyond a Certain Point.

Athens, May 19.—A despatch received here from Lamia, dated 10 o'clock this morning, announces that the white flag has been hoisted between the armies of Greece and Turkey, and that Crown Prince Constantine has been authorized to suspend hostilities with the view of concluding arrangements for an armistice.

A panic prevails at Lamia owing to the report that the criminals will be released from the jails, while the arrival of the troops during the night increased the general feeling of terror.

The army of the Crown Prince was re-formed on the Othrys Mountains and will be reinforced by Gen. Smolenski's brigade and the troops despatched to the front from Athens yesterday. The Minister of the Interior, M. Theotokis, has gone to Steklis.

Greeks Fought Bravely.

Turkish headquarters, before Domokos, May 18, 6 a.m. (delayed in transmission.)—During the night the Greeks abandoned all their positions. Two and one-half divisions of Turks are now pursuing the enemy. A great battle, fought well into the night, is now ended. The combat can only be described as indecisive. The fighting raged from early morning until long after dark. When the last shots were passing over the field the advantage did not appear to rest with either side. The Greeks maintained their positions, having acquitted themselves so well as to have earned the hearty praises of the Turks. They resisted with stubborn endurance the determined attacks of the Ottomans through the day, and still held their entrenchments at nightfall. The Turks made a supreme effort late in the evening, but it was met with the utmost bravery upon the part of the Greeks, and failed. The Turkish losses were heavy. The left division of the Turks was engaged from 9 o'clock in the morning, and appears to have succeeded in forcing back the Greek right wing.

A THREAT IN THIS.

Turkish Official Says the Powers Will Regret It If They Go Too Far.

Constantinople, May 19.—An official Turkish foreign officer, in an interview to-day, after dwelling upon the provocative attitude of Greece and the earnest efforts made by Turkey to prevent war, said:

"During the month's war Turkey has suffered serious loss in life and money and the peace conditions cannot but be regarded as moderate and as wholly justified. Nevertheless, the Government is possibly prepared to modify its demands in regard to the indemnity and the cession of Thessaly, in view of the bankrupt condition of Greece, and as proof of its pacific desires.

"In regard to the abolition of the capitulations, it is impossible for the Government, in the interests of the country, to make any modifications. Even Servia and Roumania, in every sense the superiors of Greece, have not these privileges, and, therefore, cannot be allowed to retain exceptional rights, which she has so scandalously abused. It is confidently hoped, therefore, that Europe will have sufficient sense or justice not to press Turkey. Upon this point she is determined not to yield, and should Europe attempt to impose such a sacrifice by force or arms, the situation created would be most detrimental to general peace. The Turkish population would inevitably become excited by such injustice, the Government could not hold itself responsible for the grave consequences which would follow, and the powers would, in the end, undoubtedly have cause to deplore deeply the result of such action."

The telegram of the Czar appealing to the Sultan to cease hostilities against Greece, which was couched in the most friendly terms, is regarded as being very significant, as showing the pacific intentions of the Czar, while it is also politically important in the direction of checking German influence at the Yildiz Kiosk, which influence has been considerably increased since the outbreak of the war with Greece. The action of the Czar has had a marked impression upon the Turkish Government, which is already showing a more conciliatory disposition, promising the conclusion of an equitable peace.

A Basis for Peace Preliminaries.

Paris, May 19. It was semi-officially announced this evening that the Ambassadors of the powers at Constantinople are drafting counter-proposals to the reply received to their last note to the Turkish Government. These counter-proposals will serve as the basis for the preliminaries of peace. The latter will be discussed and settled by the powers and the Turkish Government, the latter having requested their mediation.

An Italian Was Killed.

Rome, May 19.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the President, Signor Villa, read a despatch from Ricciotti Garibaldi, the leader of the Italian volunteers in Greece, announcing that Signor Fratti, a member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies and one of the Italian volunteers, had been killed in a brilliant fight in which the Garibaldian column played a great and noble part.

The President then pronounced a eulogy of Signor Fratti, during which he said that the late deputy died for the great cause of the independence of a nation. His remarks were greeted with cheers.

Many of the deputies and the Minister of Public Works, Signor Prinetti, in the name of the Government, pronounced similar eulogies of the Italian volunteers.

LAFORCE LANGEVIN SUICIDED.

The Only Son of Sir Hector, a Man of Peculiar Disposition, Took His Own Life in Quebec.

Quebec, May 19.—Shortly before 12 o'clock to-day the family of Sir Hector Langevin who resides on St. Louis-street, was startled by the detonation of a revolver of heavy calibre coming from the apartment of Hector Laforce Langevin, Sir Hector's only son. A rush was made up stairs, and Laforce Langevin was discovered on the floor stretched on his back. Blood gushed out very freely from a bullet wound above the right eye. His right hand grasped a 38-calibre "bulldog," which told the story. Langevin was still breathing. Medical aid was hurriedly summoned, but he expired shortly after.

Laforce Langevin was 36 years of age, and was a bachelor. He always showed a peculiar disposition, and followed a style of life which was far below Sir Hector Langevin's social condition. He mingled with the working class, and became a leader in labor unions. He was a prominent K. of L. man, and, in fact, he devoted all his time and energy in fostering organized labor, without doing anything for his own personal advancement, socially or otherwise. He had grown sulky and strange of late, and it is said that the recent Liberal sweep preyed deplorably upon his mind.

His people tried vainly to divert his impaired imagination, and a few days ago he got worse. His melancholy and sullenness increased, his appetite and sleep failed him, and he looked a picture of despondency and wretchedness. He was present at the breakfast table with the family as usual this morning, then he repaired to the library until 11.30, when he slowly went upstairs and put an end to his existence.

This has been a hard blow to Sir Hector Langevin, who has lived in solitary retirement since the eventful days of the Tarte-Mettreevy upheaval. He has always deplored his son's wayward disposition, and his son's tragical death has been a severe blow.

IS HE CRAZY?

A Canadian Slashes a Bride and Groom Across Their Faces With a Razor in New York.

New York, May 19.—Florence Eyfield and her husband Harry Eyfield, were slashed across the face with a razor early this morning on the platform of a station of the elevated railroad by a young man, who, when captured later, gave the name Elking D. Lloyd of Canada. The Eyfields were cut some half-dozen times, and, after having their wounds dressed, left for their home. Lloyd was locked up.

Lloyd was arraigned later in the Essex Market Police Court. He said he was 24 years old and had no home. When the charge was read to him he acted as if he was demented, and did not appear to realize the enormity of his crime. He refused to say anything and was held in $2000 bail to await the result of his victims' injuries.

GAS WAS THERE ALL RIGHT.

Four Excited Men Rushed in and One Lit a Match—Disastrous Result.

Jamestown, N.Y., May 19.—At Chandler's Valley to-day a hundred-quart torpedo of nitro-glycerine was shot in a 900-foot well that had been drilled for oil. After the shot a dozen persons rushed into the derrick. One man struck a match to determine whether natural gas was issuing from the well. The consequent explosion blew out the sides of the derrick, fatally burning William Dalton, postmaster of Sugar Grove, Dr. Kelly, L. W. King, Mr. Ellis and his son of Chandler's Valley.

MURDERED FOUR PERSONS.

Skipped to the Mountains With His Girl and Was Captured in a Sorry Plight.

Monctova, Mexico, May 19.—Macedonia Franato, the 17-year-old boy who murdered four persons here and then eloped with the daughter of a ranchman, has been captured in the mountains near Villatdama, State of Tamaulipus. The girl was with him. The couple presented a sorry spectacle, as they had traveled over 100 miles across the rough country in their flight.

Scrogg's Body Shipped.

New York, May 19.—The body of Arthur Scrogg, the sea captain, who was drowned near Victoria, B. C., was shipped to-day on the American Line steamship Paris. The body should have gone a week ago on the St. Louis, on which Mrs. Scroggs sailed. She had brought the body here from Victoria; and when it arrived it was sent to the morgue. When Mrs. Scroggs sailed she supposed that the body was also on board. The American Line officials obtained the body and forwarded it to-day to England, where it will be buried.

THE JOHN EATON CO'S STORE BURNED.

Toronto, May 20.

The John Eaton Company's departmental store at the corner of Yonge and Richmond street is in ruins.

The fire, which started as The World was going to press this morning, was one of the hottest in the history of Toronto's great conflagrations.

Loss estimated at $250,000, which will be covered by insurance.

MR. BENNETT ATTACKS PATRONS

The Member for East Simcoe Called Them Arrant Humbugs Some Sharp Replies—Conservatives Support the Government—Public Works Estimates Considered.

Ottawa, May 19.—(Special.)—The first step in an investigation of the lumber contracts of Mr. Wm. McCleary, M. P., with the late Government was taken in the House to-day by Mr. Lister, who secured a reference of all the necessary papers to the Public Accounts Committee. It will be remembered that a few days ago the member for West Lambton threw across the floor of the House the charge that Mr. McCleary had supplied lumber at his own prices and without tender. Mr. McCleary very warmly replied that the accusation was untrue. Whether the charge is well founded or not will be settled by the proposed investigation.

BEHRING SEA REGULATIONS.

When the orders of the day were called, Col. Prior asked the Minister of Marine and Fisheries if he had received a copy of the resolution passed by the British Columbia Legislature setting forth the dissatisfaction of the Canadian sealers with the Behring Sea regulations adopted in 1893, and asking that the Dominion Government press upon the Imperial Government the advisability of altering them.

Mr. Davies stated that Col. Prior had sent him a copy of the votes and proceedings of the British Columbia Legislature, containing a copy of the resolution referred to, but the resolution had not yet been officially conveyed to the Government. There was, he said, no very great necessity for hurry. The regulations made under the Paris award in 1893 would, he said, continue for five years. Dissatisfaction existed and had been diplomatically expressed on behalf of the United States. The representations of the United States Government had been very courteously transmitted to the Canadian Government, and the opinion of the Canadian Government had been transmitted to the Imperial Government. The Canadian Government saw no reason for advising a change of these regulations until the period for which they had been made—five years—had elapsed. The Government had in this matter adopted the views of their predecessors.

Mr. Quinn, the member for St. Anne's division of Montreal, interrupted the progress of supply by reintroducing the interminable question of official dismissals. He based his complaint against the Government upon the failure of the Railway and Canals Department to retain Michael Enright and others in their positions on the Lachine Canal. He asserted that these men's heads had come off at the direction of the Liberal Patronage Committee of Montreal.

Mr. Penny, who represents the St. Lawrence division, denied the existence of a Patronage Committee. The men who had not been re-engaged, he said, were active partisans.

PUBLIC WORKS ESTIMATES.

Mr. Monk spoke briefly, and then the House in Committee went to work on the public works estimates.

Sir Charles Tupper asked the Minister of Public Works what he proposed to do to repair the damage caused by the West Block fire.

Mr. Tarte replied that the department had gone on with the repairs to the portion of the building that had only been gutted as quickly as possible. This work would be completed in about ten days. As to the other part of the building the department would put the flooring in without contract at a cost of $17,000 or $20,000. The question of rebuilding the destroyed part of the block had given him great anxiety. It had been suggested that another storey should be added. After careful consideration of the matter he had come to the conclusion that it would be unwise to do so, as it might change the aspect of the other buildings. He had decided to rebuild the block according to the old plans, and tenders would be invited.

In response to a demand by Mr. Bennett for a further assurance, Mr. Tarte said that he would appoint no one to take the place of the man who had been dispensed with.

Dr. Sproule expressed disappointment that there was no vote in the estimates for a new public building at Owen Sound. At the recent bye-election in North Grey the need of a building was made a feature, and the Postmaster-General had gone so far as to look at two or three sites.

Mr. Tarte, while appreciating the necessity of a new building at Owen Sound, mentioned the general desire of people that strict economy should be observed in public expenditures. He added that "Owen Sound would come out all right after a while."

Mr. Britton directed the attention of the Minister to the necessity of a drill-shed in Kingston.

In explaining the increase from $14,000 to $18,000, Mr. Tarte said that he had considered it better to ask for what was required at first, instead of putting more in the supplementary estimates, as had been done in the past. The average expenditure from 1887 up to the present year had been $24,000.

RIDEAU HALL EXPENSES.

Mr. Bennett (East Simcoe) quoted some remarks made some years ago by the Postmaster-General and by Mr. McMullen on the subject of the expenses of Rideau Hall, and added that the silence of the Patrons proved them to be a most arrant lot of humbugs.

Mr. McMullen said that he was bound to congratulate the Conservative party upon showing for the first time in the course of the session the signs of an efficient Opposition. The present Government was not responsible for the whole of the amount asked for, and he was confident that when the Minister had time to go into them, both this and other items, as subsequent years would prove, would be reduced.

Mr. Davis wished to hear from the Patrons on the subject.

Mr. McInerney moved, seconded by Mr. Kaulbach, that the item should be reduced by $3000—from $18,000 to $15,000.

Mr. Tarte pointed out that while only about $14,000 was asked for by the last estimates prepared by the Conservative party, it had been found necessary

A THRIVING INSURANCE CORPORATION.

The annual report of the Sun Life Assurance Company, presented at the annual meeting, whose report is to be found elsewhere in this issue, shows that the Sun is not content with past successes, but strives, and successfully, to make every new record an improvement on the past. This new business is not only larger than that of any past year, but also much larger than that of any other Canadian Company. The new business consisted of 10,161 applications, covering $9,741,258.38, the assurances on which premiums were actually paid in cash before the close of the year amounting to $7,468,281.27. Such results would be remarkable in the golden age of commercial activity, but when they were achieved in the face of a great financial depression the merit of such success is greatly emphasized and credit must be given to the confidence gained by the "Sun" in its past relations with the public. The basis of all commercial enterprise is confidence, and judged by this standard the company has reason to be proud of the system of doing business, involving care, prudential methods and financial astuteness, and a study of the wants of the insuring public. The magnitude of the operations of the Sun is worth remarking. At the close of the year the company had in force 26,840 policies, representing assurance of the sum of $38,106,891, and so carefully is the computation of death expectations made that the actual claims were within the expectation arrived at to the extent represented by the difference between $454,544.75 and $350,185.17. The total income of the year was $1,186,258.00, and the assets increased by the very considerable sum of $1,022,379.13, the grand total of assets being $6,388,144.66, and deducting from this liabilities, including paid-up capital of $6,104,536.10, we have as the net surplus, $282,602 65.

The figures of the year show solid and gratifying progress. In its little over a quarter of a century of active existence, the Sun takes the proud position of being the leading Company of the Dominion, and the elements of success that have contributed to its past phenomenal growth in public favour, and substantial advancement remaining still, one can confidently predict a prosperous future for the Company. The readers, with a desire to become acquainted with the character of a first class assurance corporation, with the best of titles to confidence and patronage, is invited to peruse the report of the annual meeting, to be found elsewhere in this issue.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THAT Kingston Penitentiary enquiry commission seems, remarks the Ottawa Journal, to have had the impression that it was intended to enquire hard and tell the truth about the result. The country can stand more commissions like that.

THE penitentiaries seem to have not only had no deterrent effects upon Dominion Cabinet ministers in the direction of keeping their "hands from picking and stealing," but by mal-administration seem to have been transformed into scenes of new crimes. Kingston penitentiary has been unroofed and the foulness of the Augean stable disclosed. What will the harvest be in respect of the other penitentiaries that are to receive attention from the Commissioners?

THE Conservative press of Ontario is circulating the report that Premier Hardy contemplates taking advantage of the Quebec success and making his appeal to the people of Ontario at a very early date. We have no reason, says the Brantford Expositor, to suppose there is any truth in the report, but we do not see exhibited on the part of those who are circulating it any great eagerness for the conflict which they have been long challenging. They recognize full well that the new provincial regime is of too Hardy variety to be short lived.

CANADA has earned an important pre-eminence, that is a just matter of pride. The Viceroy of India writes:—"Outside Great Britain, Canada stands first in the aid sent us." Canada can covet no higher distinction than being the first and most lavish among the chain of Colonies and the nations of the earth to obey the divine injunction to "feed the hungry." In this connection the Montreal Star is entitled to a great share of credit, and to the press of the country is due in a secondary degree great praise for raising the credit of Canada so high.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER, the autocrat of the Conservative party, blandly and confidentially informed his followers after the June elections, that in order to capture Ontario it would be necessary to begin with the other provinces. This may have been the correct way of doing, but the trouble seems to be in beginning. Sir Charles tried his hand with Nova Scotia and Quebec. In both cases he not only failed to capture these provinces, but in the one case lost his leader, and his other leader escaped by the skin of his teeth and is now at his last Gaspe.

CATILINE mouthing in the Roman Senate, says the Ottawa Free Press, in denunciation of conspiracy seems a joke compared with the Hon. G. E. Foster affecting to be sorely exercised because of delay in the consideration of the tariff. During the period which elapsed between the introduction of his tariff in 1894 and its almost complete transformation before it passed committee he was not quite so anxious about the "state of uncertainty" on the part of the commercial world. What Sir Charles Tupper calls the "demon of incertitude" had no terrors for him then. He revelled in "clerical errors" and made merry during, not "moments," "weeks of weakness."

THE Montreal Herald has the following estimate of Mr. Whitney, leader of the Ontario Opposition in the Provincial Legislature, who is about to take a starring tour throughout the Province: "Mr. Whitney has a good record in the Legislature. He is a fairly able debater and a fair opponent. As compared with his colleagues on the Speaker's left, he undoubtedly has a right to lead. But he is not yet a leader in the real sense. He has not the knowledge of public affairs necessary to a man who is placed at the head of an important party. Nor has he any hold on the feelings of the public. Outside of his own Morrisburg district he is practically unknown, and his name excites no enthusiasm in his followers. He is an untried man, who has his place before the public all to make, and who is certain to commit many errors which an experienced man would avoid."

THE United States, according to a discussion in the Senate, and according to a statement of Senator Hawley, is not prepared to wage actual war "against any but the weakest nation," and they will hedge pretty sharply to keep from being drawn into actual hostilities, wherein submarine battle ships will not cut much figure. But they have provoked a tariff war which they cannot avert so long as the present tariff, in its re-formed condition, is maintained. Germany is in arms against the Dingley tariff, the Argentine Republic threatens retaliation, and Italy, the Netherlands and Japan are protesting vigourously. Trade between nations is the normal conition of commerce, and any tariff that interferes with the free interchange of products to mutual advantage, is a disturbance of the fundamental principles of international trade to the extent, at least, of that interference. Even sections of the United States, which have had a most thorough schooling in the blessings of a political tariff, are protesting against the Dingley bill as "contrary to Republican principles."

Mrs. A. Callahan, of Downeyville, closely related to Mr. P. Clunan, of Peterborough, died suddenly. The funeral was a large one to the Downeyville cemetery. She had an insurance with the Standard Life for $1,000.00, with the local agent, J. D. Thornton.

Never was there so many deaths in the spring season as known here for the last month, resulting chiefly from relapses of la grippe. It was only last week after a few days illness that Geo. B. Thornton, one of the most robust men in the county, in the prime of life, aged 51, succumbed. The deceased was one of the most worthy men to be found in every respect, which was shown by the large funeral last Friday, reaching about one mile notwithstanding the busy season. The Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was an efficient office-bearer, will suffer a loss.

COST OF RIDEAU HALL.

sary to ask for $4000 more when the supplementary estimates were brought down. He thought it was far better to ask straight out for what was wanted instead of deceiving the House and then asking for more, which he did not intend to do.

RAILWAY BILLS.

After the 6 o'clock adjournment the Minister of Railways moved that Mr. Richardson's bill respecting the Lauzenburg & Southern Railway Company be not read a third time, but that the House should go into committee on the bill in order that it might be amended by the addition of the following section: "Any act which may hereafter be passed for the purpose of controlling railway companies incorporated by or subject to this Parliament, as to the issuing of its stocks or bonds and as to its rates or tolls and the regulation thereof, and as to running powers over or other rights in connection with the railway by any other company, and the exercise of powers conferred upon railway companies, shall apply to the company hereby incorporated from the time such act goes into effect."

Mr. Tisdale said he thought that the amendment was one which should be made to the Railway Act itself, and he hoped that the Minister of Railways would therefore now not press his motion, as that would imply that the Railway Act was defective.

Mr. Blair explained that it seemed to be the general wish of the Railway Committee that some such safeguard of this kind should be added to all railway acts, and as it was not possible to amend the Railway Act in this respect during the present session, the addition of the clause in question to bills like the present was in the nature of a notice that the Government would amend the Railway Act in the same way at an early date.

After some further discussion Mr. Blair's motion was declared carried. The bill, being amended in accordance with his suggestion, was read a third time.

The bills respecting the James Bay Railway Company (Mr. Lount) and the Medicine Hat Railway & Canal Company, (Mr. Lount) were also read a third time after being likewise amended by the addition of this clause.

The House then again went into Committee of Supply, and Mr. Douglas (East Assiniboia), continuing the discussion on the item of expenses for Rideau Hall, said in answer to some remarks made by Mr. Davin that he had never advocated placing articles on the free list, but had always been, as he was now, in favor of economy. It had not been shown, however, that there has been any lack of economy in respect to the amount asked for in this case.

Mr. Taylor (South Leeds) quoted figures which he claimed proved that the average expenditure in connection with Rideau Hall had been greater during the former Liberal Administration than under Conservative rule. He also complained that the present Government intended to support Mr. McInerney's motion.

Mr. Tarte, however, quoted the figures in full since 1870, showing that the average expenditure was much larger during the 18 years the Conservatives were in power. In addition to this, unpaid accounts amounting to $4275 had been presented to his department. Rideau Hall itself he had found to be in a very bad state of repair.

AS TO THE PATRONS.

Mr. Rogers (Frontenac) repudiated Mr. Bennett's allegation that the Patrons were bedbugs. The Patrons were not unreasonable; they did not expect to get all they asked at once, but were willing to support any Government working along the lines they advocated. As in Ontario, they did not desire to take any action respecting Government House which would affect the present Governor-General. Mr. Rogers added that in his opinion it would be a very economical arrangement for the country if every member was obliged to pay The Hansard expenses of his speeches.

Mr. Bennett said that he was glad that his previous remarks had led at least one of the Patrons to speak. He accused Mr. Rogers of having, despite the platform of the Patrons, accepted a leather trunk last session, but after numerous interruptions and repeated denials on the part of Mr. Rogers he withdrew the statement. Proceeding, he attacked the member for Frontenac as being a man whom neither Conservatives nor Liberals would ever have sent to Parliament, and who, as compared with Mr. Haycock, the Patron member for Frontenac in the Provincial House, was as doughnuts to dollars.

Mr. Macdonald objected to this remark on the ground that it was equivalent to calling the member for Frontenac a doughnut. (Laughter.)

Continuing, Mr. Bennett said that before the last election the Patrons went around the country, not complaining of the trade policy, but talking peanut politics about stationery and knives. They advocated the abolition of Government House, and yet the member for Frontenac was now on the point of voting in favor of expending $18,000 for its maintenance. He himself thought that that sum was excessive. If, however, the Minister of Public Works would add another $100 to pay for the taking of a flashlight photograph, showing the Patron members enjoying the festivities at Rideau Hall, he would vote for it with pleasure.

Mr. Oliver described the Opposition as an organized hypocrisy. He reminded them that they consumed a great deal of time in the endeavor to prevent economy in the public service. "Every day they talk about nothing it is costing us a lot of money," said the member for Alberta, "and if they would only shut up they would save a lot of money."

Mr. Foster said that when the Liberal Government was in from 1873 to 1878 the expenses of Government House were largely increased. During the late Administration the Government House expenditure had diminished. When the Liberals came back to office they had increased the general vote by $2,000,000, compared with the estimate of their predecessors, and the Government House item had been increased at once to $18,000. The same old path was again being traveled." Mr. Foster declared that the Patron members had stood by a Government which had violated every pledge upon which they had come into power. If there was any one point upon which the late Opposition was strong, it was in denunciation of the expenditure at Rideau Hall. He asked Mr. Maxwell, who was the champion of the workingmen in Vancouver during the election campaign, to express himself on this question.

Mr. Maxwell informed the committee that he could not support the motion of Mr. McInerney. He had not read all the speeches that had been made in the past by Messrs. Mulock and McMullen. These young men might have been their pedigree wild oats, and these utterances might be regarded as youthful indiscretions. If Mr. McMullen had made a fool of himself in the past.—[Cries of "Order, order."]

Major Hughes—I rise to a point of order.

Mr. Maxwell—In order to satisfy the tender feelings of my hon. friend the hon. member for Victoria, I will put it this way: If my hon. friend (Mr. McMullen) has been foolish in the past that is no reason why Mr. McInerney, who is supposed to be wiser, should act a foolish part this evening. Mr. Maxwell said that he would vote against the amendment because Rideau Hall was one of the public institutions of the country. It would be a shame for Parliament not to make provision for the maintenance of that House.

Mr. McInerney likened the advice that Mr. Maxwell had given to him to that of the serpent that "sat squat in the ear of Eve." He charged that the Patrons who would not support him in endeavoring to secure economy in the public expenditures were stultifying themselves. They had, he said, been elected on false pretenses.

Mr. Stenson (Richmond and Wolfe) said that he thought the House could fairly come to the conclusion that the amount asked was reasonable, and not greater than in former years.

THE PREMIER PROTESTS.

Mr. Laurier said that some five hours had now been spent in discussing Mr. McInerney's motion, and he did not think that anything further that could be said would enlighten the House. The sole reason given for the motion for reduction was that the amount asked for was greater than $15,000, which had been the average of the past five years, and that in itself was an admission that the expenditure had in some years been more and in some years been less than $15,000. Every one who had been at Rideau Hall knew its condition, and the Minister of Public Works had advanced good reasons for asking for $18,000 this year.

Sir Charles Tupper said that he was no disposed to question any reasonable expenditure in connection with Rideau Hall, but for 18 years the Liberal party, under whose administration this expenditure had been greatly augmented, had been attacking the Conservative Government, which had been forced to follow in the footsteps of its predecessors. It was always almost impossible for any Government to retrench and decrease an annual expenditure of this nature from what had been incurred in past years, and the Liberal party was therefore responsible for large sums spent on Rideau Hall by reason of the policy in vogue from 1873 to 1879. He was the more surprised at the action of the present Government because he was unable to see how the Ministers of Railways and the Interior were able to reconcile their present course with that which they had followed when they had been members of Administrations which had cut down the allowances of the Lieutenant-Governors of the Provinces of New Brunswick and Manitoba. Sir Charles added that an army of servants was kept up at Rideau Hall while the Governor-General was more than a thousand miles away all summer often to the great inconvenience of public business. He hoped that the Government would follow this motion for a reduction of $3000 to pass as an earnest of what they intended to do in the way of economy.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that he would apply Sir Charles' statement that it was impossible for a Government to recede from the expenditure allowed by their predecessors. Thus in 1873 the expenses in connection with Rideau Hall had been $63,858. The Liberal Administration had reduced this to about $50,000 in 1874, and to about $45,000 in the following year, while the amount in 1878, its last year of office, had been about $44,000. In the next year, however, under a Conservative Government, it again rose to over $61,000.

Mr. Moore of Stanstead arose to put his views upon record. He had them committed to paper, and he proceeded to read them to the House. A howl went up from the Ministerialists because the hand on the dial was creeping around to midnight, and because the rules of the House forbid a member reading his speech. The Chairman called the offender to order, whereupon he dropped his manuscript and proceeded with his argument. He had an elaborate array of figures upon the comparative cost of public works in the United States and Canada. Mr. Laurier protested that Mr. Moore should keep to the point under consideration, and the chairman so directed. He went on to make a comparison between the cost of maintaining the White House at Washington and Rideau Hall at Ottawa.

Mr. Pope, who made his first appearance in the House to-day, said that when he was on the Government side of the House he had never sympathized with the remarks of the then Opposition in regard to Rideau Hall, and he could not sympathize with the Opposition of this day in taking up five or six hours of valuable time in discussing an item so small. He regretted that the Conservative party had fallen so low that they had no broader issues to discuss. He stated that, unpleasant as it was for him to disagree with his friends, he would have to vote against the amendment of Mr. McInerney.

A standing vote was taken, and the amendment was lost. Fifty members supported it and 100 opposed it, the Government majority being 50. Among those who voted with the Government were Messrs. Rosamond, Pope, Osler, Clarke, Prior, Costigan and Maclean (Toronto).

Alaska Boundary Commission Appointed.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—The Alaska boundary treaty was considered by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations today. This treaty was sent to the Senate during the last Congress. The treaty provides for fixing the definite location of the 141st meridian, but a question has arisen as to whether the summit of Mount St. Elias, as provided in the treaty, should be determined upon as the starting point.

Senators Foraker, Clark and Turpie were appointed a sub-committee to fully investigate the subject.

Emigration and Oleomargarine.

Berlin, May 19.—The Reichstag today passed the emigration bill. It becomes operative on April 1, 1898. Later the Reichstag passed the oleomargarine bill by a vote of 186 to 101.

FACTS FULL OF SUNSHINE.

FOR RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS.

Shakespeare says that "the miserable have no other medicine but only hope," but for those who are made miserable by Rheumatism, even hope has fled in a great majority of cases.

Twenty years is a long time to be the victim of a disease, and yet that is the time Thos. Stevenson, of 122 John St. South, Hamilton, makes oath that he was afflicted with Rheumatism. Twenty years' affliction is enough to banish any hope of cure, and yet Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, after everything else failed, restored Mr Stevenson to health.

Seven years one would think too long to suffer indescribable torture, and yet Mr. C. B. Hamilton, of 131 Sydenham Street, London, Ont., endured the agonies of Rheumatism for that length of time. At times he could not use his limbs. Kootenay Cure has cured him, and he's truly thankful for it. Hundreds of others, besides these, have sworn to being cured by Ryckman's Kootenay Cure.

There is no mistaking its wonderful power. Thousands of Rheumatic Sufferers have had the sunshine of hope and health come back through its use. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, or any Blood Disease, it will pay you to investigate. Particulars sent free on addressing the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont.

CAPTURED A CUB.

A Baby Bear Secured by Farmer O'Hara Back of Wiarton.

Wiarton, Ont., May 18.—Mr. O'Hara, a farmer, driving on a lonely bush road last week, came on to a mother bear and cubs. He soon caught one of the cubs and hurried away with it. He supposes the wagon scared the old one, as she did not attack him. The cub was very small—not as large as a common cat. He brought it to Wiarton to-day and sold it to Mr. Johns, hotelkeeper, for $5.

Vegetation is now very rapid and farmers are busy.

Chase's Ointment Cures All Skin Irritations.

GRACIE AITON.

Of the many skin diseases, eczema is one of the worst and most common. The one effective remedy so far discovered for it is Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never been known to fail. Mr. Andrew Aiton, of Hartland, N.B., says: "My little daughter, Grace Ella, aged three and a half, was a dreadful sufferer from eczema for three years. We tried a number of alleged cures and several doctors, but all without effect. Her's was indeed a bad case. Her little body was entirely covered with rash. One day our local druggist, Mr. Wm. E. Thistle, recommended me to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I did so, and four boxes effected a complete cure and saved our child."

Dr Chase's Ointment is just as effective for piles, salt rheum and sores of all descriptions. For sale by all dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto; price 60 cents.

The Machine that Talks.

Mr. Charles LeGros, tobacconist, has on exhibition at his store one of the mysterious and wonderful graphophones, which records all sounds with wonderful accuracy. It has 26 self-adjusting cylinders, each one of which reproduces different popular songs and orchestral effects. Attached is a large brass sound-amplifying horn, which causes the sound to be heard quite distinctly. It is quite an acquisition in ballrooms, parlours and social parties. The graphophone is operated by an electric battery—all you have to do is to touch the button, and an interesting musical exhibition is the result. Mr. Legros has been appointed agent for this part of Canada for these wonderful machines, which can be procured for $75 up to $300. Go and hear it on Saturday. 3d

PROBABLY A FATALITY.

Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, of Otonabee, Injured in a Runaway Accident This Morning.

Ashburnham was horrified this morning by an accident which occurred in the village and which may yet be attended by fatal results.

Mr. William Fitzgerald, of Otonabee, who lives about four miles out on the Norwood road, just at the turn by Hanley's hill, was the victim and at present he is lying in a very precarious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Fitzgerald was on his way home from town and stopped at Clancy's blacksmith shop to have his horses shod. In descending from his waggon he caused a fork handle to raise up and this, it is thought, frightened the team for they made a bound forward. Mr. Fitzgerald made an endeavour to get back in the waggon again and regain the reins, which he had laid down, but before he could do so he was jolted off as the team crossed the railway track. In falling his head came into violent contact with one of the rails and he immediately lapsed into unconsciousness. The occurrence had been witnessed by a large number of the villagers and the injured man was immediately taken up and carried into the old canoe factory, whilst Doctors McGrath, Greer and Brown were summoned.

It was thought at first that the injuries were of a nature to prevent Mr. Fitzgerald ever rallying, and a messenger was despatched for the priests of the Cathedral, and the members of his family were also summoned.

On the arrival of the physicians he was moved to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he recovered consciousness at intervals. An examination showed that the skull had been fractured and the shoulder also injured. Internal trouble is also feared as the patient vomits blood at times.

The fact that Mr. Fitzgerald is over eighty years of age makes his recovery problematical, as the shock was necessarily a great one, but the latest reports received from the hospital were favourable.

The horses were caught out on the Dummer road, near the canal.

ANOTHER BIG TORONTO FIRE.

Messrs. Fairweather & Co. are Large Losers.

This morning at an early hour a fire broke out and destroyed the great departmental store of John Eaton & Co., corner of Yonge and Temperance streets, Toronto. No particulars are at hand as to the extent of the conflagration, but it must have extended some distance as the store of Messrs. Fairweather & Co., separated by two other shops from Eaton & Co's, was flooded by water, and serious loss occasioned, the weight of water bringing down the ceilings and crashing upon the fine and large stock of new goods in a nasty, mortar-like mass. This unlucky event comes at a particularly untoward time. The stock of goods was large, a prosperous season's trade ahead, and the shop premises had just been treated to thorough and extensive renovations, similar to these which the Peterborough premises received this spring. At present it is impossible to compute the extent of the loss, but the goods are protected by insurance.

Mr. J. W. T. Fairweather was in town last night and early this morning he received a telephone message asking his presence in Toronto. He went to the city by the early morning train, and telephoned the news of his loss, which will be learned with much regret by his numerous friends.

Was a question asked the other day of a boy running as hard as he could down George street. THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

D. W. Dumble, Esq., Chairman of Citizens' Committee, Writes Mayor Yelland Asking Prompt Action.

Mr. Dumble, chairman of the Citizens' Jubilee Celebration Committee, has forwarded to Mayor Yelland the following letter, which explains itself. It is generally believed that the Battalion is in favour of accepting the invitation of the Montreal committee, and unless some prompt decision is arrived at, the band and Battalion will accept and leave for Montreal on the 21st of June for a three or four days' visit:

Wm. Yelland, Esq., Mayor of Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—You will remember that the citizens of Peterborough recommended to the committee of the town council, who, by appointment, met with the Citizens' Committee, that the Mayor by proclamation should call upon all the people to decorate all their buildings, and at night to illuminate their buildings in commemoration of a memorable and auspicious event, "The Queen's Diamond Jubilee." It was also recommended that there should be a street parade of the various local societies in regalia, and that the 57th Battalion should be invited to parade in the procession, and it was deemed fitting that the invitation to the Battalion and various societies should be conveyed through the Mayor and councillors as most fittingly representing, in their official capacity, the entire people.

We are advised that no action has been taken by you or by the council to make an appropriation for the small expenses incidental to the fitting observance of the Jubilee, and that no invitations have yet been sent to the Battalion or the societies.

We are also further advised that the Battalion has been invited to participate in the Jubilee festivities of Montreal, and that the soldiers are very desirous of going, and unless prevented by the duty of participating in a home celebration, the Montreal invitation will be accepted within twenty-four hours. I write you that you may act promptly, having full knowledge of the facts, if you intend to act, and if not, the present uncertainty may be settled.

I am, dear sir,
Your obedient servant,
D. W. DUMBLE,
Chairman Citizens' Committee.

Peterborough, May 20th, 1897.

[When seen this morning with regard to the matter, the Mayor stated that he had summoned a meeting of the council for Friday evening to deal with the question finally, and that Lieut.-Col. Bell had expressed himself as being willing to defer sending an invitation to Montreal until the decision of the council had been announced.]

YELLAND VS. YELLAND.

Judgment For Plaintiff For $500 and Costs.

It will be remembered that on Tuesday, 12th of May, an action was tried in the High Court of Justice in Peterborough, Yelland vs. Yelland, action brought by Wm. Yelland against William G. Yelland, Eliza Yelland and William Albert Yelland —the two first being the executors of the will of the late Dr. Yelland, and the last named being an infant son of the late Dr. Yelland, and grandson of the plaintiff. The plaintiff, Mayor Yelland, claimed that as next of kin, as father of Dr. Yelland, he was entitled to an equal share with the infant, William Albert Yelland, son of Dr. Yelland, of an insurance of $1000 in the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Judgment was reserved until yesterday when Mr. Justice McMahon gave judgment in favour of Mayor Yelland for $500 and interest. Costs of plaintiff and official guardian to be paid by defendants, William George Yelland and Eliza Yelland. Poussette, Q. C., for plaintiff. Watson, Q. C., for executors. L. M. Hayes (Peterborough) for infant defendant.

COURT HOUSE PARK.

This Season's Improvements — New Walks—Additional Trees Planted—Other Points of Interest.

Court House Park is beginning to don its summer garb. The thrifty trees are hanging out their leafy banners and the smooth velvety award is of Hibernian greenness, though the thrifty and ever present dandelion is disporting its brassy bloom with rather too frequent insistence.

The walks have been renewed from the bottom and are now in excellently clean and smooth condition. The lateral cobble stone gutters bordering the middle walk have been put in first-class repair. In some portions the paving has been done a-new.

The fountain has been generally repaired and the portions requiring it have been repainted. The stone steps leading to the upper terrace have been reset by Mr. Adam Dawson and are now in a conditon to withstand the ravages of winter weather, which caused their state of dilapidation before repairs were done.

Several elm trees have been planted where vacancies existed. The central flower plot has been raised and made ready for planting when the season arrives.

The bulb plots are brilliant with bloom.

Altogether the park is in fine condition and with the development of further growth and the planting of the flower plots will be a place of beauty, worthier than ever of the pride of our citizens.

Every year brings added beauty—as the progress of growth removes the appearance of crudity and newness that is inseparable from newly laid out grounds.

How many people are ashamed to go into company on account of their foul-smelling breath, caused from catarah or cold in the head? If they would study their own interests they would soon have sweet breath like their neighbors. There is one sure cure for catarrh, and that is Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. Give one blow through the blower and you get relief immediately. Price including blower, 25 cents.

REV. A. H. RANTON VINDICATES HIMSELF.

A PERSONAL ATTACK BY THE PORT HOPE TIMES.

The Statements Characterized by the Evangelist as Being Libellous, Slanderous, Malicious, Ungentlemanly and Unchristianlike.

Rev. A. H. Ranton was recently attacked by the Port Hope Times and a number of insinuations against his methods were published. Appended will be found the article in question as printed by the Port Hope paper and also Rev. Mr. Ranton's ample vindication of himself:

"Nowadays one has many things to engage his attention. Modern conveniences have so multiplied within recent years that many matters are crowded upon the observing faculties of the ordinary citizen. Fast mails bring to us communications within a few hours that formerly required days to reach us. The telephone and the telegraph press upon us in succeeding moments news which formerly took months to arrive; and this, with the hurly burly of modern business gives the mind much that distracts. But throughout it all there stands the grateful truths, the calm, consoling thoughts that were imparted by the apostles of old in contradistinction to the sensational words and methods of the modern so-much-per-night evangelist—thoughts that have come down the ages to the support and comfort of countless thousands who preferred Christianity to sensationalism—religion to the efforts of those who would seek to draw notoriety and lucre to themselves.

"Religion is holy, and profound religious teachers have been an unmixed blessing to the world, and it has ever been far from the mind of the Times to scoff at such, but when self-styled teachers and professional religionists come to our town, and in the presence of many hundreds of our people make assertions that are adversely criticised by the majority of the Christian ministers of our town, and from which a very large percentage of those hundreds of people warmly dissent, we must assert our right, when these assertions are a matter of public discussion, to express our opinion thereupon. And if, like the Shanghai rooster, of which we have heard, the person under discussion should squeal, it is but an evidence of the fact that his vanity has been sorely hurt and his self-esteem somewhat punctured.

"The Times imagines it would be recreant to its duty as a public journal did it permit anyone—whether garbed in the skin of a lamb or that of a wolf—to wantonly assail the good name of our town and the reputation of our young men without warmly resenting the untruthful statements and flinging back in the teeth of their authors the slanders that he has uttered against them, and it is this which we have sought to do in the past, and it is this which the Times conceives it to be its duty to do in the future.

"Peter of old, nor yet the other apostles, did not travel around the country, preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ only at such places as would whack up so much per night, nor did they bargain to excite the masses with sensational and rash statements for a lump sum ranging all the way from $300 to $800 for a three weeks' stand at any one town. Their methods were different from the latter day 'evangelist,' and by reason of the simplicity of their methods their names became a part of the world's history, and their words burned themselves into the very life of the universe with a thoroughness that the contact of all the succeeding ages has but caused them to shine forth resplendent with a brightness that will last until time shall be no more.

"It was not necessary that Peter should have his pictures printed at the office of 'Pharisees' Guide' at a little over a cent a piece and sell them to his converts for a quarter in order that they should be able to remember him after he had gone away. We have known cases where labourers in the Lord's Vineyard have attributed conversions to the grace of God,—to the promptings of the Holy Spirit. But alas! there has but recently been brought to our notice a case where it is evidently not the Holy Spirit which has been at work, for, in effect, the convert is told that 'I am now about to leave you. Here is my picture. Take it, that you may ever have before you the portrait of He who saved you from your sins. Keep this thing in remembrance of me—but you must give me a quarter for it!' John did not need to sell his pictures. His humility, his warm, Christ-like, loving nature imprinted itself indelibly on the minds of those to whom he ministered, and it was not necessary that he should carry around with him printed reports of his services to give to newspapers for publication, in order that their pharisaical publishers might hawk them for sale around the synagogue. Nay, their methods were not like unto these. Nor was it ever chronicled that Paul, in leaving a place where he had ministered, said unto the people as did a certain revivalist, now well known in Port Hope, when leaving Dresden, Ont.: 'I am quite sure that when I come back to Dresden, out of the two hundred converts I see before me, I will be able to bring down all that remain with a single barrelled shot gun.' Paul ever had faith in the abiding grace of God, and thought less of his own personal influence.

However, it is said that it takes all kinds of people to make a world and we presume we must include the modern evangelist among the particles that go to make up the whole; but these particles sometimes go out of their way to put a blemish upon the fair reputations of towns and their people, and long before it was the proper thing for ex-bartenders and ex-promoters of licentious dances to pose as Christian teachers and truth-tosers The Times stood for what was good in morality and religion and for the reputation of Port Hope. Probably long after ex-bartenders have ceased to be popular in such work The Times will yet be seeking to advance the welfare of Port Hope and Christianity."

MR. RANTON'S REPLY.

The following evening at the conclusion of his address, Rev. Mr. Ranton spoke as follows on the matter, according to the Port Hope Guide:

It was hard for the speaker to sum up adjectives equal to the occasion, but he termed the article in the Times as libellous, slanderous, malicious, ungentlemanly and un-Christ-like. First of all the statement is made that Rev. Mr. Ranton preaches only at places which would whack up so much per night. He says this is a lie and states that his appointment to conduct evangelical services at any place is first requested by the pastor of that place and signed by him. His travelling expenses are paid from the last place he is stationed at, and a free will offering taken up at the last meeting. That is the only source of his finances.

"The Times further states that in Peterborough I assailed the character of the young men and the people of Port Hope. I want you to write to Revs. Messrs. Young and Ree, and the editors of the papers of Peterborough and ask them if I said anything defamatory of the character of the people of Port Hope. On the contrary, I was continually blowing them up, until I made the people out there sick, and I had them say to me, 'Give us a rest on Port Hope, you are continually talking of Port Hope and people and praising them up.' But when I was preaching my sermon on dancing, however, I said I had met some of the society young men of Port Hope and one of them was a conglomeration of a box of matches,—a cigarette and benefit concert. That's what I said, and I say it here, and am prepared to stand by it. It was further stated that I got from $300 to $800 for three weeks' stand.' That is an infamous lie. I never got $300 for three weeks' work in my life. One of the largest sums I ever got was from this congregation." It is further stated that he does not go to small places, but only where he is sure of a good haul. He goes from here to Branton, Ont., a small country town where he does not expect to get $20 for three weeks' work. He had just come from Lakefield, by no means a large place, and besides which he had the choice of Broadway Tabernacle, Queen street church and two other large churches in Toronto. Had it not been for the generosity of the good people of Lakefield he doubted whether he would have received anything. He goes this week to a place he will not get one cent for his services to help in extending the growth of the church. As to his character, he said he referred to his Presiding Elder at Kalamazo, Mich., from whom he got testimony.

It had been further stated that he had got pictures printed for a cent and sold them for a quarter. Going around from place to place he is frequently asked for one of his pictures as a souvenir of the services. "I don't like to sell my pictures, but got them taken in large numbers and sold them to dealers at 10 cents per copy and they sold them at 15 cents, so that I did not make a cent out of it. If they charged him 25 cents for one and he is foolish enough to pay it, that is not my fault.

"I am further charged with saying at Dresden," 'I am quite sure when I come back to Dresden, out of the two hundred converts I see before me, I will be able to bring down all that remain with a single-barrelled shot gun.' Is not that a most infamous thing? Mr. McTavish is the pastor at Dresden and would like you to besiege him with letters to find out if that is so. That is the most infamous lie I ever saw in print.

"I have an apology to make. Last night I referred to a Shanghai rooster that I hit in my sister's garden. I have an apology to make as I understand that a certain gentleman took that up as referring to himself and I have an apology to make to the rooster for I was informed to-day that he was not a Shanghai, but a Bantam."

A man cannot run away from Death. If he would conquer it he must stand and fight with the weapons of common sense and science. Thousands of men and women try to escape Death's most active agent, consumption, by running away. They flee from one climate to another, and from one end of the world to the other, forgetting their demon is within them and not to be escaped from by a change of locality. Consumption has been pronounced incurable. It is not. It is curable and without change of climate if the proper remedy is resorted to, in reasonable time.

98 per cent. of all cases of consumption are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It goes to the seat of the trouble. It cures all disorders of the digestion. It makes the appetite keen and the assimilation of the food perfect. It fills the blood with life-giving elements. It is the great blood-purifier, flesh-builder, and nerve-invigorator. It acts directly on the lungs. It not only cures consumption, but all other wasting diseases due to improper nourishment. All good druggist sell it.

"I have used one bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and am now on the second one," writes Amanda R. Blankenship, of Templeton, Dyer Co., Tenn. "I am pleased to say that I have received more benefit from it than from all the medicine I have taken from our home doctors in the last twelve months."

Whoever would like a complete medical library in compact form should send for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This is a book of 1,008 pages, illustrated with more than 300 drawings and colored plates. Dr. Pierce is one of the best known medical men in the United States. The best of what he knows is "boiled down" in this book. He talks to you in plain English of all the sickness you ever heard of. Several chapters relate to the physiology of woman's reproductive organs. This book, until recently, sold for $1.50. At this price 680,000 copies were sold. Now an enormous edition in paper covers is to be distributed absolutely FREE. Send 21 one-cent stamps to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. If a copy in fine French cloth with embossed covers is desired, send 50 cents.

THE UPPER HOUSE.

Senator Prowse Wanted to Know About an "Inhuman Monster" Who Charged Five Per Cent. a Day Interest.

Ottawa, May 18.—(Special.)—In the Senate this afternoon Sir Oliver Mowat introduced a bill respecting the Supreme Court, the object being to confirm certain restrictions with regard to appeals from Ontario to the Supreme Court, as enacted in a bill passed at the last session of the Local Legislature of Ontario. The bill practically sanctions the provisions of the local enactment restricting appeals. Another clause compels judges of the High Court or Court of Appeals in Ontario to reside in Toronto, or within five miles thereof. Owing to the existence of some doubt as to whether it had jurisdiction to pass this legislation, the Local Legislature had refrained from placing this residence restriction on the statute book.

Senator Prowse called attention to a paragraph in The Citizen, stating that Sir Oliver Mowat had been induced to introduce a bill preventing the collection of extortionate interest by judgment of one of the Quebec courts, allowing a man named Lafortune to collect interest at the rate of 5 per cent. a day, and that this same Lafortune was the man appointed by Sir Oliver to a position on the Lyceum Commission. He brought the matter up in order to give the Minister of Justice an early opportunity of denying that such an inhuman monster as this had been appointed to a position in the public service.

Sir Oliver said he would make enquiries and inform the House later.

Senator Bernier will call attention to an interview with the Solicitor-General, published in one of the Montreal papers, in which he is credited with expressing satisfaction with the result of the local election in Quebec, and expresses the conviction that the school question is buried forever as a result. Mr. Bernier wants to know if the Solicitor-General really did say what was attributed to him, and if so, whether that language represents the policy of the Government on that question, and whether the Government considers the result of the elections in Quebec had anything to do with the temper of the people of that province on the school question.

MELANCTHON FIREBUG CASES.

Dave McCoy Added to the Batch of Culprits in the Jail at Orangeville Five True Bills Brought In.

Orangeville, May 18.—This morning the Crown added another to the batch of six prisoners in the county jail awaiting trial at the Spring Assizes, now in progress, on charges of conspiracy and arson. The seventh prisoner is Dave McCoy, who was arrested at his home near Corbetton, in Melancthon Township, last night by High Constable Marshall.

The charge against McCoy is that he intimidated the Crown's star witness, Hamilton Tisdale, on Sunday last by threatening to do him bodily injury if he persisted in his determination to give evidence against the Ballard gang in the Melancthon arson cases. McCoy will appear before the Police Magistrate to-morrow evening, together with William Delaney, arrested last week on a charge of arson.

Up to noon to-day five true bills have been brought in by the grand jury, two against James Ballard, one against his brother Dave, one against Alonzo Smith and another against James Corbett.

There was nothing of importance in the evidence this afternoon.

THE REFORMS IN CUBA.

Royal Decree Arrives From Spain Putting Into Force the Promises of Two Months Ago.

Havana, May 18.—To-day there arrived from Spain the royal decree putting in force the reforms which the Government decided on March 15 should be established in the Provinces of Santa Clara, Matanzas, Havana and Pinar del Rio.

El Pais, the organ of the autonomists, and all the other dailies congratulate the Queen Regent on the event, which is coincident with the birthday of Alfonso XIII.

An Honorable Reconciliation.

New York, May 18. A Cuban memorial has been sent to the Secretary of State by 250 banking, shipping, manufacturing, importing and exporting individuals and firms in this city, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and other cities of the United States. After reciting briefly the commercial losses of the United States because of the Cuban war, the memorialists express the hope that the Secretary will "determine upon the expediency of taking measures which may facilitate an honorable reconciliation between the contending parties."

THE QUEEN'S DRAWING ROOM.

Princess of Wales Presided, the Weather Was Fine and Great Crowds Were Out.

London, May 18.—The Princess of Wales held a drawing room at Buckingham Palace to-day, in behalf of the Queen. The weather was summer-like and there were enormous crowds on the Mall. Mrs. Hay, wife of the United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, presented Miss Helen Morton, daughter of the Hon. Levi P. Morton, in the diplomatic circle. In the general circle Mrs. Hay presented Miss Elsie French, Mrs. and Miss Ogden Goelet and Mrs. Van Burgen of New York. In addition to the presentees of the Embassy, Mrs. M. P. Grace of New York, presented Miss Nora Meiggs, the daughter of Mr. John G. Long, a prominent resident of London. Among the others who attended the drawing room was Lady William Beresford (the former Duchess of Marlborough), Mrs. Adair, Lady Dunraven, who presented her two daughters, and the Baroness Burdette Coutts.

UNCLE SAM IS IN IT.

He Will be Represented at the Jubilee Demonstration in London Regardless of the Expense.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—Rear Admiral Miller, who will be the Government's naval representative at the Queen's Jubilee ceremonies, has selected his staff and directed that they report on the Brooklyn for duty not later than May 25. Secretary Long has allowed the admiral a liberal sum for entertaining purposes, and it is proposed that for once the navy shall hold its own in receptions and entertainments along with the other admirals who may be present with their ships. Admiral Miller has selected Commander William Emory as his chief of staff, with Lieut. Philip Andrews of the cruiser Columbia as flag lieutenant. Commander Emory is one of the best equipped officers in the service for this duty, as he has seen four years' duty as naval attache at London, and has lived in Europe for many years on other duty.

The departure of the Brooklyn has been fixed for June 1, and her orders direct her to proceed to the English Channel and join the other foreign warships which will be present for the festivities.

WAR AGAINST STRIKES.

Chicago Employers Have Entered Into a Combination to Crush the Labor Organizations.

Chicago, May 18.—A war of extermination against sympathetic strikes in the building trades has been declared by a combination of Chicago contractors, employers and other business men. A serious conflict with organized labor is feared before the crusade is ended. The employers say they will make every effort to attain the desired end through co-operation and arbitration with the Building Trades Council and affiliated unions, but that if peaceful means fail, general lockouts, wage reductions and even legal proceedings may be resorted to in order to force the labor organizations to terms.

Morgan Spoiling for a Fight.

Washington, May 18.—The Morgan Cuban resolution was taken up at 2 o'clock in the Senate, and Senator Mason of Illinois spoke in its support. Mr. Mason read President McKinley's message of yesterday to prove that a state of war exists in Cuba. "If there is not war," he said, "then there ought to be with us." He said the Americans in Cuba needed to be defended with bayonets as well as with bread.

Who is the Offender?

London, May 19.—The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at Athens says he has absolute proofs that one of the powers has made serious underhand attempts to undo the work of the European concert.

The greatest depression exists at Athens. There is a complete collapse of the high hopes raised by the optimistic despatches of Constantine, but as yet there are no disorders. While the battle was in progress the Government vainly endeavored to get at the exact position and the number of casualties, but Constantine sent only evasive replies. Very feeble were the shouts raised when additional troops started yesterday for the front. The Athenians are completely disheartened.

The Turkish Communication.

Athens, May 19, 1 a.m.—The communication from the Turkish to the Greek commander at Arta, which followed the raising of the flag of truce by the former, was in Turkish and ran as follows:

"On condition that no Greek soldier belonging to any arm of the service remains on territory of the Ottoman Empire, we have orders that an armistice shall be concluded on sea and land with a view of arriving at an understanding.

"(Signed) Yussuf, Chief of Staff."

The Greek commander wired here for instructions and the Government replied:

"We authorize you to suspend hostilities in order to discuss the conditions of an armistice."

The Government in notifying the envoys of the Powers to this proposal, said that as Greece had entrusted her interests to the Powers, it was for them to negotiate the conditions of the understanding.

The Retreat From Domokos.

London, May 19.—The correspondent of the Times at Athens says:

"It appears that the retreat from Domokos was ordered in spite of the fact that the order was given at 3 o'clock in the morning. All the artillery was brought away except some heavy guns, which were left at the Acropolis of Domokos. A considerable quantity of war material however was abandoned."

Retreated in Good Order.

Athens, May 18. General Smolenski's brigade has been ordered to proceed to Neamzilia, from whence it will be conveyed in transports to Stylis, on the Gulf of Lamia, and rejoin the remainder of the Greek army, via Lamia. It is officially stated that the retreat of the troops of Crown Prince Constantine towards the Othrys Mountains was effected in good order, and it is added that the entire Greek losses were 220 men, in which number are included many officers. The Turkish loss is said to be 1000 men.

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood-disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then don't be an invalid.

She Has Ever Known. Words of Praise from a New York Lady for

AYER'S PILLS

"I would like to add my testimony to that of others who have used Ayer's Pills, and to say that I have taken them for many years, and always derived the best results from their use. For stomach and liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled.

When my friends ask me what is the best remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver, or bowels, my invariable answer is, Ayer's Pills. Taken in season, they will break up a cold, prevent la grippe, check fever, and regulate the digestive organs. They are easy to take, and are, indeed, the best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Avenue, New York City.

PETS OF THE QUEEN.

THE DOMESTIC AND DEMOCRATIC TASTES OF HER MAJESTY.

Simple Pleasures of Royalty—Her Love of Dogs, With Wh m She Abandons All Etiquette—The Royal Aviary and Its Beautiful Specimens.

Her Majesty the Queen is as democratic as the sovereign of a great nation can possibly be, and, while in the external forms of court ceremonials she is very punctilious for their observance, she has some simple pleasures which compensate in some measure for the artificial life her position entails upon her. For one thing, she has a strong penchant for the canine race. This is not at all astonishing. It is a trait which has belonged to nearly all of the kings queens and princes of Great Britain. Most of her predecessors on the throne of England made much of dogs, and many of them are celebrated in history for their love for the canine race. Every one familiar with the life story of Edward II. knows what a large part of his time was devoted to his dogs, Henry VIII. was also a great dog fancier as well as a hunter, and Mary Stuart's affection for her faithful little canine friend will never be forgotten. Then there are the famous King Charles spaniel and any number of historic dogs that bear testimony to the truth of the proverb, "Royalty and rags must have their dogs."

THE QUEEN'S CHICKEN MAN.
Hammond, keeper of Queen Victoria's poultry, and his pet rooster, Toby.

Queen Victoria's liking for these affectionate animals dates from the time she was a child, and it has grown stronger with each year of her life. She never travels without two or three of her four-footed favorites, and when in France a year or two ago her collie won the admiration of all amateurs. Darnley II., this collie, has been for many years her greatest favorite.

The Queen is faithful to her dogs, and the House park kennel at Windsor is, by courtesy and in fact, the "first kennel of the kingdom." Here may be found representatives of many breeds, among them several Pomeranians that have been noted prize winners. Her Majesty insists upon naming all her dogs herself and devotes a good deal of time and thought to the selection of appropriate titles for her pets.

She Finds Liberty With Dogs.

The Frenchman Meguin, who once made a special study of the Queen, was deeply impressed by her fondness for her dogs and noted it as being one of her most prominent traits. In speaking of it he said: "I do not know whether the Queen finds more pleasure in the society of her dogs, where she abandons all etiquette, than among the people of her court; but she spends more time at Home park than at the court, and the caress of one of her favorites pleases her more than courtesies of interested courtiers."

The Queen has other pets, too, and those who are familiar with the admirable sketches of Mr. E. Jessop are already acquainted with them.

The picture of Jessie, the Queen's own riding mare, is full of interest. The beautiful animal is 28 years old, and her coat is like rich black plush. The Egyptian donkey Tewfik came from Cairo and was presented to the Queen by Lord Wolseley.

Then there are Jack, her pet buffalo, at Sandringham, and dozens of other beasts as well as birds and all sorts of animals that owe much to Her Majesty's tender hearted consideration.

And the most recent addition to the royal farm—her Ashantee ram, imported from Africa and presented to Queen Victoria by Major Donovan of the Army Service corps, and now kept at the Windsor farm. The sheep is called "Prempeh," and is said to be of a very docile and friendly disposition.

The Queen's Hen Coop.

There are plenty of proofs that the tastes of Queen Victoria are decidedly domestic, but none seems more convincing than that she is an enthusiastic chicken raiser. The royal aviary, or as a Canuck housewife would call it, the Queen's hen-coop, as described in The London Feathered World, by Artist

THE QUEEN'S ASHANTEE RAM

Ernest M. Jessop, is a very elaborate affair.

The Queen has her head "chicken man," who is aided by a large corps of experienced assistants. For forty years the royal poultry pens were under female supervision. Mrs. D'Albertanson, now in charge of the Queen's room at the kennels, being supervisor. A man named Hammond has succeeded her. He knows all about chickens, their value and their artful ways.

Many breeds are kept in the royal aviary—gold and silver spangled Hamburgs, gold and silver pencilled and black ones besides. Black white and speckled Dorkings strut about in company with proud Plymouth Rocks, Black Minorcas, white Leghorns, Andalusians, white Rocks and Houdans. Plymouth Rocks, are, by the way, among the Queen's favorites.

The buntams, as usual, are the pride of the roost. One named Toby is as tame as a kitten. He is Hammond's toy. When the keeper claps his hands the midget runs to him, jumps upon his hand and chanticleers to his heart's delight.

The chickens are let out daily in batches of the same breed for an hour's run on the grass. For breakfast they get soft food and for the evening meal they get an abundance of wheat. There is no hospital at the royal aviary. As soon as one of the birds appear to be ailing it is put to death and afterward cremated.

The most formidable creatures in the lot are wild turkeys imported from Canada, but now thoroughly naturalized. Two beautiful golden eagles are among the curiosities of the collection. One was captured thirty years ago in Windsor Forest. There are Aylesbury ducks, but not many. There are also golden pheasants and pigeons of various kinds.

An average of fifty eggs a day are laid by the hens. They go to the castle, Buckingham Palace and Osborne House only.

The Queen's Stables.

Queen Victoria's state coachman, Edward Miller, an old and faithful servant, who has held his post for thirty-six years.

The supreme control of the royal stables rests with the master of the horse, an office at present held by the Duke of Portland. Next to his grace in command is the crown equerry, Sir Henry Ewart, who is really the acting chief. Sir Henry, by the way, looks after the naming of the horses. His duties, however, are not all so light as this one.

The immediate control of the mews is in the hands of Mr. Nicholas, who was formerly a lieutenant in the Royal Horse Artillery. He has under him a staff of about sixty officials.

One of the most interesting relics of the old Buckingham house is the "riding-house." In it the royal children were taught horsemanship, and on the wall one may see the iron brackets used when they practiced lemon cutting.

The things that people see are inside of them and not outside. No two people see the same thing exactly alike. One woman may look out at a beautiful landscape and see all the beauty and restfulness and grandeur that there is in it. Another one will look out at the same scene and see nothing. The man who is perfectly well and vigorous enjoys life to the full. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes people well. There isn't anything miraculous about it—it is the most natural thing in the world. It simply puts the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, in perfect order and thereby makes the blood pure and rich. All diseases live and thrive on impure blood. Keep a stream of pure, rich, red blood flowing into a diseased spot and the disease will not stay. A man lives on rich, pure blood, and disease dies on it.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood. Send 31 cents in stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

YOUR TIME WILL COME.

'Tis not the hopeless that acuieve.
The faltering foot that reaches goals;
No web of gain can fortune weave,
From fiber of recoiling souls.
Endure. Repel fear's icy clutch,
That fain would pluck your heart away;
See barriers crumble at your touch.
And know your time will come some day.

Yes, "all things come to him who waits,"
But meanwhile you must labor, too;
Barred shall remain possession's gates
Till your strong hands the bars undo.
Armed with most steadfast purpose, learn
Beyond the clouds of chilliest gray
The certain sunlight to discern,
And feel your time will come some day.

Oh, tameless spirit! Hail elate
All borrowing trials, whips and stings
That come, because their chastening weight
The soul to higher stature brings!
And strength redoubled shall replace
The blood that trickles as they flay;
The way is long, but yours the race;
Surely your time will come some day.

Died at the Age of 93.

Belleville, Ont., May 18.—Gilbert Goldsmith of Thurlow died yesterday, aged 93 years. He leaves eight sons and one daughter.

John Way, aged 65, who died at Toronto on Sunday, was buried near his former home in Ameliasburg to-day.

The work of converting the island in the harbor into a park has been commenced.

There doesn't seem to be very much the matter with your child. He doesn't actually lose weight, but there is no gain. He belongs to that large class of children that don't seem to prosper. You look at him a little more thoughtfully than you do at the rest and say "He is not doing well." Failure to gain in weight in a child is a danger signal. Scott's Emulsion should be taken at once. It puts on fat where health demands it, strengthening the digestion.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

REPORT OF THE ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN APRIL.

The Annual Reports Show a Year of Solid Progress—Increased Business—A Presentation to the President, Mr. R. Macaulay.

The annual meeting of this company was held at the company's head office building in Montreal on April 2. The president, Mr. Robertson Macaulay, occupied the chair. The following is a summary of the report submitted:

The life applications received were 10,898 assurance to the amount of $11,110,292.19. Of these 10,161, covering $9,741,258.38, were accepted, and policies issued therefor, the balance being declined or not completed. The assurances on which premiums were actually paid in cash before the close of the year were 6,519 for $7,468,281.57. This new business is not only larger than that secured by the company in any previous year of its history, but also much larger than that of any other Canadian life company.

The policies in force on Dec. 31 last were 26,840, assuring $38,196,890.92, being an increase for the year of 4,539 policies for $3,441,060.67.

The cash premium income, after deducting sums paid for re-assurances, amounted to $1,529,624.34. In addition to this $120,644.02 was received as consideration for annuities granted. The total net premium income was thus $1,650,268.36, being an increase of $348,679.29 over the figures of the previous twelve months. The total receipts for the year, including interest and rents, were $1,886,258.

The death claims which fell in were 215 on 190 lives, and assuring $350,185.17. The amount "expected," according to our mortality tables, was $454,544.75. It will thus be seen that while the sum paid was large, the company's experience was in reality very favorable. In addition to the foregoing, 53 endowment assurances for $64,934.90 matured during the year. The total payments made to policyholders were $512,886.86. It may be interesting to know that in the twenty-six years of its active history the company has returned to policyholders or beneficiaries $3,626,628.90. It would be difficult to estimate the extent of the influence for good of this large amount, which has been paid chiefly to widows and orphans, or to persons in advanced age.

The assets now amount to $6,388,144.66, being an increase of $1,022,374.13 during the year. After setting aside the amounts needed to cover all outstanding claims; after valuing the policy liabilities by the very severe standard which the company has voluntarily adopted (the Institute of Actuaries Hm. Table with four per cent. interest); after providing for the paid up capital stock; and after distributing $27,835.23 in cash profits to policies entitled to participate during the year; there remains a net surplus over all liabilities of $232,606.65.

For the purpose of showing what the corresponding surplus figures would have been had any of the following tables been used in valuing the policies, the several net results are here appended:

	Surplus over all liabilities and capital stock,
By the Dominion Government standard, (the Hm. table with 4½ interest	$595,902 02
By the American table with 4 per cent	432,604 32
By the American table with 4½ per cent	749,555 86

Since the last annual meeting the company has further extended its operations in the United States by establishing a branch in Philadelphia, covering the States of Pennsylvania and Maryland, and the District of Columbia.

The foregoing statements speak for themselves as to the progress and prosperity which have characterised the company's [illegible] matters which do not appear on the surface and which can only be known to those having an intimate knowledge of its affairs, has been equally satisfactory.

The directors have to record with much regret the death, since the last annual meeting, of their esteemed colleague, Mr Robert Anderson, who had been a member of the Board since 1884 and whose deep interest and conservative judgment they much appreciated. Mr T B Macaulay was unanimously appointed to fill the vacancy thus created.

The president drew attention to the remarkable growth and development of the company, in spite of the financial depression which had so generally prevailed. Not only was the gain in new business and in business in force satisfactory in the highest degree, but the no less important and essential items of income, assets and surplus showed increases that were eminently gratifying. With regard to these sure tokens of progress, he would like to point out that the increases made by the company in the single year covered by the report were but little less than the total results under these heads at the end of the first sixteen years of the company's history. This was very noteworthy as showing what great strides the company had lately taken in winning the confidence of the public.

The Hon. A. W. Ogilvie, in seconding the motion, said that he could heartily endorse all that the president had said from personal knowledge of the conduct and quality of the business. He refrained from enlarging, reserving his remarks till later.

Messrs Ewing, Alexander, Delisle, Cleghorn, Tasker, Macpherson and T B Macaulay spoke in reference to the different details of the business. Mr Eyre Hartley, the company's manager for Great Britain, referred to the establishment and growth of the business there.

A pleasing and memorable feature of the meeting was the presentation by the directors to the president of a beautifully engrossed and illuminated address, expressive of their high appreciation of his services to the company, the success of whose operations were due more to him than any other person connected with it, and of their fervent hope that he might be spared to direct its fortunes for many years to come.

The Hon A W Ogilvie presented the address. Mr Macaulay was entirely taken by surprise, but accepted it in a fitting and happy manner.

Votes of thanks to the president, directors, officers and agents having been passed, the meeting adjourned. The retiring directors were re-elected.

THE BIRD IDENTIFIED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—The bird about which enquiry was made in yesterday's EXAMINER is known as Icterus Gabula, the Baltimore Oriole, Golden Robin or Fire Bird. It is not a stranger, as it frequents our orchards and woodlands every spring and early summer.

Yours, Etc.,
MEMBER NATURAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

Interesting Wavelets of News From the Local Waters.

Gilmour & Co.'s drive of logs, in charge of foreman, James Hickey, arrived a few days ago at Bass Lake on North River, and it is being taken southward rapidly. On its arrival at Crow Bay, three miles north of Campbellford, it will pass into the hands of the Rathbun Co's employees, who will pilot it to Trenton, according to contract between the two firms. Thirty men are now at work on this collection of logs.

One drive of Rathbun's logs is now at Callaghan's Rapids, and from there it will soon be run through the waters of Crow River into Crow Bay. There is another drive at Jelly's Rapids, and one or two farther north are moving along rapidly. The water in all the rivers and streams is high at the present time, which enables the rapid movement of the logs, and makes the work of the men comparatively easy.

CAUSED A SENSATION

Four of the Melancthon Firebugs Pleaded Guilty

AND DAVE BALLARD IS AMONG THEM

John Tisdale Told How He Was to Shoot at a Skunk Under the Barn and Start the Fire—Other Evidence Was Strong Against the Prisoners.

Orangeville, May 20.—The most important Crown witness this morning in the trial of David Ballard, Reid and Corbett, for arson, was John Tisdale, brother of Hamilton Tisdale, the Crown's star witness of yesterday. John J. Tisdale was only 17 years of age in 1894, when he worked a farm belonging to Dave Ballard in Melancthon Township on shares. Ballard would not give the Tisdales a lease, because he said he wanted to have a fire, and the inspector was to be told that they were only hired to work the place, and that the crop belonged to Ballard, Corbett, Reid, Seymour, the two Tisdales and Ballard were on hand the night of the fire, notice of which had been given witness by Ballard the day before. Reid arrived about dark, drunk and armed with a whiskey bottle; Corbett came later. Young Tisdale, it was arranged, was to fire a shot under the barn at an imaginary skunk, which shot was supposed to set fire to the buildings. Tisdale, however, fired the shot in the air, although, as Mr. Riddell reminded him, he knew skunks did not wear wings.

After the fire Corbett and Seymour drove to Dundalk and back again. This was part of the plot, and was arranged in order that they might afterwards be able to say to the insurance inspector that they had seen the fire on their way home and had alarmed the others. About midnight, after their return, Tisdale hitched up his horses and the whole gang went up the road to Henry Jackson's after old iron to deposit in the ruins. They brought back a set of harrows and an old mower, that had been through at least one fire before. Then they sat down beside the fence and arranged the story that was to be told the insurance appraiser. Afterwards, to make more ashes, a load of straw was dumped into the smouldering fire. Cross-examination did not weaken Tisdale's testimony.

Frank Turner, a prosperous and respectable-looking farmer of Melancthon Township, was the next witness. Ballard took him into his confidence both before and after this fire, telling him that Reid, Corbett and the Tisdales had also had a hand in it. After the fire Ballard and Turner spread coal oil upon some charred chaff, to make it burn more and put up a better appearance when the insurance inspector came around. Under cross-examination Turner admitted that he had had three crooked fires himself, but denied that he had ever committed perjury in connection therewith.

To Mr. Riddell witness said that after young Fenton lost his life in one of the Melancthon fires, last December, he told Dave Ballard that it was time to stop this sort of thing.

John Seymour, another of the alleged conspirators, was next called.

The Crown sprung a decided surprise upon the defence with the evidence of Richard Carey, a merchant at Corbetton. He received two letters from David Ballard while that arch-conspirator was confined in Orangeville jail. The first was unimportant, but the second was startling. The witness, however, burned the second letter a few days after its receipt, but he remembered the contents distinctly. He was allowed to give the jury his recollections of the contents of the letter, as follows: "Well, we are having quite a time in jail. I expect to be out soon, then I am going for all the newspapers. Give Hammond the tip that times are good in Michigan. Tell Hammond, Turner and Alex Skelton that they will do time. Tell Seymour to go slow. I have something against him. See Turner. He made the statement that he burned my building and I burned his. We just traded work. Tell him to get a line from a doctor saying that he is not accountable for what he says when excited, and I don't think he is. (Signed) D. Ballard."

On the resumption of the sittings of the court at 2 p.m., a most decided sensation was caused by the four prisoners, Dave Ballard, Reid, Corbett and Smith, withdrawing their plea of not guilty to the indictments on which they were being tried.

The Crown then proceeded with an indictment against Alonzo Smith and James E. Corbett for the burning of Corbett's house, the only evidence offered by the Crown being to identify the prisoners with the persons accused.

The learned judge directed a verdict of not guilty to be entered.

The prisoner Alonzo Smith, after pleading guilty, covered his face with his hands and wept silently.

Mr. Riddell, of counsel for the Crown, moved for judgment and sentence on Alonzo Smith.

Judge Ferguson will pronounce sentence on Reid, Corbett, Smith and the two Ballards to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. At the same hour William Delaney will be brought before the county judge and will elect to receive his trial by the county judge.

WILL HAVE FAST STEAMSHIPS.

Home Government Accepts the Fast Atlantic Contract and Will Give a Good Subsidy.

Ottawa, May 20.—(Special.)—The statement was made this morning that the Imperial authorities had cabled their approval of the proposed fast Atlantic service, and that an announcement to that effect might be expected in the House. Sir Richard Cartwright, on being spoken to, said that formal confirmation had not been received, and therefore the matter would not come up in the House. It is of course not to be expected that the Minister of Trade and Commerce will make any statement until he can definitely announce the conclusion of negotiations. There seems, however, to be no doubt among Ministers as to the outcome of the application to the Imperial authorities. If any hesitation and uncertainty was felt at the Colonial Office as to the wisdom of approving the Petersen-Tait contract, in the face of the very decided opposition offered by certain great marine concerns, the uncertainty was probably put an end to by the promulgation of the new Canadian tariff. It would have been rather an ungracious thing to refuse to endorse the fast line contract made by the Dominion at a time when the Dominion Government were doing everything possible to improve the trade relations of Canada and the Motherland. While, therefore, no formal ratification has yet been made of the contract, no one here in a position to judge anticipates any other result than that the contract will be ratified, and ratified in time to be laid before Parliament for final action before the end of the present session.

Mayor Parent, A. Barthe, secretary; J. B. Laliberte, president of the Harbor Commission; Hon. P. Garneau, Hon. James Shehyn and 80 others waited on the Government this afternoon with all the members to urge the Government to interest itself in the early completion of the Quebec bridge. They met Messrs. Laurier, Tarte, Dobell and Joly this afternoon. Col. Forsythe of the Quebec Bridge Company presented a statement asking a subsidy of a million dollars.

J. R. Booth, president of the Booth railway system, said the structure was demanded by the commerce of the country. Ferries were out of date. He estimated the cost of the bridge at less than three millions.

Mr. Laurier endorsed Mr. Booth's statement that the bridge was a national commercial necessity. He bade them have confidence in this project. The supreme work of his life would be the building of this bridge at Quebec, and the Government would give the request its serious consideration.

Mr. Fisher gives notice of a bill to provide for registration of cheese factories and creameries, and for branding of dairy products, and to prohibit misrepresentation as to dates of manufacture of such products.

Mr. Maclean will move to add a clause to the general railway act to compel all railway companies to carry free, as first-class passengers, members of Parliament and of Local Legislatures.

Mr. Blair said that the bill was an important one, and as the Government would require to recast the Railway Act, it could be taken into consideration then. He asked the promoter to defer its consideration. Mr. Casey agreed to do so.

THIS MAY CAUSE SERIOUS TROUBLE

The United States Senators Have Passed the Jingo Resolution Acknowledging Cubans as Belligerents

Washington, D.C., May 20.—The long and exciting debate on the joint resolution recognizing the existence of a state of war in Cuba, and declaring that strict neutrality shall be maintained by the United States, passed the Senate by the decisive vote of 41 to 14 at a late hour this afternoon. The announcement of the vote was received with tumultuous applause, which drew from Senator Hawley an emphatic protest against "mob demonstration."

The resolution as passed is as follows:

"Resolved etc., That a condition of public war exists between the Government of Spain and the Government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba, and that the United States of America shall maintain a strict neutrality between the contending parties, according to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States."

Mr. Hale declared that the elements opposed to the administration—Democrats and Populists, had furnished the bulk of the vote in favor of the resolution, and that the foreign policy of the administration was thus to be dictated by its opponents. He expressed the fear also that the resolution would lead to war with Spain.

NUMBER PRINTED TO BE LIMITED

Mr. Fielding Attacked by Mr. Foster on the Bank Note Contract The Finance Minister Shows That He Worked in the Interest of the Country.

Ottawa, May 20.—(Special.)—Mr. Foster and Sir Charles Tupper attacked the Government in the House to-day for having taken the contract for printing bills and stamps from the British American Bank Note Company and awarded it to the American Bank Note Company of New York. It was charged that the Canadian company had not been treated fairly. Its tender was, they asserted, the only one which complied with the specifications, yet the contract had been given to an alien corporation and a Canadian industry had been destroyed. They emphasized the point in their criticism that the American company had been permitted to manufacture the dies in New York, a work requiring the very highest skill, which Canadians were capable of performing. The Minister of Finance replied that there were 153,000 arguments in favor of the tender of the American Bank Note Company, and they were that it was $153,000 lower than that of the British American Bank Note Company. The old contractors, he said, evidently thought they had a monopoly of the work, for they not only asked the sum that they had received under the previous arrangement with the Government, but $60,000 more. He mentioned the fact that out of a contract aggregating over $525,000 and covering a period of five years only $6000 worth of work will not be done at Ottawa. The Canadian company had demanded 20 per cent. more than the figure named by the American company, but when the tenders had been opened Mr. G. B. Burland, president of the former company, had offered to come down to the prices named by his competitors. The Minister expressed the opinion that it would have been a scandalous thing to listen to such a proposition. The Opposition did not venture to test the opinion of the House on the subject.

Mr. Mulock answered Mr. Gibson, who asked respecting the issue of Jubilee postage stamps as follows:

It is the intention of the Government to issue a set of Jubilee postage stamps. Such stamps will be put into public use by being delivered to postmasters throughout Canada for sale in the same manner as ordinary postage stamps are sold. There will be a limit to the quantity to be issued. The denominations of Jubilee stamps and the total number of such stamps to be issued are as follows: 150,000 1-2-cent stamps, 8,000,000 1-cent stamps, 2,500,000 2-cent stamps, 20,000,000 3-cent stamps, 750,000 5-cent stamps, 75,000 6-cent stamps, 200,000 8-cent stamps, 150,000 10-cent stamps, 100,000 15-cent stamps, 100,000 20-cent stamps, 100,000 50-cent stamps, 25,000 $1 stamps, 25,000 $2 stamps, 25,000 $3 stamps, 25,000 $4 stamps, 25,000 $5 stamps, 7,000,000 1-cent P. O. cards.

The total value of the stamp of each kind, $16.21 1-2.

As soon as the whole number of stamps mentioned in the foregoing schedule is issued the plates from which they have been engraved will be destroyed in the presence of two of the head officers of the department.

On June 10 the Postoffice Department will proceed to supply Jubilee stamps to the principal postoffices in Canada, and through them the minor postoffices will obtain their supply until the issue is exhausted. If this Jubilee issue were to wholly displace the ordinary postage stamps it would supply the ordinary wants of the country for between two and three months; but as the use of ordinary postage stamps will proceed concurrently with that of Jubilee stamps, it is expected that the Jubilee stamp supply will last beyond three months.

Inasmuch as the department is already receiving applications for the purchase of Jubilee stamps, it may be stated that the department will adhere to the established practice of supplying them only to postmasters, and through them to whoever may purchase them, on and after June 19, 1897.

Mr. Blair spoke in reply to a suggestion by Sir Charles Tupper, that it was time the House knew the details of the scheme to extend the Intercolonial Railway to Montreal, in regard to which the Speech from the Throne announced that "arrangements have been completed."

The Minister's reply was that by way of an explanation preliminary to the introduction of the necessary resolution and bill, he would give an outline of the scheme in Committee of Supply.

In the 15 minutes following the House voted an allowance for the expenses of the Jubilee contingent. It was submitted as a supplementary estimate, designated "Her Majesty the Queen's Jubilee Day, to provide for the pay and allowances, transport and general expenses of the militia contingent to be sent to England to represent Canada in June, 1897, $26,000."

Sir Richard Cartwright, in Committee of Supply, explained that about half the sum would be required to pay transportation both in Canada and in England, as well as the ocean voyages, and half for the pay of officers and men who would be on duty about 50 days in all, sailing by the Vancouver of the Dominion Line May 25th, and returning 1st July by the Scotsman. The Government had been obliged to pay a little higher than usual for transportation on account of the rush to England.

Major Sutherland suggested that some reasonable allowance should be made to the officers who had been asked to accompany the Premier. He was sure if the matter were properly represented to the country there would be no objection to this. If the invited officers had to pay their own expenses entirely, it would mean that only wealthy men could afford to accept the invitation.

Sir Charles Tupper thought it would be better to deal with the present resolution on its merits. The other matter should be dealt with separately. He believed, however, that if any officers felt unable to accept, there would be lots of volunteers for their places.

Sir Richard Cartwright explained that the Imperial authorities would provide barrack accommodation for the invited officers. While not in favor of cheeseparing in such a matter, still, as the gentlemen invited would only be on England three weeks, they would be fairly well provided for. However, if necessary the Government could ask Parliament for further sum.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

GREAT loss of sleep and of flesh and much mental stress must have been involved in working out the following conclusion. The Orange Sentinel says that "whatever the causes are, it is evident that Quebec is for the present more favourable to the Liberal party than to the Conservative."

THE Detroit Free Press says: The strengthening of the Liberal ascendancy in Canada by the sweeping triumph in the Province of Quebec, is a bitter reminder to the people of this country what they have apparently lost by the fatuous policy of repelling nations that are disposed to establish trade relations with us.

QUEEN VICTORIA has lived seven years beyond the allotted space of three score and ten, and her direct descendants are exactly three score and ten, including the latest royal arrival. These are composed of seven sons and daughters, thirty-three grandchildren and thirty great-grandchildren. This is a pretty good jubilee year record. According to past demonstrations of royal fecundity, it won't be long before the number of Her Majesty's direct descendants will be equal to the span of her years.

THE House at Ottawa is, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, still in session, and has done nothing during the week worth speaking of. Tupper, poor old fellow, gets off stump speeches on the superlative enormity of dispensing with the services of a young and pretty charwoman, and in the pitiful conceit of senility imagines he is swaying the affairs of the nation. Davin has recited some verses, and did it well, as a literal fact was encored, and acknowledged the encore. But great Scott, we can get such performances at any ten cent social, and if there is nothing more to do than this, Mr. Laurier had better close the shop.

A bill has been introduced into the House of Commons by Mr. McHugh, (South Victoria) asking for the incorporation of R. J. McLaughlin (Lindsay), Chas. D. Curry, Wm. Fielding, John H. Delamere, Wm. Hartle, E. C. Young and Michael Brown (Minden), Geo. W. Stevens, John Austin and Reuben J. Leroy, as the Minden & Northwestern Railway Company. The company purposes building a railway from, at or near Irondale Junction, on the Lindsay & Haliburton line of the G.T.R. to the Village of Minden and thence through the southerly part of the Muskoka district to some point on the Georgian Bay, together with a branch line three miles in length from Minden to Mountain Lake. The total distance of the proposed line is about 90 miles, and it may be operated by either steam or electricity. The capital stock is $200,000. CANADA'S DAY IS COMING.

Canada the Best Home for Overcrowded Europe.

In connection with the talk going on about Britain's food supply in case of war, it is well to note the following facts mentioned by Prof. Robertson, in an article in the current number of The Flag. He says, "The day of the Western States is past; all the good land is taken up, and Canada's turn has come. The only cheap lands in a healthy, bracing climate, worth having on the American continent, north of the Gulf of Mexico, are to be found under the British flag alone, north of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes. Canada's free lands are nearer Great Britain than are any of the Western States that have absorbed so large a proportion of British immigrants of the class we need. Our railways and ocean lines give a service close on five hundred miles shorter to the British markets than can be had from the Western States." The stars in their course are fighting upon our side. The whole tendency of the times is to bring Canadian resources into play and to turn to our shores the tide of immigration which has hitherto be going elsewhere.

WHAT A LOT OF THEM!

Montreal Produces Its Share.

What a Wonderful lot of People there are who Suffer from Backache.

From the Millionaire Sitting in His Office Clipping Coupons Down to the Humble Citizen who Swings a Pick for a Dollar a Day, Nobody is Free from it, and it all Comes From the Same Cause—The Kidneys are to Blame.

Backache is really nothing but kidney ache.

You can be perfectly sure that it means a disordered condition of the kidneys.

Here is some Montreal proof worth reading:—

Mrs. Laby, says: "My uncle, Mr. John Hughes, has been a very great sufferer from kidney disease, pain across the back, frightful headaches and dizziness, as well as severe urinary difficulties.

He was in a fearful state, could not rest, and often had to walk the floor half the night so great were the pains. We gave him a great many kinds of medicine, but they did him no good. He then went to the hospital, but the doctors there said that he had a complication of diseases, and only afforded him temporary relief. On coming back home he was soon as bad as ever.

Well, we saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and thought he might as well try them, as they could do him no harm, so he started to use them and got better in a very short time. In fact, he only used them for six weeks.

He is all right now, the pains have disappeared entirely, he eats well, sleeps well and works right along every day. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. 126

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The item passed, and was reported from Committee of Ways and Means, and the supply bill was so advanced that it stands for a third reading.

On motion to go into supply on the estimates, Mr. Foster brought up the matter of the bank note printing contract. It was, he said, a laudable ambition of every country to do its own printing of stamps and notes irrespective of any small saving by having it done abroad. This had been done in Canada in 1896. At first the work was done in Montreal, but subsequently it was decided to have it done as near the supervising power as possible, so when the contract was renewed in 1881 it was stipulated that the Finance Minister could compel the contractor to perform the work at Ottawa, but it was not enforced. Great reductions took place in the cost, and in 1886 the option was exercised of obliging the work to be done in Ottawa. In 1892 the contract was renewed to the British American Bank Note Company, and again were the rates reduced. It has always been provided that the contract was to "engrave, print, publish and deliver as required," all this work to be done at Ottawa. Now the five years' contract of 1892 expired on April 23, 1897. By notice of the Finance Minister, given in September last, tenders were called for on the 19th of October for a new contract.

The specifications called for the engraving, printing and furnishing to the Government of Dominion notes, stamps, stamped envelopes and post and letter cards, and inland revenue stamps, all to be done in Ottawa as usual. Copies of those specifications were sent to England, the United States and throughout Canada, those to England being sent with the observation that the Finance Minister did not think they would get any offers from English houses. Still, many of the latter did write to ask if it were absolutely necessary that the work should all be done in Ottawa. The answer of the Finance Minister was that this restriction was absolutely unalterable; the work must all be done in Ottawa. The Barber & Ellis Company of Toronto asked to be allowed to substitute personal for cash security, but the Finance Minister was equally firm in his refusal to depart from the conditions of the specifications. On that account the Barber & Ellis Company's tender was ruled out.

But there was another tender that did not conform to the specifications, that of the American Bank Note Company of New York, which did not conform to the conditions in a much more important particular, namely, that they stipulated that it should not be required that "the bank note and other papers, steel rolls, steel plates, dies and other tools of the trade should be manufactured in Ottawa," contrary to the very essence of the requirements.

On the engraving of the bills the difference in favor of the B. A. Company's tender was $24,000.

Proceeding, he pointed out that there was quite a distinction as between the skilled work and mechanical work. The Burland Company tendered to do the printing by hand, while it appeared the foreign company were to print with machines

MR. FIELDING'S REPLY.

The Minister of Finance Claims to Have Acted in the Country's Interest.

Mr. Fielding commenced his reply after recess. He contended that if the Government had accepted Mr. Burland's offer it would have been a scandal, and would have merited the condemnation of the House and country. A critical examination of the two tenders showed that the American company's tender for five years was $133,333 better than Burland's. The fact was that Mr. Burland for years had had a monopoly of this business, and that he appreciated this fact was shown by his evident desire to secure a renewal of it before it expired. The late Government thought Mr. Burland was entitled to a continuance of this monopoly. The present Government had sought to extend requests for tenders over the widest area, in order to get competition. They had not particularly invited foreign competition; all they wanted was to secure the lowest possible offer.

He proceeded to detail the conditions required of the American company, to show the advantage of their offer. He characterised as absolutely untrue the statement that the American Bank Note Company had put in its tender after Mr. Burland's. Why should he have sent for Mr. Burland? That gentleman thought he had the game in his hands and put his price up.

Mr. Fielding pointed out that already large sums had been spent in Ottawa by this company. He held that in entering into communication with the company he was not acting contrary to the recommendation of the Deputy Minister. Every step that was taken was on the Deputy's advice. The making of the die, which Mr. Foster called the soul of the work, cost only $6000, while the work turned out under the contract in Canada would amount to $52,000. Only 1 per cent. of the work was thus being done abroad. The English firms were not differently treated. What they wanted was to do the whole of the work outside of Ottawa. But the difference in the tenders of the Burland and American Companies was the essence of the contention.

The dropping of the stamped envelope portion of the specification would, he explained, put the Government in a better position as to the furnishing of these envelopes. As to Mr. Burland's offer, it would have been a scandal had the latter been allowed to profit by the offer of the successful concern, and, besides, an Order-in-Council authorizing him to enter into a contract with the American firm was passed on Jan. 7, eight days before the date of Mr. Burland's letter. The Government had put the work up to tender, saved the country a large sum by the new contract, and had seen that 99 per cent. of the work would be done in Canada by Canadian labor. [Ministerial applause.]

Sir Charles Tupper said after Mr. Foster's able argument it would not be necessary to address the House at any length. Mr. Fielding had referred to the fact that the late Government had received an application from Mr. Burland for a renewal of his contract. But he had vindicated the late Finance Minister by acknowledging that Mr. Foster had refused Mr. Burland's request, and that there must be open competition.

The matter then dropped, and the House went into Committee of Supply.

On the vote for Toronto harbor, Mr. Clarke asked whether it was the intention to construct groins at the western end of Toronto Island.

Mr. Tarte said plans for such work had been submitted to the department, but were not acceptable. It was the intention, however, to do something. The chief engineer was looking into the matter.

Mr. Clarke urged that groins should be constructed at the western end. The improvements at the eastern end were affecting the lake shore at the west end. He asked how much was required to complete the eastern entrance.

Mr. Tarte said about $80,000. He had not yet decided what he would do at the west end.

The House adjourned at 12.25 a.m.

ITALY'S RED SEA COLONY.

Premier De Rudini Will Have His Policy Carried Out or Resign.

Rome, May 20.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the future of Erythrea, the Italian colony on the Red Sea was the subject of a long debate. General Pelloux, the Minister of War, said the Government proposed to limit the Italian sphere in that quarter to the triangle bounded by lines drawn through Mussowah, Asmara and Keren. The Marquis di Rudini, the Premier, said that immediate evacuation was out of the question, and that unless the Chamber voted confidence in the Government's policy, he would resign.

NICKY TO ABDUL HAMID.

Text of the Czar's Letter Requesting a Cessation of Hostilities and the Sultan's Reply.

London, May 20.—A despatch from Constantinople gives the text of the Czar's message to the Sultan asking for the cessation of hostilities as follows:

"Your Imperial Majesty will not feel astonished by the fact that, encouraged by the evidence of sincere friendship and neighborly feeling which exists between us, I take upon myself the task of addressing to your august sensibility my expression of the wish that you will crown the heroic successes of your soldiers by a suspension of hostilities.

"This is a course which will be in entire accord with the firmness and peaceful moderation you evinced at the commencement of the campaign. Your Imperial Majesty will thus accomplish an act which will be entirely in conformity with wisdom and moderation, and which will serve to still further augment the respect and admiration you personally inspire, and of which I will forever retain the memory.

"I pray Your Imperial Majesty to be good enough to believe in my unalterable friendship."

The Sultan replied, expressing lively and sincere thanks, and informing the Czar that he has ordered the Turkish commanders to stop fighting. In conclusion, the Sultan said:

"I pray Your Imperial Majesty also to take into consideration that I wish for the friendly intervention of the powers to assure the re-establishment of peace, having for its result the safeguarding of the rights and prestige of my Government and the maintenance of general peace by the subsequent continual security of my frontier."

An Armistice Concluded.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The item passed, and was reported from Committee of Ways and Means, and the supply bill was so advanced that it stands for a third reading.

On motion to go into supply on the estimates, Mr. Foster brought up the matter of the bank note printing contract. It was, he said, a laudable ambition of every country to do its own printing of stamps and notes irrespective of any small saving by having it done abroad. This had been done in Canada in 1866. At first the work was done in Montreal, but subsequently it was decided to have it done as near the supervising power as possible, so when the contract was renewed in 1881 it was stipulated that the Finance Minister could compel the contractor to perform the work at Ottawa, but it was not enforced. Great reductions took place in the cost, and in 1886 the option was exercised of obliging the work to be done in Ottawa. In 1892 the contract was renewed to the British American Bank Note Company, and again were the rates reduced. It has always been provided that the contract was to "engrave, print, publish and deliver as required," all this work to be done at Ottawa. Now the five years' contract of 1892 expired on April 23, 1897. By notice of the Finance Minister, given in September last, tenders were called for on the 10th of October for a new contract.

The specifications called for the engraving, printing and furnishing to the Government of Dominion notes, stamps, stamped envelopes and post and letter cards, and inland revenue stamps, all to be done in Ottawa as usual. Copies of those specifications were sent to England, the United States and throughout Canada, those to England being sent with the observation that the Finance Minister did not think they would get any offers from English houses. Still, many of the latter did write to ask if it were absolutely necessary that the work should all be done in Ottawa. The answer of the Finance Minister was that this restriction was absolutely unalterable; the work must all be done in Ottawa. The Barber & Ellis Company of Toronto asked to be allowed to substitute personal for cash security, but the Finance Minister was equally firm in his refusal to depart from the conditions of the specifications. On that account the Barber & Ellis Company's tender was ruled out.

But there was another tender that did not conform to the specifications, that of the American Bank Note Company of New York, which did not conform to the conditions in a much more important particular, namely, that they stipulated that it should not be required that "the bank note and other papers, steel rolls, steel plates, dies and other tools of the trade should be manufactured in Ottawa," contrary to the very essence of the requirements.

On the engraving of the bills the difference in favor of the B. A. Company's tender was $24,000.

Proceeding, he pointed out that there was quite a distinction as between the skilled work and mechanical work. The Burland Company tendered to do the printing by hand, while it appeared the foreign company were to print with machines

MR. FIELDING'S REPLY.

The Minister of Finance Claims to Have Acted in the Country's Interest.

Mr. Fielding commenced his reply after recess. He contended that if the Government had accepted Mr. Burland's offer it would have been a scandal, and would have received the condemnation of the House and country. A critical examination of the two tenders showed that the American company's tender for nine years was $153,-82 better than Burland's. The fact was that Mr. Burland for years had had a monopoly of this business, and that he appreciated this fact was shown by his evident desire to secure a renewal of it before it expired. The late Government thought Mr. Burland was entitled to a continuance of this monopoly. The present Government had sought to extend requests for tenders over the widest area, in order to get competition. They had not particularly invited foreign competition; all they wanted was to secure the lowest possible offer.

He proceeded to detail the conditions required of the American company, to show the advantage of their offer. He characterized as absolutely untrue the statement that the American Bank Note Company had put in its tender after Mr. Burland's. Why should he have sent for Mr. Burland? That gentleman thought he had the game in his hands and put his price up.

Mr. Fielding pointed out that already large sums had been spent in Ottawa by this company. He held that in entering into communication with the company he was not acting contrary to the recommendation of the Deputy Minister. Every step that was taken was on the Deputy's advice. The making of the die, which Mr. Foster called the soul of the work, cost only $6000, while the work turned out under the contract in Canada would amount to $52,000. Only 1 per cent. of the work was thus being done abroad. The English firms were not differently treated. What they wanted was to do the whole of the work outside of Ottawa. But the difference in the tenders of the Burland and American Companies was the essence of the contention.

The dropping of the stamped envelope portion of the specification would, he explained, put the Government in a better position as to the furnishing of these envelopes. As to Mr. Burland's offer, it would have been a scandal had the latter been allowed to profit by the offer of the successful concern, and, besides, an Order-in-Council authorizing him to enter into a contract with the American firm was passed on Jan. 7, eight days before the date of Mr. Burland's letter. The Government had put the work up to tender, saved the country a large sum by the new contract, and had seen that 99 per cent. of the work would be done in Canada by Canadian labor. [Ministerial applause.]

Sir Charles Tupper said after Mr. Foster's able argument it would not be necessary to address the House at any length. Mr. Fielding had referred to the fact that the late Government had received an application from Mr. Burland for a renewal of his contract. But he had vindicated the late Finance Minister by acknowledging that Mr. Foster had refused Mr. Burland's request, and that there must be open competition.

The matter then dropped, and the House went into Committee of Supply.

On the vote for Toronto harbor, Mr. Clarke asked whether it was the intention to construct groins at the western end of Toronto Island.

Mr. Tarte said plans for such work had been submitted to the department, but were not acceptable. It was the intention, however, to do something. The chief engineer was looking into the matter.

Mr. Clarke urged that groins should be constructed at the western end. The improvements at the eastern end were affecting the lake shore at the west end. He asked how much was required to complete the eastern entrance.

Mr. Tarte said about $80,000. He had not yet decided what he would do at the west end.

The House adjourned at 12.25 a.m.

ITALY'S RED SEA COLONY.

Premier De Rudini Will Have His Policy Carried Out or Resign.

Rome, May 20.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the future of Erythrea, the Italian colony on the Red Sea was the subject of a long debate. General Pelloux, the Minister of War, said the Government proposed to limit the Italian sphere in that quarter to the triangle bounded by lines drawn through Massowah, Asmara and Keren. The Marquis di Rudini, the Premier, said that immediate evacuation was out of the question, and that unless the Chamber voted confidence in the Government's policy, he would resign.

NICKY TO ABDUL HAMID.

Text of the Czar's Letter Requesting a Cessation of Hostilities and the Sultan's Reply.

London, May 20.—A despatch from Constantinople gives the text of the Czar's message to the Sultan asking for the cessation of hostilities as follows:

"Your Imperial Majesty will not feel astonished by the fact that, encouraged by the evidence of sincere friendship and neighborly feeling which exists between us, I take upon myself the task of addressing to your august sensibility my expression of the wish that you will crown the heroic successes of your soldiers by a suspension of hostilities.

"This is a course which will be in entire accord with the firmness and peaceful moderation you evinced at the commencement of the campaign. Your Imperial Majesty will thus accomplish an act which will be entirely in conformity with wisdom and moderation, and which will serve to still further augment the respect and admiration you personally inspire, and of which I will forever retain the memory.

"I pray Your Imperial Majesty to be good enough to believe in my unalterable friendship."

The Sultan replied, expressing lively and sincere thanks, and informing the Czar that he has ordered the Turkish commanders to stop fighting. In conclusion, the Sultan said:

"I pray Your Imperial Majesty also to take into consideration that I wish for the friendly intervention of the powers to assure the re-establishment of peace, having for its result the safeguarding of the rights and prestige of my Government and the maintenance of general peace by the subsequent continual security of my frontier."

An Armistice Concluded.

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of

JUBILEE DAY RACES.

In the course of a day or two posters will be issued with a full description of the Jubilee Day races at the Driving Park.

It has been decided to have a one-day meet, instead of one lasting over two days, as was at first announced. Four events will be on the card for Jubilee Day, viz., two trots and two running races.

In order to make a good afternoon's sport, a lacrosse match will probably be played early in the afternoon, and other athletic sports may be placed on the programme to take place between the horse-racing events. A few good bicycle races ought to draw well.

Already a number of enquiries have been received from the leading horsemen of the country, who have stated their intention of being present.

The Dear Irish Home.

Dan McCarthy's latest successful play "The Dear Irish Home," which he will produce at the opera house on Tuesday, May 25th, is said to be an excellent one, full of fine character, representations and interesting scenes. The Christmas eve scene in second act is said to be one of the most amusing conceits imaginable, and the first scene in third act is a most remarkably pathetic picture. The people portraying the several characters are said to be thoroughly competent, having been especially selected for their adaptability to the characters. Among the members of the company are the sweet singing comedian, Jas. W. Reagan, Lillian Cookburn, Lou Ripley, Marion Strathmore, Mabel Kitts, Laura Leith, Edith Baird, and Thomas Smith, J. F. Bolger, George Earle and Jas. O'Brien.

THE BIG ROAD RACE.

Arrangements Made To-day to Hold it in July.

Messrs. A. E. Walton and John Pearson of the Royal Canadian Bicycle Club, Toronto, arrived in town to-day, and were met at the C.P.R. station by the Executive of the Victorias and driven to the Oriental Hotel.

A meeting was held during the afternoon, when it was decided that the date of the proposed bicycle road race would be Monday, July 19th. The Toronto riders and their friends will thus be able to come to Peterborough the Saturday previous and spend Sunday here.

The race will start and end in the Driving Park, and the course this year will probably be over the Locks bridge and down to Hoard's and back. The change is made in order that the riders will not have to go through the town, where accidents are likely to occur if the streets become at all crowded.

The entry fee is to be fixed at one dollar, with an extra three dollars for a team of seven. In the case of counting the points for the team prize, the first four riders of each team will score. Arrangements will be made to advertise the big race in Toronto and the west by the Royal Canadians, whilst the Victorias will look after the east. The prizes will be especially attractive and a big string of riders will probably participate.

Mr. L. B. Howland of Brockville, vice-president of the I., B. & O. Ry., went through yesterday on business connected with the recent strike of the employees. We understand the section men are not satisfied, and threaten further trouble.

The Millbrook Reporter says,—Most of our readers, especially those who have had the pleasure of a personal or professional acquaintance with R. F. Morrow, L. D. S., Peterborough, will be pleased to know of his further distinction in the profession. Last year he received the D. D. S. and M. D. S., these being degrees that few attain to, and which every dentist looks forward to with expectation and delight as the goal of his ambition. Recognizing the high standard of Mr. Morrow and his ability in his profession the Board of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons have appointed him examiner for the college in Materia Medica. That one so young in life should receive the honour of this appointment only goes to show the enterprise, application and pluck, bring their reward in the professional as well as in the business world. We trust that Peterborough's rising and already most leading dentist shall long enjoy the confidence of the profession and what is better, the patronage of the public whom he is so eminently fitted to please. Mr. Morrow's many friends in Millbrook join in the general congratulations.

Peterborough Dramatists.

Cardinal Wiseman's two-act drama, "The Hidden Gem," was placed on the boards in St. Michael's College hall, Toronto, on May 13th, by the students. Two Peterborough boys, Messrs. T. J. Crowley and P. J. Kelly took part, the former taking the part of Eusebius and the latter the part of Verna. The Catholic Register says the characters were sustained in an exceptionably able and artistic manner.

The Machine that Talks.

Mr. Charles LeGros, tobacconist, has on exhibition at his store one of the mysterious and wonderful graphophones, which records all sounds with wonderful accuracy. It has 36 self-adjusting cylinders, each one of which reproduces different popular songs and orchestral effects. Attached is a large brass sound-ampifying horn, which causes the sound to be heard quite distinctly. It is quite an acquisition in ballrooms, parlours and social parties. The graphophone is operated by an electric battery—all you have to do is to touch the button, and an interesting musical exhibition is the result. Mr. Legros has been appointed agent for this part of Canada for these wonderful machines, which can be procured for $75 up to $300. Go and hear it on Saturday. 3d

A Man and his Necktie.

It is a curious thing to notice the affinity that exists between the young man and his necktie. Talk of "the style" being the man! Nine times out of ten the necktie denotes the individual, and above all his humour. Observe how he has fingered his tie and you can detect his mood. A look into the furnishing department of H. LeBrun & Co., of the City Clothing Store, George street, affords rare chances for interesting investigation into the varied tastes in dress which men demand at this season of the year. The display of novelties in neckties and shirts is very fashionable and effective. There seems to be nothing wanting to satisfy swell dressers in securing the special effect they desire. Summer underwear in the most pleasing finish can be bought at varying prices according to the quality, and some of the textures are very fine. Collars and cuffs, hosiery, sweaters and other outfitting are in complete assortment. But the two great departments of this store are the tailoring and ready-made sections. Piles of Scotch, English, French and Canadian fabrics of all grades and best patterns are shown ready to be made up into "Jubilee" styles to your special order at greatly reduced prices during the next month of Jubilee enthusiasm. Snaps in ready-to-wear clothing for men and boys at figures sufficient to make men and boys wonder how LeBrun & Co. came by the goods. At this season prices grow smaller by degrees and beautifully less at the City Clothing Store. See big advertisement.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Another of the Pioneer Settlers of the County.

The death of Mr. Jas. Beckett, aged 87 years, occurred on Tuesday last at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. W. D. Scott, near Desboro, Grey County.

Mr. Beckett was born in the Parish of Nilestone, County of Renfrewshire, Scotland, in the year 1809, and came to Canada with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beckett, in the year 1820, and settled in the township of Asphodel, where he resided till the year 1833, when he purchased a two hundred acre farm two miles from Norwood on the Hastings road (known now as the Howson property) where he started his pioneer life in the dense forest by hewing out a home for himself. He was one of the first settlers in that neighbourhood, and lived on the above-mentioned farm for over thirty-five years, when he moved his family to the States, where he resided till about five months ago, when he returned to Canada to live with his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Scott.

Mr. Beckett was married in 1835 to Miss Agnes McIntosh, of Otonabee, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, who died in 1853, leaving four daughters and three sons, of whom six survive the father, viz., Mrs. Wm. C. Scott, Mrs. Thomas Crawford, Desboro, County Grey, Mr. James Becket, of Pomona, Los Angeles, Cal.; Miss Annie Beckett, Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Alex. Fife, Hyde Park, North Dakota; Mr. Joseph Beckett, Goldendale, Washington. He married again in 1856, his wife's maiden name being Catharine Carberry, of Norwood, who died in 1875, leaving six children, of whom five survive the father, viz., David Beckett, Mrs. Blackstock and Miss Ada, of Washington; Mr. Thos. Beckett, and Mrs. Gabet, of Oregon.

One brother and three sisters of deceased are still living, viz., Hugh Beckett, of Norwood; Mrs. Culver, of Cobourg; Mrs. Bowskill, and Mrs. Jackson, of Port Hope.

His death was caused by chronic nephritis. His last suffering was long but he endured it with patience, and his end was peaceful.

BELLEGHEM'S BEAUTIFUL WOOD-WORK.

A Splendid Soda Water Cabinet Put in for Mr. E. Welsh's Hunter Street Confectionery.

Persons in search of artistically designed and skilfully executed wood-work need not go out of Peterborough, as the splendid new soda water cabinet erected by Mr. D. Belleghem for Mr. E. Welsh, the popular confectioner, 172 Hunter street, amply proves. It is artistically designed and the work is done solidly and with care and skill.

This cabinet is placed against the wall at the left of the door and opposite the confectionery counter. It stands about 9 feet in height and is 6½ feet in length. It consists of a lower part in the form of a cabinet, with doors, 2½ feet high and about fifteen inches deep, with a console shaped top, with curved edge and rounded corners. Upon this rests a beautiful canopy, springing from double pillars in front and supported by the pannelled back. The top of this canopy consists of an elaborately decorated and carved cornice, surmounted by spindle work, the central part of the front being composed of a panel of finely carved scroll work. Underneath the cornice, in front, is placed a tasteful combination of grill and spindle work arranged in the form of a depressed arch, with a striking centre piece of carving, consisting of two griffins couchant—placed vis-a-vis. The ends of the cabinet under the cornice are ornamented with half arches, springing from the rear and formed of delicately graceful spindle work. The double pillars supporting the canopy at each end are turned and carved and each pair supports two small shelves between them, one above the other, upon which are placed tiny jardinieres consisting of ornamental hand painted China pots filled with delicate flowers, ferns, etc. The central panel of the back is composed of a British plate glass mirror, twenty-four by sixty-six inches in area. Underneath this is placed the line of taps and syrup faucets. There are three main taps, one for soda-water, one for birch beer and one for ginger beer; these taps, (the syrup faucets numbering eight,) are of the very latest design and of silver, imported from Boston, and beautiful as they are, are none too good for the beautiful wood work surroundings which Belleghem has provided. The material of the cabinet is quartered oak, hand polished, and the elegant carving, airy tastefulness of the ornamental features, the fine adaptability to its purpose and the general charming effect, make it a triumph of the wood worker's art. The completed work is a credit to Mr. Belleghem's establishment, and a fine article of utility and ornament for Mr. Welsh's handsome premises.

BAPTIST WOMEN ARE IN CONVENTION.

HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETIES IN CONVENTION.

Reports Submitted From Both Societies of a Most Encouraging Nature—Result of the Election of Officers.

Both the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Baptist church are in convention in Galt.

On Wednesday the Home Missionary Society was in session.

The Recording Secretary, Miss Annie Moyle, Toronto, reported that during the year ten life membership tickets had been issued.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Booker, Woodstock.

First Vice-President—Mrs. Freeland, Toronto.

Second Vice-President — Mrs. J. B. Senior, Toronto.

Recording Secretary — Miss Moyle, Toronto.

Members of the Board—Mrs. C. T. Stark, Toronto; Mrs. S. Dodson, Paris; Mrs. Forbes, Grimsby; Mrs. A. P. McDiarmid, Toronto; Mrs. W. J. McKay, Stratford.

Mrs. Mabel Stark, of Toronto, Secretary of the mission bands, reported that of 146 bands 109 sent reports which were on the whole satisfactory; 33 students were last year supported at Cocanada by bands and 40 at Samulcotta.

The report of

THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY,

Miss Buchan, showed that there had not been an increase in the income of the society; 193 societies reported for the year. Some of the societies reported that the money that had been raised for foreign missions had been used at home. The reports from India showed that, although the mission field of the church is not in the famine district, food and work are so scarce that many of the people had only one meal a day, some only one in several days, and some only one in many days. The Zenana work would be discouraging, were it not that some of the women appeared to have some knowledge of Christ. The school work among the girls has been satisfactory, although two of the schools were necessarily closed. Many of the natives have been cured of bodily ailments by the missionaries, and so a hold has been gained upon them that could not otherwise be secured. Detailed reports from the missionaries in each district were embodied in this report and were listened to with very great interest.

Yesterday when the convention was called to order by Mrs. Jesse Gibson, of Toronto, the church was well filled with delegates and members of the church here. The reports of the Foreign Missions were then taken up. After the devotional exercises the Treasurer's report was submitted, showing that the receipts for the year amounted to $4,778·45, of which $3,911.39 came from the circles and $400.78 from the band, $466.28 from miscellaneous sources. To this amount must be added a balance of $863.05 carried forward from last year. The disbursements were $2 500 to the General Treasurer, $950 to the Grand Ligne Mission, $1,259 to the work in the North-west and Manitoba, including $200 for the work among the Indians, and $62 06 for printing, leaving a balance on hand of $10.39. The number of circles reporting last year was 200, but this year nineteen of these failed to report. The remaining 181 were joined by fifteen new members, making the number reporting this year 196. Of the bands 77 reported, 26 of which were new, as the number last year was 79, 28 failed to report. Fourteen life membership certificates were issued during the year, five of them going to St. Thomas, which is thus the banner circle for the year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Jas. J. Holman, Toronto, acclamation.

First Vice-President—Mrs. Rob. Laird, Toronto.

Second Vice-President—Mrs. Hutchinson, Brantford.

Recording-Secretary — Miss Margaret Boyd, Toronto.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. John Lillie, Toronto.

Treasurer—Miss Amelie Ellis, Toronto.

The following new Board members were elected:

Miss Copp, Hamilton; Mrs. John Stark, Toronto; Mrs. J. J. Baker, Sparta; Mrs. D. K. Clark, Woodstock; Miss A. E. Dryden, Greenback; Mrs. David Mills, London; Mrs. J. P. McMcCuen, Toronto; Mrs. C. C. McLaurin, Galt. Miss Tapscott was appointed Secretary of Bands.

WORK OF THE SOCIETY.

At the evening session the church was crowded. The report of the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. John Lillie, reviewed the membership figures as given in the Treasurer's report, and said that the increase in membership was on the whole satisfactory. Mrs. Lillie regretted that out of the 11,610 women members of the church in the district only 3,410 were members of the association, and a strong plea was made for increased membership. The work at Grand Ligne Mission was reported to be satisfactory. Six pupils are supported there by the society. The missionary in Quebec reported that the work was on the whole satisfactory, notwithstanding the bitter hostility of the clergy. The Ontario work is in a satisfactory condition. Many of the churches under the partial care of the society are working towards self-support. Rev. W. W. Weeks, of Toronto, delivered a splendid address upon the subject, "Woman a Divine Instrument," in the course of which he said that the mightiest factor in the world for truth and holiness and good was consecrated womanhood.

A Proposed Park for Lindsay.

The town of Lindsay is not without enterprise in certain directions. It is seriously proposed to convert their market square into a public park in recognition of the Diamond Jubilee year. This is a proposition the people of Peterborough cannot understand. They regard a market as a market, and no grass is allowed to grow on the Peterborough market square. But, of course, if a plot of ground is not needed for market purposes there is no objection to converting it into a public park.

HYMENEAL.

Wedded in Omemee Wednesday Afternoon.

Mr. Ed. S. Johns, son of Conductor Henry Johns, of the Lindsay G.T.R. division, who returned about a week ago from Revelstoke, British Columbia, will take a fair bride with him when he returns to the coast in July. Wednesday, at Omemee, Miss Lizzie Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends, undertook to share his fortunes for life, the matrimonial knot being tied by Rev. Newton Hill, Methodist pastor.

Miss Beatrice Rowland was bridesmaid, and Mr. Wm. Scott, of Lindsay, supported the groom. The happy couple left on the evening train for Toronto and other cities to spend their honeymoon.

Sousa's Band.

It is unnecessary to remind music lovers that they will hear on the occasion of Sousa's visit to this city, next Wednesday afternoon, a peerless military band—in all probability the finest one the world has ever heard—headed by America's formost composer, who has been christened by the press of this continent "The March King." Mr. Sousa is an inimitable conductor, in fact a born leader. Don't fail to see him and hear his superb concerts. The programme commences sharp at 2 p.m. Prices 50c., 75c. and $1.00. Seats now on sale. 1

The light in the window after midnight but too frequently tells the old, old story of the awful torture of approaching motherhood for some illy-prepared women. All too often death lurks on the doorstep. This is a story that would seldom be told if women would but properly prepare themselves for the duties of motherhood. If a woman will take the right care of the organs that make motherhood possible, approaching maternity will have no fears for her. Nature intended that all women should bear children, and did not mean that this duty should be a cruel torture. Woman's own ignorance and neglect have made it so.

All weakness and disease of woman's reproductive organism are cured by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon these organs. It makes them strong and healthy. It prepares them for approaching maternity. It allays the discomforts of the expectant period. It makes baby's coming easy and comparatively painless, and insures the health of the child. All good druggists sell it.

"I have had three miscarriages," writes Mrs. J. L. Shaffer, of Ney, Sully Co., S. Dakota. "Last spring I received one of your Memorandum Books in which I found your 'Favorite Prescription' recommended to prevent it. I took eleven bottles of it and have a bright boy five months old, which I owe to God and your medicine."

What woman does not wish to make her family cares as light as possible, consistent with her family's well-being? The greatest care of all is the fear of sickness. It is a common saying amongst conscientious mothers: "As long as the children are well, I don't mind anything else." For these mothers Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser would prove "The shadow of a great rock in a weary land." This book of 1,008 pages, profusely illustrated, gives plain talks and kindly sensible medical advice. It is peculiarly valuable for mothers of young daughters. More than a half a million copies of this book have been sold for $1.50 each. Now there is an enormous edition to be given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing Only, for a copy in paper cover. For cloth binding, send 50 stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

BASEBALL YESTERDAY.

Syracuse, May 19.—One of the prettiest games of the season was that played here to-day between the Stars and Toronto. Mularkey pitched a fine game and was only hit by the visitors to any extent in the third innings, when they batted out four runs, after the side should have been retired. Toronto showed marvelous form in the field, and accepted every chance. Staley pitched a fair game, but Mularkey was too good for him. The Canucks leave for home in the morning, for their first home game with Rochester to-morrow. Baker was behind the bat and only allowed one stolen base. Lezotte going down on a close decision. HAMS MADE IT THREE.

Hamilton, May 19.—(Special.)—The first local game in the Canadian Baseball League series was played here to-day between the Torontos and the Hamiltons. The local nine outplayed the visitors at every point. But for the rank work of the Toronto outfielders, the game might have been interesting. Hardy did good work in the box for Toronto in the first half of the game, but poor support disheartened him. Reid was his catcher, and Condon and Conwell were the Hamilton's battery. Hardy gave three men bases on balls and Condon five. About 1100 persons saw the game, which was played at Dundurn Park. Mayor Colquhoun pitched the first ball, and made a speech. The score was:

MELANCTHON FIRES.

Jim Ballard Found Guilty of Barn Burning.

SENTENCE NOT YET DELIVERED.

The Firebug Was Cool and Stoical in Court, But Wept Like a Child on Being Removed to His Cell.

After the Verdict Was Given.

Orangeville, May 19.—The proceedings against Jim Ballard for burning his own buildings were concluded at 3 p.m. to-day by an impartial address to the jury by Judge Ferguson.

The jury retired and, after deliberating for two hours, announced that they had agreed upon a verdict.

The prisoner was then brought back to the court house from the jail and the foreman of the jury was asked what verdict the jury had arrived at.

"Guilty," came the clear response from Samuel Suggitt, foreman of the jury, while not a muscle in the dark face of James Ballard moved. He was then removed to the jail, where, by himself, he wept like a child.

Sentence has not yet been passed on him.

Following the conclusion of James Ballard's trial, Dave Ballard, William Reid and James E. Corbett were arraigned, charged with setting fire to the barn of David Ballard.

The first witness examined was Hamilton Tisdale, who swore as follows:

I remember the fire at Dave Ballard's barn. Dave Ballard told me the place was insured and he was going to burn it up. I was working Ballard's farm, but he would not give me a lease of the place, as he said he wanted to burn the barn. The night of the fire, William Reid, James E. Corbett, Dave Ballard, T. J. Tisdale and I went up to Jackson's farm about 11 o'clock to get an old mower that had been burned. We loaded the mower on a wagon and brought it to Dave Ballard's barn. Then Corbett and Reid went into the barn and began spreading straw around the floor. Ballard and I put straw over the old mower. I saw Reid and Corbett carrying lighted straw around and lighting the straw in different places. Dave said, "We had better hurry or we won't be in this," as the fire was beginning to graw bright. I ran to the fence.

Cross-examined by Mr. Myers: I had two fires myself, which I knew to be set. I collected the insurance on both of these. I committed perjury twice, but have since experienced religion. I do not know whether I will be prosecuted or not.

This concluded Tisdale's evidence and after some evidence by the insurance agent the court adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

HAS ALBERT GONE WRONG?

A Messenger of the Boylston National Bank in Boston is Missing With $20,000 in Cash.

Boston, Mass., May 19.—Albert M. King, the 19-year-old messenger of the Boylston National Bank, at the corner of Washington and Essex-streets, is missing, together with about $20,000 in cash and a $10,000 United States certificate, not negotiable except between banks. King started for the clearing house at 10.15 a.m. to-day to settle the balance existing there against the bank, and on the way, according to instructions, transacted other business, involving something like $15,000. As he did not return to the bank by 1 o'clock, the officials grew anxious and made a search for the messenger, besides invoking the aid of the police, but up to the present hour they have been unable to ascertain his whereabouts.

Deputy Superintendent Burrow and Chief Inspector Watts sent telegrams to New York, Montreal and all the large cities in New England, giving a description of King and asking the police to look out for him.

King has been employed at the Boylston Bank about two years, coming highly recommended, and his honesty was never questioned. He has carried as much as $100,000 of the bank's money at a time on previous occasions and has never lost a dollar.

A Point To Remember

If you wish to purify your blood you should take a medicine which cures blood diseases. The record of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla proves that this is the best medicine for the blood ever produced. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures the most stubborn cases and it is the medicine for you to take if your blood is impure.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

Serious Symptoms.

"Doctor," said the worried-looking man to his family physician, "I wish you would just drop in at the house in an informal way and give me your opinion on Margaret's health. Don't alarm her or anything of that sort, but I am half inclined to think that something has upset her mind."

"What symptoms has she shown?" asked the physician.

"Doctor," said the worried-looking man, becoming quite hoarse in his excitement, "all of ten days have gone by without her changing the position of a single piece of furniture."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Underestimated Capability.

Do you remember our first quarrel, dearest?"

"Yes, love."

"I said you were just as mean as you could be."

"I believe you did."

"Oh, William, how mistaken I was!"

A Graduate of Toronto University Says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always effects a cure.

They do Good Work.

The following letter tells what people think of Laxa Liver Pills:

OLD LADY GROWS YOUNG.

Having Reached the Age of Eighty, Mrs. Clitty Gets New White Teeth and New Black Hair.

Becker, Minn., May 19.—Mrs. Jacob Clitty, aged 80 years, of this place, is getting young again. For years Mrs. Clitty has been an invalid and unable to make any physical exertion. A few weeks ago, however, she arose from bed and surprised her friends by taking a five-mile walk. More good fortune has come to her. Several years ago she was compelled to have all of her teeth extracted. Lately five new teeth have made their appearance and the indications are that she will get an entire new set of teeth. Soon after the loss of her teeth her hair fell out. Now, a new growth of jet black hair has started. Mrs. Clitty is evidently tired of growing older, and is going to take a spurt the other way. People are coming from miles around to see her.

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood-disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then don't be an invalid.

Erysipelas Cured.

Gentlemen,—In the spring of 1893 I was taken with erysipelas in the face, which left me in a very bad state of health, but having taken one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters I can truly say it cured me. You are at liberty to refer anyone to me for further particulars as regards this wonderful medicine.

Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hinson, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

The Funny Things Suggested by Various Newspapers.

"Mr. Bigsby, pa wants to borow your new lawn mower."

"Why, we haven't used it ourselves yet."

"Yes, sir, he says he wants to cut our grass before you get the machine out of order."—Chicago Record.

"Have you anything to say?" obligingly inquired the leader of the Vigilance Committee, as he seized the end of the rope.

"Nothing, except that you can't keep a good man down," responded Weakly Tenpunks, the humorist, further attempts to conceal his identity being useless.—Detroit News.

"You call him a great doctor? Nonsense!"

"But he cures people."

"Supposing he does. I say he is a disgrace to his profession."

"May I ask your business, sir?"

"You may. I'm an undertaker, sir."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Why," asked the youngest imbiber of wisdom, "why is it that a politician always slaps you on the back when he shakes hands with you?"

"It is done as an evidence of good faith," explained the Camminsville Sage. "He wants to show that his hand is not in your pocket."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Pay as you go, William," said the grocery man to his assistant. "It's a good motto."

"Yes, sir."

"And, by the way, you needn't bother so much about Mr. Jaykins. He always pays cash, and when he takes anything he knows he can't get his money back. But be very careful about Mr. Faykins. See that he gets the best of everything. He owes us twenty-seven dollars."—Washington Star.

"Yesterday," said Jabson, "I refused a poor woman a request for a small sum of money, and in consequence of my act I passed a sleepless night. The tones of her voice were ringing in my ears the whole time."

"Your softness of heart does you credit," said Mabson, "who was the woman?"

"My wife."—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Perkasie—This new hat of mine is all the rage.

Mr. Perkasie—It is the price which enrages me.

"Maw, ain't a man and his boy two persons?"

"Certainly, Willie. Why do you ask such a question as that?"

"'Cause I bet Bob Hicks my knife again his bag of marbles that its right to say 'Dombey & Son are a very interesting book,' an if he doesn't pay it I'm a goin' to lick 'im!"—Chicago Tribune.

"You know the mean tenant that Chipper is always complaining about?"

"Yes."

"Well, Chipper thinks he has an awful good joke on him. The tenant burned up one side of the coal shed for kindling wood, and now the neighbors get in at night and steal his coal."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Your typewriter girl sems to be very ambitious?"

"She is; she has one great and powerful ambition."

"What is it?"

"She wants to get off earlier every afternoon."—Chicago Record.

Mr. Homewood—Have you heard of Skimgullet's arrest?

Mr. Frankstown—No; what was he arrested for?

"He is charged with appropriating money."

"That's queer. Legislatures appropriate money and are never arrested."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Royal Disobedience.

An amusing anecdote is told of Princess Royal, now Empress Frederick. When a child the Queen had some difficulty in keeping her in order.

On one occasion, when Dr. Brown was staying at Windsor in attendance on Prince Albert, the little princesses, hearing their father call him "Brown," used the same form of speech to him also.

The Queen at once corrected them for it; all obeyed except the Princess Royal, who was threatened with "bed," if she did it again.

The next day, when Dr. Brown came down to breakfast, the little princess got up and said:

"Good morning, Brown!" then, seeing her mother looking at her, she continued: "And good night, Brown, for I'm going to bed!" And she walked resolutely away to her punishment.

A woman's headaches may come from several causes. She may have a headache arising from nervousness, or from digestive disturbances. Nine cases in ten, her headaches come from disorders peculiar to her sex. It may show itself in the symptoms which are characteristic of a dozen disorders. Thousands of times women have been treated for the wrong disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was compounded for the sole purpose of relieving womankind of these ills and pains. Thousands of women have testified that after taking treatment from several physicians without benefit, the "Favourite Prescription" cured them completely and quickly. It has been used for over thirty years, and has an unbroken record of success.

The women who hesitates is invited to send 21 one cent stamps to cover only the cost of mailing a copy of Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which contains plain, clear information about all of the organs of the human body and their functions.

COLLARS AND CUFFS.

New Styles and Especially Those of the Becoming Shirt Waist.

The wearer of the ever-popular shirt waist has an unusually large number of becoming collars and cuffs to choose from this season. The straight-standing throat band, which came in just at the close of last season, is one of the most popular shapes. The cuffs that match should be fastened with the regulation button, not links, nor those of the dumbbell order. The next collar in popularity, and somewhat newer and more generally becoming, is called the two-inch turnover. It consists of a high-standing portion with two turnover sections, having square sections opened both back and front. This is to be worn with one of the many fashionable stocks or with the most fashionable of all cravats at present—the new Windsor tie. This cravat is straight, not bias, as was the Windsor of the past. It is about three inches wide and two yards long. It is carried around the collar from the front to the back, where it is crossed, then brought to the front again and tied in a wide-open bow. The effect is not as stiff as the stock. Other neck bands to be worn with this new cravat are those that flare around the throat. The most novel one, which is suited only to faces both pretty and fresh, is the Portia. This consists of a band of medium height, closed in front with two studs, and has an outstanding portion of three decided points. The cuffs to match are similar in shape, but instead of flaring lie neatly against the outside of the sleeve. The collars adapted for smaller ties of those made up in stiff bows have in many instances turnover hemstitched points. An admirable example has two double points in front, while others have as many as eight to ten put on all round the neck band and falling just the least bit below its lower edge. The new high turnover collar, which should always be worn with a stiff bow, opens in the back as well as the front. This is an improvement on the old style, in convenience at least, since it is much easier to slip the tie in place.

Collars suitable for shirt waists of silk—which, by the way, to be strictly up-to-date, must have high crushed bands at the neck—are dainty little strips of muslin or fine linen, hemstitched and edged with delicate ruffles of lace. The cuffs are to match, and the sets are to be had not only in white, but in cardinal, navy blue, black and all the delicate tints.

Well, perhaps it was my fault, but never mind, I have a pot of "Quickcure" in my kit and it will cure our bruises before we get home. You never saw anything like the way it will heal a cut or a bruise of any kind, and for sprains and strains it is—well, it is just "out of sight."

HENRY IEVERS, L.D.S., Quebec, writes: "One of my children sprained her ankle, which became much swollen and discoloured. Some 'Quickcure' was spread on linen, and applied; the pain ceased at once, the swelling was gone the next day, and on the fourth day she walked to school as usual. I have also proved it to be a wonderful remedy for cuts and bruises.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

FAIRWEATHER & CO

PETERBOROUGH AND TORONTO.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

Paragraphs of Local Interest to Endeavourers Supplied by the County Union.

THE WORLD'S C. E. PRAYER CHAIN.

Subject for May—"For the cause of Temperance." Pray that the drink traffic everywhere may be destroyed, and that all Christians may labour together for this end.

THE LOCAL EXECUTIVE.

At the last meeting of the executive a committee was appointed to arrange programmes for the regular quarterly rally of the Union, the meeting to take place on the 3rd of May in the Charlotte street Methodist church. The committee met and decided that the date was too close upon the county convention, which took place on the 19th of April, and decided to leave off all arrangements for one month. The rally will in all probability take place on June 13th in the Charlotte street church, and will be a farewell service tendered to the three Methodist pastors, who are about to take their departure from our midst. This seems to be the most appropriate arrangement that could be made, and will allow all the local Endeavourers to hear farewell addresses from Mr. Young, Mr. Rae and Mr. Beer.

ST. ANDREW'S.

On May 17th a Quaker meeting was held and a very interesting and profitable evening was spent. There was a very large and enthusiassic attendance; and, to a visitor, it would seem inexplicable that, without a leader, the service should pass over so satisfactorily. The topic references were read by Miss Weddell and were followed by a thoughtfully prepared paper by Miss Anderson. A large number took part in the open meeting. The Rev. Mr. Potter and Mr. W. F. Gladman laid special stress on the true object of life, being the submission of heart and will to the will of God. Whatever this world could give, the world would pass away; but he whose will was submission to the will of God would abide for ever. This is true life.

The following resolution of sympaty with one of the members was carried:—"It is with profound sorrow that our society has learned of the death of a brother of Miss Tremble, one of our active members. We therefore take the earliest opportunity to place on record our heartfelt sympathy with our sister in her deep sorrow and our earnest prayer is, that in the hour of grief Christ will reveal Himself to her as the Resurrection and the Life, and that even while in the Valley of the Shadow, the glorious hope of the redeemed may brighten the gloom." After a season of prayer the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

THE PARK STREET BAPTIST

Union of Christian Endeavour had a very impressive consecration service on Wednesday, May 5th. The attendance was large. Miss M. E. Mann led. At the close of the consecration service several associate members were transferred to the active list, and the election of officers for the ensuing term was proceeded with.

The George street E. L. of C. E. held a reception service Monday evening to give the new members a hearty welcome. There was a large attendance and the interest is increasing. The secretary called the different committees together and each convenor explained the duties of their committee and became acquainted with the members.

The next meeting of the society will be on Sunday, May 23rd, after the evening service.

President Robertson, of Dunsford, Secretary Shine, of Downeyville, and buyers Whitton, of Belleville, Fitzgerald, of Peterborough, and W. Flavelle were present, in addition to a number of salesmen and patrons of the factories represented. Very few factories began manufacturing on the 1st May, as anticipated, hence the quantity of cheese offered was small, amounting to only 141 boxes, divided as follows:

Star	6
Cameron	37
Janetville	34
Peaboro	20
Maple Leaf	24
Omemee	20
Dunsford	10

Mr. Fitzgerald began the bidding by offering 8⅜c for the board. Mr. Whitton raised to 8⅝c, Fitzgerald to 8 13-16, and Whitton finally to 8¾c. All the factories accepted, subject to Lindsay inspection.

Mr. Whitton said the board would confer a favour on outside buyers by adhering strictly to the meeting hour—11 o'clock—so that they would be able to leave by the mixed train for the east. Salesmen coming in by the 11 o'clock train might send a post card to the board secretary the day previous, stating number of cheese to be boarded, so that the preliminaries could be attented to promptly. The suggestion was approved of.

The Board adjourned till Thursday, June 3rd, Peterborough taking Wednesday, hereafter.—Lindsay Post.

A RIVER DRIVER DROWNED.

The Accident Occurred on Deer River in Belmont.

On Thursday John Wilkes, an employee of the Rathbun Co., was accidentally drowned at Airhart's mill on Deer river in the township of Belmont. It is learned from Henry Hubble, who was working on the drive, that Wilkes and another man named Milligan, were stationed at that place to watch a drive of logs passing down the rapids, while other men of the gang were employed at another point on the river some distance away.

Wilkes left Milligan to see if the logs had jammed further up the river, saying he would shout to him if he needed help. On reaching the top of a little hill he shouted, and Milligan got his peevy and followed him. When he reached the jam of logs Wilkes had disappeared and no trace of him could be found.

Milligan reported the matter to his companions and search was made for the missing man but he could not be found. On Sunday several gangs, numbering sixty men, searched the river for his body without finding it.

The deceased was an unmarried man, 26 years of age, and his home was in Marmora.

No Wonder,

"No, papa, I don't want a wheel,"
Replied his student daughter;

If you don't mind, I'd rather."
The old man in a deep faint sank;
The blow almost killed father.

LABOUCHERE IN A FIX

Has to Make Good Some of His Assertions

IN REGARD TO THE TRANSVAAL

Mr. Rutherford Harris Was Just a Little Too Smart for the Editor of Truth—Mr. Balfour Enunciates a New Policy for the Government Next Session.

London, May 21.—There was a dramatic scene to-day in the committee room off Westminster Hall. The Parliamentary Committee enquiring into the Transvaal Raid held another session, and during the course of the examination of Mr. Rutherford Harris, the former secretary of the British Chartered South Africa Company, at Capetown, by Mr. Henry Labouchere, the witness was asked whether he had ever heard of a syndicate organized for the purpose of dealing in the securities of the Chartered Company.

Mr. Harris replied by reading an extract from Mr. Labouchere's speech in the House of Commons on May 8, 1896, and also an extract from Truth of May 5, 1896. The article from Truth states that a conspiracy had been formed prior to the raid for the purpose of making large bear sales, and points out that the result would be of great profit to the conspirators.

"It is clear," continues the article, "that the raid was planned by Cecil Rhodes, Alfred Beit and the secretary of the Chartered South African Company."

After concluding reading, Mr. Harris turned to the chairman and begged him to call upon Mr. Labouchere to justify his statements, which, Mr. Harris added, "are absolutely and maliciously false and untrue."

Mr. Labouchere replied: "In order to give proof I shall have to call a number of stock brokers before the committee."

The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, thereupon sharply remarked: "I think it important that you should do so."

Replying to Sir Richard Webster, the Attorney-General, Mr. Harris reiterated that Mr. Labouchere's statement was untrue from beginning to end.

The witness next read an extract from The Gaulois, written last week, and signed by Mr. Labouchere, making similar charges.

Mr. Labouchere said he was prepared to prove the charges.

The committee room was then cleared in order to allow the committee to discuss the matter.

When the session was resumed the chairman announced that the committee condemned Mr. Labouchere for commenting on the raid while the enquiry was proceeding, took notice of Mr. Harris' denial, and added that it rested with Mr. Labouchere to take the steps which he thought fit to meet the denial. Later Mr. Harris refused to be further examined by Mr. Labouchere unless the latter withdrew his charges.

On the motion of Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the committee room was again cleared.

On resuming business, the chairman said he thought Mr. Harris' position in the dispute must be wholly satisfactory to him and the matter was then dropped.

POLICY FOR NEXT SESSION.

Mr. Balfour Has a New Scheme From Which He Expects Much.

London, May 21.—The First Lord of the Treasury and Government leader, Mr. Balfour, made an important statement in the House of Commons to-day regarding the Government's policy, which will be carried out next session, the object of which is to give Ireland an equivalent for the relief in the agricultural rates given to England. The Government, he said, proposes to place both the poor law and the county administration on a broad, popular basis. The landlords must be relieved of agricultural rates. At present, the landowners are liable to half the poor rates, which the Government proposes to pay hereafter out of the Imperial funds. The tenants are liable for the other half of the poor rates and the county cess. The Government proposes hereafter to pay the county cess out of the Imperial funds. This double benefit to two classes, Mr. Balfour explained, will enable the Government to launch a scheme for local government, which, he believed, would work safely and smoothly. He could not then give the details of this scheme, which would place a large charge upon the exchequer, but, continued Mr. Balfour, it was a charge which the country at large and the Unionists would not grudge, if thereby they could see the way to carry out the reforms to which they had pledged themselves. Mr. Balfour was of the opinion that every class of the community would be disposed to regard with favor what he could not but think must prove one of the greatest reforms carried out under the safest conditions ever suggested in the House of Commons. [Loud cheers.]

Mr. Henry Edward Carson, Conservative, member for Dublin University and formerly Solicitor-General for Ireland, moved to adjourn the House in order to discuss Mr. Balfour's statement. He referred in terms of approval to the proposals of the Government.

John Dillon, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party; Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, Liberal, and Mr. John Redmond, the Parnellite leader, also approved of the proposals of the Government.

Mr. Balfour said the money would not be applied to Ireland this year. Thereupon Mr. Carson renewed his motion to adjourn.

It is a Victory for Chamberlain.

London, May 21.—Referring to Mr. Balfour's latest proposals regarding Ireland, The Daily News reminds Mr. Balfour that he failed to carry a similar Irish local government bill in 1892, and adds: "Assuming that the bill passes, it will not be in any sense Home Rule, but the creation of popularly elected councils in Ireland will be a strong lever in the hands of Nationalists. We shall watch the experiment with great interest."

The Daily Chronicle says: "Already busy tongues are saying that the new departure is another victory for Mr. Chamberlain. If so, it may be found that the new scheme will blossom out into the full splendor of his famous proposal for provincial councils. Anyway, it promises to help solve some difficult questions, and, therefore, we wish it well."

BREAK IN WELLAND CANAL.

Steamer Outhwaite Carried Away the Gates of Lock 7, and There Was a Big Overflow.

St. Catharines, May 21.—(Special.)—About 6 o'clock this morning the propeller Outhwaite of Cleveland, Capt. Burke, under a full head of steam, forced the gates of lock 7. The level above the lock, extending a distance of a mile and a quarter, emptied its flood of water with irresistible force on the steamer, nearly capsizing her, and forcing her back to lock 6, overflowing the banks of the canal, tearing deep washouts in the embankments, and flooding the adjoining lands, uprooting trees, felling fences and causing great loss.

The gates of the damaged lock were carried about 500 feet from their position. Gas lamps were overturned and gas mains exposed and twisted. Tom Mahan, the well-known supporter of the Reform party, is said to have had 17 acres of oats washed out by the deluge, and many other owners of adjacent properties will suffer by the flood.

David Leith, a lockman, had a narrow escape, having climbed a lamp post to escape being drowned. He was hurled with the lamp-post over the embankment, and carried a considerable distance into an adjoining field.

Michael Driscoll, another canal employe, tried to escape by getting on a fence, but he, too, was washed away, but escaped with a ducking.

This is the most serious accident which has occurred since the canal has been built, and will entail heavy expenditure on the part of the Government.

It is understood that the Outhwaite's owners will give bonds, and that the boat will be allowed to proceed on her homeward journey in a few days, when the canal is freed from its blockade.

A large force of men are at work on the repairs, necessary to renew navigation, but, as the wing wall of lock 2 is damaged, and the embankments in many places seriously impaired, it will be some time before all repairs are completed.

Quite an excitement occurred among those residing near the canal, many being under the impression that the banks had entirely broken away, and that they would be ruined by having their orchards torn up and buildings destroyed. At present it is impossible to closely estimate the cost of repairs, but it is said that at least $25,000 will have to be spent during this year to place the canal in its former condition. A large crowd of visitors to examine the ruins are expected here on the Queen's Birthday.

SPAIN IS EXCITED.

Affect Discussion in the Lobbies of the Chamber Over the Resolution of Senator Morgan.

Madrid, May 21.—In the Spanish Senate to-day there was a heated and tumultuous debate on the resolution of Senator Morgan, passed by the United States Senate, and the debate here was followed by an excited discussion in the lobbies. This led to a dispute between the Duke of Tetuan, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, and a Liberal Senator, which ended in the Duke boxing the Senator's ears. A great commotion ensued and the sitting of the Senate was suspended. The Liberal minority afterwards held a meeting to consider the situation and ex-Premier Sagasta, the Liberal leader, was summoned to confer with his followers. An urgent message was also sent to the Premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, by the Ministerialists. Both these statesmen, as this despatch is sent, are being impatiently awaited by their followers.

Against Treasurer Spalding.

Chicago, May 21.—A declaration has been filed in the Circuit Court in the suit brought by the University of Illinois against Charles W. Spalding, who was treasurer of the institute, to recover $900,000 on his bonds. The declaration recites that the University intrusted to Spalding's care $150,000 in cash, and $500,000 worth of bonds, which he has refused to deliver to his successor.

Stafford Acquitted

Dunnville, Ont., May 21.—Edward Stafford, who was locked up here, charged with swindling the German farmer out of $400, was acquitted this afternoon by P. M. Taylor. He was supposed to be the pal who met the buggy on the road about three miles out, and who took the money. No one seems to have had a good look at this man, and it was impossible to find witnesses who could positively identify him.

FOR TWELVE YEARS

Dave and Jim Ballard Go to Penitentiary.

ALONZO SMITH GETS THE SAME.

The Rest of the Firebugs Get Eight Years Each—Prisoners Had Nothing to Say Except to Plead for Mercy—So Ends the Melancthon Fire Sensation.

Orangeville, May 21.—At 11 o'clock this morning Judge Ferguson distributed 52 years of penal servitude among the five prisoners, who will be confined for their respective terms in Kingston Penitentiary.

The sentences pronounced by Judge Ferguson are as follows:

David Ballard, 12 years.
James Ballard, 12 years.
Alonzo Smith, 12 years.
William Reid, 8 years.
James E. Corbett, 8 years.

The court opened at 10 o'clock this morning, but long before that time the crowd had collected in front of the doors. Five minutes after the doors were unlocked the Court House was filled to overflowing.

Some hint of the judge's attitude of mind toward the prisoners and their crimes escaped in his comments on the grand jury's presentment, which he complimented as most practical and comprehensive. The operations of the incendiaries in Melancthon he considered a most mischievous and revolting state of things, such a condition of iniquity as was hard to conceive. He concurred in the opinion of the grand jury that the Crown should investigate the matter to the bottom and bring all the offenders to justice.

Referring to the wish that they had expressed, that the Queen's evidence men might also be punished, His Lordship pointed out that these men had no contract of immunity from the Crown, although, as a matter of law, they were used through expediency and necessity.

He hoped that the investigation would have a wholesome effect. He believed with the grand jury that the carelessness of insurance companies in accepting risks was a matter for legislation, but the grand jury must always remember that it required a good deal of wickedness on the part of those seeking advantages to bring about this lamentable state of affairs.

After the judge had concluded his remarks on the presentment, the five prisoners were brought into the dock.

The nervous tension of the two Ballards had made their faces a sickly yellow.

Alonzo Smith, who broke down and wept yesterday afternoon when he was found guilty, looked very shaky.

Corbett's face had turned a shade whiter, but Reid was as stolid and as rosy as ever.

His Lordship ordered David Ballard, Wm. Reid and James E. Corbett to step to the front of the dock, and asked the other prisoners to listen to his remarks, which were intended to apply to them all.

"Have you anything to say, David Ballard, why the sentence of this court should not be passed upon you?"

"Nothing, Your Lordship, except to ask for mercy."

The law, said Judge Ferguson, knew no revenge in its punishment. The penalties of the law had not for their basis an eye for an eye or a tooth for a tooth. They were merely matters of expediency for the protection of the community. The two propositions on which all legal punishments were founded were that the offender by his punishment should be deterred, if he survived, from committing any other crime, and that others, by the example of his punishment, should be hindered from committing the same offence.

It is a painful duty for me, and one I would much rather not perform, especially when any discretion rests with me as to the extent of the punishment. I have considered your case in every light, and my sentence will be one that I consider just to you, and just to the community. I am not going to harrow your feelings by a lengthy address. I have enunciated to you the propositions on which legal punishments are based. The court is only the instrument of the law.

For the crime of which you have been found guilty it is in my power to direct that you be imprisoned for life. The wisdom of our Parliament has made arson a most serious crime. Whatever the sentence may be short of that has been considered mercy.

Your sentence must be commensurate with your offence. Your offence is a very bad one, both in extent and conception. It was not only arson with intent to defraud, but it was your purpose to carry it through, even if it involved the further crime of murder. There is no way of looking at it, but as the gravest of matters. We cannot make a trifle of it, nor a joke of it. Your crime is a very great one, and a very wicked one. That is where you stand.

My sentence is that you be confined in the Provincial Penitentiary at Kingston for the period of twelve years, and that at the end of that time you be discharged.

Ballard's face quivered, and a big tear trickled down his cheek as he heard his sentence.

William Reid then stood forward for sentence. In answer to the usual question, he said:

"Nothing, My Lord. I only ask for mercy. I hope my example will be a warning to others."

His Lordship, in a few words, told Reid that he recognized a difference in the degree of his crime, and would, therefore, sentence him to Kingston Penitentiary for eight years.

James E. Corbett came under the same merciful category. The judge said: "I have considered your case in the best light, and have concluded that the proper term for you will be eight years' confinement in Kingston Penitentiary."

To Alonzo D. Smith, who next stepped to the front, the judge was more severe. "I cannot," he said, "but considerer you more culpable than Reid or Corbett. Your case is a very heinous one. Your career has been a long succession of offences. Therefore, I direct that you be confined in the Provincial Penitentiary at Kingston for the period of twelve years."

James Ballard was the last to receive sentence. "I am not going to repeat my remarks to you," said the judge. "Your case is a very bad one, indeed. You yourself know how bold, how wicked, how reckless you have been. I have concluded that confinement for twelve years in Kingston Penitentiary is a just punishment for you."

The prisoners were then removed to the cells. They will be taken to Kingston Penitentiary next Tuesday in charge of Detectives Rogers and Grier.

The early ending of the trial must be ascribed to the clever work of Detectives Rogers and Grier. Between the preliminary investigation and the present trial these industrious officers had accumulated such a mass of new and damaging evidence on all the indictments that the prisoners perceptibly lost nerve. The letter to Carey read yesterday was only a sample scrap of this evidence, but it was enough to perturb Dave Ballard. Two hours after, the mulatto and his accomplices withdrew their plea of "not guilty," and so ended what threatened to be a long and tedious trial.

The case for the Crown was forcibly presented by Riddell, Q.C., and O'Leary, Q.C., but where the evidence spoke so strongly there was little need of addresses of counsel. Mr. Myers, Q.C., made the best of a bad brief, but the detectives had not left him a shred of evidence to base an argument on.

A GREAT deal of nonsense has been written—and believed, about blood purifiers. What purifies the blood? .. .. ..

THE KIDNEYS PURIFY THE BLOOD

AND THEY ALONE.

If diseased, however, they cannot, and the blood continually becomes more impure. Every drop of blood in the body goes through the kidneys, the sewers of the system, every three minutes, night and day, while life endures.

Safe Cure

puts the kidneys in perfect health, and nature does the rest.

The heavy, dragged out feeling, the bilious attacks, headaches, nervous unrest, fickle appetite, all caused by poisoned blood, will disappear when the kidneys properly perform their functions.

There is no doubt about this. Thousands have so testified. The theory is right, the cure is right and health follows as a natural sequence. Be self-convinced through personal proof.

SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1897.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

The rain and storm came in good time, and the disappearing clouds indicate that we shall have "Queen's weather" for her Majesty's seventy-eighth birthday celebration. All round the globe the day will be one of festival and rejoicing, wherever the British flag floats, and even in foreign lands wherever there is a Briton—and where is there not—there will be many to contribute to the grand chorus that will celebrate another anniversary of the day upon which Victoria, the Good, opened her eyes upon the light of the world. And in no country or colony, not even in the British Isles themselves, will the day be more enthusiastically observed than in the loyal colony of Canada—the first in the Empire—the first in natural resources and expanse of territory, the first in achievement, and the first in loyal devotion, attested through three score years of the Queen's reign, and reinforced by recent evidences of practical loyalty to the Empire and the person of its great ruler. As regularly as the season comes the great anniversary almost insensibly brings the spirit of its observance with it. Spontaneously the people of every degree honour and observe the "Twenty-fourth"; and, as naturally as they honour the Sabbath day. Because the present generation has grown up under the influence of the benign reign that has contributed so emphatically to make the occasion so well worthy of enthusiastic commemoration. It is not for her royal qualities alone that the Queen is honoured. She has become the conspicuous and loftiest type of womanhood, as maid, wife mother and woman. Her influence which is great in proportion to the prominence of her exalted position, has always been exerted for what is just and true, what is noble and pure. With literal truth the historian of the Queen can unite with Tennyson in saying:

Her court was pure, her life serene;
God gave her peace, her land reposed;
A thousand claims to reverence closed,
In her as mother, wife and Queen.

Her Majesty as a monarch has been by some regarded as somewhat of a mere figure-head, but she is much more than that. She has always taken an active and deeply interested part in the affairs of state, and apart from her official position her personal influence has on many weighty occasions been impressed upon the course of events to the averting of the horrors of war and the preservation of the peace of the world. Whatever if tender or gracious that most adorns the character of woman or sovereign is found combined in Queen Victoria. The world-wide devotion of her millions of subjects that will on Monday celebrate the seventy-eighth anniversary of her birth, is founded on love for the gracious woman, who has so grandly ruled the greatest empire in the world's history for the past sixty years. The Diamond Jubilee of her reign will give peculiar emphases to this year's birthday celebration which the people of Canada have led the world in making a perpetual holiday to be observed for all time. This reign has witnessed the most marvellous advances in the art, science and the blessings and refinements of civilization. Our own beloved Canada was marked in the beginning of the reign by a struggle for the civil liberties we now enjoy. Since that time the scattered fragments of isolated colonies have been welded into a harmonious and solidly established Dominion. Warring racial factions have disappeared and our heterogenous peoples have become blended into a strong race of Canadians with one spirit, one aim and one love for the ruler under whose serene auspices these great things have been accomplished. While nations have fallen and risen during the last sixty years the Empire has made continual progress. With much of the progress and the development of national attachment to constitutional methods the Queen has been associated. Through periods of revolution in other States, of wars and popular tumults "we have seen," says a recent rider, "the Sovereign of the Empire conspicuously manifesting the influence and of power and virtue, and bearing a name untouched by any suspicion and unblemished by any reproach." In the light of considerations like these, we Canadians can heartily join with the countless peoples of the British Empire in the grand orison,

FAVOURITES FOR LONG YEARS.

For long years Diamond Dyes have been the favourite family dyes in the Dominion of Canada; and although imitation package dyes have been plentifully offered for sale, their great inferiority to the "Diamond" in strength, fastness, beauty of colour and brilliancy was known to the great majority of women, and they were condemned and avoided by all who valued good and bright colors. No sensible woman can afford to risk her goods with poor dyes when the "Diamond" are admittedly the world's best.

A most important point to remember is that the Diamond Dyes cost no more than the crude and common dyes sold by some dealers for the sake of large profits.

Ask your dealer for the "Diamond"; if he values your trade he will be in a position to supply you.

A Host of Witnesses

Can Prove That Paine's Celery Compound Cured Mr. Beechinor.

Raised From Helplessness and Weakness to Health and Strength.

Laid low for years by sciatica and rheumatism, and rendered helpless and weak from continued agonies, Mr. J. Beechinor, of Shiloh, Ont., was almost giving up in despair. Doctors and their prescriptions and patent medicines had failed, and the future looked dark and gloomy.

While deep in the pit of misery and suffering, a bright ray of hope cheered Mr. Beechinor's heart. There was one medicine he had not tried; it might possibly cure him. That medicine was Paine's Celery Compound.

Prompted by faith, Mr. Beechinor used Paine's Celery Compound for a time. This act of faith brought its grand rewards—freedom from pain, new strength, activity, energy, suppleness and a robustness of health.

Mr. Beechinor's motive in coming before the public through the newspapers is to benefit rheumatics and all sick people by directing their attention to the only medicine that can cure. He writes thus:

"For five years I suffered from sciatica and rheumatism, at times being so bad that I could not walk or put my hand to my mouth. If I attempted to do any work I would be crippled for weeks. I took medical treatment, patent medicines, Turkish and mineral baths, but all failed to meet my case. Some time ago I tried Paine's Celery Compound, and after using six bottles I feel like a new man, and can do a hard day's work and feel none the worse for it.

"I have also gained in weight, and can say I am permanently cured."

VERY RICH GOLD VEINS.

In consequence of an old development company, chartered a number of years ago, being called the Hastings Development Co., the Government refused to grant a new charter under that name. The directors have decided to call the proposed company the Belleville, Madoc & Eldorado Gold Mining and Development Co., of Hastings.

Three surface assays of properties of the Belleville, Madoc & Eldorado Co. have just been made by Prof. Henry Montgomery, M. A., Ph.D., of Trinity University, Toronto. The first piece of surface ore showed $23, the second $35 and the third $16.33. These are among the best showings of surface ore ever known in the Hastings district and the company are now preparing to work the properties. It is a foregone conclusion that the veins when opened will be even richer.

...lish reporting, with processions, coaches and flags galore. A new coinage was adopted at the mint to commemorate the year. All the potentates, governments, and great men of Europe showered gifts and congratulations upon the fortunate Queen.

Maintains the Purity of Her Court.

If the Queen has set herself strenuously to any one task in her life it has been to maintain the purity of her court. In all that pertains to this she has been most fastidious. "There are persons in the kingdom today who wonder how she ever became familiar enough with their little peccadilos to justify her in excluding them from her favor. But Queen Victoria knows the time of day as well as anybody between John o' Groat's and Land's End.

Loves a Bit of Gossip.

But with all her fastidiousness, she has a ... set here beside me and ... me ... of the town," she will say to a lady who is honored with an invitation to the castle. Does an author, painter, or musician make a stir in the world she is as eager to know all about him as any diligent reader of the popular press. There is not a prominent politician whose relations with his family are not fairly well known to her. It was only recently she refused to sanction the appointment of a very able man who had been recommended by the Government for an important office. The reason for her refusal was that the appointment would bring the man into personal relations with her, and the result would be very uncomfortable for him, because she would not receive his wife. Of course these were not the "reasons" officially given, but they determined the Queen's decision, and a few days after this had been given she said to a London lady, who was for a while a guest in the royal household, and with whom she had been discussing, in a friendly way, the disappointed politician and his spouse: "Now, what is Mrs. So-and-So really like? Do sit here and tell me all about her!" And she listened with unconcealed womanly amusement to the narrative.

A Stickler for Etiquette.

On the subject of court etiquette Queen Victoria is the most exacting sovereign in Europe. She insists upon the observance of every minute detail ceremony, and the consequence is that every one who comes in contact with her has to be thoroughly drilled in the observance of "forms." Her Majesty has a hearty horror of innovation, and for that reason, more than any other, she still adheres with unfailing pertinacity to the uncomfortable regulations under which the "drawing-room" ceremonials at Buckingham Palace have ever been conducted.

Putting in the Time.

Despite the many things which continually claim her attention, Queen Victoria manages to spend considerable time in reading, and she often invites, or as the court phrase has it "commands" distinguished musicians to come and entertain her daily.

The Queen's occupation is checker playing. After her long morning message a board is drawn up in front of her, and a lady of honor takes her place opposite. The Queen plays a fairly good game, and she likes to win. The lady of honor beats one game a day. That is enough to keep royalty unperturbed. Often little Prince Edward is held up to the board, and his chubby finger guided by the lady of honor.

The drive of the day behind the donkey in the donkey cart is a matter of necessity. It has become painful to the Queen, who would gladly give it up if she dared do so, but with no exercise she becomes too bulky. The conservatory walks are things of the past, and the whole empire to the Queen is narrowed down to a few castles where the occupant of the greatest throne in the world looks out upon a little patch of English scenery and receives the congratulations of her subjects upon another year of her reign. It is even, unchecked existence, in striking contrast to the fevered life led by former Queens of the throne of England.

Her Majesty's Superstitions.

Queen Victoria, they say, has her little superstitions. She believes that articles made by blind persons bring good luck; that spilling salt brings bad luck and she would probably not give 5 pence for her kingdom if by any untoward chance thirteen persons happened to sit at the royal dining table. She has her pet dislikes, too, among those is a other is an antipathy to the smell of furs, particularly of sealskins. It is said at court that she is sometimes rather shaky in her spelling and that when in doubt she writes the word so illegibly that the possible mistake is hidden

She wears three rings which she has never removed her wedding ring, a little enamel ring with a small diamond center, which the Prince Consort gave her when she was only 16 years old and her engagement ring, which is in the form of a serpent of emeralds.

TRAITS OF THE SOVEREIGN.

Personal Habits of the Queen and Stories Which Bring Her Close to Us.

The following story is told to illustrate the conscientious and merciful use which the Queen has always made of her pardoning power. On one occasion she was called upon to sign a death warrant that of a man who had been condemned to death by court martial. The paper was presented by the "Iron Duke," Wellington.

"Is there nothing to say in behalf of this man?" asked the Queen, trying in vain to restrain her emotion.

"He is a deserter for the fourth time," answered the Duke, sternly.

"Oh, your grace, try to recall something in his favor."

"Your Majesty," answered the Duke, "he is not a brave soldier, but is said to be a good man."

"Oh, thank you, thank you," answered the Queen, much relieved, and dashing a tear from her eyes, she wrote, "pardoned" across the warrant and gave it again to the surprised Wellington.

The Queen's Mistress.

It is said that the one woman of whom Queen Victoria stands in respected awe is Mrs. Mussens, the housekeeper of Balmoral castle. She has held her position of power for many years ... everybody who comes within her domain with a rod of iron, even to the Queen herself. Her Majesty on one occasion took a fancy to a certain housemaid and requested that the care of her own apartments should be given to the girl. Mrs. Mussens, however, thought differently, and informed Her Majesty that such a mark of preference would only turn the young woman's head and utterly spoil her. The Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and Empress of India, listened in silence and meekly acquiesced to her housekeeper's decision.

A Sunday Dinner.

Herewith is presented a menu card of one of the Queen's Sunday dinners, one that is said to be typical of them all. The original of the reproduced menu card is about six inches wide and eight inches deep. It is gilt-edged, with a glossy finish. The scroll border has a gilt ground with pink acorns in the design. Ireland is represented by designs of shamrock. The menus for the Queen's table are always written by hand. A draft is made for her, and with her own hands, like the good housewife she is, the royal pen crosses out such dishes as are not to her fancy, and writes those she prefers in their places.

A Square Meal.

In plain English, the Queen is served with two soups, one of calf's head, the other a clear rice soup. The fish dish is a cod, with a dressing, the foundation of which is anchovy sauce. The second fish dish is fried filets of merlan. Merlan is like whiting.

For entrees there are chicken cutlets, dipped in egg, rolled in crumbs and fried. The second entree is made from a piece of lamb. Then a braised ham with spinach. Not at all complicated. Then comes the English national dish, roast beef, which the Queen dignifies by preserving in its English form of expression. It is never "ros-boeuf." To make it more typically Anglo-Saxon it is flanked by plum pudding.

Roast partridges are next served.

For the entremets are celery with a brown sauce; tartlets with apricot souffle, orange jelly and a dish with milk for its foundation.

As to her personal appearance the Queen has herself said that she is "rather small for a Queen," for she is but 4 feet 10 inches in height. But, despite that, she is, on occasions, a woman of extraordinary dignity. "I have seen her," says an unprejudiced writer, "at state functions, when everybody was on his best behavior and in his finest gear, and yet she was the most dignified person in a large and distinguished company, for although she is very short and very round, she can carry herself like a Queen, as the saying is." At the time of her coronation she is represented as having been a beautiful woman, with a fine, healthy complexion, blue eyes and long brown hair.

This personal data and these anecdotes of our beloved Queen demonstrate that Queen Victoria has been an example of pure and noble womanhood, and that since she became Queen whatever personal influence ... from the throne to the dwellings and hearts of her subjects have been influences for good. She is "the good Queen Victoria" in a much truer ... than Elizabeth was "good Queen Bess."

Next to Balmoral the Queen is fondest of her home at Osborne. Balmoral is in the Scottish mountains; Osborne is in the Isle of Wight, on the shore of the Solent, and just outside of Cowes, the greatest yachting centre. Her fondness for Balmoral is due to the fact that it is intimately associated with memories of the Prince Consort.

The Queen spends a little more time at Osborne in the spring, then four or five weeks in the summer and then the Christmas season. Her frequent journeyings between Osborne and Windsor, Windsor and Balmoral, and Balmoral and Osborne and back again roll up an aggregate of several thousands of miles in the course of a twelvemonth—a proposition showing for a lady of 78, more especially when you consider that to all this travel she yearly adds a continental visit.
